Reply: Each comment will be treated separately in order. (1) The fee of $120.00 to accompany a petition for correction of inventorship is considered appropriate since the consideration of such a petition and correction of Office records takes additional resources. Such a fee should also act as a discouragement to grouping marginal inventions and loosely related inventions into the same application. (2) Whether paragraph (b) is made part of §1.48 or established as a separate rule does not appear to be a substantive matter. Paragraph (b) is being made part of §1.48 to place all rules relating to correction of inventorship in applications in a single rule. (3) No specific time period for correction of inventorship was indicated in the proposed rules. The rule requires that the correction must be made diligently. Since the examiner will not normally be aware of when inventorship correction is required, the responsibility of making such a correction diligently must rest with the applicant. The time of the correction will vary from case to case. (4) The addition of claims to previously disclosed but unclaimed subject matter of additional inventors is considered to be an error in the application and is therefore corrected under §1.48(a). A new paragraph (c) has been added to §1.48 to make this clear. Such a correction must always include a new oath or declaration. (5) The correction of inventorship has been simplified from that proposed. Final §1.48(b) does not require a new oath or declaration of each actual inventor or written consent of any assignee as originally proposed. The final rule requires a petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application, and the fee set forth in §1.17(h). The petition could be signed by applicant's attorney who would then take full responsibility for ensuring that the inventor is not being improperly deleted from the application.

Comment: One comment suggested that proposed §§1.60 and 1.62 should be modified to permit the filing of such continuing applications with different inventive entities from the prior application.

Reply: The procedures under §§1.60 and 1.62 were developed to allow continuing applications to be filed without the necessity of again obtaining an inventor's signature to a declaration. The proposed rule wording has been modified in the final rule to permit inventors to be deleted in the continuing application. The addition of inventors is now permitted where a new oath or declaration would be required because of claims in the continuing application being drawn to additional subject matter.

Comment: One comment suggested that §§1.77 and 1.78 be modified to change the placement in a patent application of the information regarding cross-reference to related applications. It was suggested to require this information to be placed immediately after the Abstract, following the claims, so that the cross-reference information could be easily removed when filing the application outside the United States.

Reply: These changes were not included in the proposed rulemaking and therefore the public has not had an opportunity to comment on the suggestion. Accordingly, the suggestion has not been adopted.

Comment: One comment suggested that proposed §1.78(c) be modified to permit a statement that the claimed inventions were subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the inventions were made.

Reply: The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment: One comment suggested that the application of double patenting rejections to applications of different inventive entities which are commonly owned as set out in proposed §1.78(d) not be made until the effective date of this rulemaking.

Reply: The Commissioner's Notice of Dec. 11, 1984, "Initial Guidelines Implementing Changes in 35 U.S.C. 103, 116, and 120", 1050 O.G. 316 (Jan. 8, 1985), changed the practice in accordance with the intention of Congress in enacting Public Law 98–622. See 130 Cong. Rec. H 10527, column 3 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1984) (statement of Rep. Kastenmeier) wherein the following statement appears:

> "The Committee expects that the Patent and Trademark Office will reinstitute in appropriate circumstances the practice of rejecting claims in commonly owned applications of different inventive entities on the ground of double patenting. This will be necessary in order to prevent an organization from obtaining two or more patents with different expiration dates covering nearly identical subject matter. In accordance with established patent law doctrines, double patenting rejections can be overcome in certain circumstances by disclaiming the terminal portion of the term of the later patent, thereby eliminating the problem of extending patent life."

Since the provisions of Public Law 98–622 became effective on Nov. 8, 1984, it was not appropriate to delay the change in practice.

Comment: One comment suggested that the policy of rejecting commonly-owned applications of different inventive entities on the grounds of double patenting, as set forth in proposed §1.78(d), was unnecessary in view of 35 U.S.C. 102(e).

Reply: The provisions of 35 U.S.C. 102(e) will not be effective to preclude double patenting in situations where the applicants of the later filed application can use the provisions of 37 CFR 1.131 to antedate the filing date of the earlier filed application or patent. Accordingly, the application of the prohibitions against double patenting is necessary in order to prevent an organization from obtaining two or more patents with different expiration dates covering nearly identical subject matter. See 130 Cong. Rec. H 10527, supra.

Comment: One comment suggested that proposed §1.78(c) was broader than required by statute and capable of being construed to conflict with proposed §1.106(d) by referring to common ownership at "the time the inventions were made" rather than at the time the later invention was made.

Reply: The wording of §1.78(c) has been revised from the proposal to clarify the problem spoken to in the comment.

Comment: One comment suggested that the proposed amendment to §1.131 not be made so that the "applicant" can make affidavits or declarations to overcome rejections. The comment suggested that the proposed rule provides no remedy in situations where the inventor is dead, insane, legally incapacitated, cannot be reached or refuses to join in the application.

Reply: The final rule has been changed in response to the comment to permit the person qualified under §§1.42, 1.43, or 1.47 to make the required oath or declaration in appropriate circumstances.

Comment: Two comments suggested that the scope of the waiver in a statutory invention registration be limited to the subject matter of the claims of the statutory invention registration and not to any obvious modifications thereof. Another comment suggested that the statutory invention registration applicant should be able to waive the right to a patent on all of the subject matter disclosed in the application if he wishes to do so. One comment suggested that the rulemaking should leave no doubt as to the standard to be applied in determining the effect of a statutory invention registration waiver in one application on a related application.

Reply: A new paragraph (e) has been added to §1.106 to clarify the standard to be applied in determining the effect of a statutory invention registration waiver. The suggestion that the scope of the waiver be limited to the subject matter of the claims of the statutory invention registration and not to any obvious modifications thereof has been adopted.

Comment: Three comments suggested that since a statutory invention registration is prior art as of its effective filing date, the time permitted between the effective filing date and the publication of the statutory invention registration should be limited. Several different approaches were suggested. One comment suggested that there was no problem in this regard. Another comment suggested that the organization is studying the question and will have recommendations in several months.

Reply: The statute makes it clear that the Commissioner is not required to publish a statutory invention registration in response to a request therefor. The case-by-case consideration of requests for publication of a statutory invention registration should safeguard the public without unduly placing limits on patent applicants. The Office will await further recommendations on this question and will observe actual experience prior to placing any time limitations on the use of statutory invention registrations.

Comment: Two comments suggested that §1.293 be modified to eliminate the requirement for a statement in the request for publication of a statutory invention registration that the application meets the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112. One of these comments also suggested the elimination of the statement that the application meets formal requirements for printing. One comment suggested that if there is a requirement for a statement in the request for publication of a statutory invention registration that the application meets the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, there will not be a great necessity for the Office to spend a lot of time examining the application, although there has to be some examination.

Reply: The reason for the statements in §1.293 regarding compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112 and the formal requirements for printing as a patent was to reduce the cost of statutory invention registrations to the applicants and to the Office. The level of fees which have been established assumes that applicants will include the statements required by §1.293 in their requests and that the statements will accurately reflect the condition of the applications to which the requests are directed.

Comment: One comment suggested that the rules should include a fixed and definite time period in which an authorized party can withdraw a statutory invention registration after its approval and before its publication.

Reply: The suggestion has been adopted. Section 1.296 has been modified to permit a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration to be filed at any time prior to the date of the notice of intent to publish the statutory invention registration. After the date of the notice of intent to publish the statutory invention registration, any request to withdraw the request for publication of the statutory invention registration must be in the form of a petition pursuant to §1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h).

Comment: One comment suggested that the statement to be printed on statutory invention registrations as set out in proposed §1.297(b) be modified to be easily understood by lay people.

Reply: The statement has been modified to specifically state that the statutory invention registration is not a patent.

Environmental, Energy, and Other Considerations: The final rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96–354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96–354). In fact, the rule change will benefit small entities since the statutory invention registration procedures will provide a new, less expensive alternative to the traditional patenting of inventions in appropriate circumstances. Further, the ability to join multiple inventors in a single application in appropriate circumstances will be of particular benefit to small entities. Other changes, such as the elimination of the reasons for appeal, will also be beneficial to all inventors. See a "section-by-section" analysis submitted for the Record by Representative Kastenmeier during discussion of H.R. 6286 on the floor of the House in which the following statement appears (130 Cong. Rec. H 1057 (1984), column 1):

> "Last, the SIR would be particularly useful to those with limited resources such as universities and small businesses, who have a new less expensive alternative to the traditional patenting of inventions."

These rules, therefore, will have no significant adverse economic impact on small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The information collection requirements contained in these rules were submitted to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) at the time of the proposed rulemaking for review under Section 3504(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act. OMB has approved the information collection requirements and has assigned OMB control number 0651–0018 thereto.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations (government agencies), Conflict of interests, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, Pub. L. 98–620 and 98–622, the Patent and Trademark Office is amending Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

1. Section 1.11 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) and adding new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§1.11 Files open to the public.

(a) After a patent has been issued or a statutory invention registration has been published, the specification, drawings and all papers relating to the case in the file of the patent or statutory invention registration are open to inspection by the public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor. See §2.27 for trademark files.

(b) All reissue applications, all applications in which the Office has accepted a request to open the complete application to inspection by the public, and related papers in the application file, are open to inspection by the public, and copies may be furnished upon paying the fee therefor. The filing of reissue applications will be announced in the Official Gazette. The announcement shall include at least the filing date, reissue application and original patent numbers, title, class and subclass, name of the inventor, name of the owner of record, name of the attorney or agent of record, and examining group to which the reissue application is assigned.

* * * * *

(e) The file of any interference involving a patent, a statutory invention registration, or an application on which a patent has issued or which has been published as a statutory invention registration, is open to inspection by the public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor, if: (1) the interference has terminated, or (2) an award of priority or judgment has been entered as to all parties and all counts.

2. Section 1.14 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.14 Patent applications preserved in secrecy.

* * * * *

(b) Except as provided in §1.11(b) abandoned applications are likewise not open to public inspection, except that if an application referred to in a U.S. patent, or in an application in which the applicant has filed an authorization to open the complete application to the public, is abandoned and is available, it may be inspected or copies obtained by any person on written request, without notice to the applicant.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.17 is amended by revising paragraph (h) and by adding new paragraphs (n) and (o) to read as follows:

§1.17 Patent application processing fees.

* * * * *

(h) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph $120.00

§1.47	— for filing by other than all the inventors or a person not the inventor
§1.48	— for correction of inventorship
§1.182	— for decision on questions not specifically provided for
§1.183	— to suspend the rules
§1.295	— for review of refusal to publish a statutory invention registration
§1.377	— for review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent
§1.378(e)	— for reconsideration of decision on petition refusing to accept delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent
§1.644(e)	— for petition in an interference
§1.644(f)	— for request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference
§1.666(c)	— for late filing of interference settlement agreement
§§5.12, 5.13, & 5.14	— for expedited handling of foreign filing license
§5.15	— for changing the scope of a license
§5.25	— for retroactive license

* * * * *

(n) For requesting publication of a statutory invention registration prior to the mailing of the first examiner's acton pursuant to §1.104 ..... $400.00 reduced by the amount of the application basic filing fee paid

(o) For requesting publication of a statutory invention registration after the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to §1.104 ..... $800.00 reduced by the amount of the application basic filing fee paid

4. Section 1.19 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (e) to read as follows:

§1.19 Document supply fees.

The Patent and Trademark Office will supply copies of the following documents upon payment of the fees indicated:

(a) Uncertified copies of Office documents:

(1) Printed copy of a patent, including a design patent, statutory invention registration, or defensive publication document, except color plant patent $1.00

* * * * *

(e) List of patents in subclass:

(1) For list of all United States patents and statutory invention registrations in a subclass, per 100 numbers or fraction thereof 2.00

(2) For list of United States patents and statutory invention registrations in a subclass limited by date or number, per 50 numbers or fraction thereof 2.00

5. Section 1.20 is amended by revising paragraphs (e), (f), (g) and (m) to read as follows:

§1.20 Post-issuance fees.

* * * * *

(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after December 12, 1980 and before August 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant $200.00

(f) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after December 12, 1980 and before August 27, 1982, in force beyond 8 years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant 400.00

(g) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after December 12, 1980 and before August 27, 1982, in force beyond 12 years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant 600.00

* * * * *

(m) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay in payment is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable 500.00

6. Section 1.45 is revised by labeling the existing paragraph as (a) and by adding new paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§1.45 Joint inventors.

(a) * * * * *

(b) Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though
(1) they did not physically work together or at the same time,
(2) each inventor did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or
(3) each inventor did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the application.

(c) If multiple inventors are named in an application, each named inventor must have made a contribution, individually or jointly, to the subject matter of at least one claim of the application and the application will be considered to be a joint application under 35 U.S.C. 116.

7. Section 1.48 is amended by labeling the current paragraph as paragraph (a) and by adding new paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§1.48 Correction of inventorship.

(a) * * * * *

(b) If the correct inventors are named in the application when filed and the prosecution of the application results in the amendment or cancellation of claims so that less than all of the originally named inventors are the actual inventors of the invention being claimed in the application, an amendment shall be filed deleting the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed. The amendment must be diligently made and shall be accompanied by:
(1) a petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application, and
(2) the fee set forth in §1.17(h).

(c) If an application discloses unclaimed subject matter by an inventor or inventors not named in the application, the application may be amended pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to add claims to the subject matter and name the correct inventors for the application. [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

8. Section 1.60 is revised to read as follows:

§1.60 Continuation or divisional application for invention disclosed in a prior application.

(a) A continuation or divisional application (filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120 or 121 and §1.78(a)), naming as inventors the same or less than all the inventors named in a prior application and which discloses and claims only subject matter disclosed in the prior application may be filed as a separate application before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the prior application.

(b) An applicant may omit signing of the oath or declaration in a continuation or divisional application if (1) the prior application was a complete application as set forth in §1.51(a), (2) applicant files a true copy of the prior complete application as filed including the specification (including claims), drawings, oath or declaration showing the signature or an indication it was signed, and any amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application, and (3) the inventors named in the continuation or divisional application are the same or less than all the inventors named in the prior application. The copy of the prior application must be accompanied by a statement that the application papers filed are a true copy of the prior application and that no amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application introduced new matter therein. Such statement must be by the applicant or applicant's attorney or agent and must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application (§1.78(a)) will be entered before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date. If the continuation or divisional application is filed by less than all the inventors named in the prior application a statement must accompany the application when filed requesting deletion of the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed in the continuation or divisional application.

9. Section 1.61 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraphs (a) and (b) and adding paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§1.61 Filing of applications in the United States of America as a Designated Office.

(a) To maintain the benefit of the international filing date and obtain an examination as to the patentability of the invention in the United States, the applicant shall furnish to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office not later than the expiration of 20 months from the priority date: (1) a copy of the international application with any amendments under PCT Article 19, unless it has been previously communicated by the International Bureau or unless it was originally filed in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office; (2) a translation of the international application and a translation of any amendments under PCT Article 19 into the English language, if originally filed in another language; (3) the national fee (see §1.445(a)(4)); and (4) an oath or declaration of the inventor (see §1.70).

(b) If the translation of the international application, oath or declaration, and national fee have not been submitted by the applicant within twenty (20) months from the priority date, such requirements may be met within twenty-two (22) months from the priority date. The payment of the surcharge set forth in §1.445(a)(5) is required as a condition for accepting the national fee or the oath or declaration later than 20 months after the priority date. The payment of the processing fee set forth in §1.445(a)(6) is required for acceptance of an English translation later than 20 months after the priority date. Failure to comply with these requirements will result in abandonment of the application. The provisions of §1.136 do not apply to the 22 month period of this section.

(c) If a copy of the amendments under PCT Article 19 is not communicated by the International Bureau or a copy thereof and any necessary English translation thereof is not received by the end of 20 months from the priority date, such failure will be regarded as cancellation of the amendments under PCT Article 19 in the international application.

(d) Verification of the translation of the international application or any other document pertaining to an international application may be required where it is considered necessary, if the international application or other document was filed in a language other than English.

10. Section 1.62 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c) and (h) to read as follows:

§1.62 File wrapper continuing procedure.

(a) A continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application, which uses the specification, drawings and oath or declaration from a prior complete application (§1.51(a)) which is to be abandoned, may be filed before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on the prior application. The filing date of an application filed under this section is the date on which a request is filed for an application under this section including identification of the Serial Number, filing date, and applicant's name of the prior complete application. If the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application is filed by less than all the inventors named in the prior application a statement must accompany the application when filed requesting deletion of the names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed in the continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional application.

* * * * *

(c) In the case of a continuation-in-part application which adds and claims additional disclosure by amendment, an oath or declaration as required by §1.63 must also be filed. In those situations where a new oath or declaration is required due to additional subject matter being claimed, additional inventors may be named in the continuing application. In a continuation or divisional application which discloses and claims only subject matter dislcosed in a prior application, no additional oath or declaration is required and the application must name as inventors the same or less than all the inventors named in the prior application.

* * * * *

(h) The applicant is urged to furnish the following information relating to the prior and continuing applications to the best of his or her ability:

* * * * *

(5) The title of the invention and names of the applicants to be named in the continuing application.

* * * * *

11. Section 1.78 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) and by adding a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.78 Claiming benefit of earlier filing date and cross-references to other applications.

(a) An application may claim an invention disclosed in a prior filed copending national application or international application designating the United States of America. In order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending national application, the prior application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed application and dislcose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, the prior application must be (1) complete as set forth in §1.51, or (2) entitled to a filing date as set forth in §1.53(b) and include the basic filing fee set forth in §1.16; or (3) entitled to a filing date as set forth in §1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(1) within the time period set forth in §1.53(d). Any application claiming the benefit of a prior filed copending national or international application must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to such prior application, identifying it by serial number and filing date or international application number and international filing date and indicating the relationship of the applications. Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate. (See §1.14(b)).

(c) Where two or more applications, or an application and a patent naming different inventors and owned by the same party contain conflicting claims, and there is no statement of record indicating that the claimed inventions were commonly owned or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the later invention was made, the assignee may be called upon to state whether the claimed inventions were commonly owned or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person at the time the later invention was made, and if not, indicate which named inventor is the prior inventor. In addition to making said statement, the assignee may also explain why an interference should or should not be declared.

(d) Where an application claims an invention which is not patentably distinct from an invention claimed in a commonly owned patent with the same or a different inventive entity, a double patenting rejection will be made in the application. An obviousness-type double patenting rejection may be obviated by filing a terminal disclaimer in accordance with §1.321(b).

12. Section 1.101 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.101 Order of examination.

(a) Applications filed in the Patent and Trademark Office and accepted as complete applications are assigned for examination to the respective examining groups having the classes of inventions to which the applications relate. Applications shall be taken up for examination by the examiner to whom they have been assigned in the order in which they have been filed except for those applications in which examination has been advanced pursuant to §1.102. International applications which have complied with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 371(c) will be taken up for action based on the date on which such requirements were met. However, unless a request has been filed under 35 U.S.C. 371(f), no action may be taken prior to 21 months from the priority date.

* * * * *

13. Section 1.103 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.103 Suspension of action.

* * * * *

(d) Action on applications in which the Office has accepted a request to publish a defensive publication will be suspended for the entire pendency of these applications except for purposes relating to patent interference proceedings under Subpart E.

14. Section 1.104 is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) immediately following the Note to paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§1.104 Nature of examination; examiner's action.

* * * * *

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

(e) Co-pending applications will be considered by the examiner to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person if (1) the application files refer to assignments recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with §1.331 which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization; or (2) copies of unrecorded assignments which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization are filed in each of the applications; or (3) an affidavit or declaration by the common owner is filed which states that there is common ownership and states facts which explain why the affiant or declarant believes there is common ownership; or (4) other evidence is submitted which establishes common ownership of the applications. In circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization.

15. Section 1.106 is amended by adding new paragraphs (d) and (e) to read as follows:

§1.106 Rejection of claims.

* * * * *

(d) Subject matter which is developed by another person which qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102 (f) or (g) may be used as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103 against a claimed invention unless the entire rights to the subject matter and the claimed invention were commonly owned by the same person or organization or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person or organization at the time the claimed invention was made.

(e) The claims in any original application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the same subject matter is claimed in the application and the statutory invention registration. The claims in any reissue application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the reissue application seeks to claim subject matter (1) which was not covered by claims issued in the patent prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration and (2) which was the same subject matter waived in the statutory invention registration.

16. Section 1.108 is revised to read as follows:

§1.108 Abandoned applications not cited.

Abandoned applications as such will not be cited as references except those which have been opened to inspection by the public following a defensive publication.

17. Section 1.110 is added to read as follows:

§1.110 Inventorship and date of invention of the subject matter of individual claims.

When more than one inventor is named in an application or patent, the Patent and Trademark Office, when necessary for purposes of an Office proceeding, may require an applicant, patentee, or owner to identify the inventive entity of the subject matter of each claim in the application or patent. Where appropriate, the invention dates of the subject matter of each claim and the ownership of the subject matter on the date of invention may be required of the applicant, patentee or owner. See also §§1.78(c) and (d). [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

18. Section 1.131 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.131 Affidavit or declaration of prior invention to overcome cited patent or publication.

(a) When any claim of an application or a patent under reexamination is rejected on reference to a domestic patent which substantially shows or describes but does not claim the rejected invention, or on reference to a foreign patent or to a printed publication, and the inventor of the subject matter of the rejected claim, the owner of the patent under reexamination, or the person qualified under §§1.42, 1.43 or 1.47, shall make oath or declaration as to facts showing a completion of the invention in this country before the filing date of the application on which the domestic patent issued, or before the date of the foreign patent, or before the date of the printed publication, then the patent or publication cited shall not bar the grant of a patent to the inventor or the confirmation of the patentability of the claims of the patent, unless the date of such patent or printed publication is more than one year prior to the date on which the inventor's or patent owner's application was filed in this country.

19. Section 1.139 is removed.

20. Section 1.193 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.193 Examiner's answer.

* * * * *

(b) The appellant may file a reply brief directed only to such new points of argument as may be raised in the examiner's answer, within one month from the date of such answer. However, if the examiner's answer states a new ground of rejection appellant may file a reply thereto within two months from the date of such answer; such reply may include any amendment or material appropriate to the new ground.

21. A new section 1.293 is added to read as follows:

§1.293 Statutory invention registration.

(a) An applicant for an original patent may request, at any time during the pendency of applicant's pending complete application, that the specification and drawings be published as a statutory invention registration. Any such request must be signed by (1) the applicant and any assignee of record or (2) an attorneyor agent of record in the application.

(b) Any request for publication of a statutory invention registration must include the following parts:

(1) a waiver of the applicant's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed effective upon the date of publication of the statutory invention registration;

(2) the required fee for filing a request for publication of a statutory invention registration as provided for in §1.17(n) or (o);

(3) a statement that, in the opinion of the requester, the application to which the request is directed meets the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112; and

(4) a statement that, in the opinion of the requester, the application to which the request is directed complies with the formal requirements of this part for printing as a patent.

(c) A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will be effective, upon publication of the statutory invention registration, to waive the inventor's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed in the statutory invention registration, in any application for an original patent which is pending on, or filed after, the date of publication of the statutory invention registration. A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will not affect the rights of any other inventor even if the subject matter of the statutory invention registration and an application of another inventor are commonly owned. A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will not affect any rights in a patent to the inventor which is issued prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration unless a reissue application is filed seeking to enlarge the scope of the claims of the patent. See also §1.106(e). [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

22. A new section 1.294 is added to read as follows:

§1.294 Examination of request for publication of a statutory invention registration and patent application to which the request is directed.

(a) Any request for a statutory invention registration will be examined to determine if the requirements of §1.293 have been met. The application to which the request is directed will be examined to determine (1) if the subject matter of the application is appropriate for publication, (2) if the requirements for publication are met, and (3) if the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 and §1.293 of this part are met.

(b) Applicant will be notified of the results of the examination set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. If the requirements of §1.293 and this section are not met by the request filed, the notification to applicant will set a period of time within which to comply with the requirements in order to avoid abandonment of the application. If the application does not meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, the notification to applicant will include a rejection under the appropriate provisions of 35 U.S.C. 112. The periods for response established pursuant to this section are subject to the extension of time provisions of §1.136. After response by the applicant, the application will again be considered for publication of a statutory invention registration. If the requirements of §1.293 and this section are not timely met, the refusal to publish will be made final. If the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are not met, the rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 will be made final.

(c) If the examination pursuant to this section results in approval of the request for a statutory invention registration the applicant will be notified of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration.

23. A new section 1.295 is added to read as follows:

§1.295 Review of decision finally refusing to publish a statutory invention registration.

(a) Any requester who is dissatisfied with the final refusal to publish a statutory invention registration for reasons other than compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112 may obtain review of the refusal to publish the statutory invention registration by filing a petition to the Commissioner accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h) within one month or such other time as is set in the decision refusing publication. Any such petition should comply with the requirements of §1.181(b). The petition may include a request that the petition fee be refunded if the final refusal to publish a statutory invention registration for reasons other than compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112 is determined to result from an error by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(b) Any requester who is dissatisfied with a decision finally rejecting claims pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 may obtain review of the decision by filing an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to §1.191. If the decision rejecting claims pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 is reversed, the request for a statutory invention registration will be approved and the registration published if all of the other provisions of §1.293 and this section are met. [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

24. A new section 1.296 is added to read as follows:

§1.296 Withdrawal of request for publication of statutory invention registration.

A request for a statutory invention registration, which has been filed, may be withdrawn prior to the date of the notice of the intent to publish a statutory invention registration issued pursuant to §1.294(c) by filing a request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration. The request to withdraw may also include a request for a refund of any amount paid in excess of the application filing fee and a handling fee of $100 which will be retained. Any request to withdraw the request for publication of a statutory invention registration filed on or after the date of the notice of intent to publish issued pursuant to §1.294(c) must be in the form of a petition pursuant to §1.183 accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h). [OMB Control No. 0651-0018].

25. A new section 1.297 is added to read as follows:

§1.297 Publication of statutory invention registration.

(a) If the request for a statutory invention registration is approved the statutory invention registration will be published. The statutory invention registration will be mailed to the requester at the correspondence address as provided for in §1.33(a). A notice of the publication of each statutory invention registration will be published in the Official Gazette.

(b) Each statutory invention registration published will include a statement relating to the attributes of a statutory invention registration. The statement will read as follows:

A statutory invention registration published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 157 is not a patent but it has all of the attributes specified for patents in title 35, United States Code, except those specified in 35 U.S.C. 183 and sections 271 through 289. A statutory invention registration does not have any of the attributes specified for patents in any other provision of law other than title 35, United States Code. The invention with respect to which a statutory invention registration is published is not a patented invention for purposes of the marking provisions of 35 U.S.C. 292.

26. Section 1.301 is revised to read as follows:

§1.301 Appeal to U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Any applicant or any owner of a patent involved in a reexamination proceeding dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, and any party to an interference dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal: (a) In the Patent and Trademark Office file a written notice of appeal directed to the Commissioner (see §§1.302 and 1.304); and (b) in the Court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court. The certified list of documents and any original or certified copies of such documents required by the Court will be transmitted to the Court by the Patent and Trademark Office.

27. Section 1.302 is revised to read as follows:

§1.302 Notice of appeal.

(a) When an appeal is taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the appellant shall give notice thereof to the Commissioner within the time specified in §1.304.

(b) In interferences, the notice must be served as provided in §1.646.

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

28. Section 1.304 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§1.303) is sixty days from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under §1.197(b) or §1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty-day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. Except for an appeal from or commencing a civil action after a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in a reexamination proceeding or an interference proceeding, the time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of §1.136. See §1.550(c) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in a reexamination proceeding. See §1.645(a) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in an interference. An examiner-in-chief, upon a showing of excusable neglect, may extend the time for seeking judicial review of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an interference case when a request is untimely filed after expiration of the time prescribed by this section.

* * * * *

29. Section 1.378 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.378 Acceptance of delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent to reinstate patent.

(a) The Commissioner may accept the payment of any maintenance fee due on a patent after expiration of the patent if, upon petition, the delay in payment of the maintenance fee is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable and if the surcharge required by §1.20(m) is paid as a condition of accepting payment of the maintenance fee. If the Commissioner accepts payment of the maintenance fee upon petition, the patent shall be considered as not having expired, but will be subject to the conditions set forth in 35 U.S.C. 41(c)(2).

* * * * *

30. Section 1.431 is amended by revising paragraphs (b)(3)(iii) and (c) and by adding new paragraphs (d) and (e) to read as follows:

§1.431 International application requirements.

* * * * *

(iii) The name of the applicant, as prescribed (note § §1.421-1.424);

(c) Payment of the basic portion of the international fee (PCT Rule 15.2) and the transmittal and search fees (§1.445) may be made in full at the time international application papers required by paragraph (b) of this section are deposited or within one month thereafter. Failure to make full payment within one month of the deposit of the international application papers required by paragraph (b) of this section will result in the fees being charged to the International Bureau under the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section and PCT Rule 16 bis.

(d) The United States Receiving Office will charge to the International Bureau in accordance with PCT Rule 16 bis and will consider as having been timely paid:

(1) the transmittal fee, the basic fee portion of the international fee, or the search fee where these fees have not been fully paid by the applicant within one month of the date of deposit of the international application, and

(2) the destination fee, or the amount necessary to cover all the designations made in the request which have not been paid by the applicant within one year from the priority date.

(e) The International Bureau will notify applicant of any amount charged under paragraph (d) of this section and invite the applicant to pay directly to the International Bureau within one month from the date of the notification, the amount charged, augmented by a surcharge of 50%, provided the surcharge will not be less and will not be more, than the amounts indicated in the Schedule of Fees appended to the PCT Rules. If the payment needed to cover the transmittal fees, the basic fee, the search fee, one designation fee and the surcharge is not timely made to the International Bureau, the International Bureau will notify the Receiving Office which will declare the international application withdrawn under PCT Article 14(3)(a). If the applicant makes timely payment of the fees referred to in the previous sentence, but the amount paid is not sufficient to cover all the designation fees, the Receiving Office will declare any designations not paid withdrawn under PCT Article 14(3)(b) in accordance with PCT Rule 16 bis. 2(c).

31. Section 1.445 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(4) and (5) and adding paragraph (a)(6) to read as follows:

§1.445 International application filing and processing fees.

(a) * * *

(4) The national fee, that is, the amount set forth as the filing fee under §1.16(a) through (d) credited one time only by an amount of $250 where an international search fee of $500.00 has been paid on the corresponding international application to the United States Patent and Trademark Office as an International Searching Authority. Where the amount of the credit is in excess of that required for the national fee, a request for a refund of the excess under §1.446(b) may be filed at the time of paying the national fee. Only one such credit is permitted based on a single $500.00 international search fee.

(5) Surcharge for filing the national fee or oath or declaration later than 20 months from the priority date $100.00

(6) For filing an English translation of an international application later than 20 months after the priority date (§1.61(b)).. $20.00

* * * * *

32. Section 1.446 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§1.446 Refund of international application filing and processing fees.

* * * * *

(b) Refund of a portion of the search fee toward payment of the national fee may be made one time to the extent set forth in §1.445(a)(4) if requested at the time of paying the national fee provided that a $500 search fee has been paid.

* * * * *

33. Section 1.451 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§1.451 The priority claim and priority document in an international application.

(b) Whenever the priority of an earlier United States national application is claimed in an international application, the applicant may request in a letter of transmittal accompanying the international application upon filing with the United States Receiving Office or in a separate letter filed in the Receiving Office not later than 16 months after the priority date, that the Patent and Trademark Office prepare a certified copy of the national application for transmittal to the International Bureau (PCT Article 8 and PCT Rule 17). The fee for preparing a certified copy is stated in §1.19(a)(3) and (b)(1).

(c) If a certified copy of the priority document is not submitted together with the international application on filing, or, if the priority application was filed in the United States and a request and appropriate payment for preparation of such a certified copy do not accompany the international application on filing or are not filed within 16 months of the priority date, the certified copy of the priority document must be furnished by the applicant to the International Bureau or to the United States Receiving Office within the time limit specified in PCT Rule 17.1(a).

34. Section 1.461 is amended by deleting paragraph (b) and by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.461 Procedures for transmittal of record copy to the International Bureau.

(a) Transmittal of the record copy of the international application to the International Bureau shall be made by the United States Receiving Office.

(b) (reserved)

(134) Establishing Common Ownership of Patent Applications and/or Patents Owned by a Corporation or Other Organization

This notice is intended to simplify the practice of establishing common ownership of patent applications and/or patents in circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization. Under 37 CFR 1.104(e), in order to establish common ownership "[i]n circumstances where the common owner is a corporation or other organization an affidavit or declaration may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization." A mere power of attorney to prosecute a patent application does not make an individual an official of a corporation or organization or empower the individual to act on behalf of the corporation or organization in making an affidavit or declaration averring to common ownership. However, such an affidavit could be made by a patent attorney, patent agent, or other individual if the attorney, agent, or other individual has been appointed in writing by the corporation or organization as an official of the corporation or organization specifically empowered to make affidavits or declarations on its behalf averring to common ownership. In circumstances where such a written appointment has been given to a patent attorney, patent agent, or other individual, that person could then make affidavits or declarations averring to common ownership as long as the affidavit or declaration referred to an attached copy of the written appointment and averred that the authority is still in effect. Under this practice the original signed copy of the written appointment would be retained by the affiant or declarant unless the Patent and Trademark Office specifically required it to be filed. Unless some question arose as to the authority of the individual to make the averment as to common ownership, the Patent and Trademark Office would ordinarily not need to require the original signed copy of the written appointment. While this practice should simplify the establishing of common ownership by necessitating only one original signed written appointment, corporations and other organizations must exercise care that the written appointment is only given to those persons who are in a position to know that common ownership does in fact exist and can therefore properly make affirmative representations to that effect to the Patent and Trademark Office.

Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks.

MISCELLANEOUS

(135) Hearings Before the Board of Appeals

In recent years the backlog of cases awaiting decision by the Board of Appeals has grown substantially. The average time elapsing between filing of the examiner's answer and final disposition is now roughly 17 months. Intensive effort by the Board and greater use of acting examiners-in-chief have been successful in raising the number of dispositions, but at the same time the number of appeals continues to grow. Thus in the first six months of 1974, the Board disposed of 1,193 appeals but received 1,915; in the last half of the year the Board disposed of 1,993 appeals but received 2,179.

In this connection it will be helpful if applicants and attorneys will dispense with oral hearings except where unusual circumstances are present which make a hearing important to the decision. Appeals submitted on brief receive just as careful consideration as those in which oral argument is presented, nor are any implications drawn as to the merits of the appeal from failure to request a hearing. It has been the Board's experience that in the ordinary case the hearing is not of great value in arriving at the ultimate decision.

Appellants are also encouraged to review cases where a hearing has already been requested, with a view to withdrawing the request if it is not necessary. It is particularly important that the Board be given timely notice whenever circumstances prevent the applicant or his representative from the appearing at a scheduled hearing.

Rule 194 (37 CFR 1.194) limits oral argument to thirty minutes unless otherwise ordered by the Board. It has been the Board's experience, however, that effective arguments can be presented in less than thirty minutes in most cases. Effective immediately the Board will be informing appellants in the notices of hearing mailed to them that oral argument will be limited to twenty minutes unless otherwise ordered before the hearing begins.

The assistance of the public will be appreciated.

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(136) Hearings Before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

During the past twelve months there has been an increase in the number of ex parte appeals pending before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. In order to address the growing backlog of pending appeals, it is necessary to make the most effective use of the time of Examiners-in-Chief hearing appeals. Significant amounts of time are spent by Examiners-in-Chief preparing for the hearings. In an effort to conserve the time spent in the preparation for hearing by Examiners-in-Chief, notice is hereby given that subsequent to the confirmation of attendance at oral hearing, requests for postponement of the hearing will not be granted in the absence of a showing of dramatically unusual circumstances.

(137) Hearings Before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

Rule 1.3 (37 CFR 1.3) provides that:

"[a]pplicants and their attorneys or agents are required to conduct their business with the Patent and Trademark Office with decorum and courtesy."

Notice is hereby given that persons attending hearings before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences are advised that the above provision also applies to dress. If an attendee at a hearing is not appropriately dressed, the attendee may be requested to leave the hearing room.

(138) Access to Interference Settlement Agreements by Government Agencies

Under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. §135(c), a party to an interference filing a copy of a settlement agreement may request that the copy be kept separate from the file of the interference, and made available only to Government agencies on written request, or to any person on a showing of good cause.

In order to provide the parties with a record of the inspection of such agreements by Government agencies, a representative of an agency will henceforth be required to present a written request, similar to the following, for each interference in which the inspection and/or copying of the agreement(s) is desired:

Date:_____

To: Clerk, Board of Patent Interferences

Pursuant to the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 135(c), please permit . . . . . the bearer(s) of this letter, to [ ] inspect and/or [ ] copy the settlement agreement(s) filed in Interference No. . . . . The information gained from such inspection and/or copying will be kept in confidence and will not be disclosed to any other person except for official investigative or law enforcement purposes.

. . . . . Name, Title

. . . . . Agency

The request will be placed in the folder containing the copy of the agreement, where it may be inspected by the parties or their authorized representatives.

This procedure will be applicable only to inspection or copying by the representatives of Government agencies, since no person other than a representative of a Government agency, or of a party, will be granted access to a copy of an interference settlement agreement which is kept separate from the interference file except by way of a petition for access thereto, see M.P.E.P. §1002.02(k), item 2, and the parties to the interference are normally provided with copies of any such petition.

(139) Accessibility of Non-Final Discovery Opinions and Orders Issued by the Board of Patent Interferences

A number of inquiries have been received from the patent bar and other interested persons relating to discovery practice under 37 C.F.R. §1.287 before the Board of Patent Interferences. The inquiries indicate a need for making available to the public non-final Board opinions, including concurring and dissenting opinions, as well as orders, made in the adjudication of discovery matters before the Board. While non-final opinions need not be made available to the public [5 U.S.C. §552(a)(2)], in order to satisfy the need, copies of non-final opinions issued by the Board will be kept in a file in the Service Branch of the Board in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (Crystal Plaza, Building 6, Eleventh Floor, Room 1116, Arlington, Virginia). Opinions in the file may be reviewed by the public during normal business hours (8:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.). Copies of opinions may be made by the public on reproducing equipment in the Service Branch with tokens at a cost of $0.15 per page or copies may be ordered at a cost of $0.30 per page [37 C.F.R. 1.21(b)].

In view of the provisions of 35 U.S.C. §122 and 37 C.F.R. §1.11(a), a consent will be obtained by the Office from all parties in an interference before an opinion issued in connection with the interference is placed in the file if the interference file is not otherwise available to the public. Preliminary indications are that the parties and their counsel generally consent.

In order to obtain optimum dissemination of the information contained in the file, opinions placed therein will be indexed according to specific topics. Copies of the index will be updated from time to time as the need occurs. Specific questions relating to the index and file may be directed to the Patent Interference Examiners.

The initial index is as follows:

(140) Petitions in Interference Cases From Decisions of The Board on Motions for Additional Discovery Under 37 CFR 1.287(c)

Notwithstanding the clear statement in the last sentence of 37 CFR 1.287(c), parties in interference cases continue to seek review by the Commissioner of decisions of the Board of Patent Interferences on motions for additional discovery under 37 CFR 1.287(c). Review of such a decision can be had along with judicial review of a decision on the question of priority. Cochran v. Kresock, 530 F.2d 385, 188 USPQ 553 (CCPA 1976); Comstock v. Kroekel, 200 USPQ 548 (Comm'r. Pat. 1978). Accordingly, parties in interference cases are reminded that a petition to the Commissioner should not be filed for the purpose of seeking review of an interlocutory decision of the Board granting or denying a motion for additional discovery under 37 CFR 1.287(c). See also Fenstermacher v. Daugherty, 189 USPQ 536 (Comm'r. Pat. 1975) and Sheehan v. Doyle, 202 USPQ 783 (Comm'r. Pat. 1978). The filing of such a petition only serves to delay the ultimate disposition of interferences on the merits. The filing of a paper for the mere purpose of delay is not permitted by the rules. 37 CFR 1.346. The Board of Patent Interferences will no longer grant a stay of proceedings pending disposition of a petition to the Commissioner seeking review of a decision of the Board on a motion for additional discovery under 37 CFR 1.287(c).

(141) Commissioner's Notice Practice under 37 CFR §1.225(b)

When a junior party to an interference is placed under an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered pursuant to 37 CFR §1.225 and requests final hearing to contest an ancillary matter, either the junior or senior party may file a motion for permission to take testimony pursuant to 37 CFR §1.225(b) and the last sentence of 37 CFR §1.251(b). However, some uncertainty has arisen as to when the motion must be filed and what it must contain.

Motion by the Junior Party

When a junior party is placed under an order to show cause and the junior party desired a testimony period, the motion for permission to take testimony should be filed preferably before the time set for responding to the order to show cause. The motion will be considered timely, however, if filed no later than twenty (20) days after the Board of Patent Interferences enters an order setting final hearing.

There are instances where the requested testimony relates to priority. For example, the junior party may occasionally desire to take testimony to establish prior inventive acts alleged in a preliminary statement even though those acts are subsequent to the senior party's effective filing date. This situation arises when (1) the junior party's preliminary statement dates fall between the filing date of the senior party's involved application and the filing date of a prior application accorded to the senior party, (2) the junior party has unsuccessfully contended in a motion under 37 CFR §1.231 that the senior party should not be accorded benefit of the prior application, and (3) the junior party has requested final hearing to review the examiner's adverse decision on the motion.

When the requested testimony includes priority testimony, the motion to take testimony may be pro forma, viz., a simple request that a testimony period be set to obtain priority evidence. Normally, however, when a junior party seeks to take testimony under 37 CFR §1.225(b), the proposed testimony relates solely to ancillary matters. When the requested testimony relates solely to ancillary matters, the motion must comply with the provisions of 37 CFR §1.225(b)—a showing of good cause must be submitted and a pro forma request would not be sufficient. See generally Rivise & Caesar, Interference Law and Practice, Vol. III, §§376–377 (1947).

Motion by the Senior Party

There are occasions when a senior party may desire a testimony period even if the junior party does not request a testimony period. See e.g., Lorenian v. Winstead, 127 USPQ 501 (Bd.Int. 1959). When a senior party desires a testimony period, the motion for permission to take testimony should be filed promptly after the Board of Patent Interferences enters an order setting final hearing, but in no event later than twenty (20) days after entry of such order. A senior party should take into account the fact that a junior party will begin preparation of a brief for final hearing after receiving notice of the briefing schedule. Therefore, a senior party should not be permitted to let a junior party expend unnecessary energy preparing a brief for final hearing if the senior party plans to move to take testimony.

As in the case of a junior party, a request to take testimony relating to priority may be pro forma. A request to take testimony limited to ancillary matters must comply with 37 CFR §1.225(b). See 37 CFR 1.251(b), last sentence.

Docket No. 40104-4151

Patent Interference Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending its rules of practice in patent interference cases. The Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, Public Law 98-622, §§201-202, abolished the Board of Appeals and Board of Patent Interferences and created in their place a Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences which will decide ex parte appeals from adverse decisions of patent examiners and interference cases. The Patent and Trademark Office, through this amendment of its rules, intends to provide guidance on the procedures the Office will be following in conducting interference cases before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.
Date: The effective date of these rules is: Feb. 11, 1985.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 557-4025 (if no answer, message may be left at 703-557-4103) or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) conducts interference proceedings to determine who as between two or more applicants for patent or one or more applicants and one or more patentees is the first inventor of a patentable invention. Heretofore, the determination was made by a Board of Patent Interferences. The Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, Public Law 98-622, §§201-202 combines the Board of Appeals and the Board of Patent Interferences into a single Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board) and authorizes the Board to consider priority and patentability in interference cases.

In view of the discretion given the Board under 35 U.S.C. §135(a), as amended by Public Law 98-622 ("The Board . . . . may determine questions of patentability . . . ."), these new rules will apply to all interferences declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985, except in special circumstances, such as: (1) interferences which are declared as a result of a motion made in another interference which was pending before the Board before Feb. 11, 1985, (e.g., an interference declared as a result of a motion under 37 CFR §1.231 to declare an additional interference); (2) an interference related to another interference declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985 (e.g., an interference involving a method of using a compound where an interference involving the same parties and the compound was declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985); and (3) an interference reinstituted after having been dissolved under the old rules (37 CFR §§1.201-1.288)(e.g., an interference reinstituted after having been dissolved as a result of a motion under 37 CFR §1.231 to dissolve on the grounds of unpatentability where the applicant has obtained allowance of the claims held unpatentable in the decision on motions).

Through these new rules the PTO seeks to improve interference procedure so that the rights of parties in interferences are determined at an early date and the overall process of examining patent applications which become involved in interferences is simplified.

In order to obtain maximum input from the public prior to formally proposing revisions to the rules, on Aug. 1, 1983, the PTO published in the Federal Register an advance notice of proposed rulemaking for interference rules. 48 F.R. 34836-34855. The advance notice was not published in the Official Gazette. Twenty-one written comments were received. All comments are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

On Jan. 30, 1984, the PTO published in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking. 49 F.R. 3768-3802. The notice was also published in the Official Gazette on Feb. 14, 1984. 1039 O.G. 11; 1039 TMOG 11.The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs' Patent, Trademark & Copyright Journal, Vol. 27, pp. 312-346 (Feb. 2, 1984), hereinafter 'BNA." Eighteen written comments were received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The comments are analyzed herein. A hearing was held on May 15, 1984. Three individuals appeared at the hearing. Oral comments made at the hearing are also analyzed herein. The eighteen comments and copy of the transcript of the hearing are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

The new rules for interferences are set forth herein in §§1.601 through 1.688. The new rules replace entirely the present interference rules (37 CFR §§1.201 through 1.288). A "six hundred" number series is used for the new rules. The use of a six hundred number series for the new rules will permit interested individuals to research published decisions (e.g., F.2d, USPQ) or computerized legal research services (e.g., LEXIS) citing the new rules.

An index of the headings of §§1.601-1.688 and a table correlating 37 CFR §§1.201 through 1.288 (old rules) to §§1.601 through 1.688 (new rules) appears below.

Under the new rules, interferences are decided by the Board. The Board has jurisdiction to determine (1) priority of invention, (2) patentability of any claim corresponding to a count both as to applicants and patentees, (3) any issue of interference-in-fact as to any count, and (4) any other issue necessary to resolve the interference. The rules permit an interference to be declared on the basis of a single count defining one patentable invention in interferences involving patents as well as applications. The Board also has jurisdiction to determine whether counts are patentably distinct.

When an interference is declared, an examiner-in-chief is assigned to handle the interlocutory stages of the interference. An examiner having full signatory authority determines when one or more applications or one or more applications and a patent claim the same patentable invention. When the examiner makes such determination, the examiner will forward any involved applications or patents to the Board. The examiner will designate, at the time the involved applications or patents are sent to the Board, the claims of any application and patent which correspond to each count. The examiner-in-chief can subsequently designate additional claims to correspond to a count. The examiner-in-chief assigned to handle the interference will issue a notice to the parties declaring the interference.

The object of the interference will be to resolve all controversies as to all interfering subject matter defined by one or more counts. A final decision in the interference will determine who, if anyone, is entitled to claims which correspond to a count. Any decision adverse to an applicant by the Board will constitute a final refusal by the PTO to that applicant of the claims involved. Any decision adverse to a patentee constitutes cancellation from the patent of the claims involved.

Any decision by the Board on any issue is binding on the examiner and would govern further proceedings in the PTO.

The designation of a single examiner-in-chief to handle the interlocutory phases of an interference will permit better management of, and control over, interference proceedings. The rules provide that times be set and the examiner-in-chief exercise control over proceedings in the interference such that pendency of the interference before the Board from declaration to final decision will not normally exceed 24 months. The examiner-in-chief should be familiar with the history of the interference and will be accessible to counsel for the parties. For example, an examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, may conduct telephone conference calls to obtain agreement of the parties on the setting of schedules. The rules also permit the examiner-in-chief to hold hearings in the PTO or by conference telephone call in order to expedite or settle interlocutory issues in interferences. Any hearing can be transcribed by a court reporter under such conditions as an examiner-in-chief or the Board deems appropriate. The examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, will be available by phone to rule on the admissibility of evidence in the event parties encounter unusual problems during the taking of depositions. The examiner-in-chief will also be available to rule on requests for production of documents which take place during cross-examination. Oral orders given by phone will be followed by written orders.

At the time an interference is declared, the examiner-in-chief will set a time for filing preliminary motions. The preliminary motions can include:

(1) A motion for judgment on the ground that a claim corresponding to the count is not patentable to an opponent under 35 U.S.C. §§102, 103, 112, or any other provision of law.

(2) A motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact between the claims of the opponents in the interference.

(3) A motion to add or to substitute new counts, to amend a claim corresponding to a count, to designate an application or patent claim to correspond to a count, to designate an application or patent claim as not corresponding to a count, or to require an applicant to present a claim to be designated to correspond to a count.

(4) A motion to substitute another application for the application involved in the interference or to add an application for reissue to the interference.

(5) A motion to declare another interference.

(6) A motion to be accorded the benefit of an earlier application or to attack the benefit of an earlier application which has been accorded to an opponent.

Other motions are permitted as necessary, such as a motion to amend the count and/or a claim corresponding to the count in response to a preliminary motion for judgment.

Oppositions to motions are permitted if filed within a time set by the examiner-in-chief. Replies are also authorized. Papers which are not authorized by the rules or requested by the examiner-in-chief can be returned unfiled.

A preliminary statement will be filed prior to or concurrently with the preliminary motions outlined above.

Motions will be decided by an examiner-in-chief, who may consult with an examiner on questions of patentability which have not previously been decided by the examiner. The examiner-in-chief may grant a motion, deny a motion, defer consideration on the merits of a motion to final hearing, or take such other action with respect to a motion as may be appropriate, e.g., dismiss an entirely inappropriate motion.

At the time preliminary motions are decided, the preliminary statements will be opened. If a decision on a motion or inspection of the preliminary statement results in entry of an order to show cause why a judgment should not be entered, the party against whom judgment might be entered can request a hearing before the examiner-in-chief and two additional examiners-in-chief. The decision will govern further proceedings. If adverse, the decision will constitute a final agency action. If favorable, the interference will proceed before the examiner-in-chief.

After preliminary motions are decided and assuming judgment does not result, a period may be set for the parties to file motions for additional discovery. The scope of the additional discovery would be the same as under current practice.

When a time period is set for filing discovery motions, or after discovery has closed, the examiner-in-chief will set a period for taking testimony. Any party wishing to take the testimony of a witness can elect to have the testimony of the witness taken by deposition or presented by affidavit. A transcript of an ex parte deposition can be used as an affidavit. If an affidavit is presented, the opposing party may then cross-examine on oral deposition. Any redirect will take place at the deposition. The party calling the witness is responsible for securing a court reporter and filing the transcript and record associated with cross-examination of its witness.

In the event a party needs testimony from a third-party who will not appear unless a subpoena is issued, including a hostile witness, direct and cross-examination testimony may be taken on oral deposition. The rules provide that prior authorization of an examiner-in-chief is required before a party can take testimony by issuance of a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. §24. The rule thus adopts the policy of Sheehan v. Doyle, 513 F.2d 895, 898, 185 USPQ 489, 492 (1st Cir.), cert. denied, 423 U.S. 874 (1975), and Sheehan v. Doyle, 529 F.2d 38, 40, 188 USPQ 545, 546 (1st Cir.), cert. denied, 429 U.S. 870 (1976), rehearing denied, 429 U.S. 987 (1976), and rejects the policy announced in Brown v. Braddick, 595 F.2d 961, 967, 203 USPQ 95, 101-102 (5th Cir. 1979). Testimony obtained in other proceedings, e.g., another interference or an infringement action, may be used if otherwise admissible.

Under the rules, the Federal Rules of Evidence are made applicable to interferences, except for those portions which relate to criminal actions, juries, and other matters not relevant to interferences. Those portions include:

(1) Rule 103(c).
(2) Rule 104(c), (d), and (e).
(3) The language in Rule 105 which reads "and instruct the jury accordingly."
(4) Rule 201(g).
(5) The language in Rule 403 which reads "or misleading the jury."
(6) Rule 404(a)(1) and (2).
(7) The word "charge" in Rule 405(b).
(8) The language "or criminal" and proviso (ii) in Rule 410.
(9) Rule 412.
(10) Rule 606.
(11) The language "whether by an accused" and "other" in the last sentence of Rule 607.
(12) The provisions of the first sentence of Rule 611 (c) relating to leading questions on direct examination do not apply to statements made in an affidavit authorized to be filed under the rules.
(13) The language "Except as otherwise provided in criminal proceedings by section 3500 of title 18, United States Code" and "except that in criminal cases when the prosecution elects not to comply, the order shall be one striking the testimony or, if the court in its discretion determines that the interests of justice so require, declaring a mistrial" in Rule 612.
(14) Rule 614.
(15) Rule 706.
(16) The language "excluding, however, in criminal cases matters observed by police officers and other law enforcement personnel" and "and against the Government in criminal cases" in Rule 803(8).
(17) The language "but not including, when offered by the Government in a criminal prosecution for purposes other than impeachment, judgments against persons other than the second" in Rule 803(22).
(18) The language "prosecution for homicide or in a" in Rule 804(b)(2).
(19) The language "A statement tending to expose the declarant to criminal liability and offered to exculpate the accused is not admissible unless corroborating circumstances clearly indicate the trustworthiness of the statement" in Rule 804(b)(3).
(20) Rule 1101(a), (b), (d)(2), (d)(3), and (e).

The examiner-in-chief will set a period for filing the record and briefs. Oral hearings normally will be held before a panel consisting of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference and two other examiners-in-chief. The panel will render a final decision in the interference. Requests for reconsideration are permitted.

In rendering its decision, the Board will consider only that evidence which can be made available to the public under §1.11(a). Accordingly, the Board will not consider evidence which is submitted under a protective order issued by a court if release of that evidence under §1.11(a) would be inconsistent with the terms of the court's order.

A final decision of the Board is reviewable in the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or an appropriate U. S. district court. Any reviewing court can review all aspects of the decision including patentability, priority, and all relevant interlocutory orders, such as denials of discovery.

Except as noted above, these new rules are applicable to all interferences declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. Interferences declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985, continue to be governed by the prior rules (37 CFR §§1.201-1.288 (July 1, 1984)) and will be decided by personnel of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. Actions presently taken by a patent interference examiner or examiners of interferences will be taken by an examiner-in-chief.

An anticipated time schedule for a two-party interference follows.

Sections 1.601 through 1.688 would introduce new concepts in interference practice. Some of the more significant aspects of the rules, as well as some of the new concepts, include the following.

Section 1.1 codifies a practice announced in a Commissioner's Notice of Nov. 28, 1983, "Mailing of Papers to the PTO in Patent Interference Proceedings," 1037 Official Gazette 25 (Dec. 27, 1983) and authorizes a party in an interference to direct mail to the PTO intended for the interference to a special box in the Mail Room for interference papers. Amendments copying claims which are filed prior to the time an interference is declared would continue to be addressed in accordance with §1.5(a).

Section 1.5 provides that when a paper filed in the PTO concerns an interference which has been declared, it should state the names of the parties (e.g., Smith v. Jones) and the number of the interference. The name of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference (§1.610) and the name of the party filing the paper should also appear conspicuously on the first page of the paper. Identification of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference and the name of the party filing the paper will greatly assist the Board in its administration of interference cases.

Section 1.8 excludes from the certificate of mailing practice any paper in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders filed by hand or "Express Mail." Papers filed by "Express Mail" in an interference case would be addressed as set forth in §1.1(e).

Section 1.11 sets forth when the interference file would become available to the public without a petition for access.

Section 1.48 provides that when a request is filed to correct inventorship of an application involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of §1.48 and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.634. The request will be placed in the file of the application and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.138 permits an attorney or agent to sign and file a paper abandoning an application involved in an interference.

Section 1.196 more clearly sets forth the options open to an applicant when the Board makes a new ground of rejection under §1.196(b). The last sentence of paragraph (b)(1) is intended to clarify practice in certain situations. One situation involves a case where (1) the Board affirms an examiner's rejection of a "first" claim and makes a new ground of rejection under §1.196(b) of a "second" claim, (2) the applicant elects to have further proceedings before the examiner on the new ground of rejection on the second claim, and (3) those proceedings do not result in a further appeal (i.e., the second claim is allowed or is cancelled). The last sentence of §1.196(b)(1) permits the Board to make its decision final on the first claim. By making its decision final on the first claim, the time period under §1.304 for seeking judicial review begins. Another situation involves a case where (1) the Board affirms an examiner's rejection of a claim over reference A, (2) the Board also enters a new ground of rejection of the claim over reference B, (3) the applicant elects to have further proceedings before the examiner on the new ground of rejection, and (4) those proceedings result in applicant overcoming the new ground of rejection based on reference B. The last sentence of §1.196(b)(1) permits the Board to make its decision final as to its affirmance of the rejection over reference A. Entry of an order making its decision final would start the period under §1.304 for seeking judicial review. Thus, an applicant does not forego possible judicial review by electing further prosecution before the examiner when a new ground of rejection is made by the Board. Under paragraph (d), a recommendation by the Board that an allowed claim be rejected is binding on the examiner (rather than being a mere recommendation as was previously the case) in the absence of (1) an amendment, (2) showing of facts by affidavit or other appropriate evidence, or (3) both. The last sentence of paragraph (d) is intended to clarify that the Board may enter a final decision in certain circumstances. When the Board affirms an examiner's rejection of a "first" claim and makes a recommendation under paragraph (d) as to a "second" claim, the application is remanded to the examiner and the Board's decision affirming the rejection of the first claim is not a final decision. If proceedings before the examiner on remand do not result in a further appeal (i.e., the second claim is allowed or is cancelled), the Board may then make its decision final as to the first claim. By making its decision final as to the first claim, the time period under §1.304 for seeking judicial review starts. Thus, an applicant does not forego judicial review on the first claim merely because of the remand proceedings with respect to the second claim.

Most of the current interference rules (§§1.201 through 1.247 and 1.251 through 1.288) are removed, but will continue to govern interferences declared prior to Feb. 11, 1985. Section 1.248 is retained and governs service of papers in all patent cases except interference proceedings. Section 1.646 governs service of papers in interference proceedings.

Under §1.292, it is intended to modify public use proceedings only to the extent that public use and on sale issues which arise during an interference shall be raised by a preliminary motion under §1.633(a). There is no fee for filing the motion in the interference, but a fee would continue to be necessary when a petition is filed for institution of a public use proceeding apart from an interference. When a public use proceeding is instituted apart from an interference, the Commissioner will designate an appropriate official to conduct the proceeding including the setting of times for taking testimony under §§1.671 through 1.685. There will continue to be no "additional discovery" (see §§1.687 and 1.688) in public use proceedings.

Section 1.304 makes clear that the provisions of §1.136 do not apply when judicial review is sought of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in (1) a reexamination proceeding or (2) an interference. An extension of time to seek judicial review of a decision of the Board in a reexamination proceeding may be obtained under §1.550(c). An extension of time to seek judicial review of a decision of the Board in an interference proceeding may be obtained under §1.645. Section 1.304 also establishes an "excusable neglect" standard for seeking judicial review in interference cases when a notice of appeal is untimely filed or a civil action is not timely commenced. The excusable neglect standard is intended to be the same as the standard under Rule 4(a)(5) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure.

Section 1.322 provides that when a request for a certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. §254 (PTO mistake) is filed to make a correction of a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of §1.322 and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.635. The request will be placed in the file of the patent and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.323 provides that when a request for a certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. §255 (patentee's mistake) is filed to make a correction of a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of §1.323 and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.635. The request will be placed in the file of the patent and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.324 provides that when a request is filed to correct inventorship of a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of §1.324 and shall be accompanied by a motion under proposed§1.634. The request will be placed in the file of the patent and the motion will be placed in the file of the interference. The request will be decided as part of the interference.

Section 1.565 provides that when a patent is involved in an interference proceeding and a reexamination proceeding, both the interference proceeding and the reexamination proceeding will continue unless one of the proceedings is stayed. A stay of a reexamination proceeding will be made by the Commissioner. A stay of an interference proceeding will be made by an examiner-in-chief, subject to review by the Commissioner. Section 1.565 continues the present practice of the Commissioner determining in every instance whether to stay a reexamination proceeding when the patent involved in the reexamination proceeding is sought to be reissued or becomes involved in litigation.

Under §1.601, the rules shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of interferences. Section 1.601 defines various terms used in Subpart E including "additional discovery," "affidavit," "case-in-chief," "case-in-rebuttal," "count," "effective filing date," "filing date," "interference," "interference-in-fact," "junior party," "lead" attorney, "party," "phantom count," "same patentable invention," "separate patentable invention," "senior party," "sworn," and "United States." "Affidavits" include declarations under 35 U.S.C. §25 and 37 CFR §1.68 as well as statutory declarations under 28 U.S.C. §1746. The definition of "United States" is the same as the definition of United States in 35 U.S.C. §100(c).

The definition of "interference" permits an interference between one or more applications and one or more patents. Thus, these new rules follow the policy of Wilson v. Yakel, 1876 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 245 (Comm'r.Pat. 1876) and, to the extent inconsistent therewith, do not follow the policy announced in Touval v. Newcombe, 194 USPQ 509 (Comm'r.Pat. 1976). However, in view of the statutory requirement for the presence of at least one application in an interference, if an applicant were to concede priority or otherwise be terminated from an interference involving only one application and more than one patent, the interference would have to be terminated for lack of subject matter jurisdiction unless one or more of the patentees filed an application for reissue which could be added to the interference under §1.633(h). A "count" defines interfering subject matter. An interference may have two counts only if the second count defines a "separate patentable invention" from the first count. The reason the second count must define a separate patentable invention is to permit the PTO to lawfully issue separate patents to different parties in an interference when a single party does not prevail as to all counts. A "separate patentable invention" is defined in §1.601(n):

> Invention (A) is a "separate patentable invention" with respect to invention (B) when invention (A) is new (35 U.S.C. §102) and non-obvious (35 U.S.C. §103) in view of invention (B) assuming invention (B) is prior art with respect to invention (A).

Section 1.602(a) continues the present PTO practice (37 CFR §1.201(c)) of not declaring or continuing an interference between (1) two or more applications owned by the same party or (2) an application and a patent owned by a single party unless good cause is shown. A corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiary are considered a "single party" within the meaning of §1.602(a). Under prior rules, when a patent and an application involved in an interference became commonly owned, the interference was not "dissolved." Rather, the PTO required that the interference be terminated with a judgment. Chillas v. Weisberg, 1928 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 24 (Comm'r.Pat. 1928); Malone v. Toth, 202 USPQ 397 (Comm'r.Pat. 1978); and Morehouse v. Armbruster, 209 USPQ 514 (Comm'r.Pat. 1980). Under these new rules, all interferences, including those involving only applications, will be terminated with a judgment. As noted in Chillas v. Weisberg, supra at 25 "the common owner can allow a judgment against the junior party to be rendered by default or it can file a concession of priority from one party to the other." Paragraphs (b) and (c) of §1.602 continue the present PTO practice (37 CFR §1.201(c)) of requiring a party to notify the PTO of any real party in interest not apparent on the face of the notice declaring the interference (see §1.611) or of any change in the real party in interest after the interference is declared. The PTO needs to know the identity of any real party in interest to properly enforce §1.602(a) and to enable an examiner-in-chief to determine whether recusal is necessary or appropriate. A new requirement in paragraphs (b) and (c), not present in 37 CFR §1.201(c), is a 20-day time period for advising the PTO of the identity of, or any change in, the real party in interest.

Under §§1.601(f), 1.603, and 1.606, the interfering subject matter would be defined by one or more counts. All the claims in an application or a patent which define the same patentable invention as a count would be designated to correspond to the count. An interference would have two counts only if one count defines a separate patentable invention from another count. Under §1.606, at the time an interference is declared between a patent and an application, a count would not be narrower in scope than any patent claim which corresponds to the count. Thus, a patent claim would be presumed, subject to a motion under §1.633(c), not to embrace "separate patentable inventions." Some examples illustrate how the PTO would formulate counts and designate patent and application claims to correspond to counts.

Example 1: Application A contains patentable claim 1 (engine). Application B contains patentable claim 8 (engine). If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claim 1 of application A and claim 8 of application B would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 2: Application C contains patentable claims 1 (engine) and 2 (6-cylinder engine). Application D contains patentable claim 8 (engine). An engine and a 6-cylinder engine define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application C and claim 8 of application D would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 3: Application E contains patentable claims 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application F contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 12 (8-cylinder engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of application E defines a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of application E would not be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 4: Application G contains patentable claims 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application H contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 15 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of application G and claim 11 of application H define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of application G and claim 15 of application H define a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of application G and claim 11 of application H. If an interference is declared, there would be two counts: Count 1 (engine) and Count 2 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of application G and claim 11 of application H would be designated to correspond to Count 1. Claim 3 of application G and claim 15 of application H would be designated to correspond to Count 2.

Example 5: Application J contains patentable claims 1 (engine), 2 (combination of an engine and a carburetor) and 3 (combination of an engine, a carburetor, and a catalytic converter). Application K contains patentable claims 31 (engine), 32 (combination of an engine and a carburetor), and 33 (combination of an engine, a carburetor, and an air filter). The engine, combination of an engine and carburetor, and combination of an engine, carburetor, and air filter define the same patentable invention. The combination of an engine, carburetor, and catalytic converter define a separate patentable invention from engine. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of application J and claims 31, 32, and 33 of application K would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of application J would not be designated as corresponding to the count.

Example 6: The PTO will continue to follow Waldeck v. Lewis, 120 USPQ 88 (Comm'r.Pat. 1955). Application L contains patentable claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or toluene), 2 (benzene), and 3 (toluene). Application M contains patentable claim 11 (benzene). Benzene and toluene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or toluene). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of application L and claim 11 of application M would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 7: Application N contains patentable claim 1 (benzene). Application P contains patentable claim 11 (xylene). Benzene and xylene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (benzene or xylene). Claim 1 of application N and claim 11 of application P would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 8: Application Q contains patentable claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2 (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application R contains patentable claim 33 (benzene). If benzene and chloroform define the same patentable invention and an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of application Q and claim 33 of application R would be designated to correspond to the count. If chloroform defines a separate patentable invention from benzene and an interference is declared, there would be one count (benzene). Claims 1 and 2 of application Q and claim 33 of application R would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of application Q would not be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 9: Application S contains patentable claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2 (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application T contains patentable claims 11 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 12 (benzene), and 13 (chloroform). If benzene and chloroform define the same patentable invention and an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of application S and claims 11, 12, and 13 of application T would be designated to correspond to the count. The PTO will continue to adhere to Becker v. Patrick, 47 USPQ 314 (Comm'r.Pat. 1939). An interference can have two counts only if one count defines a separate patentable invention from another count. If chloroform defines a separate patentable invention from benzene and an interference is declared, there would be two counts: Count 1 (benzene) and Count 2 (chloroform). Claims 1 and 2 of application S and claims 11 and 12 of application T would be designated to correspond to Count 1. Claims 1 and 3 of application S and claims 11 and 13 of application T would be designated to correspond to Count 2.

Example 10: Patent A contains claim 1 (engine). Application U contains patentable claim 11 (engine). If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claim 1 of patent A and claim 11 of application U would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 11: Patent B contains claims 1 (engine) and 2 (6-cylinder engine). Application V contains patentable claim 8 (engine). An engine and a 6-cylinder engine define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of patent B and claim 8 of application V would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 12: Patent C contains claims 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application W contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 12 (8 cylinder engine). Claims 1 and 2 of patent C and claims 11 and 12 of application W define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of patent C defines a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of patent C and claims 11 and 12 of application W. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (engine). Claims 1 and 2 of patent C and claims 11 and 12 of application W would be designated to correspond to the count. Claim 3 of patent C would not be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 13: Patent D contains claim 1 (engine), 2 (6-cylinder engine), and 3 (engine with a platinum piston). Application X contains patentable claims 11 (engine) and 15 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of patent D and claim 11 of application X define the same patentable invention. Claim 3 of patent D and claim 15 of application X define a separate patentable invention from claims 1 and 2 of patent D and claim 11 of application X. If an interference is declared, there would be two counts: Count 1 (engine) and Count 2 (engine with a platinum piston). Claims 1 and 2 of patent D and claim 11 of application X would be designated to correspond to Count 1. Claim 3 of patent D and claim 15 of application X would be designated to correspond to Count 2.

Example 14: Patent E contains claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or toluene), 2 (benzene), and 3 (toluene). Application Y contains patentable claim 11 (benzene). Benzene and toluene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or toluene). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of patent E and claim 11 of application Y would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 15: In this example, the claims of patent E and application Y in Example 14 are reversed. Patent E contains claim 1 (benzene). Application Y contains patentable claims 11 (Markush group of benzene or toluene), 12 (benzene), and 13 (toluene). If an interference is declared, the count would be the same as the count in Example 14—(Markush group of benzene or toluene). Claim 1 of patent E and claims 11, 12, and 13 of application Y would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 16: The PTO will continue to follow cases such as Case v. CPC International, Inc., 730 F.2d 745, 221 USPQ 196 (Fed. Cir. 1984); cert. denied, 105 S.Ct. 233 (1984); Aelony v. Arni, 547 F.2d 566, 192 USPQ 486 (CCPA 1977); and Nitz v. Ehrenriech, 537 F.2d 539, 190 USPQ 413 (CCPA 1976), and declare interferences where interfering patent and application claims are mutually exclusive provided the claims define the same patentable invention. Patent F contains claim 1 (benzene). Application Z contains patentable claim 11 (xylene). Benzene and xylene define the same patentable invention. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (benzene or xylene). Claim 1 of patent F and claim 11 of application Z would be designated to correspond to the count.

Example 17: It will be the practice of the PTO under §1.606 to initially declare interferences with counts which are identical to or broader than patent claims which correspond to the counts. A single patent claim would be presumed, subject to a motion under §1.633(c), not to define separate patentable inventions. Patent G contains claim 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2 (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application AA contains patentable claim 33 (benzene). If an interference is declared, initially it would be presumed by the PTO, subject to a later motion under §1.633(c), that benzene and chloroform define the same patentable invention. There would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of patent G and claim 33 of application AA would be designated to correspond to the count. If a party believes benzene and chloroform define separate patentable inventions, that party could file a motion under §1.633(c) to redefine the count and the claims corresponding to the counts.

Example 18: Patent H contains claims 1 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 2, (benzene), and 3 (chloroform). Application AB contains patentable claims 11 (Markush group of benzene or chloroform), 12 (benzene), and 13 (chloroform). Benzene and chloroform initially would be presumed, subject to a motion under §1.633(c), to define the same patentable invention, because they are recited as a Markush group in a single patent claim. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (Markush group of benzene or chloroform). Claims 1, 2, and 3 of patent H and claims 11, 12, and 13 of application AB would be designated to correspond to the count. If a party believes benzene and chloroform define separate patentable inventions, the party could move under §1.633(c) to substitute a count (benzene) for (Markush group of benzene or chlcrcfcrm) and to add a count (chloroform). See Example 36.

Example 19: Under §1.606, the PTO will continue to follow the practice announced in Ex parte Card and Card, 1904 Dec.Comm'r.Pat. 383 (Comm'r.Pat. 1904). Patent J contains claim 1 (method of mixing, grinding, and heating). Application AC contains patentable claim 8 (method of mixing and heating) and does not disclose or claim a grinding step. In the context of the inventions disclosed in patent J and application AC, a method of mixing, grinding, and heating is the same patentable invention as a method of mixing and heating. Under current practice, it would be said that "grinding" is an "immaterial" limitation in claim 1 of patent J. Under §1.606, the fact application AC does not disclose grinding would not preclude an interference. If an interference is declared, there would be one count (method of mixing and heating). Claim 1 of patent J and claim 8 of application AC would be designated to correspond to the count.

Under §1.605, timely filing of an amendment presenting a claim suggested by the examiner for purposes of an interference would stay ex parte proceedings in the application in which the claim is presented pending a determination by the examiner of whether an interference will be declared. Also under §1.605(a), when an examiner suggests a claim, the applicant will be required to copy verbatim the suggested claim. At the time the suggested claim is copied, however, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the copied claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared.

Under §1.607(b), when an applicant seeks an interference with a patent, e.g., by copying claims from the patent, examination of the application including any appeal would be handled with special dispatch within the PTO. "Special dispatch" would be construed to be the same as special dispatch in a reexamination proceeding. See 35 U.S.C. §305.

Under §1.608, the PTO will continue current practice (37 CFR §1.204(c)) of requiring an applicant seeking to provoke an interference with a patent to submit evidence which demonstrates that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. Evidence would be submitted only when the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the application is more than three months after the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. §120 of the patent. The evidence may relate to patentability and need not be restricted to priority. When the evidence (1) consists of prior printed publications and patents and (2) shows that the claims of the application are not patentable, the claims in the application would be rejected and the applicant could file a request for reexamination of the patent.

Section 1.609 sets forth what an examiner shall forward to the Board when an interference is declared. For the most part, §1.609 continues current practice. However, under §1.609(b)(3), the examiner would identify all claims in an application which the examiner believes are patentable over the proposed counts. Thus, a claim in an application would either correspond to a count or would be indicated as being patentable over the count. For instance, in Example 3, supra, the examiner would indicate that (1) claims 1 and 2 of application E and claims 11 and 12 of application F correspond to the count and (2) claim 3 of application E defines a separate patentable invention from the count.

Under §1.610, each interference will be declared by an examiner-in-chief. The examiner-in-chief enters all interlocutory orders in the interference. As necessary, another examiner-in-chief may act in place of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference. At the discretion of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference, a panel of two or more examiners-in-chief may enter an interlocutory order. The examiner-in-chief will set times and control proceedings such that pendency of the interference normally will not exceed 24 months. Under §1.610(d), the examiner-in-chief is authorized to hold conferences. Any conference can be by a telephone conference call. Under §1.610(e), an examiner-in-chief is authorized to determine a proper course of conduct for any situation not specifically covered by the rules.

Under §1.611(a), the PTO will normally notify each party at its correspondence address (37 CFR §1.33(a)) that an interference is declared. This practice will save the PTO the administrative burden of sending multiple notices as is required by the present rules. Under §1.611(a), the PTO could, in an appropriate circumstance, also send a notice to a patentee or an assignee. An appropriate circumstance for sending an additional notice would be a situation where a patent was issued on the basis of an application filed under 37 CFR §1.47. The matters to be specified in a notice declaring an interference are set out in §1.611(c). One item to be set out is the "order of the parties," meaning the order in which the parties will take testimony. If Jones is the junior party and Smith is the senior party, the order of the parties is: Jones v. Smith. The order of the parties may change as a result of the granting of a motion under §1.633(d), (f), or (g). Under §1.611(d), the notice declaring the interference may also set dates for filing preliminary statements, notices that preliminary statements have been filed, motions under §1.633, oppositions to those motions, and replies to the oppositions. Alternatively, an examiner-in-chief may set those times in a separate order before or after consultation with counsel for the parties. Under §1.611(e), the PTO may place a notice in the Official Gazette each time an interference is declared involving a patent. The notice would make it easier for patent practitioners throughout the country to determine whether a given patent is or has been involved in an interference.

Under §1.612, except for affidavits under §1.131 and any evidence and explanation under §1.608(b) filed separate from an amendment, each party shall have access to the file of every other party after an interference is declared. The files of applications and patents involved in an interference will be maintained if the Service Branch of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences for inspection and copying. Any explanation which is filed as part of an amendment or an amendment which discusses details contained in an affidavit under §1.131 would not be sealed under §1.612(a). Thus, §1.612(a) continues the practice discussed in Moorman v. Martin, 103 USPQ 273 (Comm'r.Pat. 1950) and Calvert, An Overview of Interference Practice, 62 J. Pat. Off. Soc'y. 290, 293 (1980). Under§1.612(b), each party will have access to an opponent's affidavit under §1.131 or an opponent's evidence and explanation under §1.608(b) when a decision is rendered on motions under §1.633. Under §1.612(c), a party would be required to serve any evidence and explanation under §1.608(b) if an order to show cause is issued under §1.617(a) and the party responds to the order under§1.617(b). Under §1.612(d), the parties may agree to exchange copies of their respective files.

Under §1.613(a), when a party has appointed more than one attorney or agent of record, the party may be required to designate a "lead" attorney or agent. A lead attorney or agent would be a registered attorney or agent of record who is primarily responsible for prosecuting an interference on behalf of a party and is the individual whom an examiner-in-chief can contact to set times and take other action in the interference. Section 1.613(b) continues the practice of not permitting the same attorney or agent to represent two or more parties in an interference except as permitted by Chapter 1, see e.g., §1.344. Under §1.613(c), an examiner-in-chief can make an appropriate inquiry to determine whether an attorney or agent should be disqualified from representing a party. A final decision to disqualify an attorney or agent is made by the Commissioner under 35 U.S.C. §32.

Section 1.614 specifies when the Board gains jurisdiction over an interference. The section also indicates when an interference becomes a contested case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. §24. A remand to the examiner is authorized and may be useful in certain situations, such as, when a party moves under §1.633(c) to add a proposed count which is broader than any count in an interference. Alternatively, an examiner-in-chief would be able to obtain informal opinions from examiners during the course of an interference. Nothing in the rules, however, is intended to authorize informal conferences between an examiner-in-chief and an examiner with respect to the merits of an application before the Board in an ex parte appeal from an adverse decision of the examiner.

Section 1.616 permits an examiner-in-chief or the Board to impose appropriate sanctions against a party who fails to comply with the rules or with an order entered in the interference. Paragraphs (a) through (e) set forth some of the possible sanctions which can be entered. The particular sanction to be entered would depend on the facts of a given case and ordinarily would not be entered prior to giving the affected party an opportunity to present its views. An individual examiner-in-chief could not impose a sanction granting judgment inasruch as entry of a judgment requires action by the Bcard. See §1.610(a). A party desiring sanctions imposed against an opponent could move under §1.635 for entry of an order imposing sanctions.

Section 1.617 retains summary judgment proceedings in those cases where a junior party applicant is required to file evidence and an explanation under §1.608(b). To avoid summary judgment, the junior party applicant must establish that it is prima facie entitled to judgment relative to the senior party patentee. For the most part, practice under §1.617 will be the same as the current practice under 37 CFR §1.228. The major changes would be the following: (1) A prima facie case could be based on patentability as well as priority. (2) A stricter standard would be imposed for presenting additional evidence after entry of an order to show cause. Under current practice (37 CFR §1.228), additional evidence may be submitted with a response to an order to show cause "when a showing in excuse of . . . [its] omission from the original" showing is made. The "good cause" showing required by §1.617(b) imposes a stricter standard than was required under the prior rules. The stricter standard is necessary to encourage applicants copying claims from a patent to better prepare their initial showings under proposed §1.608(b). Under current practice, the Board of Patent Interferences has found that substantial time is lost in issuing orders to show cause based on an inadequate initial showing only to have an adequate showing made with the response to the order to show cause. Under the "good cause" standard, ignorance by a party or counsel of the provisions of the rules or the substantive requirements of the law would not constitute good cause. (3) When an interference involves more than two parties, all opponents would be permitted to participate in summary judgment proceedings. Thus, the new rules overrule Chan v. Akiba v. Clayton, 189 USPQ 621 (Comm'r.Pat. 1975). (4) Currently, an applicant must file two copies of its initial showing under 37 CFR §1.204(c). Under §1.608(b), a party would file only one copy of the showing. However, any party responding to an order to show cause would be required to serve a copy of its initial showing under §1.608(b) with any response to the order to show cause. (5) A single examiner-in-chief may order an interference to proceed after issuance of an order to show cause under§1.608(b) and the filing of a response by an applicant under §1.617(b). Only the Board, however, may enter a summary judgment. See §1.617(b).

Under §1.618, the PTO has authority to return to a party any paper presented in an interference which is not authorized by, or is not in compliance with the requirements of, Subpart E. When an improper paper is filed, a party may be given an opportunity to file a proper paper under such conditions as an examiner-in-chief may deem appropriate. Two examples of improper papers are: (1) replies to replies which are not authorized by the rules and (2) papers presented which have attached thereto a paper previously filed in the interference.

Sections 1.621 through 1.629 govern preliminary statements which continue to be required in interference cases.

Under §1.621, a preliminary statement can be signed by any individual having knowledge of the facts (e.g., the inventor) or by an attorney or agent of record. Permitting an attorney or agent of record to sign a preliminary statement eliminates unnecessary mailing of papers between parties and their attorney or agent.

Under §1.622, the preliminary statement would identify the inventor who made the invention defined by each count. If the inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not an inventor named in the application or patent involved in the interference, a motion under §1.634 must be diligently filed to correct inventorship.

Sections 1.623, 1.624, and 1.625 respectively set out the allegations which should be made in, and the attachments which should accompany, a preliminary statement when (1) the invention was made in the United States, (2) the invention was made abroad and was introduced into the United States, and (3) derivation by an opponent from a party is to be an issue.

Section 1.626 permits a party to file a preliminary statement which states that the party only intends to rely on the filing date of an earlier United States or foreign application. Ordinarily, a junior party who fails to file a preliminary statement is not entitled to access to any other preliminary statement filed (see §1.631(b)). Section 1.626 would permit a junior party who only intends to rely on an earlier application to have access to any opponent's preliminary statement.

Section 1.628 sets out how an error in a preliminary statement may be corrected.

Section 1.629 sets out the effect of a preliminary statement. A party who fails to file a preliminary statement will not be permitted to prove (1) that the party made the invention defined by a count prior to the party's filing date or (2) that an opponent derived the invention from the party.

Under §1.631, preliminary statements normally will be opened for inspection when an examiner-in-chief decides preliminary motions filed under §1.633. A junior party who does not file a preliminary statement is not entitled to access to a preliminary statement of any other party. When an interference is terminated before preliminary statements are opened, any preliminary statement which has been filed will be returned unopened to the party who submitted the statement.

Under §1.632, a notice must be filed by a party who intends to argue that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice. 35 U.S.C. §102(g). A party will not be permitted to brief (§1.656) or argue at final hearing (§1.654) that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice unless the notice is timely filed. A notice is timely if filed within ten (10) days of the close of the testimony-in-chief period of an opponent. While a party has the burden of proving that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed, the burden may be discharged on the basis of the opponent's evidence alone. Shindelar v. Holdeman, 628 F.2d 1337, 207 USPQ 112 (CCPA 1980). See also Correge v. Murphy, 705 F.2d 1326, 217 USPQ 753 (Fed. Cir. 1983); Horwath v. Lee, 564 F.2d 948, 195 USPQ 701 (CCPA 1977); and Peeler v. Miller, 535 F.2d 647, 190 USPQ 117 (CCPA 1976). Under current practice where notice is not required, it is possible that a party may learn for the first time that abandonment, suppression, or concealment is an issue when the party receives an opponent's brief at final hearing. See Klug v. Wood, 212 USPQ 767, 771 n. 2 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1981). At that point, it is often too late to reopen proceedings in the interference. The purpose of requiring the notice under §1.632 is to make the parties and the Board aware during the interlocutory stage of an interference that abandonment, suppression, or concealment may be an issue in the interference. Early notice will permit the parties to ask for and the examiner-in-chief to set appropriate testimony periods for a party to present evidence related to abandonment, suppression, and concealment, particularly in those cases where long unexplained delays tend to prove the allegation of suppression or concealment. Early notice will also eliminate the need for the party moving to reopen the testimony period. Klug v. Wood, supra.

Under §1.633, a party may file preliminary motions for judgment, to redefine the interference, to substitute a different application in the interference, to declare an additional interference, to be accorded the benefit of an earlier application, to attack benefit previously accorded an opponent, or to add a reissue application to the interference. The motions are called "preliminary motions" in order to distinguish the motions from other motions which might be filed during the course of an interference. The preliminary motions would replace motions currently authorized by 37 CFR §1.231.

Under §1.633(a), a motion to dissolve would be replaced with a motion for judgment. A party can file a motion for judgment on the ground that an opponent's claim corresponding to a count is unpatentable to the opponent. With two exceptions, unpatentability can be based on prior art (35 U.S.C. §§102, 103), insufficiency of disclosure (35 U.S.C. §112, first paragraph), indefiniteness of claims (35 U.S.C. §112, second paragraph), double patenting, estoppel, or any other ground which would support a holding that claims corresponding to a count are not patentable. The two exceptions are (1) priority of invention of the subject matter of a count by the moving party as against any opponent and (2) derivation of the subject matter of a count by the opponent from the moving party. The two exceptions are directed to issues which are traditional "priority" issues, e.g., which inventor made the invention defined by a count first or, when derivation is an issue, who made the invention. Resolution of those "priority" issues almost always requires the taking of testimony. A motion for judgment, however, would be proper when a party believed an individual not involved in the interference made the invention defined by the count prior to an opponent in the interference, but subsequent to the moving party. Thus, a patentability issue, such as that raised under 35 U.S.C. §102(g) in Sutter Products Co. v. Pettibone Mulliken Corp., 428 F.2d 639, 166 USPQ 100 (7th Cir. 1970), properly could be raised with a motion for judgment under§1.633(a). Derivation by an opponent from an individual not involved in the interference could also be raised under §1.633(a).

Under §1.633(b), a party could move for a judgment when the party believes there is no interference-in-fact. A motion for judgment on the ground of no interference-in-fact is only proper under one of three conditions: (1) when an interference involves designs, (2) when the interference involves plant applications or a plant application and plant patent, or (3) when no claim of a party which corresponds to a count is identical to any claim of an opponent which corresponds to that count. An example illustrates when a motion under §1.636(b) is proper.

Example 20: Application AD contains patentable claim 1 (6-cylinder engine). Application AE contains patentable claim 3 (8-cylinder engine). An interference is declared with a single count (6 or 8-cylinder engine). Claim 1 of application AD and claim 3 of application AE are designated to correspond to the count. Applicant AD believes that a 6-cylinder engine is a "separate patentable invention" (see §1.601(n)) from an 8-cylinder engine. Applicant AD would file a motion under §1.633(b) for a judgment on the ground of no interference-in-fact stating why a 6-cylinder engine is patentably distinct from an 8-cylinder engine. If the Board ultimately agrees with applicant AD, a patent could issue to AD containing claim 1 of application AD and a second patent could issue to AE containing claim 3 of application AE.

Under §1.633(c), a party may move to redefine interfering subject matter. One way to redefine interfering subject matter would be to add or substitute a count. When a party seeks to add a count, the party is required to demonstrate that the proposed count to be added is directed to a "separate patentable invention" from every other count in the interference.

A motion may be filed to amend an application claim which has already been designated to correspond to a count. See §1.633(c)(2). Such a motion might be filed when a party believes an application claim designated to correspond to a count is unpatentable and the amended claim is believed to be patentable.

An applicant may move to add a claim to the applicant's application and to designate the claim to be added to correspond to a count. See §1.633(c)(2). Such a motion may be filed when the applicant discloses specific subject matter which is not claimed, would like to claim the subject matter, and wants the subject matter involved in the interference.

Another way to redefine interfering subject matter would be to designate a claim as corresponding or not corresponding to a count. See §1.633(c)(3) and (c)(4). Examples 21 and 22 illustrate this latter point.

Example 21: Application AF contains patentable claim 1 (engine). Patent K contains claims 3 (engine) and 5 (6-cylinder engine). Claim 1 of application AF and claim 3 of patent K are designated to correspond to the count. Applicant AF believes a 6-cylinder engine is the same patentable invention (see §1.601(n)) as engine. Applicant AF would file a motion under §1.633(c)(3) to designate claim 5 of patent K as corresponding to the count. If the motion is granted and applicant AF prevails in the interference, judgment would be entered against patentee K and both claims 3 and 5 of patent K would be cancelled under 35 U.S.C. §135(a).

Example 22: Application AG contains patentable claim 1 (engine). Patent L contains claims 3 (engine) and 5 (8-cylinder engine). An interference is declared with one count (engine). Claim 1 of application AG and claims 3 and 5 of patent L are designated to correspond to the count. Patentee L believes that an 8-cylinder engine defines a "separate patentable invention" (see §1.601(n)) from engine. Patentee L should file a motion under §1.633(c)(4) to designate claim 5 of patent L as "not corresponding" to the count. If the motion is granted and an adverse judgment is entered against patentee L, only claim 3 would be cancelled from the patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. §135(a).

A motion to redefine the interfering subject matter may also request that an opponent who is an applicant be required to add a claim to the opponent's application and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. See §1.633(c)(5). Such a motion might be filed when a party sees that the opponent discloses, but does not claim, subject matter which the party believes should be involved in the interference.

Section 1.633(i) would continue present practice (37 CFR §1.231) of allowing a party to move to redefine the subject matter of the interference or substitute a different application when an opponent moves for judgment (see §1.633(a) and (b)) or to attack benefit (see §1.633(g)).

Paragraph (j) of §1.633 will permit an opponent to move for benefit when a party moves to add or substitute a count. Thus, when a motion to add a count is filed by a party and an opponent wants benefit of an earlier application in the event the motion to add is granted, the opponent should file a motion under §1.633(j) to be accorded benefit. The mere fact that the opponent had been accorded benefit of an earlier application when the interference was declared does not mean the opponent will be accorded benefit as to some other count which may be added on motion of some other party.

Section 1.634 authorizes a motion to correct inventorship in an application (see §1.48) or a patent (see §1.324) involved in an interference.

Section 1.635 authorizes the filing of motions other than those specified in §§1.633 or 1.634. Motions filed under §1.635 would be referred to as "miscellaneous motions" to distinguish from "preliminary motions" under §1.633. Instances where a miscellaneous motion would be filed include motions to correct an error in a preliminary statement, to extend time for taking action or to seek judicial review, to obtain permission to proceed under 35 U.S.C. §24, or to obtain additional discovery.

Section 1.636 sets out the times within which a motion would be filed.

Section 1.637 sets out the content of motions. In prior interference practice, parties and their counsel have had difficulty meeting all the "unwritten" requirements for motions under 37 CFR §1.231. Section 1.637 is quite specific in setting out the requirements for each type of motion, particularly the preliminary motions. By setting out with specificity the requirements for each type of motion, it is intended to minimize disposition of motions on technicalities. A vast majority of the comments in response to the advanced notice published in the Federal Register on Aug. 1, 1983, commenting on then proposed §1.637 were in favor of the requirements for motions being specifically set out in the regulations.

Section 1.638 authorizes oppositions to motions. Any opposition would have to identify any material fact in dispute. A reply to an opposition would be authorized for all motions. A reply to a reply is not authorized.

Section 1.639 sets forth the evidence which may accompany a motion, opposition, or reply. Every material fact alleged in a motion, opposition, or an reply would have to be supported by proof. Section 1.639(b) authorizes affidavits to be used as proof for any motion. The affidavit may later be used by a party during the testimony period (see §§1.671(e) and 1.672(b)). When a party believes that testimony is necessary to decide a motion under §1.633 or §1.634, the party would have to describe the nature of the testimony needed. If an examiner-in-chief agrees that testimony is needed, appropriate interlocutory relief would be granted and testimony would be ordered.

Example 23: An interference is declared with one count between application AH and application AJ. Applicant AH files a preliminary motion under §1.633(c)(1) to redefine the interference by adding a second count. In order to succeed, applicant AH must show that the proposed count to be added is directed to a "separate patentable invention" (see §1.601(n)) from the count already in the interference. In the motion, applicant AH sets forth in detail the testimony which would be required to prove that the subject matter of the proposed count is to a separate patentable invention from the subject matter of the count in the interference. Applicant AJ opposes the motion on the ground that the proposed and present counts define the "same patentable invention" (see §1.601(n)). An examiner-in-chief determines that a material fact is in dispute and that applicant AH has established testimony is needed to properly rule on the motion. Under the circumstances, the motion would be deferred to final hearing and a testimony period would be ordered. The questions of (1) whether the proposed and present counts define the same patentable invention and (2) priority would be decided at final hearing.

Under §1.640, an examiner-in-chief would decide all motions. A hearing could be held on a motion in the discretion of an examiner-in-chief. Where appropriate, an examiner-in-chief could consult with an examiner on a question of patentability which arises in the first instance in the interference. Consultation would not be necessary where the examiner had already ruled on the patentability question which comes before the examiner-in-chief or the Board. Moreover, nothing in §1.640 authorizes conferences between examiners-in-chief and examiners in ex parte appeals under 35 U.S.C. §134 from an adverse decision of an examiner. A party is entitled to request reconsideration of a decision on a motion by a single examiner-in-chief. An opposition to a request for reconsideration could not be filed unless ordered by an examiner-in-chief or the Board, but the decision by the single examiner-in-chief would not normally be modified unless an opposition has been requested. The request for reconsideration would be acted on by a panel of the Board consisting of at least three examiners-in-chief, one of whom would normally be the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion. Several comments were received in response to the advance notice questioning why the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion would form part of the panel deciding the request for reconsideration. The decision to propose, and now adopt, a regulation which would permit the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion to participate in the decision on reconsideration was made after careful balancing of all the factors involved. It could have been proposed to permit the examiner-in-chief to individually decide the request for reconsideration. However, it is believed that parties in interference cases would feel that their requests for reconsideration are being more fully considered if more than one person considers their request. The two additional examiners-in-chief would be able to consult with the examiner-in-chief most familiar with the case, but would be able to control the decision on reconsideration by a majority vote. Use of the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion and two additional examiners-in-chief would (1) minimize delay which would occur if three new examiners-in-chief were used who were unfamiliar with the record and (2) minimize the possibility that reversible error occurred if only the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion also individually decided the request for reconsideration.

Under §1.644, petitions to the Commissioner are authorized in interference cases under certain restricted conditions. Petitions in interferences have been the source of substantial delay. Section 1.644 attempts to minimize those delays. Section 1.644 authorizes a petition to the Commissioner from a decision of an examiner-in-chief or a panel when the examiner-in-chief or the panel shall be of the opinion (1) that the decision involves a controlling question of procedure or an interpretation of a rule as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and (2) that an immediate decision on petition would materially advance the ultimate termination of the interference. The standard is intended to be analogous to that of a district court certifying a question to a court of appeals under 28 U.S.C. §1292(b). A petition could be filed seeking to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner. However, the petition could not be filed prior to entry of judgment and could not relate to the merits of priority or patentability or the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence. A petition could also be filed seeking waiver of a rule. A fee of $120 would be charged for each petition and for each request for reconsideration of a decision on petition. Any petition would be decided on the record made before the examiner-in-chief or the Board and additional evidence could not be submitted with the petition. An opposition could not be filed unless ordered by the Commissioner. Where reasonably possible, service of a petition would have to be such that delivery is accomplished within one day. Service by hand or "Express Mail" would comply with this requirement.

Section 1.645 permits a party to file a motion to seek an extension of time to take action in an interference or to seek judicial review. The motion would have to be filed within sufficient time to actually reach an examiner-in-chief prior to expiration of the time for taking action. Under §1.645, a moving party would not be able to assume that a motion for an extension of time would be granted. Under §1.610(d)(6), a request for an extension of time could be made orally and an appropriate order would then be entered thus eliminating considerable paper work. The order would be the written record of the request and decision. See §1.2. Extensions of time have caused numerous delays in interference cases. Under present interference practice, some delays are caused because attorneys and agents on many occasions unexpectedly receive orders setting times. Under the new practice, attorneys and agents can expect times to be set for filing preliminary statements, preliminary motions, motions for additional discovery, testimony, and briefs after a conference call. It is expected that use of conference calls will permit an examiner-in-chief and attorneys or agents for parties to set a time schedule which is mutually satisfactory. A motion to extend time would not be granted unless a party shows good cause. The use of conference calls would allow schedules to be set before orders setting time are entered and therefore the press of other business which arises after the examiner-in-chief and attorneys and agents agree to times would not normally be considered good cause.

Under §1.647, when a party relies on a document in a foreign language, an English language translation of the document and an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the translation would be required. The rule would apply to any document, including evidence submitted with motions, foreign applications for which a party seeks benefit, testimony, and exhibits introduced in evidence during testimony.

Under §1.651, after a decision is entered on preliminary motions, an examiner-in-chief would set times for filing motions for additional discovery and for taking testimony. Any motion for additional discovery would be to obtain answers to interrogatories, requests for admissions, and documents and things necessary for a party to prepare its case-in-chief.

Section 1.653 sets out what shall be in the record to be considered by the Board at final hearing. The record would continue to be printed or typed on paper 8-1/2 Requested: Requested: by 11Requested: Requested: in size. Accordingly, when a party files an affidavit, the party should use 8-1/2Requested: Requested: by 11Requested: Requested: paper for the affidavit.

Section 1.654 continues the practice of holding a final hearing where oral argument may be presented by all parties. No fee would be charged for appearing at oral argument at final hearing in an interference.

Section 1.655 specifies the matters which can be considered in rendering a final decision. Patentability is an issue which may be raised. The Board can also consider whether any interlocutory order was manifestly erroneous or an abuse of discretion, although any interlocutory order would be presumed to be correct and burden of showing error shall be on the party attacking the order. This last procedural provision permits the Board to correct any manifest error before a party seeks judicial review of an interlocutory order along with judicial review of the Board's final decision.

Section 1.656 sets forth the requirements for briefs for final hearing. In large measure, §1.656 follows the requirements of Rule 28 of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure. An original and three copies of a brief is required. Under §1.656(h), if a party wants the Board in rendering its final decision to rule that any evidence is inadmissible, the party must file with its opening brief an original and three copies of a motion to suppress the evidence. Any previous objection to the admissibility of evidence is waived unless the motion to suppress is filed. This procedural provision makes clear that an objection to the admissibility of evidence must be renewed at final hearing and will be considered by the Board in rendering its final decision. When a junior party fails to file a brief, an order can be issued requiring the junior party to show cause why failure to file the brief should not be taken as a concession of priority.

Under §1.658 the Board would enter a final decision. The decision can (1) enter judgment, in whole or in part, (2) remand the interference to an examiner-in-chief, or (3) take further action not inconsistent with law. A judgment as to a count shall state whether or not each party is entitled to a patent containing claims which correspond to the count. When judgment is entered as to all counts, the decision of the Board is considered final for the purpose of judicial review. Section 1.658(c) defines the doctrine of interference estoppel as it is to be applied in the PTO after an interference is terminated. The definition of interference estoppel is designed to encourage parties in interference cases to settle as many issues as possible in one proceeding. Section 1.658(c) creates an estoppel both as to senior and junior parties unlike the present practice (37 CFR §1.257) which limits estoppel in some instances to junior parties. An estoppel would not apply with respect to any claims which correspond, or which properly could have corresponded, to a count as to which the party was awarded a favorable judgment. A few examples illustrate how estoppel would be applied.

Example 24: Junior party applicant AL and senior party applicant AK both disclose separate patentable inventions "A" and "B" and claim only invention A in their respective applications. An interference is declared with a single count to invention A. Neither party files a preliminary motion (see §1.633(c)(1)) to add a count to invention B. Judgment as to all of AL's claims corresponding to the sole count is awarded to junior party applicant AL. Senior party applicant AK would be estopped to thereafter obtain a patent containing claims to invention B, because applicant AK failed to move to add a count to invention B in the interference. Junior party applicant AL would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B.

Example 25: In this example, the facts are the same as in Example 24 except that judgment is awarded as to all AK's claims corresponding to the count to senior party applicant AK. Junior party applicant AL would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B in the interference. Senior party applicant AK would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B.

Example 26: Junior party applicant AM and senior party applicant AP both disclose separate patentable inventions "C", "D", and "E" and claim inventions C and D in their respective applications. An interference is declared with two counts. Count 1 is to invention C and Count 2 is to invention D. Neither party files a preliminary motion to add a proposed Count 3 to invention E. Judgment as to all AM's claims corresponding to Counts 1 and 2 is awarded to junior party applicant AM. Senior party applicant AP would be estopped to thereafter obtain a patent containing claims to invention E, because applicant AP failed to move to add a count to invention E in the interference. Junior party applicant AM would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claim to invention E.

Example 27: In this example, the facts are the same as in Example 26 except that judgment is awarded as to all AP's claims corresponding to Counts 1 and 2 to senior party applicant AP. Junior party applicant AM would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention E, because applicant AM failed to move to add a count to invention E in the interference. Senior party applicant AP would not be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention E.

Example 28: In this example, the facts are the same as in Example 26 except that judgment is awarded on all of AM's claims corresponding to Count 1 to junior party applicant AM and judgment is awarded on all AP's claims corresponding to Count 2 to senior party applicant AP. Both parties would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention E, because neither moved to add a count to invention E during the interference. Assume that junior party AM could have properly moved under §1.633(f) to be accorded the benefit of an earlier application, but did not do so during the interference. Junior party AM would not be estopped in subsequent ex parte prosecution from asking for benefit of the earlier application as to the invention defined by Count 1. Accordingly, if the examiner were to reject junior party AM's claim corresponding to Count 1 on the basis of some newly discovered prior art, junior party AM could properly antedate the prior art by seeking the benefit under 35 U.S.C. §120 of the earlier application. Thus, even though junior party AM was a "losing party" as to Count 2 (an adverse judgment as to junior party AM's claims corresponding to Count 2 having been entered), junior party AM was awarded a favorable judgment (§1.658(c)) as to Count 1. Junior party AM would be estopped in subsequent ex parte prosecution from attempting to be accorded the benefit of the earlier application as to the invention of Count 2.

Example 29: Applicant AQ discloses and claims invention "F." Applicant AR discloses and claims separate patentable inventions "F" and "G." The assignee of applicant AQ also owns an application AS which discloses and claims invention "G." An interference is declared between applicant AQ and applicant AR. The sole count is directed to invention F. No motion is filed by applicant AQ or its assignee to declare an additional interference between applicant AR and applicant AS with a count to invention G. A judgment as to all of AR's claims corresponding to the sole count is awarded to applicant AR. Applicant AS and the assignee would be estopped to obtain a patent containing claims to invention G, because applicant AR and the assignee failed to move to declare an additional interference with a count to invention G.

Example 30: The facts in this example are the same as the facts in Example 29 except that judgment as to all of AQ's claims corresponding the sole count is awarded to applicant AQ. Applicant AS and the assignee would not be estopped, because applicant AQ was not a "losing party" (§1.658(c)).

Example 31: Applicant AT discloses a generic invention to "solvent" and a species to "benzene." Application AT contains a patentable claim 1 (solvent) and no other claims. Applicant AU discloses the generic invention to "solvent" and species to "benzene" and "toluene." Application AU contains patentable claim 3 (solvent) and no other claims. An interference is declared with a single count (solvent). Claims 1 of application AT and claim 3 cf applicatcn AU are designated to correspond to the count. No preliminary motions are filed. A judgment is entered in favor of applicant AT on the claim corresponding to the sole count. Applicant AU would be estopped to obtain a patent containing a claim to benzene, because applicant AU failed to file a preliminary motion under §1.633(c)(1) seeking to add a count to benzene and benzene was disclosed in winning party AT's application. Applicant AU would also be estopped to obtain a patent containing a claim to toluene, unless "toluene" defines a "separate patentable invention" from "solvent ." A basis for interference estoppel (§1.658(c)) exists if "toluene" and "solvent" define the "same patentable invention," because a claim to "toluene" could properly have been added and designated to correspond to the count. See §1.633(c)(2).

Under §1.659, the Board would be able to make recommendations to examiners and the Commissioner, including recommendations that application claims not involved in the interference be rejected and that a patent be reexamined as to patent claims not involved in the interference.

Under §1.660, a party would be required to notify the Board when the party's patent or application becomes involved in other PTO proceedings (reexamination, reissue, or protest) or litigation.

Section 1.661 sets forth when an interference is considered terminated after a judgment is entered in the interference. For the purpose of filing copies of settlement agreements, an interference is considered terminated when the time for all appeals has expired. Tallent v. Lemoine, 204 USPQ 1058 (Comm'r.Pat. 1979). See also Nelson v. Bowler, 212 USPQ 760 (Comm'r.Pat. 1981).

Section 1.662 provides that a party may request that an adverse judgment be entered. The section also provides that when a written disclaimer (not a statutory disclaimer), concession of priority or unpatentability, abandonment of the invention, abandonment of an application, or abandonment of the contest is filed, the disclaimer, concession, or abandonment would be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment. Section 1.662(b) provides that when a patentee files a reissue application and omits all claims of a patent corresponding to the counts of an interference for the purpose of avoiding the interference, judgment would be entered against the patentee. Under §1.662(c), the filing of a statutory disclaimer would not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment unless all patent claims corresponding to a count are disclaimed. Under §1.662(d), if after entry of a judgment or after filing of a statutory disclaimer no interference exists, the interference would be terminated as to any party against whom judgment has not been entered and any further prosecution of any application involved in the interference would be ex parte before the examiner.

Section 1.666 sets out the procedure for filing settlement agreements in interference cases. The PTC is merely a repository for copies of agreements filed under 35 U.S.C. §135(c) and does not undertake to rule on whether the statute requires that a copy of any particular agreement be filed. Nelson v. Bowler, 212 USPQ 760 (Comm'r.Pat. 1981).

Section 1.671 sets out what would be considered evidence. The Federal Rules of Evidence, with certain exceptions, are made applicable to interference cases. Under§1.671(e), a party cannot rely on a previously filed affidavit unless the affidavit is served and notice is given that the party intends to rely on the affidavit. The purpose for the notice is to permit an opponent to determine whether a deposition for cross-examination is necessary (see §§1.672(b) and 1.673(e)).

Section 1.671(e) is intended to overrule prior construction of PTO rules in Holmes v. Kelly, 586 F.2d 234, 237 n. 7, 199 USPQ 778, 782 n. 7 (CCPA 1978) and Brecker v. Jennings, 204 USPQ 663 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1978), which considered a Rule 132 affidavit in the file of an involved application to be part of the "record" in an interference. Under §1.671(e), a party intending to rely on such an affidavit must give notice and serve a copy of the affidavit on the oppcnent.

Under §1.671(f), the significance of documentary and other exhibits must be discussed with particularity by a witness during oral deposition or in an affidavit. Section 1.671(f) sets out in the regulations an evidentiary requirement imposed by precedent. See Popoff v. Orchin, 144 USPQ 762 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1963) (unexplained experimental data should not be considered); Chandler v. Mock, 150 F.2d 563, 66 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1945) (records standing alone were held to be meaningless), and Smith v. Bousquet, 111 F.2d 157, 45 USPQ 347 (CCPA 1940) (unexplained tests in stipulated testimony are entitled to little weight). See also In re Borkowski, 505 F.2d 713, 184 USPQ 29 (CCPA 1974) and Triplett v. Steinmayer, 129 F.2d 869, 54 USPQ 409 (CCPA 1942). Under §1.671(g), a party is required to obtain permission from an examiner-in-chief prior to proceeding under 35 U.S.C. §24. This requirement insures that a subpoena is necessary (e.g., a subpoena ordinarily should not be necessary where testimony of an opponent is sought) and that testimony sought through a §24 subpoena is relevant before a subpoena is issued. The motion seeking permission to proceed under §24, any opposition thereto, and the order of an examiner-in-chief authorizing the moving party to proceed under §24 will be of assistance to a federal court in the event a party is required to resort to a court to enforce the subpoena or to compel answers to questions propounded at any deposition where a witness is appearing pursuant to a subpoena. See Sheehan v. Doyle, 529 F.2d 38, 188 USPQ 545 (1st Cir.), cert. denied, 429 U.S. 870 (1976), rehearing denied, 429 U.S. 987 (1976).

Under §1.671(h), any evidence which is not taken or sought and filed in accordance with the regulations will not admissible.

Section 1.672 sets forth the manner in which testimony shall be taken. Testimony can be taken by deposition or affidavit at the election of the party presenting the testimony. A party presenting testimony by affidavit must file and serve the affidavit. If the party presents testimony by affidavit and an opponent elects to cross-examine the affiant, the party is required to notice a deposition for the purpose of cross-examination. Re-direct and re-cross will take place at the deposition. Where the parties agree, testimony can be presented by affidavit without opportunity for cross-examination (see §1.672(e)) or by an agreed statement of facts (see §1.672(f)).

Section 1.673 sets out how a deposition must be noticed. A deposition can be noticed for any reasonable place in the United States. The extent to which parties, witnesses, and attorneys or agents have to travel may be considered in determining whether a place is reasonable. Prior to serving a notice for a deposition, a party is required to take two procedural steps. Under §1.673(b), a party would be required to serve a copy of the documents and a list of the things in its possession, custody, and control upon which it intended to rely. Under §1.673(g), the party is required to have an oral conference (in person or by telephone) with all opponents to attempt to agree on a mutually acceptable time and place for taking the deposition. An examiner-in-chief may set the time and place if agreement is not reached.

A single notice listing all the witnesses and the general nature of their expected testimony is then served. Under §1.673(c) and except as provided, a party can not rely on any witness not mentioned in the notice, any document not served, or any thing not listed. Under §1.673(h), a copy of any notice must be attached to the certified transcript of each deposition filed.

Section 1.674 sets out the persons before whom depositions can be taken.

Section 1.675 sets out how a deposition is to be taken.

Section 1.676 sets out how a court reporter should prepare and file a certified transcript of a deposition. Section 1.676(d) sets out how exhibits are to be marked for identification, used at depositions, and filed. Provisions similar to those of Rule 30(f)(1)(A) and (B) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are applicable to interferences.

Section 1.677 sets out the form of a transcript of a deposition.

Under §1.678, a transcript of a deposition must be filed in the PTO within 45 days of the date of the deposition.

Section 1.682 sets out how a party may introduce in evidence, if otherwise admissible, official records or printed publications. When a notice is served, a party is also required to serve (but not file) copies of the official records and printed publications. Any objection to the notice or to the admissibility of any official record or publication must be filed within 15 days of the date of service of the notice.

Section 1.683 sets out how a party may use testimony from another interference or proceeding.

Section 1.684 sets out how a party may take testimony in a foreign country.

Section 1.685 sets out how objections during the taking of depositions must be raised. Under §1.685(a), an error in a notice of deposition is waived unless a motion to quash the notice is filed as soon as the error is, or could have been, discovered. Under §1.685(b), any objection to the qualifications of an officer is waived unless (1) the objection is noted on the record of the deposition before a witness begins to testify or (2) if discovered after the deposition, a motion to suppress is filed as soon as the objection is, or could have been, discovered. Under §1.685(c), any error in the manner in which testimony is transcribed, the transcript is signed by a witness, or the transcript is prepared or otherwise handled by the court reporter is waived unless a motion to suppress is filed as soon as the error is, or could have been, discovered. Under §1.685(d), any objection on the merits to the admissibility of evidence (e.g., under the Federal Rules of Evidence is waived unless an objection is made on the record at the deposition stating the specific ground of objection. Often objections are cured by subsequent testimony. Accordingly, any objection which a party wants the Board to consider at final hearing must also be made the subject of a motion under §1.656(h).

Section 1.687 sets out how a party could seek and obtain additional discovery. "Additional discovery" is defined in §1.601(a). Section 1.687 does not change the standard ("interest of justice") for obtaining discovery.

Section 1.688 sets out how a party can introduce into evidence admissions and answers to interrogatories obtained as a result of additional discovery.

Changes in Text

Several changes have been made to the text of the proposed rules published in the Federal Register on Jan. 30, 1984. The changes are discussed below. Additional rationale for the changes are further discussed under the heading "Analysis of Comments."

All references to the "Board of Appeals and Interferences" have been changed to "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences" in view of Public Law 98-622.

In §1.11(a) the language "or after termination of an interference without an award of judgment" has been deleted. This change has been made in view cf changes made in paragraphs (c) and (d) of §1.662.

In response to a comment, the fee required for a petition in an interference under §1.644(e) and a request fcr reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference under §1.644(f) have been set out as separate items.

Section 1.136 was changed to refer to §1.611 rather than §1.610(a).

The following sentence was inadvertently omitted as the third sentence of §1.138 in the notice of proposed rulemaking: "A registered attorney or agent acting under the provision of §1.34(a), or of record, may also expressly abandon a prior application as of the filing date granted to a continuing application when filing such a continuing application." This sentence presently appears in §1.138.

In §1.196(d), second sentence, "thirty days" has been changed to "one month".

In §1.197(b), "thirty days" has been changed to "one month".

In the last sentence of §1.304, "The Commissioner" has been changed to "An examiner-in-chief" and "of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an interference case" has been inserted after "time for seeking judicial review." This change is made to limit the "excusable neglect" standard to interference cases only.

In §1.601(j), the language "all the claims of a party which correspond" has been changed to read "at least one claim of a party which corresponds". The language "all the claims of an opponent which correspond" has been changed to read "at least one claim of an opponent which corresponds".

Section 1.605(a) has been changed by deleting from the third sentence the language "a claim which is the same or substantially the same as" and by adding the following sentence as the fourth sentence: "At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the suggested claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared." In the second sentence, "30 days" has been changed to "one month.

In the last sentence of §1.606, the language "to define one patentable invention" has been changed to read: "not to contain separate patentable inventions."

The word "and" has been inserted in §1.607(a) before "(3)". The word "must" in the first sentence of §1.607(c) has been changed to "shall" in response to a suggestion in a comment.

Pursuant to two separate suggestions, the following is being added after the first sentence in §1.608(b): "Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the patent. To facilitate preparation of a record (§1.653(g) and (h)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)."

In §1.609(b)(1), the language "count or counts" has been changed to "proposed count or counts". In §1.609(b)(2), each occurrence of "the count" has been changed to "each count".

In §1.613(a), "§1.344" has been changed to "this Chapter." This change is being made to obviate the need to again amend §1.613 in the event new rules relating to practice before the PTO are issued. See the notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register on Aug. 24, 1984. 49 F.R. 33790, proposed §§10.62 and 10.66. The language "or members of the same firm of attorneys or agents" has been added after "agent" in §1.613(b).

In §1.615(a), second sentence, "which are" has been deleted and "in the interference" has been added after "will not be entered or considered".

Several changes have been made in §1.617. In §1.617(a), the language "the interference shall proceed before the examiner-in-chief" has been changed to read: "the interference shall proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part". The second sentence of §1.617(b) ("A response may include a request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board.") has been changed to read: "Any request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board shall be made in the response." This change was made to clarify when and how a hearing must be requested by the applicant. The second sentence of §1.617(d) has been changed to read: "The statement may set forth views as to why summary judgment should be granted against the applicant, but the statement shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the examiner-in-chief for issuing the order to show cause." Section 1.617(e) has been re-written as follows: "Within a time authorized by the examiner-in-chief, an applicant may file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent." The language "examiner-in-chief or the" has been added after "by the applicant is timely filed, the" in the first sentence of §1.617(g). The language "Board decides that" has been deleted from the second sentence of §1.617(g). The language "If the Board decides otherwise" has been replaced with "Otherwise" in the third sentence of §1.617(g). The language "before the examiner-in-chief" in the third sentence of §1.617(g) has been changed to read: "in the normal manner under the regulations of this part." These changes will authorize either an examiner-in-chief or a Board to authorize an interference to proceed under §1.617(g). It will continue to be necessary for the Board to enter an order granting summary judgment. In the last sentence of §1.617(h), "patentee" has been changed to "any opponent".

The language "the name of" has been deleted from the first sentence of §1.622(a). The second sentence of §1.622(a) in the notice of proposed rulemaking ("When an inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not identical to the inventor named in the party's application or patent, the party shall file a motion . . . .") has been changed to read: "When an inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not an inventor named in the party's application or patent, the party shall file a motion . . . ." This change is being made in view of §105(a) of Public Law 98-622 which amended 35 U.S.C. §116 to permit joint inventors to be named "even though . . . (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim . . . ."

The following changes have been made in §1.623(c). In the first sentence, "copy of the drawing" has been changed to "copy of the first drawing". In the second sentence, "copy of the written description", has been changed to "copy of the first written description". In the third sentence, "when a drawing or written description" has been changed to "when a copy of the first drawing or first written description".

Several changes have been made to §1.624. The following has been added as a second sentence in §1.624(a)(5): "If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, the preliminary statement shall so state." The following changes have been made in §1.624(c). Each occurrence of "was made" has been changed to "was introduced into the United States." In the first sentence, "copy of the drawing" has been changed to "copy of that drawing". In the second sentence, "copy of the written description" has been changed to "copy of that written description". In the third sentence, "a drawing or written description" has been changed to "a copy of the first drawing or first written description introduced in the United States".

The following changes have been made in §1.625(c). In the first sentence, "copy of the drawing" has been changed to "copy of the first drawing". In the second sentence, "copy of the written description" has been changed to "copy of the first written description". In the third sentence, "a drawing or written description" has been changed to "a first drawing or first written description".

The language of §1.628(b) which read: "because the drawing or written description is not in the party's possession, custody, or control, the party may file a motion . . to amend its preliminary statement promptly after it secures possession, custody, or control of a copy of the drawing or written description" has been changed to read as follows: "the party (1) shall show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and (2) shall attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States which is available. The party shall file a motion . . . to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the first drawing, first written description or drawing or written description first introduced into the United States becomes available."

The first sentence ("A preliminary statement should be carefully prepared.") has been deleted from §1.629(a).

In §1.629(b), the language "no earlier than" has been changed to "as early as".

In §1.629(d), the following has been added after "allegation: "unless the party complies with §1.628(b)."

A new §1.632 has been added to require a party to give timely notice of the party's intent to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice. A companion change has been made to §1.654.

Two changes have been made to §1.633(c). Paragraph (c)(2) has been changed by adding thereto the following language: "or adding a claim in the moving party's application to be designated to correspond to a count". In addition, in §1.633(c), the "or" before "(4)" has been deleted and the following has been added to the end of the first sentence: ", or (5) requiring an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and to designate the claim to correspond to a count."

Paragraph (j) has been added to §1.633.

In §1.636(b), "(i)" has been changed to "(i) or (j)" in view of the addition of paragraph (j) to §1.633. The language "filed as soon as practical" in §1.636(c) has been changed to "diligently filed" in order to conform §1.636 to §1.48. A party must exercise diligence in correcting inventorship. Van Otteren v. Hafner, 278 F.2d 738, 126 USPQ 151 (CCPA 1960).

Several changes have been made to §1.637. The language "Where appropriate," has been deleted from the following paragraphs of §1.637: (c)(1)(vi); (c)(2)(iv); (c)(3)(iii); (d)(4); (e)(1)(viii); (e)(2)(vii); and (h)(4). The following has been added in §1.637(c)(2) before "shall: "or adding a claim to be designated to correspond to a count". The language "amended claim" in §1.637(c)(2)(i) has been changed to read: "amended or added claim". The language "Apply the terms of each proposed claim to the disclosure of the application" in §1.637(c)(2)(ii) has been changed to read: "Show that the proposed or added claim defines the same patentable invention as the count." The language "proposed amended claim" in §1.637(c)(2)(iii) has been changed to read "amended or added claim." The language "adding the proposed claim" in §1.637(c)(2)(iii) has been changed to read: "making the amended or added claim".

The word "interferences" in §1.637(c)(4)(ii) has been corrected to read: "interference".

Subparagraph (c)(5) has been added to §1.637.

The following has been added as the last sentence to §1.637(f)(2): "If the earlier application filed abroad is not in English, the requirements of §1.647 must also be met."

In paragraph §1.637(f)(3), the language "discloses an embodiment with the scope" has been changed to read: "constitutes a constructive reduction to practice".

The first sentence, originally proposed in §1.638(b) ("A reply to an opposition shall not be filed unless authorized by this subpart or an examiner-in-chief or the motion was filed under §§1.633 or 1.634"), has been deleted. The language "any authorized reply" in §1.638(b) has been changed to "a reply".

The language "or a motion to correct inventorship under §1.634" has been added to the first sentence of §1.639(c) after "preliminary motion under §1.633."

The following has been added after the first sentence of §1.640(b)(1): "Failure or refusal of a party to timely present an amendment required by an examiner-in-chief shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by that party of the invention involved." The fourth sentence of §1.640(c) ("A request for reconsideration will ordinarily not be granted unless an opposition has been requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board") has been changed to read: "A decision of a single examiner-in-chief will not ordinarily be modified unless an opposition has been requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board." In the last sentence of §1.640(c), the language "shall be decided by a panel" has been changed to read: "shall be acted on by a panel".

The word "application" in the paragraph heading and text of §1.642 has been changed to read: "application or patent".

Three changes have been made in §1.644. The following language has been added after "Commissioner" in §1.644(a)(2): "and is not filed prior to the decision of the Board awarding judgment and does not relate to (i) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (ii) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence". The following language has been deleted from the second sentence of §1.644(b): "and shall not relate to (1) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (2) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence". The language "A request for reconsideration will ordinarily not be granted unless" in the second sentence of §1.644(f) has been changed to read: "The decision will not ordinarily be modified unless such".

Two changes have been made in §1.645. The word "to" has been added before "file a notice of appeal" and "commence a civil action" in the first sentence of paragraph (a). The language ", accompanied by an affidavit," has been deleted from paragraph (b).

Three changes have been made to §1.646. The word "service" has been added after "additional" in the third sentence of paragraph (b). The language "or except as otherwise provided by this part," has been added after "otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief," in paragraph (c). The language in paragraph (c) "paper may be made" has been changed to "paper shall be made". The word "time" has been changed to "date" in the last sentence of paragraph (e).

A new paragraph (c) has been added to §1.654 to require that a party give timely notice of the party's intent to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice. Section 1.632 specifies the time within which the notice shall be filed.

Three changes have been made in §1.658. The language "paragraph (a) of the section" in the last sentence of §1.658(b) has been changed to "paragraph (a) of this section". The "(i)" in the first sentence of §1.658(c) has been changed to "(j)" in view of the addition of §1.633(j). In the notice of proposed rulemaking, the second sentence of §1.658(c) read: "A party, other than a party awarded a favorable judgment as to all counts, who could have properly moved, but failed to move, under §§1.633 or 1.634, shall be estopped to take ex parte or inter partes action in the Patent and Trademark Office after the interference which is inconsistent with the party's failure to properly move." This sentence has been changed to read: "A losing party who could have properly moved, but failed to move, under §1.633 or 1.634, shall be estopped to take ex parte or inter partes action in the Patent and Trademark Office after the interference which is inconsistent with that party's failure to properly move, except that a losing party shall not be estopped with respect to any claims which correspond, or properly could have corresponded, to a count as to which that party was awarded a favorable judgment."

Several changes have been made in §1.662. In §1.662(a), the word "construed" has been changed to "treated. The first sentence of §1.662(c) in the notice of proposed rulemaking read: "The filing of a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. §253 by a patentee will not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the patentee, but will delete any statutorily disclaimed claims from being involved in the interference." That first sentence has been changed to read: "The filing of a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. §253 by a patentee will delete any statutorily disclaimed claims from being involved in the interference." The second sentence of §1.662(c) in the notice of proposed rulemaking read: "A statutory disclaimer of any claim involved in an interference shall in subsequent proceedings have the same effect with respect to the patentee as an adverse judgment." That second sentence has been changed to read: "A statutory disclaimer will not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the patentee unless it results in the deletion of all patent claims corresponding to a count." In view of this change, proposed §1.662(d) has been deleted as unnecessary, and a change has also been made in §1.11(a) to delete any reference to a termination of an interference by any means other than judgment.

The last sentence of §1.671(g) has been changed from "The motion shall describe the general nature and show the admissibility in the interference of the testimony, document, or thing" to: "The motion shall describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing."

Three changes have been made to §1.672(b). In the second sentence after "witness by affidavit shall" the following has been added: ", prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period". The language "file an affidavit" has been changed to "file and serve an affidavit". The following has been added after the third sentence: "A party shall not be entitled to rely on any document referred to in the affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any thing mentioned in the affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the thing. A thing is something other than a document."

Several changes have been made in §1.673(b). The introductory sentence of paragraph (b) ("Unless the parties agree otherwise, at least three days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, a party shall serve, but not file, the following:") has been changed to read: "Unless the parties agree otherwise, a party shall serve, but not file, at least three days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, if service is made by hand or "Express Mail," or at least ten days prior to the conference if service is made by any other means, the following:" In §1.673(b)(1) the word "copy" has been changed to "list and copy".

In the last sentence of §1.675(d), the language "signed by the witness in the presence of any notary" has been changed to read "signed by the witness in the form of (1) an affidavit in the presence of any notary or (2) a declaration". This change conforms §1.675(d) to §1.68.

In §1.682(a)(4), ", where appropriate," has been added prior to "be accompanied" and "(§1.671(d))" has been added after "printed publication".

The word "admissible" in §1.684(a)(4) has been changed to "relevant".

The following sentence has been deleted from §1.687(b): "If the witness refuses to produce a requested document or thing, the party may file a motion (§1.635) for additional discovery under paragraph (c) of this section."

Section 1.688 has been revised to more clearly describe how a party may introduce in evidence an answer to a request for admission or an answer to a written interrogatory.

Analysis of Comments

Eighteen written comments were received. Three individuals testified at a hearing held on May 15, 1984.

The following is an analysis of the written comments and the oral comments made at the hearing.

One comment suggested that §1.8 not be amended to exclude from the certificate of mailing practice a paper in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail." The comment argues that "[s] ome parties might not have an attorney in the Washington area or they may live in an area not serviced by Express Mail." The suggestion is not being adopted. Experience has shown that there are situations in interferences where it is desirable to have and the parties need a prompt ruling on a written motion. It is difficult for an examiner-in-chief to render a prompt ruling if the motion and any opposition are not promptly served and filed. In those situations where a party has no Washington, D.C. metropolitan area attorney or where a party resides in an area not served by "Express Mail," it may not be possible to hand-file or use "Express Mail." The examiner-in-chief would then exercise discretion by not invoking the exception of new subparagraph (xii) of §1.8(a).

One comment suggested that it would be clearer if the fee for a petition in an interference and the fee for a request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference were set out in §1.17(h) as separate items. This suggestion has been adopted and the two fees have been set out in §1.17(h) as separate items.

A suggestion was made that a reference be made in §1.136 to §1.611 rather than §1.610(a). The suggestion is being adopted, because a reference to §1.611 is believed to be more appropriate. Once an interference is declared involving an application, ex parte prosecution of the application is suspended and the applicant need not respond to any PTO action outstanding as of the date the interference is declared.

One comment made the following remark concerning §1.196: "I do not understand the need or desire of the PTO to start the time to appeal to a Court from a PTO final decision on one claim, while PTO action is continuing on a second claim." As explained in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 3770, columns 2-3; 1039 O.G. 20-21; 1039 TMOG 20-21), when there are further proceedings before the examiner following a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, judicial review is not appropriate. Hence, under §1.196, the PTO will not start a time for seeking judicial review of a PTO decision on one claim while PTO action is continuing on another claim. The last sentences of §1.196(b)(1) and §1.196(d) authorize the Board to enter an order making its decision final as to one claim when remand proceedings as to another claim result in a favorable decision for the applicant. Section 1.196 is intended to eliminate piecemeal appeals.

With respect to §1.292(c), one commentator said: "[a] party should be able to raise public use and [on] sale issues at any stage [of an interference proceeding] provided the issue is raised in a timely manner after learning of the use or sale." Public use and on sale issues are to be raised in interferences by way of a preliminary motion under §1.633(a). If a motion under §1.633(a) cannot be timely filed, a belated motion may be filed provided the moving party complies with the provisions of §1.645(b). Whether or not a belated motion will be accepted where a public use or sale is discovered after the time for filing §1.633(a) motions which has passed will manifestly depend on the facts of a given case.

One comment suggested that the language "speedy, and inexpensive" be deleted from the second sentence of the preamble of §1.601. This suggestion is not being adopted. The second sentence of the preamble of §1.601 provides that the rules "shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every interference." The provision is modeled in part after the second sentence of Rule 1 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure which states that the Federal Rules "shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action." The "just, speedy, and inexpensive determination" provision of §1.601 will prove useful in construing other provisions in the rules.

Two comments were received which suggested a change in language in §1.601(j). One comment correctly noted that "[i] f even one claim of each party defines the same patentable invention, there is an interference-in-fact." The comment went on to correctly note that "[t] he remaining claims can be disposed of by a motion under§1.633(c)(4)." A second comment noted that under the definition proposed, all the claims of both parties corresponding to a count must define the same patentable invention. The comment went on to correctly note the intent of the PTO is, however, that an interference-in-fact exists if at least one of the claims of a party corresponding to a count defines the same patentable invention as one of the corresponding claims of an opponent. In view of the suggestions made in the two comments, §1.601(j) has been changed to state that an interference-in-fact exists when at least one claim of a party which corresponds to a count and at least one claim of an opponent which corresponds to the count defines the same patentable invention.

Two comments were received which suggested that the language "earliest filing date" in §1.601(m) be changed to read "earliest effective filing date." The suggestion is not being adopted. Section 1.601(m) defines "senior party." The definition of "senior party" in §1.601(m) is consistent with current practice and is intended to codify current practice. In an interference where there are no benefit applications, the "senior party" is the party with the earliest "filing date." There are interferences where a party may be "senior" with respect to a first count based on the filing dates of the applications involved in the interference and "junior" with respect to a second count because the opponent is entitled to benefit of an earlier application as to the second count only. Under these circumstances in the past, the PTO has designated the party who is "senior" based on the filing dates of the applications involved as the "senior party." The designation of the party as "senior party" is for procedural purposes only, i.e., setting who takes testimony first, and does not affect which party has the burden of proof. Section 1.601(m) preserves this past practice.

Comments were received regarding §1.601(n) which defines "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention." One written comment suggested that §1.601(n) be deleted. The commentator appeared at the hearing and also urged orally that §1.601(n) be deleted. The suggestion is not being adopted. In view of the nature of the comment and the importance of the definitions in §1.601(n), the written comment is reproduced in its entirety:

> Comment: The paragraph to be deleted contains an explicit definition of both "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention". It requires application of a two-prong test for determining "sameness" or "separateness". Two inventions are considered to be the "same patentable invention" when they are the same under 35 USC 102 or obvious variants under 35 USC 103 when one is considered as "prior art" with respect to the other. Application of this standard may lead to results which are anomalous or in conflict with statutory requirements if, as the proposed rules apparently assume, the award of priority as to counts embodying "separate patentable inventions" will inherently and finally resolve the question of entitlement to a patent as between the parties on involved claims corresponding to those counts. Three specific problems with the definition of Rule 601(n) have been identified as follows:
> (1) If the standard of separate patentability as between two counts is applied on a mutual basis (i.e., Invention A must be separately patentable from Invention B considered as prior art and Invention B must be separately patentable from Invention A considered as prior art), then the conduct of interferences with separate counts directed to both a generic invention and an included specific embodiment thereof (i.e., a species) are frustrated. If, however, such mutuality is not applied (i.e., if Invention A is the existing count, then a count directed to Invention B is proper so long as Invention B would be considered patentable over Invention A as prior art), then a number of irreconcilable anomalies in count modification through preliminary motions practice will be manifest.
> (2) "Separate patentability" as a non-obviousness issue is in every context except interference practice before the PTO determined with finality only when an affirmative determination has been reached or the applicant elects to discontinue further prosecution of any applications embodying the invention or to admit obviousness. Because in the ex parte context an applicant may continue to marshall additional evidence supportive of non-obviousness until separate patentability over a prior art invention has been established, "separate patentability" is always a fluid concept where ultimate resolution can neither be predicted nor foreclosed. On certain cases interference proceedings under the proposed rules will be conducted and judgment rendered on the assumption of a lack of "separate patentability", which would ordinarily be subject to change or rebuttal as additional argument, evidence or other supportive activity of non-obviousness were marshalled. Thus, simply determining a proposed count is not yet "separately patentable" for the purposes of count formation ought not to foreclose post-interference reconsideration of separate patentability questions when the party proposing the count would not have been foreclosed on priority grounds.
> (3) The underlying assumption that "separate patentability" is to be established under the proposed rules for one invention when a second invention is considered as "prior art" does not have any necessary correspondence to the effect of an adverse judgment in an interference on the question of priority. While a lost count in interference is not patentable to the loser, the lost count will be considered as "prior art" against the losing party only if the status of prior art for the purposes of 35 USC 103 is established by the record in the interference, (i.e., by representing a prior invention of another made in the United States, not abandoned, suppressed or concealed under 35 USC 102). A party entitled to priority for a count under the benefit provisions of 35 USC 119 creates no "prior art" under 35 USC 102(g)/103 against his opponent. Separate counts ought not to be created or denied in an interference on the basis of a rule which fails to account for whether the interference record will confirm the assumption in the definition that a lost count will become "prior art".
> The following examples are provided as indicative of perceived difficulties in the application of the definition embodied in Rule 601(n):
> Example A: Rule 601(n) is applied in a mutuality sense to an interference where the existing count (Invention A) is a broad genus over organic compounds. Both parties disclose a species (Invention B) which one of the parties alleges represents a "selection invention", i.e., is neither anticipated by the genus nor obvious therefrom. The party proposing to add a species count to Invention B must demonstrate that the genus was neither the same as nor obvious in view of the species, an impossibility since disclosure of the species anticipates the genus under 35 USC 102. In effect, no party could ever propose sub-generic or species counts included within broader generic counts. Since all potential patentability and priority questions with respect to possible sub-generic and species claims are intended to be resolved in the unified patentability/priority proceedings, loss of such a broad generic count might be construed as estopping the losing party from arguing entitlement to a patent for species and subgenera within the lost count. Since proof of a single species is dispositive of the question of priority as to a genus, no matter how large, this is a more severe result than would appear to be proper or intended.
> Example B: Under the facts of Example A, if the standard under which the propriety for including a second sub-generic or species count is merely that the proposed count must be non-obvious over the existing count considered as prior art, then, an interference could conceivably proceed with both the generic and the species count in the interference. The usual criteria for "selection inventions" could be employed. However, when an interference is declared with a species count embodying Invention A, then utilization of a test requiring that a proposed count be non-obvious over the existing count as prior art leads literally to the conclusion that a proposed count to a generic Invention B is anticipated by the existing species count and therefore may not be added to the interference. This artificial distinction can certainly not have been intended, and yet the rules provide no clear indication of which result is the "correct" one or whether another test will be employed, e.g., the narrower count need only be non-obvious over the broader count.
> Example C: A party moves to substitute two subgeneric counts to allegedly separately patentable inventions, Invention A and Invention B, in place of a broad generic count to the "Markush" group of Invention A and Invention B. The party alleges Invention B has surprising and unexpected properties over Invention A and is separately patentable thereover. Because, however, a consideration of Invention B as "prior art" suggests Invention A would not be non-obvious thereover, the motion is denied. The moving party establishes priority as to Invention B, but loses the sole count of the interference to an opponent who filed a foreign application disclosing a single species from Invention A. The result is that the moving party with clear evidence of priority apparently loses the right to patent an invention on the technicality of "count formation" in interference. The result is substantially more severe than had he been simply faced with a statutory bar!
> Example D: The senior party, a foreign applicant, relies on a priority application disclosing Embodiment A. Subsequently the junior party files a United States application directed to an Embodiment B. Thereafter both parties file applications in the United States disclosing a generic invention includingboth Embodiments A and B. An interference is declared on the generic invention and the junior party moves to substitute two counts, one count to Embodiment A and a second count to Embodiment B on the ground that they represent separate patentable inventions. Since the junior party's invention date for Embodiment B is after the senior party's priority date, the junior party will be obliged to concede priority on the sole count in the interference unless his motion to substitute counts is granted.
> Accordingly, the junior party undertakes laboratory tests which indicate that both Embodiments A and B achieve substantially the same result in substantially the same manner without any significant differences in effectiveness. Without evidence of separate patentability to support rhe motion to substitute, the junior party is unsuccessful and priority is awarded to the senior party.
> The junior party abandons his claim to the generic invention of the lost count, but persists in his assertion he is entitled to a patent on Embodiment B since the interference record indicates no actual priority for this embodiment in favor of the senior party. Ultimately, the junior party obtains evidence that Embodiment B is unexpectedly more useful than anticipated in a commercial setting, while Embodiment A is substantially unsuitable for any practical use in a commercial setting.
> Is the junior party entitled to a patent notwithstanding the disposition of the issue of its separate patentability in an inter partes proceeding? If indeed, the junior party would be entitled to such a patent, must a second interference now be declared with the senior party to again litigate the issue of priority? Had the junior party failed to have made the motion to substitute counts in view of his utter lack of supporting evidence of separate patentability, would the estoppel under 37 CFR 1.658(c) have applied? Finally, would the ends of justice be better served by a standard for count formation which could be finally determined contemporaneously with the filing of the preliminary motions themselves? All of these questions suggest that the utilization of a fluid concept such as non-obviousness as the basis for count formation will give unintended and unsupportable results in situations where the lack of separate patentability is prematurely assumed.

Example E: In the scenario of Example D, the non-entitlement to contest Embodiment B as a separate count was premised on a failure to demonstrate that Embodiment B was non-obvious over Embodiment A considered as prior art. However, an award of priority to the senior party based on the disclosure of Embodiment A in a foreign priority application does not render Embodiment A as available prior art (35 USC 102(g)/103) inasmuch as Embodiment A would not have been a prior invention of another made in the United States which had not been abandoned, suppressed or concealed. The junior party's entitlement to a patent on Embodiment B should depend, therefore, solely on his entitlement to priority with respect to Embodiment B. Priority is a necessary condition for entitlement to a patent since both parties disclose the embodiment and a sufficient condition since regardless of the party entitled to priority on Embodiment A, it should not become obviousness-generating prior art. Therefore, any standard or count formation which fails to reach the result of the junior party is entitled to contest priority and a patent on Embodiment B is contrary to current statutory requirements for entitlement to a patent.

The proposed rules attempt to rationally define counts in an interference so that the judgment in the interference settles all questions of entitlement to a patent. This not only cannot be done prospectively, but should not be done at all. Judgment should be made on claims, not counts and unpatentability determinations made against a party subject to the normal ex parte standard that additional evidence of non-obviousness, or other evidence of patentability wholly independent of priority itself, could compel a reconsideration of the judgment of unpatentability.

With respect to paragraph (1) of the comment, the standard of patentability will not be applied "on a mutual basis." Thus, if a species is patentable over a genus, the species is a "separate patentable invention" from the genus. Compare In re Taub, 348 F.2d 556, 146 USPQ 384 (CCPA 1965)(fluorine species might be patentable over genus of Markush group of hydrogen and halogen). A first count to a genus and a second count to a species which is patentable over the genus may properly appear in an interference. See e.g., Example 4. The comment suggests that if "such mutuality is not applied . . . then a number of irreconcilable anomalies . . . will be manifest." The urged "irreconcilable anomalies" are not readily apparent to the PTO.

The PTO disagrees with the concept expressed in paragraph (2) of the comment that there should be "post-interference reconsideration of separate patentability." One of the principal objects of Public Law 98-622 and these new rules is to encourage complete determination of all rights between parties in an interference and to avoid post-interference reconsideration in an ex parte environment of issues which were or could have been raised inter partes in an interference.

The commentator remarks in paragraph (3) of the comment that "[a] party entitled to priority for a count under the benefit of 35 USC 119 creates no 'prior art' under 35 USC 102(g)/103 against his opponent." In re McKellin, 529 F.2d 1324, 188 USPQ 428 (CCPA 1976), arguable provides support for the commentator's remark. It should be noted, however, that in defining "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention" in §1.601(n), the PTO is not establishing a new definition of "prior art." Rather, the PTO is providing definitions which will determine—both initially and ultimately in an interference—how claims in an application or patent will be designated to correspond to counts. See §§1.603 and 1.606. Examples 1-19 illustrate how the PTO proposes to initially designate claims to correspond to counts. The designation of claims to correspond (or not correspond) to a count is significant because, as noted by the plurality opinion in McKellin, 529 F.2d at 1327, 188 USPQ at 432: "[a] n applicant [or patentee] who has lost an interference is not entitled to claims which correspond to the subject matter of the counts of the interference." Section 1.658(c) estops a party from obtaining a claim which could have been added and which would have been designated to correspond to the lost count. The definitions of "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention" in §1.601(n), the availability of motions to designate or not designate claims as corresponding to a count under §1.633(c), and the estoppel provisions of §1.658(c) provide the basis for accomplishing the PTO's objective of resolving inter partes in a single proceeding all issues which are or could have been raised between parties in an interference.

Examples illustrate how §§1.601(n), 1.633(c) and 1.658(c) accomplish the PTO's objective.

Example 32: Application AV discloses engines in general and in particular a 6-cylinder engine. Application AV contains only claim 1 (engine). Application AW discloses engines in general, but does not specifically disclose a 6-cylinder engine. Application AW contains only a single claim 3 (engine). The U. S. "filing date" (§1.601(h)) of the AV application is prior to the U. S. filing date of the AW application, but the AW application claims a foreign priority date under 35 U.S.C. 119 based on an application filed in a foreign country prior to the filing date of the AV application. An interference is declared. The sole count of the interference is to "an engine." Claim 1 of the AV application and claim 3 of the AW application are designated to correspond to the count. During the interference, applicant AV does not move under §1.633(c)(2) to add a claim to a 6-cylinder engine and to designate the claim to correspond to the count. Applicant AW is awarded a judgment in the interference based on the earlier filing date of the foreign patent application. After the interference, applicant AV adds claim 2 (6-cylinder engine) to the AV application. Whether AV would be entitled to a patent containing a claim to a 6-cylinder engine will depend solely on whether a 6-cylinder engine is a "separate patentable invention" from "engine"—the subject matter of the count. If a 6-cylinder engine is a "separate patentable invention" within the meaning of §1.601(n), applicant AV could not have successfully moved under §1.633(c)(2) to add claim 2 and to designate it to correspond to the count. Therefore applicant AV could obtain a patent containing claim 2. If, on the other hand, a 6-cylinder engine is not a "separate patentable invention," claim 2 of the AV application would be rejected on the basis of interference estoppel because claim 2 could have been added by a motion under §1.633(c)(2). See §1.658(c). See also Example 37.

Example 33: This example is basically the same as Example 32, except that application AV initially contains claim 1 (engine) and claim 2 (6-cylinder engine). When the interference is declared, both claims 1 and 2 of application AV are designated to correspond to the count. During the interference, applicant AV does not move under §1.633(c)(4) to designate claim 2 as not corresponding to the count. A judgment in the interference is entered for applicant AW based on the earlier filing date of the foreign patent application. After the interference, applicant AV would not be able to obtain a patent containing claim 2, because that claim was designated to correspond to a count and entry of the judgment constitutes a final decision by the PTO refusing to grant applicant AV a patent containing claim 2.

In the written comment, Examples A through E were set out to illustrate what the commentator believed were "perceived difficulties." These examples are set out above and are analyzed below.

Analysis of Commentator's Example A

Example A does not describe any practice under these rules, because "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention" under §1.601(n) are not intended to be "applied in a mutuality sense." Where a first count is to a genus and a second count is to a species within the scope of the genus, there may be two counts if the species is separately patentable from the genus. The species is "invention A" referred to in §1.601(n); the genus is "invention B" referred to in §1.601(n).

Analysis of Commentator's Example B

Commentator's Example B suggests—incorrectly—that if an interference is declared with a count to a species that no motion under §1.633(c)(1) to add a count to a genus can ever be granted. If the species ("invention A" referred to in §1.601(n)) is not anticipated by or obvious in view of the genus ("invention B" referred to in §1.601(n)), a motion to add a separate count to the genus may be proper. The commentator uses the language "selection inventions" in both Examples A and B. Insofar as the PTO is aware, the language is not a term of art in the patent law. The PTO has not ascribed any particular meaning to the language in analyzing Examples A or B.

Analysis of Commentator's Example C

The result suggested in commentator's Example C can come to pass only if the moving party accepts as final the denial of the motion to substitute two "sub-generic counts" for the "broad generic count." Unlike practice under the rules which have been in effect, under these new rules a decision denying a motion to substitute a count is reviewable by the Board (see §1.640(c) and §1.655(a), second sentence). Additionally, the party could seek judicial review (35 U.S.C. §§141, 146) of any final decision by the Board. However, if the party accepts as final the PTO's determination that inventions A and B are the "same patentable invention," the party would be precluded from obtaining a patent to invention B. After the interference is terminated, the only conceivable way that the moving party could seek to obtain a patent containing claims to invention B would be to first successfully move to reopen the interference for the purpose of presenting additional evidence. If the motion to reopen is granted (and it would be expected that such a motion will rarely be granted), the moving party would then have to successfully establish that invention A and invention B are not the same patentable invention. The PTO will continue to follow the general guidelines of 4 Rivise & Caesar, Interference Law and Practice, §821 et seq. (Michie Co. 1948), in determining motions to reopen an interference after entry of judgment. It should be additionally noted that interferences in which a judgment has been entered by a district court in an action brought under 35 U.S.C. §146 or a mandate has been entered by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (35 U.S.C. §141 or 28 U.S.C. §1295(a)(4)(C)) will not be reopened until the district court vacates its judgment and/or the Federal Circuit withdraws its mandate.

Analysis of Commentator's Example D

Several questions asked in the commentator's Example D can be answered as follows:

Question: Is the junior party entitled to a patent notwithstanding the disposition of the issue of its separate patentability in an inter partes proceeding? Answer: No. The junior party should have presented the "evidence that Embodiment B is unexpectedly more useful than anticipated in a commercial setting" during the interference. The PTO expects to resolve issues inter partes in the interference. If the PTO was to permit the evidence to be presented after the interference is terminated and after ex parte prosecution resumes, a principal purpose of the overall change to interference practice would be defeated. It may be unfortunate that the evidence was not known to the junior party. However, it may also be true that the winning party—had the evidence been presented in the interference—could have produced probative counter-evidence. Why should the winning party be put to the expense of a second interference?

Question: If indeed, the junior party would be entitled to such a patent, must a second interference now be declared with the senior party to again litigate the issue of priority? Answer: The premise in the question is not correct. The junior party is not entitled to a patent to Embodiment B and therefore there will not be a second interference.

Question: Had the junior party failed to have made the motion to substitute counts in view of his utter lack of supporting evidence of separate patentability, would the estoppel under 37 CFR 1.658(c) have applied? Answer: Yes, unless the junior party can successfully move to reopen the interference.

Question: Would the ends of justice be better served by a standard for count formation which could be finally determined contemporaneously with the filing of the preliminary motions themselves? Answer: While the question is not fully understood, it should be recognized that counts will initially be formed when an interference is declared and are subject to being changed by a motion (§1.633(c)) or by the Board (§1.640(c) and §1.655, second sentence). The correctness of the PTO's ultimate decision on what counts should be is subject to judicial review (35 U.S.C. §§141, 146).

Analysis of Commentator's Example E

The PTO, without agreeing or disagreeing with all of the commentator's statements in Example E, disagrees with any ultimate conclusion that the junior party is entitled to a patent on Embodiment B and that such a result "is contrary to current statutory requirements for entitlement to a patent." Interference estoppel precludes granting a patent claiming Embodiment B to the junior party even if Embodiment A is not prior art with respect to Embodiment B.

One comment asked whether "invention A" and "invention B" mentioned in §1.601(n) "refer to the entire scope of subject matter recited in a claim or to the disclosed embodiment(s) supporting the claim (a la In re Vogel,[422 F.2d 438,] 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970))?" The question is somewhat difficult, if not impossible, to answer in the abstract. Whether "invention A" refers to the entire scope or to the embodiments which support a claim is not controlling under these new rules. One fundamental change being made under the new rules is that judgments will be in the form of whether an applicant or patentee is or is not entitled to a claim. In the past, the Board of Patent Interferences has entered an "award of priority." The use of an "award of priority" does not always accurately express the "judgment" entered in many interferences. See e.g., Applegate v. Scherer, 332 F.2d 571, 573 n. 1, 141 USPQ 796, 798 n. 1 (CCPA 1964). Whether an applicant or patentee is or is not entitled to a particular claim in any given interference will depend on many factors, some of which include the scope of the claim, the scope of the opponent's claim, and the prior art. An example illustrates the point.

Example 34: Applicant AX discloses an apparatus having fastening means. The specific means disclosed are rivets. Applicant AY discloses a similar apparatus having fastening means. The specific means disclosed are a nut and bolt. The prior art reveals that items have been fastened with numerous fastening means including both rivets and nuts and bolts. In determining whether AX's apparatus with rivet fastening means is the "same patentable invention" as AY's apparatus with nut and bolt fastening means, it would be proper to consider the specific apparatus disclosed by AX, the specific apparatus disclosed by AY, the fact that both AX and AY disclose the use of "fastening means" broadly, and the prior art which shows rivets and nuts and bolts to be known fastening means.

One comment suggested that the last sentence of §1.604(b) and the last sentence of §1.607(c) be deleted in view of a proposed rule (§10.23(c)(7); 49 F.R. 10028; 49 F.R. 33809) which defines "misconduct" as including "[k] nowingly withholding from the Office information identifying a patent or application of another from which one or more claims have been copied." The proposed rule is still being considered. In any event, the last sentences of §§1.604(b) and 1.607(c) are instructions to examiners whereas proposed 37 CFR §10.23(c)(7) defines misconduct for those registered to practice before the PTO. Another comment suggested deletion of §1.604(b) because "existing rules [37 CFR §1.56] already provide a duty of disclosure of subject matter material to examination." There is no inconsistency between the rule relating to the duty of disclosure and §1.604. The comment also suggested that by identifying another application, an applicant "might be construed as having admitted that the claims" of the other application are directed to the same patentable invention as the claims in the applicant's application. The filing of such a paper is a statement by the applicant that the claims presented are "known to the applicant to define the same patentable invention" (emphasis added). If an applicant wishes to call another application to the attention of an examiner and the applicant believes that the other application does not claim the same patentable invention, but nevertheless may be relevant within the meaning of 37 CFR §1.56, the applicant may identify the other application and at the same time state why the invention claimed in the other application is not the same patentable invention as the invention claimed in the applicant's application. For the reasons given, the suggestions made in the two comments are not being adopted.

Three comments relating to §1.605 were received. One comment suggested that the language "or substantially the same as the suggested claim" be deleted from the third sentence of §1.605. The suggestion is being adopted to the extent that the language "a claim which is the same or substantially the same as" is being deleted. Under §1.605, when the examiner requests an applicant to copy a suggested claim, the applicant will be required to copy verbatim the claim suggested by the examiner. A second comment suggested that the second and third sentences of §1.605 be changed to read as follows:

> The applicant to whom the claim is suggested shall amend the application by presenting the suggested claim, or shall identify in the application one or more pending claims which the applicant regards as being directed to the same or substantially the same invention as the suggested claim, within a time specified by the Examiner, not less than thirty days. Failure or refusal of an applicant to timely present a claim or to timely identify one or more claims which are directed to the same or substantially the same invention as the suggested claim shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the invention defined by the suggested claim.

A third comment suggested that the second and third sentences of §1.605 fail to take into account the case where an applicant is already claiming the invention. The third comment suggested addition of the following at the end of the third sentence of §1.605(a): ", unless the application already contains claims to the same patentable invention." The suggestions made in the second and third comments are not being adopted as such. However, the following sentence is being added as the fourth sentence of §1.605: "At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the suggested claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared." A major deficiency of the suggestions made in the second and third comments was the inability of the PTO to efficiently and effectively handle situations where the applicant (1) presents a claim which is "substantially the same as" the suggested claim or (2) points to a claim already in the application and the examiner is of the opinion that the claim is not to the same patentable invention. Under these circumstances, the examiner could not properly declare an interference. Accordingly, the applicant will be required to present verbatim the suggested claim. The applicant may, however, also present any other claim which the applicant believes is more appropriate. Alternatively, the applicant, in addition to presenting verbatim the suggested claim, may also call the examiner's attention to a claim already in the application which the applicant believes is more appropriate for interference purposes. In either case, the applicant must explain to the examiner why a claim other than the suggested claim is more appropriate for inclusion in the interference. Upon consideration of the suggested claim and the applicant's alternative claims and any explanation, the examiner is in a position to forward the application to the Board for declaration of an interference. If the applicant is dissatisfied with the claims of the application designated to correspond to the count, the applicant may file an appropriate motion under§1.633(c).

Two comments were received which suggested that the last sentence of §1.606 is not entirely clear. One comment suggested that the language in the last sentence which reads: "to define one patentable invention" be changed to read: "not to contain separate patentable invention." This suggestion is being adopted. The use of the language "one patentable invention" was unfortunate and rendered the actual intent of the rule unclear. Under §1.606, at the time an interference is declared a rebuttable presumption will exist that any patent claim designated to correspond to a count does not embrace separate patentable inventions. Moreover, at the time the interference is declared, no count will be narrower in scope than the broadest patent claim designated to correspond to that count. The presumption is rebuttable and may be challenged and overcome by a motion under §1.633(c). Examples 17 and 18 illustrate practice under §1.606.

Two comments were received discussing §1.607. A first comment suggested that the word "must" in the first sentence of §1.607(c) be changed to "shall. The suggestion is being adopted. Use of "shall" makes §1.607(c) consistent with §1.604(b). A second comment asked the following question:

> "If the examiner determines that the applicant's claim is patentable but that there is no interfering subject matter, and the examiner accordingly allows the claim but refuses to declare an interference, is that determination appealable [to the Board of Appeals and Interferences under 35 U.S.C. §1.134]?"

The commentator suggests that "such a determination" is appealable and rationale in support of the commentator's position appears in Gholz, Board of Appeals Jurisdiction Over Appeals from Decisions by Primary Examiners Refusing to Institute Interferences on Modified or Phantom Counts, 64 J. Pat. Off. Soc'y 651 (1982). At the hearing, the commentator orally urged that the rules be amended to permit an appeal to the Board when an examiner allows a claim, but refuses to declare an interference involving the allowed claim. The suggestion is not being adopted. A decision by an examiner to allow a claim, but not to declare an interference involving the allowed claim, is petitionable and not appealable. See Gholz, supra, at 652 n. 13. The rule being suggested would enlarge the jurisdiction of the Board. Action by Congress would be necessary to accomplish what is embodied in the suggestion.

Several written comments and one oral presentation at the hearing were made concerning §1.608. One comment suggested that §1.608 be expanded to provide for summary judgment in interferences involving applications where the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of one application was three months earlier than the date of the other application. This suggestion is not being adopted. Ordinarily, interferences are not declared between applications having effective dates more than three months apart. Moreover, expanding summary judgment proceedings to application-application interferences would result in delay in resolving interferences. Currently in application-patent summary judgment proceedings under 37 CFR §1.204(c), very few summary judgments are entered against applicants who are junior to a patentee by more than three months. There is no reason to expect that a significant number of summary judgments would be entered in application-application interferences. As noted in the notice of proposed rulemaking, the PTO has already declined to expand summary judgment proceedings to cases where a patentee is junior to an applicant by more than three months. See 49 F.R. 3775 (paragraph bridging columns 1 and 2); 1039 O.G. 34; 1039 TMOG 34; 27 BNA 319.

Two written comments were received which suggested that §1.608(b) should be more specific in indicating the kind of evidence which should be submitted when an applicant attempts to make out a prima facie case based on priority of invention. The suggestions in the comments are being adopted. The following sentence has been added to §1.608(b):

> Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the patent.

Similar language appears in the current rule: 37 CFR §1.204(c). The PTO agrees entirely with the following discussion made by one commentator:

> The material added to Rule 608(b) currently appears in existing 37 CFR 1.204(c). A comparison of the existing language of 37 CFR 1.204(c) with the proposed rule might be construed as suggesting that the allegations which are now expressly required where priority is an issue will be changed, specifically relaxed in some manner. Since under proposed Rule 617 this clearly is not the case, the proposed addition to Rule 608(b) should assist the practitioner in understanding the intent of the PTO.

The commentator has accurately pointed out that the PTO intends tc apply a stricter standard fcr filing additional evidence in summary judgment proceedings after an order to show cause has been issued. See the notice of proposed rulemaking, 49 F.R. 3775 (column 1); 1039 O.G. 34; 1039 TMOG 1039; 27 BNA 319 (column 1).

At the hearing, it was suggested that §1.608 should encourage the use of 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper for affidavits. This suggestion is being adopted and the following sentence has been added to §1.608(b): "To facilitate preparation of a record (§1.653(g) and (h)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 8-1/2 x 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)." The commentator at the hearing suggested that "many people submitting a Rule 608(b) showing are going to want to rely upon that showing under Rule 672(b)" in those cases where an interference is allowed to proceed. Use of 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper will facilitate preparation of the ultimate record.

Two comments were received with respect to §1.609. The first comment suggested that the language "count or counts" in §1.609(b)(1) be changed to "proposed count or counts" and that each occurrence of "the count" in §1.609(b)(2) be changed to "each count". The suggestion is being adopted. These changes are editorial in nature and are designed to enhance the clarity of the rule. A second comment indicated that it was not clear to the commentator why it was necessary under §1.609(b)(3) for the examiner to identify the claims in an application or patent which are deemed to be patentable over any count. The commentator went on to say that the examiner "could probably readily identify claims which would clearly be unpatentable over a count and perhaps this would be all that is needed. If the examiner simply said all claims are considered unpatentable over the count, what recourse does the applicant have if he disagrees?" The purpose of having the examiner identify all claims which are patentable over the count or counts is to place the parties on notice that those claims are allowable notwithstanding any decision in the interference. Thus, in an interference between Jones and Smith if the examiner indicates that claim 8 of Jones is patentable over the proposed count or counts, Smith will know that Jones may receive a patent containing claim 8 even if Smith wins the interference. This will permit Smith to move under §1.633(c) to add claim 8 as corresponding to a count if Smith believes claim 8 defines the same patentable invention as one of the counts. Contrary to the suggestion in the comment, an examiner will not indicate that a claim is unpatentable over a count; rather, the examiner will designate the claim to correspond to a count. Each claim in a patent or application which is directed to the same patentable invention as a count will be designated to correspond to the count. Under the new practice, an examiner will no longer have occasion to indicate that a claim will be rejected over a lost count. To fully answer the commentator's question, if a claim is designated to correspond to a count and the applicant believes the claim does not define the same patentable invention as the count, the applicant may move under §1.633(c) to designate the claim as not corresponding to the count. If the motion is granted, the examiner would be authorized to issue the applicant a patent containing the claim even if the applicant loses the interference.

Several comments were received which discuss §1.611. One comment suggested addition of a paragraph (f) to permit expanded summary judgment proceedings in application-application interferences. Since expanded summary judgment proceedings are not contemplated, the suggestion is not being adopted. See the discussion above under analysis of comments of §1.608(b). Two comments suggested that §1.611(c)(8), which provides that a notice declaring the interference shall specify among other things the "order of the parties," fails to take into account the fact one party may be "senior" as to one count and "junior" as to another count. As explained above in connection the analysis of the comments concerning §1.601(m), the "order of the parties" is a procedural tool. It indicates the "style" of the case—which practitioners are encouraged to use. If there are two counts and one party is "senior" as to one count and "junior" as to another count, the party has the burden of proof as to that count to which the party is "junior." See §1.657. Appropriate testimony periods will be set (§1.651(b)) to accommodate differing burdens of proof in cases where a party is "senior" on one count and "junior" on another count. The suggestions to change the meaning of "order of the parties" are not being adopted. Another comment suggested that §1.611(e) be changed to indicate that notice "shall" (as opposed to "may") be given in the Official Gazette when an interference has been declared involving a patent. No useful purpose would be served by changing "may" to "shall" inasmuch as the rights of parties involved in an interference are not affected by publication or non-publication of the fact that a patent is involved in the interference. By §1.611 the PTO intends to exercise discretion to publish in the Official Gazette an identification of patents which become involved in interferences; however, the PTO does not intend to undertake an absolute obligation to do so. The use of "may" better expresses the PTO's intent behind §1.611(e).

No written comments were received relating to §1.612. However, at the hearing two suggestions were made orally. The first suggestion was that where a "party" has obtained a copy of his "opponent's" affidavit under§1.131 or §1.608(b) (see §1.612(b)), the party should be required to notify the opponent. According to the suggestion, if the opponent then intends to rely on the affidavit (§1.671(e)), the opponent would have to "reserve" the affidavit on the party. This suggestion is not being adopted. When the party gains access to the affidavit under §1.612(b), the party may or may not make an accurate copy. On the other hand, the opponent knows exactly those portions of the affidavit upon which the opponent intends to rely. After careful consideration, the PTO believes on balance that it is better for the opponent to serve a copy of the evidence upon which the opponent intends to rely. Service avoids issues as to whether the party obtained under §1.612(b) a complete and/or accurate copy of the evidence upon which the opponent intends to rely.

The second suggestion concerning §1.612 made orally at the hearing was that a party should have access to an opponent's "predecessor application, even though the application may not be relied upon for 35 USC, Section 120 benefit." According to the suggestion, access to a "predecessor application" may be needed to uncover relevant evidence, including violations of 37 CFR §1.56. Specifically, the commentator called attention to Driscoll v. Cebalo, 731 F.2d 878, 221 USPQ 745 (Fed. Cir. 1984), rehearing denied mem., (Fed. Cir. July 25, 1984). The suggestion is not being adopted. The Patent Statute (35 U.S.C. §122) provides that applications for patent will be preserved in secrecy by the PTO unless special circumstances are shown. Section 1.687(c) provides for "additional discovery" when required in the interest of justice. Additional discovery is believed to provide the necessary procedural vehicle for obtaining access to an opponent's "predecessor application."

One comment was received which suggested that the language "or members of the same firm of attorneys and agents" be added after "agent" in §1.613(b). The suggestion is being adopted, because it is believed to make the rule clearer.

One comment was received which said the following with respect to §1.616: "Sanctions should not be left to the Examiner-in-Chief (EIC) or BAI [Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences] - This Rule is unnecessary and should be deleted. An alternative would be to give sanction power only to the BAI." The suggestion to delete§1.616 is not being adopted. There are cases where sanctions are warranted. See e.g., Woods v. Tsuchiya, 207 USPQ 228 (Comm'r. Pat. 1979) and Tezel v. Bellantoni, 188 USPQ 688 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1975). The PTO continues to believe that imposition of a sanction (except judgment) by a single examiner-in-chief is appropriate. In any event, a party may ask a 3-member panel of the Board to reconsider any sanction which may be imposed by a single examiner-in-chief. See §1.640(c).

Several written and oral comments were received regarding§1.617.

One oral comment made at the hearing suggested that "it should be explicitly stated in Rule 617(a) that the decision of the examiner-in-chief to permit the interference to proceed is without prejudice to the right of any other party to attack the sufficiency of the Rule 608(b) showing when offered as Rule 672 testimony." The suggestion is not being adopted. While no explicit statement to that effect will be placed in §1.617(a), it necessarily follows that any opponent may attack the sufficiency of an applicant's showing under §1.608(b) when that showing is presented as evidence under §1.672. In summary judgment proceedings, all an applicant need do is make out a prima facie case. If the interference is allowed to proceed in the normal manner, the applicant must prove priority by a preponderance of evidence (when the application and the patent are copending) or beyond a reasonable doubt (when the application was filed after the patent issued). Manifestly, the burden in summary judgment proceedings is not as strict as the burden in proceedings following summary judgment. Breuer v. DeMarinis, 558 F.2d 22, 28, 194 USPQ 308, 313 (CCPA 1977) and Schwab v. Pittman, 451 F.2d 637, 640, 172 USPQ 69, 71 (CCPA 1971).

Several comments suggested that an applicant should be permitted as a matter of right to file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent under §1.617(d). The suggestion that a reply be permitted is being adopted. Accordingly, §1.617(e) has been changed to read: "[w]ithin a time authorized by the examiner-in-chief, an applicant may file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent." Some of the comments indicated that the applicant should be able to reply to a statement by a patentee or another opponent. The language "any opponent" in § 1.617(e) is intended to include both the patentee and any other opponent. The change in the last sentence of § 1.617(h) of "patentee" to "any opponent" is intended to make clear that all parties may appear at a hearing if the applicant requests a hearing.

One comment suggested that the patentee (and presumably any other opponent) should be allowed to present "evidence" during summary judgment proceedings. This suggestion is not being adopted. A change in the second sentence of §1.617(d) is intended to make clear that opponents may file statements in response to an applicant's "response," but the statement "shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the examiner-in-chief for issuing the order to show cause." The PTO does not intend to expand summary judgment proceedings into a "mini-interference." An applicant presents evidence under §1.608(b). If the examiner-in-chief finds that evidence insufficient, an order to show cause stating reasons for the insufficiency is issued. An applicant may respond and, if appropriate, file "additional evidence." The PTO intends to be rather strict in permitting the filing of new evidence. After the applicant responds (with or without additional evidence), any opponent may file a statement. In the statement, the opponent should be free to comment on all the evidence (original and additional) which the applicant presents. Compare In re Plockinger, 481 F.2d 1327, 179 USPQ 103 (CCPA 1973). Under §1.617(d) the opponent may not urge a rationale for summary judgment which does not appear in the order to show cause issued by the examiner-in-chief. However, it is not the PTO's intent to interpret§1.617(d) in the narrow manner the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals interpreted 37 CFR §1.204(c) in Kahl v. Scoville, 609 F.2d 991, 995-996, 203 USPQ 652, 656 [headnote 6] (CCPA 1979). An example will illustrate how the PTO intends to interpret §1.617(d).

Example 35: An applicant copies claims from a patent and is required to submit a showing under §1.608(b). Upon review of the showing under §1.608(b), the examiner-in-chief concludes that the showing fails to make out a prima facie case of priority, because applicant has failed to show an actual reduction to practice. Applicant files a response and includes additional evidence which purports to show an actual reduction to practice. The patentee then files a statement in which two arguments are made. First, patentee argues that the additional evidence has not been properly authenticated. Second, patentee argues that even if applicant has shown an actual reduction to practice, summary judgment is nevertheless appropriate because applicant suppressed and concealed after the actual reduction to practice. The first argument is proper, but the second argument is not. A patentee may comment on the sufficiency of the applicant's evidence. Fairness, however, dictates that summary judgment be granted only after fair notice in the order to show cause. Accordingly, summary judgment will not be based on a rationale raised by a patentee in a statement which does not correspond to the rationale used by the examiner-in-chief in the order to show cause.

A change has been made in §1.617(a) and §1.617(g) to make clear that once summary judgment proceedings have concluded, an interference will proceed "in the normal manner." The change is intended to codify the decisions in Walsh v. Sakai, 167 USPQ 465 (Comm'r.Pat. 1967) and Ing v. Chiou, 207 USPQ 321 (Comm'r.Pat. 1979). This change is further discussed in the discussion of the comments received with respect to §1.635.

One comment was received which indicated that §1.618:

> "needs qualification. It may be appropriate to resubmit certain papers (See also 1.644(d) last sentence)."

The precise "qualification" needed was not set forth in the comment. Likewise, no example of "certain papers" was set forth. Under the circumstances, the PTO declines to make any change in §1.618.

Several comments were received which discussed the rules relating to preliminary statements.

Three comments were received which suggested that §1.622(a) be amended to "take into account several court decisions holding that joint inventors need not be joint inventors of [the subject matter of] all claims." Changes have been made in §1.622(a) consistent with the amendment to 35 U.S.C. §116 made by Public Law 98-622.

One comment was critical of §§1.623(c); 1.624(c); and 1.625(c), because §1.628(b) does not cover the possibility that a drawing might not be available, e.g., a drawing destroyed in "a fire." Section 1.628(b) has been amended to permit a party to allege a date when a first drawing or first written description was made in those circumstances where the first drawing or first written description is not available. The party will be required (1) to show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and (2) attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States which is available. The party would also be required to file a motion to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the drawing or written description becomes available. It is the PTO's intent by the amendment to §1.628(b) to overrule the holding of headnote[1] of Reddy v. Davis, 187 USPQ 386, 388 (Comm'r.Pat. 1975)

Another comment was critical of the language "conceived" in §1.623(a)(4). The current rules do not require a party to allege a conception; rather, they require one to allege the date of the certain acts which, if proved, would establish conception. See 37 CFR §1.216(a)(4). According to the commentator, an allegation of conception is "unprovable and meaningless." The use of "conception" in §1.623(a)(4) is intentional and is designed to permit a party to "plead" the earliest date on which it believes conception occurred. Contrary to the suggestion in the comment, "conception" is not meaningless and may be proved during the the testimony period. See Gould v. Schawlow, 363 F.2d 908, 150 USPQ 634 (CCPA 1966); Meitzner v. Corte, 410 F.2d 433, 161 USPQ 599 (CCPA 1969); and Mergenthaler v. Scudder, 11 App.D.C. 264, 1897 C.D. 724 (D.C.Cir. 1897). There is no need to prove "conception" in the preliminary statement.

A preliminary statement serves several useful purposes in an interference: (1) it serves to limit a party's proofs as to time, (2) it serves as a vehicle for permitting the examiner-in-chief or the Board to issue orders to show cause in those cases where it would be futile to take testimony, and (3) it serves as notice to an opponent of the case which is alleged by a party. Under the rules being announced herein, the issues which will be raised and decided by the Board at final hearing are made known during the interlocutory stage through (a) the preliminary statement, (b) motions under §1.633 and decisions thereon, and (c) notices under §1.632 of a party's intent to argue abandonment, suppression, or concealment. Section 1.632(a)(4) requires a party to allege a date of conception—it does not require proof of conception. The allegation puts the opponent on notice that the party intends to prove conception as of a date no earlier than the date alleged in the preliminary statement.

One comment suggested that the rules relating to preliminary statements are deficient because they do not permit one to allege allegations concerning tapes. Specifically, the commentator said: "What about a taped transcript of an invention, a practice being followed in a number of research departments of corporations?" If making a tape is the last act of conception, a party may allege the date the tape was made as the conception date under §1.623(a)(4).

Several comments were received which suggested that a party should not have to allege derivation in a preliminary statement because the party may not know derivation occurred until the testimony period. Section 1.625 requires a party to file a preliminary statement when derivation is an issue. If derivation is not known or discovered prior to the date the preliminary statement is due, a party may move to amend the preliminary statement and allege derivation promptly after existence of derivation is discovered.

Several comments discussing §1.624 were received. One comment suggested that §1.624(a)(5) should require a party to state, where appropriate, that no actual reduction to practice of an invention made in a foreign country was introduced into the United States. This suggestion is being adopted and a second sentence has been added to §1.624(a)(5) which provides: "If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, the preliminary statement shall so state." This sentence conforms §1.624(a)(5) to the allegation required in the second sentence of §1.623(a)(5). Another comment suggested that the language "in the United States" be inserted after "reasonable diligence" in §1.624(a)(6) and that all occurrences of the language "was made" in §1.624(c) be changed to "was introduced into the United States". This suggestion is being adopted. As noted in the comment, "[i] he changes . . . are necessary to clarify that for an invention made abroad the only relevant activities are those which occur in the United States." See 35 U.S.C. §104.

One comment asked "how does one introduce 'an actual reduction to practice of the invention' in the United States?" Breuer v. DeMarinis, 558 F.2d 22, 194 USPQ 308 (CCPA 1971), illustrates a case where an actual reduction to practice abroad was introduced into the United States.

One comment suggested that §1.627(a) be changed to require preliminary statements "be enclosed in an outer envelope addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks and be additionally marked Box Interference—Preliminary Statement." According to the comment, the confidentiality of preliminary statements "envisioned under the proposed rules would be further enhanced . . . ." The suggestion is not being adopted. The PTO believes it is sufficient if preliminary statements are enclosed in a sealed envelope as specified in §1.627(a). The Board will not permit access to preliminary statements which have not been ordered opened by an examiner-in-chief.

Several comments discussing §1.629 were received. One comment suggested that the first sentence ("A preliminary statement should be carefully prepared.") should not appear in §1.629(a). This suggestion is being adopted. The PTO agrees with the commentator that the sentence:

> "no longer appears necessary or appropriate in the context of rulemaking. The remainder of the paragraph makes the admonition redundant at best."

Two comments were received which suggested that the word "normally" be deleted from the last sentence of §1.629(d). The suggestions are not being adopted. A preliminary statement is a pleading. The Board does not evaluate or consider the content of a drawing or written description prior to final hearing. At final hearing, in fact, the Board will only consider the drawing or written description if a party places the drawing or written description in evidence. The word "normally" first appeared in 37 CFR §1.223(c), last sentence, in 1978 (see e.g., 973 TMOG 19 (Aug. 1, 1978)). The last sentence of 37 CFR §1.223(c) was intended to codify headnote [2] of Reddy v. Davis, 187 USPQ 386 (Comm'r.Pat. 1975).

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

The word "normally" appears in the rule to permit the Board to exercise discretion to evaluate or consider the content of a drawing or written description in some unusual and presently unforeseen circumstance.

One comment suggested that "no earlier than" in §1.629(b) be changed to "as early as". The suggestion is being adopted inasmuch as it is believed to more clearly state the intent of the rule.

One comment suggested that §1.629(d) "is improper because it fails to take into account testimony which can show that a drawing and/or written description were actually made even though the drawing and/or written description are not now available." A change to §1.628(d) and addition of "unless the party complies with §1.628(b)" to the first sentence of §1.629(d) eliminates the problem raised by the commentator.

One comment discussing §1.631(a) was received which expressed the view that a junior party should be required to send a copy of its preliminary statement to the senior party even if the senior party does not file a preliminary statement. According to the commentator, the senior party is prima facie the first inventor and at some time it will have to know the earliest dates alleged by the junior party. The rules require all parties to file a preliminary statement. If a junior party does not file a preliminary statement, it will be denied access to any other preliminary statement which is filed. A senior party, however, is always entitled to access to any preliminary statement filed by a junior party. See e.g., §1.631(b). However, a junior party will only be required to serve a senior party who files a statement.

Numerous comments were received discussing §1.633.

One commentator asked: "What sort of a judgment is in order if a count is not patentable over the prior art to an opponent?" Section 1.633(a) authorizes a party to bring a motion for judgment on the ground that the opponent's claim corresponding to a count is not patentable. It is important to note that the motion raises the patentability of the opponent's claim not the count. Accordingly, by a motion under §1.633(a), a party seeks entry of a judgment that the opponent is not entitled to a patent containing a claim corresponding to a count.

Two comments questioned the nature of the judgment when a motion under §1.633(b) is granted. Section 1.633(b) authorizes the filing of a motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact. If a motion under §1.633(b) is granted, the judgment would provide that each party is entitled to a patent containing that party's claims corresponding to the count. Judgments in interferences under these rules will determine a party's entitlement or lack of entitlement to claims corresponding to a count.

One comment expressed the hope that "third party inventorship" would not be made an issue in interferences. Contrary to the hope expressed by the commentator, "third party inventorship" can be made the subject of a motion under §1.633(a). Any ground of unpatentability may be made the subject of a motion under §1.633(a) except (1) priority of invention of the subject matter of a count by the moving party as against any opponent or (2) derivation of the subject matter of a count by an opponent from the moving party. It should be noted that under past practice, third party inventorship has not been considered "ancillary" to priority. Sheffner v. Gallo, 515 F.2d 1169, 185 USPQ 726 (CCPA 1975). However, under these rules, the question of whether an issue is "ancillary" no longer arises. See 130 Cong. Rec. H10528 (daily ed. Oct. 1, 1984)(statement by Rep. Kastenmeier). Public Law 98-622 gives the Board authority to consider priority and patentability. Third party inventorship involves a question of patentability. 35 U.S.C. §102(f). One comment pointed out that §1.633(e) adopts the estoppel rule approved by the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals in Avery v. Chase, 101 F.2d 205, 40 USPQ 343 (CCPA 1939), cert. denied, 307 U.S. 638 (1939), while rejecting the rule announced by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in International Cellucotton Products Co. v. Coe, 35 F.2d 869, 30 USPQ 366 (D.C. Cir. 1936). See also American Cyanamid Co. v. Coe, 106 F.2d 851, 42 USPQ 302 (D.C. Cir. 1939). The commentator is correct in noting that the rules adopt the estoppel rule approved in Avery v. Chase. The following comment by the CCPA in its opinion in In re Shimer, 69 F.2d 556, 558, 21 USPQ 161, 163 (CCPA 1934), accurately expresses the intent of the PTO in promulgating §§1.633(e) and 1.658(c):

> It may be stated that this rule works no hardship to him who is diligent in pursuit of his rights. When an interference is declared, the files of his contestants are open to him. He has full cognizance of their disclosures and claims. So advised, it becomes his duty to put forward every claim he has. [Rule 1.633(e)] . . . affords him this opportunity. If the rule be not enforced or enforceable, then delays and litigation are greatly increased. It is quite obvious that the doctrine of estoppel, as applied in these cases, results in the better conduct of the business of the Patent[and Trademark] Office and in the public good.

One comment suggested that the following be added to the end of §1.633(c):

> A motion to add or substitute a count shall be construed as an automatic request for the benefit of any earlier application [filing] dates accorded the existing count, and also as encompassed by a contemporaneous motion under §1.633(f) or (g), unless indicated otherwise. Any opposition thereto must be raised in a motion opposition pursuant to §1.638.

The suggestion is not being adopted. A specific reference to §1.637(c) appears in §1.633(c). The provisions of §1.637(c) spell out in detail the steps which a moving party must take in filing a motion under §1.633(c). One of those steps requires the moving party to request benefit of any earlier application. The mere fact that benefit has been accorded for a "first" count does not establish that benefit should be accorded for a "second" count. The PTO believes the burden should be on the moving party to point out where an earlier application supports a count rather than placing the burden on an opponent in the first instance to point out where an earlier application fails to support particular subject matter. There is no compelling reason to force the opponent "to prove a negative." It should be noted that the language "Where appropriate," has been deleted in every instance from §1.637 to make clear that the burden lies on the moving party to request benefit when that party files a motion under §1.633.

At the hearing, one individual commented that §1.633(a) is not clear as to whether a motion for judgment based on "fraudulent appropriation of the moving party's invention by his opponent" excluded. The "fraudulent appropriation of the moving party's invention by his opponent" is derivation. Section 1.633(a)(2) excludes both "innocent" derivation (e.g., through a third party and unknown to either party in an interference) or "fraudulent" derivation (e.g., where one party knowingly takes the invention from an opponent). In either event if derivation by an opponent of a party's invention is proved, the party will be awarded judgment.

One comment made the following statement:

> An opponent faced with a motion for judgment on the ground that a count is unpatentable may not be able to prove patentability in the short time periods. Provision should be made for extensions of time in such cases.

Provisions for extensions of time are made in §1.645.

One comment addressed Example 23 which appeared in the notice of proposed rulemaking. Example 23 also appears in a slightly modified form herein and, as modified, takes into account discussion in the comment. The commentator believed that the motion mentioned in Example 23 should be denied and that a testimony period should be set. Accordingly to the commentator, the granting of the motion would shift the burden to the opponent of the motion. The commentator's point is well taken. Actually, the motion should be deferred to final hearing and a testimony period would be set. In ruling on motions under §1.633, it will not always be possible for the examiner-in-chief to grant or deny outright a motion. When testimony is needed to rule on a motion, the proper course of action is to defer a decision on the motion to final hearing and permit testimony. See §1.639(c). The moving party retains the burden. If testimony is taken on patentability, the parties would also have to take testimony on priority. With all testimony at its disposal, the Board would then be in a position to rule on all issues and award a judgment.

One comment asked how the claims of the parties would be designated to correspond to the counts if in Example 18 a motion to substitute Count 2 (benzene) and add Count 3 (chloroform) was granted. The following Example 36 answers the commentator's question.

Example 36: The facts in this example are the same as Example 18. Assume that applicant AB believes that benzene and chloroform define separate patentable inventions. Applicant AB would file a motion under §1.633(c)(1) to substitute Count 2 (benzene) for Count 1 (Markuah group of benzene or chloroform) and add Count 3 (chloroform). If the examiner-in-chief grants the motion, the interference would be redeclared by deleting Count 1 and substituting in its place Counts 2 and 3. Claims 1 and 2 of the patent H and claims 11 and 12 of application AB would be designated to correspond to Count 2. Claims 1 and 3 of patent H and claims 11 and 13 of application AB would be designated to correspond to Count 3. If one party proves priority with respect to both benzene and chloroform, that party would be entitled to all claims in its application or patent corresponding to Counts 2 and 3. The other party would not be entitled to a patent containing any claim corresponding to Counts 2 and 3. If patentee H proves priority with respect to benzene and applicant AB proves priority with respect to chloroform (assuming there was no issue raised at final hearing with respect to the patentable distinctness of benzene and chloroform), the judgment would provide that patentee H is not entitled to a patent with claims 1 and 3, but is entitled to a patent with claim 2 and that applicant AB is not entitled to a patent with claims 11 and 12, but is entitled to a patent with claim 13. If an issue is properly raised at final hearing as to whether benzene and chloroform are the same patentable invention and the Board holds that they are the same patentable invention, the party proving the earliest priority as to either benzene or chloroform would prevail as to all claims. Thus, if patentee H invented benzene before applicant AB invented benzene or chloroform, patentee H would be entitled to a patent containing claims 1 through 3 even if applicant AB invented chloroform before patentee H invented chloroform. Applicant AB would not be entitled to a patent with claims 11 through 13.

An oral comment was received by telephone which raised the question of whether a party is, or could be, required to present in the party's application every claim which the party may ever seek to obtain in a patent based on the party's application. According to the commentator, such a requirement would prevent the party from proceeding ex parte after the interference on any claim on which a favorable judgment was not entered. It is not the PTO's intent to require a party who is an applicant to present at the outset all claims which the party may ever seek to obtain in a patent based on his application. Parties in interference cases should recognize, however, that the interference estoppel provisions of §1.658(c) have been expanded with the view to eliminating much of the ex parte maneuvering which has taken place in the past after an interference is terminated. Accordingly, a party who fails to move to place a matter in issue runs a considerable risk that the party will not be able to raise the issue ex parte after an interference is terminated. Nevertheless, the PTO has determined that it will not, at this time, adopt the requirement suggested by the commentator. The commentator also suggested, contingent on his earlier suggestion being rejected, that the rules provide that a party be authorized to file a motion to require an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim to the opponent's application and to designate the claim as corresponding to a count. This suggestion is being adopted by addition of §1.633(c)(5). Paragraph (c)(5) authorizes the filing of a motion to redefine the interfering subject matter by requiring an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. A companion addition of paragraph (c)(5) to §1.637 sets out the requirements of a motion under §1.633(c)(5). Those requirements are: the moving party must (1) propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application, (2) show the patentability of the claim to the opponent and apply the terms of the claim to the disclosure of the opponent's application, (3) identify the count to which the proposed claim shall be designated to correspond, and (4) show that the proposed claim defines the same patentable invention as the count to which it will be designated to correspond. The following example illustrates how practice under §§1.633(c)(5) and 1.637(c)(5) is expected to occur.

Example 37: In this example, some of the facts set out in Example 32 will be used. Application AV discloses engines and in particular a 6-cylinder engine. Application AV contains only claim 1 (engine). Application AW discloses engines in general, but does not specifically disclose a 6-cylinder engine. Application AW contains only a single claim 3 (engine). Seeing that application AV specifically discloses a 6-cylinder engine and believing that a 6-cylinder engine is the same patentable invention as "engine," AW could move under §1.633(c)(5) to require applicant AV to add a claim (6-cylinder engine) and to have the claim designated to correspond to the count (engine). Applicant AV could oppose on the ground that a 6-cylinder engine is not the "same patentable invention" as "engine." If the motion is granted, applicant AV would be required to add a claim to 6-cylinder engine and the claim would be designated to correspond to the count. If applicant AV loses the interference, the judgment would preclude applicant AV from obtaining a patent with claims to "engine" or "6-cylinder engine." If the motion is denied on the basis that a 6-cylinder engine is not the same patentable invention, applicant AV would not be required to present a claim to 6-cylinder engine and would be able to pursue such a claim ex parte even if applicant AV loses the interference.

If an applicant is ordered by an examiner-in-chief to file an amendment to present a claim and the applicant fails or refuses to timely present the amendment, the failure or refusal will be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the subject matter of the claim. See the second sentence of §1.640(b)(1).

At the hearing, one commentator indicated that it is not clear whether §1.635 "would permit a motion for judgment in a situation where a junior party's case-in-chief fails as a matter of law to overcome a senior party's effective filing date." Under the rules, it is not the intent of the PTO to allow a senior party to test the sufficiency of the case-in-chief of a junior party prior to final hearing. Thus, a "motion for a directed verdict" (see Rule 50(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) at the conclusion of the junior party's case-in-chief and prior to a senior party's case-in-chief is not authorized under the rules. If a senior party believes the case-in-chief of the junior party is insufficient as a matter of law, the senior party may elect to proceed immediately to final hearing. If the senior party is incorrect, however, the senior party will have waived any right to present any case-in-chief or rebuttal. See e.g., Comstock v. Kroekel, 200 USPQ 548, 550 n. 4 (Comm'r.Pat. 1978); Lorenian v. Winstead, 127 USPQ 501, 508 (Bd.Pat.Int. 1959); and, more recently, Burson v. Carmichael, 731 F.2d 849, 221 USPQ 664 (Fed. Cir. 1984) ("There is no support in law for repeated bites at the apple"). This would be true even if the only evidence relied upon by the junior party is a showing under 1.608(b). In this respect, the rules codify the decision in Walsh v. Sakai, 167 USPQ 465 (Comm'r.Pat. 1970).

Two comments were received which suggested that the twenty-day period in §1.636(b) is too short. It was suggested that a longer time period be set and one comment suggested thirty (30) days. The suggestions are not being adopted. The time period set for filing oppositions will normally be set during a telephone conference call between the examiner-in-chief and the attorneys for the parties. The twenty-day period appears in the rule in the event a specific time for filing oppositions is not set by an examiner-in-chief. The twenty-day period is deemed to be sufficient in most cases. Twenty days are currently allowed to respond to a motion. See 37 CFR §1.231(b). It should be noted that the twenty-day period is longer than the minimum period allowed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for responding to motions. See Rule 6(d) and (e).

Two comments were received which discussed §1.637. Both comments suggested that a sentence be added to §1.637(f)(2) to require a translation to be filed when a party moves for benefit of an earlier foreign application which is not in English. The suggestions are being adopted and the following has been added as the last sentence of §1.637(f)(2): "If the earlier application filed abroad is not in English, the requirements of §1.647 must also be met." Section 1.647 requires a translation whenever a party relies on a document in a language other than English. One comment suggested that the language of §1.637(f)(3) ("Show that the earlier application discloses an embodiment within the scope of the each count.") may be "contrary to past decisions of the CCPA which have held a disclosure can be good without a specific embodiment." The critical issue in each benefit situation is whether the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of the invention defined by the count. The issue is necessarily resolved on a case-by-case basis and the presence or absence of an embodiment is only one factor to be considered. Accordingly, the language of §1.647(f)(2) has been changed to read: "Show that the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of each count." The comment also criticized the use of the word "each" in §1.647(f)(2). The term "each" is used to make clear that when there are two or more counts, the moving party must show that the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice for each count. There are cases where a disclosure in an earlier application would constitute a constructive reduction to practice for one count but not for another count.

Several changes have been made to §1.637 which were not made as a result of a comment submitted from the public. Each occurrence of the language "Where appropriate," in §1.637 has been deleted as being unnecessary and possibly confusing. Whenever a party wants or believes that it is entitled to benefit of an earlier application, the party must file a motion under §1.633(f) for benefit. The language "Where appropriate" may have given parties the mistaken impression that a motion was not necessary where benefit of the earlier application had been accorded in the papers declaring the interference. See the discussion above of the suggested change to §1.633(c) which was rejected.

The language "or adding a claim to be designated to correspond to a count" has been added to §1.637(c)(2). The change supplements a change made in §1.633(c)(2). Section 1.637(c)(2) sets out the requirements for a preliminary motion to redefine the interfering subject matter by adding a claim in the moving party's application and to designate the claim to correspond to a count.

In §1.637(c)(2)(ii), the language "Apply the terms of each proposed claim to the disclosure of the application" has been changed to "Show that the proposed or added claim defines the same patentable invention as the count". This change was made to add the requirement of showing that the new claim defines the same patentable invention as the count and to eliminate a requirement already contained in §1.637(c)(2)(iii).

Section 1.637(c)(2)(iii) was changed to refer to an "amended or added claim" and thereby conform the language of the section to the language of §1.633(c)(2).

Paragraph (c)(5) was added to set out the requirements of a motion under §1.633(c)(5) which permits a party to move to require an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim to the application and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. See Example 37.

Two comments were made concerning §1.638. One comment suggested that the twenty-day periods of paragraphs (a) and (b) were too short. The PTO has evaluated the time periods of paragraphs (a) and (b) and has decided that no change will be made to those periods. Attention is directed to the discussion above of the comments concerning §1.636(b) which also contains a twenty-day period.

Another comment made at the hearing suggested that a reply to an opposition to a motion should be permitted as a matter of course. Upon consideration of the comment, it has been decided to authorize the filing of replies to opposition to all motions. Presently, replies are permitting as a matter of course only for oppositions to motions under 37 CFR §1.231. Section 1.638(b), as changed, would permit the reply in every instance. The PTO over the years has received complaints concerning the inability of a party to file replies. The change being made in §1.638(b) will be reviewed sometime in the future to determine whether authorizing replies is helpful to the Board and/or whether undue delay in resolving interference occurs because replies are filed. Moreover, the PTO will make a judgment on whether "new issues" are being raised as a matter of course in replies. It can thus be seen that the change in authorizing replies may be considered experimental and could be changed in the future if found to be counter-productive or inconsistent with the objective of resolving interferences in a relatively prompt manner.

One comment discussing §1.639 was received. The comment states:

> The requirement that proofs of alleged material facts must be filed may be difficult or impossible to meet in view of the shortened times. [The] rule should make provisions for timely submission of proofs within reasonable times.

To the extent that the comment suggests setting specific times in the rules, the suggestion is not being adopted. It should be noted that if affidavits cannot be timely prepared to be filed with a motion, the moving party may wish to take advantage of paragraph (c) which requires a party to specify any testimony needed to resolve a motion.

One change was made in §1.639(c) to make clear that a moving party or an opponent may describe any testimony needed to resolve a motion under either §1.633 or §1.634. Often, testimony is needed to resolve inventorship disputes. Accordingly, a party may describe testimony needed to resolve motions to correct inventorship under §1.634. It should be noted that if a party relies solely on affidavits in support of a motion (under §1.633 or §1.634) and the issue raised in the motion is to be considered at final hearing, the party must comply with §1.671(e).

Several comments were received which discussed §1.640. One comment asked: "When the final sentence speaks of a panel deciding the request for reconsideration, does this mean that the panel decides whether to reconsider or whether to modify the decision?" It was the PTO's intent that the panel make a decision on whether to modify the decision made by the single examiner-in-chief. Accordingly, the language "shall be decided by a panel" in the last sentence of §1.640(c) has been changed to read: "shall be acted on by a panel. Another change in language to the fourth sentence of §1.640(c) has been made to make clear that a decision of a single examiner-in-chief will not ordinarily be modified by a panel without an opportunity to file an opposition.

Another comment suggested that §1.640(a) be changed to "allow, even encourage, the examiner-in-chief to travel to conferences where more convenient/practical for all concerned." This suggestion is not being adopted. The use of a telephone conference call eliminates the need to adopt the suggestion. The same comment suggested that the "speedy and inexpensive" language of the second sentence of §1.640(b) be deleted. The suggestion is not being adopted. The comment fails to explain why the language should be deleted. It is obvious that a motion cannot always be granted or denied; other action is often appropriate, e.g., deferring consideration of a motion to final hearing. Section 1.640(b) gives the examiner-in-chief discretion to take appropriate action and the "just, speedy, and inexpensive determination" language provides some standard which an examiner-in-chief may follow in those cases where granting or denying a motion is not appropriate.

One comment was received which suggested that §1.640 be changed to provide that an examiner-in-chief hold a hearing to determine whether an interference should proceed in those cases where a junior party fails to allege a date prior to the senior party and remains in an interference only because the junior party is alleging "fraud" by the senior party. The suggestion is not being adopted. If a party believes that an opponent has committed "fraud" or has engaged in "inequitable conduct," the party may file a motion under §1.633(a) for judgment. Obviously, a motion for judgment on the basis of "fraud" or "inequitable conduct" must make out a case by clear and convincing evidence. The examiner-in-chief has sufficient authority under the rules to preclude a party from proceeding in an interference on a baseless charge of "fraud" or "inequitable conduct."

One oral comment was received which suggested that the examiner-in-chief be required to consult with an examiner prior to deciding a preliminary motion for judgment under §1.633(a) based on patentability. The oral comment suggested alternate proposals:

(1) The examiner-in-chief will normally obtain a patentability report when deciding motions involving a question of patentability.

(2) The examiner-in-chief will consult with a primary examiner prior to deciding a motion raising an issue of patentability.

The suggestion of the oral comment is not being adopted. An examiner-in-chief is a person having "competent legal knowledge and scientific ability." 35 U.S.C. §7. Examiners-in-chief review decisions of examiners on questions of patentability. Accordingly, there is no reason to require an examiner-in-chief to consult with an examiner on a question of patentability. The PTO recognizes that many examiners possess special expertise in particular arts. It is for this reason that §1.640(b) provides that "[a] n examiner-in-chief may consult with an examiner in deciding motions involving a question of patentability" (emphasis added). Thus, an examiner-in-chief is authorized to consult with an examiner on a question of patentability where the examiner-in-chief believes consultation will be beneficial.

One comment suggested that §1.642 be changed to permit an examiner-in-chief to add a newly discovered patent, as well as newly discovered applications, to an interference. Inasmuch as 35 U.S.C. §135(a) authorizes interferences between applications and patents, the suggestion is being adopted. The language "application" in §1.642 has been changed to read: "application or patent.

Several comments discussing §1.644 were received. One commentator made four suggestions, none of which are being adopted. First, the commentator suggested that there should be no fee for a petition under §1.644(a)(1). This suggestion is not being adopted. A decision on a petition is a service performed by the PTO on behalf of a petitioner. The Commissioner is authorized to charge fees for services performed. 35 U.S.C. § 41(d). Second, the commentator suggested that the last sentence of §1.644(d) be deleted. This suggestion is not being adopted. In the past when parties have filed petitions, copies of documents already in the interference file have been attached to the petition. The copies tend to increase unnecessarily the size of the file of an interference. Inasmuch as the document submitted with the petition is already in the interference, there is no need to file a "second" copy of the document. Parties can expect that petitions will be returned (§1.618) if the petition is accompanied by documents which are already in the interference file. Third, the commentator argued that the "requirement of service within one (1) day is too onerous and should be deleted" from §1.644(g). No rationale was given in support of the argument. Petitions have caused considerable delay in interference cases in the past. To avoid unnecessary delay and surprise on the part of the opponent, the PTO has decided to require that service of a petition be such that delivery to the opponent is within one (1) working day. Service within one day should not ordinarily be difficult in view of "Express Mail" and numerous commercial one-day delivery services available. Lastly, the commentator suggested that §1.644(i) be changed to provide that decision on a petition would not be delegated to the examiner-in-chief handling the interference. The suggestion to change §1.644(i) is not being adopted. However, when a PTO employee is granted authority to decide a petition in an interference case, the employee would not be the examiner-in-chief handling the interference or an employee on a panel of the Board deciding the petition. It would be expected that an employee deciding a petition by delegation of authority would be one who could exercise independent judgment on the petition bearing in mind that a petition will be decided on the record made before the examiner-in-chief or the panel. In connection with this latter point, findings of fact by an examiner-in-chief or the Board will be presumed to be correct unless shown to be clearly erroneous. Discretionary action by an examiner-in-chief or the Board will not be overturned unless it is shown that an abuse of discretion occurred.

One commentator asked the following: "Is §1.644(g) intended to apply only to 'oppositions' to §1.644 petitions, or is it also applicable to §1.638 oppositions?" The provisions of §1.644(g) apply only to petitions filed under§1.644; those provisions do not apply to oppositions under §1.638.

Two comments suggested that §1.644(a)(2) be changed to include an express statement that a petition under paragraph (a)(2) could not be filed until after the Board has entered judgment and that the petition could not relate to the merits of priority of invention or patentability or a question of whether evidence is admissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence. The suggestions are being adopted and appropriate language has been added to §1.644(a)(2) after the word "Commissioner". The change was suggested by the commentators so that no reasonable person could possibly overlook the fact that a petition to exercise supervisory authority can be filed only after entry of judgment. It should be noted that the language "and shall not relate to (1) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (2) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence" has been deleted from §1.644(b) in view of the change to §1.644(a)(2).

One comment suggested that the last sentence of § 1.644(f) be changed to make clear that a decision would not ordinarily be modified until the Commissioner had requested an opposition to a request for reconsideration. This suggestion has been adopted and an appropriate change has been made to the last sentence of §1.644(g).

One comment suggested that the word "shall" in the last sentence of §1.644(b) precludes the filing of an opposition beyond the 15-day period specified in the rules. According to the commentator, the opposition should also be considered timely if filed within "any appropriate extension." A party may move to extend the time for filing an opposition. See §1.645.

One comment argued that §1.644(a)(1) cannot "be squared with the statute as interpreted in Myers [v. Feigelman, 455 F.2d 596, 172 USPQ 580 (CCPA 1972)]." The rationale in support of the comment is the following:

> I presume that the limitation in subparagraph (b) that a petition under subparagraph (a)(2) "shall not relate to . . . the merits of priority of invention or patentability or . . . the admissibility of evidence" is intended to avoid conflict with Myers v. Feigelman, 172 USPQ 580 (CCPA 1972), and its progeny. However, I read Myers as saying that, if the board has statutory authority to make a decision (including all the myriad of ancillary decisions that the panels and/or the single examiner-in-chief will be making under the new procedure), then the Commissioner does not have authority to review the board's or the single examiner-in-chief's decision. Or, to put it the other way around, if the Commissioner reviews an examiner-in-chief's decision, he is stepping into the shoes of the examiner-in-chief, and the Commissioner's decision is in turn reviewable by the panel (which is, of course, the only entity authorized to exercise the statutory jurisdiction of the board—see Knickerbacker Toy Co. v. Faultless Starch Co., 175 USPQ 417 n.8 (CCPA 1972)). Thus, I don't see how proposed section 1.644(a)(1) can possibly be squared with the statute as interpreted in Myers.

It is true that the CCPA has stated that, "in performing his duties, the Commissioner cannot usurp the functions or impinge upon the jurisdiction of the Board . . . established by 35 U.S.C. 135." In re Dickinson, 299 F.2d 954, 958, 133 USPQ 39, 43 (CCPA 1962). See also Myers v. Feigelman, supra, 455 F.2d at 599 n. 8, 172 USPQ at 583 n. 8. However, it is also true that the Commissioner "shall superintend or perform all duties required by law respecting the granting and issuing of patents . . . ." 35 U.S.C. §6; Kingsland v. Carter Carburetor Corp., 83 U.S.App.D.C. 266, 168 F.2d 565, 77 USPQ 499 (D.C.Cir. 1948); In re Staeger, 189 USPQ 284, 285 n. 2 (Comm'r.Pat. 1974). The Commissioner, subject to approval of the Secretary of Commerce, establishes the procedure by which the examiners-in-chief and the Board will consider interference cases. 35 U.S.C. §6. See also 35 U.S.C. §23 relating to affidavits and depositions.

Under the rules, the Commissioner will not determine on petition either "priority of invention" or "patentability." See §1.644(b). Likewise, the Commissioner will not consider whether evidence should have been admitted or excluded under the Federal Rules of Evidence. The PTO believes that the federal courts, which routinely rule on admissibility under the Federal Rules, are in a better position to determine whether the Board properly interpreted the Federal Rules of Evidence.

While the Commissioner will not decide "priority of invention" or "patentability" under 35 U.S.C. §135(a), it does not follow that the Commissioner is precluded from interpreting PTO rules on procedural matters, including procedural matters related to the admissibility of evidence on some basis other than the Federal Rules of Evidence, e.g., whether a party has complied with a PTO rule such as §1.671(e)(procedure for relying on affidavits) or §1.671(g)(permission required for obtaining evidence by subpoena).

Full consideration has been given to the comment. The PTO nevertheless believes that §1.644(a)(1) is not inconsistent with law. Several comments concerning §1.645 were received. One comment suggested that "to" be inserted in the first sentence of paragraph (a) before "file a notice of appeal" and "commence a civil action". According to the comment, "[t] he use of parallel infinitive verb forms provides greater clarity to the rule." The suggestion has been adopted.

Another commentator said the following:

> "No good reason is seen to require a notarized oath from an attorney merely to explain why a paper was filed late, if there is no claim of substantive prejudice by other parties. Attorneys and examiners-in-chief should not be spending unnecessary time and effort on merely procedural formalities. That is contrary to the intent of the new rules."

The PTO agrees with the commentator and has deleted the language "accompanied by an affidavit" from §1.645(b).

One comment suggested that a reference to §1.610(d)(6) which provides for oral requests should be inserted into §1.645 to reflect intent stated in the comments[of the notice of proposed rulemaking] on proposed§1.645." This suggestion is not being adopted. As the commentator notes, §1.610(d) authorizes an examiner-in-chief to hold a conference call to resolve issues and to enter an appropriate order following the conference call. A conference call may be used to obtain an extension of time. If the examiner-in-chief grants the request, an order may be entered—in which case a written motion is not necessary. The order provides the written record required by 37 CFR §1.2. However, it would unduly lengthen the rules to insert a reference to §1.610(d) in each rule to which it may be applicable. Section 1.645(a) specifies the procedure to be used when a written motion is filed. It should be noted that an examiner-in-chief may require a written motion notwithstanding a conference call.

One comment stated that "[t] he 'other business' may be more pressing than the Interference. In order to serve the ends of justice, the PTO should be considerate in this matter." The PTO intends to evaluate each request for an extension of time on a case-by-case basis. However, extensions of time in interference cases have become "routine." A recent survey of a file in one interference revealed the following. The interference was declared on Mar. 30, 1976. Preliminary statements were filed on May 5, 1979. A decision on motions was entered on June 28, 1982. Testimony was filed on Jan. 3, 1984. During the period between declaration and filing of testimony, sixty-four (64) requests or stipulations for extension of time were filed.

When counsel and an examiner-in-chief agree to a schedule and times are set, the parties will be expected to adhere to the schedule unless there are unusual circumstances. Apart from work that counsel may have in an interference, an examiner-in-chief will have a docket and must manage not only the interference involving counsel, but numerous other interferences. The U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit recently said the following in Rosemount, Inc. v. Beckman Instruments, Inc., 727 F.2d 1540, 1549-1550, 221 USPQ 1, 10 (Fed. Cir. 1984):

> The conduct of a trial, granting of continuances and the like, is not, however, solely or entirely a matter of balancing conveniences of the parties. The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure recognize another consideration—the need for the exercise of discretion by the trial court in carrying out its duty of managing the judicial process, the business of the court, and the administration of justice.

Likewise, these rules also recognize the need for the exercise of discretion by an examiner-in-chief in carrying out his or her duty of managing the interference (§1.610), the business of the PTO (§1.610), and the administration of justice (§1.601).

Several comments were received which discussed §1.646. One comment suggested that it would be clearer if "service" was inserted after "additional" in the last sentence of §1.646(b). This suggestion has been adopted.

Another comment suggested that "or except as otherwise provided in these Rules" be added to §1.646(c) after "otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief". The commentator pointed out that the change was needed because certain rules (§§1.644(g) and 1.658(b)) require service by "Express Mail" or by hand. The commentator accurately pointed out that adding the suggested phrase "will call attention to the fact that there are other rules which have their own requirements for service of papers." The suggestion has been adopted, except that "this part" has been used instead of "these Rules."

One comment suggested changing "time" to "date" in the last sentence of §1.646(e). The suggestion has been adopted. The change is necessary to conform with the language of the rule to actual practice and other language in the rule.

Two comments suggested that §1.646(d), which authorizes an examiner-in-chief to order service by hand or "Express Mail," be deleted. This suggestion is not being adopted. The use of "Express Mail" or delivery by hand is often desirable to expedite matters or to avoid unnecessary delay. One comment argued that delivery by hand may be prohibitive. Commercial couriers may be used to accomplish delivery by hand. The fee charged by most commercial couriers is not "prohibitive." The other comment argued that "there are circumstances when . . . [delivery by hand] is [not] possible." The use of §1.646(d) is discretionary on the part of an examiner-in-chief. If delivery by hand, i.e., personal delivery or delivery by commercial courier, or by "Express Mail" is impossible, it would be expected that the examiner-in-chief would exercise discretion and permit service by first class mail.

One comment suggested that the language "present case," which was said to appear in §1.651(b)(1) and §1.651(c), be changed to "prepare case." The suggestion is not being adopted because the language "present case" does not appear in §1.651. In any event, a testimony period is set for a party to present its testimony—either case-in-chief or case-in-rebuttal.

One comment was received which made two suggestions regarding §1.652. First, the comment suggested that a period longer than 15 days be set for filing a response to a paper answering an order to show cause. This suggestion is not being adopted. The fifteen-day period is believed to be adequate in most cases. If more time is needed, a party may file a motion under §1.645. Second, the comment suggested that the party placed under an order to show cause should be permitted as a matter of course to file a "reply" brief. This suggestion is not being adopted. In those instances where the Board believes a "reply" brief is desirable it may authorize the filing of a "reply."

One comment argued that §1.653(i) "fails to make provision for exhibits which are too big to file or are too dangerous to file." If an "exhibit" cannot be filed, it will not be given consideration. A party will have to rely on testimony and/or pictures or sketches for "exhibits" (e.g., a large machine in a factory) which are too large or too dangerous to be filed in the PTO.

While no comments were received concerning §1.654, it should be noted that a new paragraph (c) has been added and paragraph (c) as set out in the notice of proposed rulemaking has been redesignated as paragraph (d). New paragraph (c) provides that a party shall not be entitled to argue that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice unless a notice under §1.632 was timely filed.

Two comments discussing §1.655 were received. The first comment made the following statement regarding §1.655(a):

> Last sentence—interlocutory orders are reviewed only for 'manifest error' etc. It is not clear whether this includes show cause orders under 1.640 resulting from unpatentability determined under 1.633(a). However, if so, it precludes proper review of the patentability determination.

Patentability will initially be determined by a single examiner-in-chief. See §§1.610(a) and 1.640(b). If the examiner-in-chief determines that a claim of a party is unpatentable to that party, an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered as to that claim will be issued to that party. See §1.640(d). If a response to the order to show cause is filed, a decision will be entered by the Board. See §§1.610(a) and 1.640(e). If the Board determines that the claim is not patentable to the party, a final decision and judgment will be entered holding the claim to be unpatentable. Review of the final decision and judgment is by judicial review under 35 U.S.C. §§141 or 146. It should be noted, however, that if there are other claims in the party's application or patent which are deemed to be patentable, an interlocutory order would be entered holding only that certain claims are unpatentable. A final order holding those claims unpatentable would be entered after final hearing on other issues. Such a practice will avoid piecemeal judicial review.

Another comment suggested that §1.655 be changed to preclude consideration of patentability at final hearing. Public Law 98-622 authorizes consideration of patentability assuming patentability is properly raised by a party during the interlocutory phase of an interference.

Two comments discussing §1.656 were received. One comment suggested that "[b] riefs should be letter size for consistency." The PTO has no preference for the size of briefs. Briefs may be filed on letter or legal-size paper. Inasmuch as the federal courts now require letter-size paper, parties who intend to use a PTO brief as an exhibit in a federal court should use letter-size paper.

Another comment suggested that §1.656 be amended to preclude a single examiner-in-chief from ruling on admissibility of evidence. The introductory remarks to the notice of proposed rulemaking (and this notice) state that "[t] he examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, will be available by phone to rule on the admissibility of evidence in the event parties encounter unusual problems during the taking of depositions" (emphasis added). The commentator states:

> If an examiner-in-chief has ruled certain evidence inadmissible, that evidence would presumably not be before the Board at final hearing. Proposed Rule 1.656(h) provides a means for a party to obtain suppression of evidence to which he has made timely objection, but the Rule does not provide for any means for a party whose proffered evidence has been held inadmissible by the examiner-in-chief, to have that holding considered by the Board.

The change suggested by the comment will not be adopted. However, a brief explanation of how practice is expected to work is in order. The introductory remarks indicate that a single examiner-in-chief may rule on admissibility of evidence "where appropriate" and in "unusual" circumstances. There are times during interferences where a motion in limine can be helpful. For example, a junior party during its case-in-chief may wish to examine a witness on a document which was not served as required by §1.673(b)(1). The senior party objects and realizes that if the junior party is permitted to examine the witness on the document, extensive cross-examination using numerous documents would be necessary. In order to avoid wasting considerable time, the parties could contact the examiner-in-chief by phone for a determination in limine on whether the junior party should be able to examine the witness on the document. Under the circumstances outlined the examiner-in-chief in his or her discretion could enter an order excluding the document from evidence. The order would be subject to a request for reconsideration. See §1.640(c). Ordinarily, however, it would be expected that parties would present evidence subject to objection. See §1.675(c), last sentence. It is not envisioned that a single examiner-in-chiefwill routinely rule on the admissibility of evidence.

Several comments discussing §1.658 were received. One comment suggested that the 14-day time period in §1.658(b) is too short. Section 1.658(b) provides that a party may file a request for reconsideration with 14 days of a final decision by the Board. The 14-day time period is the same period authorized for filing requests for reconsideration by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. See Rule 40(a) of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure.

Several individuals suggested that a less restricted "interference estoppel" be set out in §1.658(c). While full consideration has been given to the suggestions, it has been decided to retain in these rules the interference estoppel provisions of §1.658(c) essentially as proposed. "Interference estoppel" under §1.658(c) is designed to implement the PTO's intent to have as many issues resolved as possible in a single inter partes proceeding. Numerous examples in this notice illustrate how practice is expected to take place under §1.658(c).

The language in the second sentence of §1.658(c) has been changed to more clearly state the nature of the estoppel and the exception to estoppel. The word "counts" in the second sentence of §1.658(c) means the counts as they exist at the time a final decision is entered.

One comment was received concerning §1.658(c) which requires a specific answer. The comment made the following statement:

> You state that an estoppel would not apply against a party awarded a favorable judgment as to all counts. However, it seems to me that there will be occasion when it would not be appropriate to have estoppel where there was a split decision. For instance, consider an interference between applicants

A and B in which A was awarded priority as to count 1 and B was awarded priority as to count 2. If I understand you correctly, A would be estopped in post-interference ex parte practice to present an additional claim X which was patentably indistinct from his claim corresponding to count 1 if B had support for claim X. I think this result would be unfortunate, and that A should be permitted to further refine his claim structure after the interference — that is, after he has been assured that he is entitled to claims to the basic inventicn recited in count 1. Under the circumstances described by the commentator, inventor A would not be estopped to present a claim to X because X is "patentably indistinct" (the proper terminology under the rules would be to say X is the "same patentable invention" as the subject matter of count 1) from the subject matter of count 1. Inventor A would be entitled to claim any disclosed invention which is directed to the "same patentable invention" as count 1. The change in the second sentence of §1.658(c) more clearly reflects the PTO's intent in this regard. Inventor A would not be entitled to claim any invention which is the "same patentable invention" as the subject matter of lost count 2. See Examples 26, 27, and 28 for illustrations of interference estoppel practice when a "split" judgment is entered.

Two comments were received discussing §1.659. One comment suggested that the first sentence of §1.659(b) should "reflect" that a reexamination may be based only on patents and printed publications. The suggestion is not being adopted. The basis upon which a reexamination may be instituted are set out elsewhere in the statute and rules. 35 U.S.C. 301-306; 37 CFR 1.501-1.570. There is no further need to set that basis out again in §1.659(b). Another comment suggested that the language "not involved in the judgment of the interference" be deleted from §1.659(b). The rationale in support of the comment was as follows:

> Besides introducing a potential ambiguity as to what claims were 'involved in the judgment,' there does not appear to be any good reasons to draw this distinction, particularly unless it is made more specific. Why should the Board be prevented from recommending reexamination of some (less relevant) patent claims and not other patent claims which are potentially even more relevant to the public, unless all of the same art has already been fully evaluated against the same claims in the Board's decision? (emphasis in original).

When a patent is involved in an interference, each claim of the patent will be designated to (1) correspond to a count or (2) not correspond to a count. All claims which are ultimately determined to correspond to a count will be "involved in the judgment of the interference." Inasmuch as they are involved in the judgment of the interference, there is no need to recommend reexamination of those claims. The claims involved in the interference are either patentable or unpatentable based on the final decision of the Board. Section 1.659(b) merely authorizes the Board to recommmend reexamination of patent claims which (1) are not involved in the judgment and (2) for one reason or another neither party saw fit to move to designate as corresponding to a count.

One comment was received which suggested that the requirements of §1.660 are unnecessary. The PTO disagrees. The requirements of §1.660 are designed to keep the PTO and a party's opponent informed of activity which is relevant to an interference. These rules attempt, to the extent possible, to eliminate procedural surprise. Inasmuch as mail delays occur and the PTO cannot react instantaneously to every paper filed in connection with every application or patent, the provisions of §1.660 are believed helpful in preventing surprise on the part of opponent's and unnecessary work by examiners-in-chief or the Board due to a lack of knowledge of relevant activity which may be taking place in the PTO.

One comment suggested that at the end of §1.661 the following be added: "and the time for any such available appeal or review has expired." The suggestion is not being adopted. Section 1.661 already provides for finality when "no appeal . . . can be taken . . . ." The language finds antecedent basis in 35 U.S.C. §135(a).

Several comments discussing §1.662 were received. Two comments suggested a change be made to provide that when a patentee files a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. §253 and deletes all claims corresponding to a count, the disclaimer will be treated as a request for judgment. As one of the comments pointed out, "[s] ince . . . [the filing of a statutory disclaimer disclaiming all claims corresponding to a count] by the patentee could have no other conceivable effect, the proposed rule should be changed to require judgment when all corresponding claims are disclaimed." The suggestion has been adopted and appropriate changes have been made to §1.662(c). In view of the changes, the following language in §1.662(c), as proposed, is not necessary: "A statutory disclaimer of any claim involved in an interference shall in subsequent proceedings have the same effect with respect to the patentee as an adverse judgment." When a patentee disclaims less than all claims corresponding to a count; the claims which remain in the patent continue to be involved in the interference and any patentability or priority issues involving those remaining claims will be involved in the judgment on the merits in the interference.

Two comments suggested that the word "dissolved" in §1.662(d) be changed to "terminated". This suggestion is being adopted, because §1.662(d) has been deleted. However, all interferences will be terminated with a "judgment." A change has been made in the language of §1.11(a) to delete any reference to terminating an interference other than by judgment.

One comment suggested that the word "construed" in §1.662(a) be changed to "treated". This suggestion has been adopted and more clearly states the intent of the PTO. The filing of the various papers mentioned paragraphs (a) and (c) of §1.662 will result in certain action by the PTO. The word "treated" more appropriately describes the consequences of filing such papers.

One comment suggested that §1.662(a) "is too sweeping." According to the commentator, a patentee may file a disclaimer because it has "become aware of a statutory bar or can not afford the expense of an interference." If the patentee becomes aware of a statutory bar, the patentee should call the "bar" to the attention of the PTO or file an appropriate motion under §1.633(a) for judgment if the "bar" applies to the opponent. If a junior party patentee decides than an interference is too expensive and for that reason files a disclaimer, there is no reason why judgment should not be entered in favor of the opponent. The comment also suggested that §1.662(c) "needs revision" because a patentee may disclaim one claim corresponding to a count, but not another. Section 1.662(c), as revised, takes into account the possibility that less than all claims corresponding to a count may be disclaimed. When some of the patent claims corresponding to a count are disclaimed, the interference proceeds on the basis of the remaining claims which correspond to the count. If all patent claims corresponding to a count are disclaimed, judgment will be entered.

One comment made the following statement regarding the third sentence of §1.662(a):

> What of abandonment in favor of a CIP [continuation-in-part application]? Would this be construed as [a] request to enter [an] adverse judgment? Language should reflect procedural moves of substituting CIP for abandoned application and/or declaring new interference.

The third sentence of §1.662(a) does not apply to an application which is not involved in an interference. If an applicant files a continuation-in-part application and successfully moves (§1.633(d)) to substitute the continuation-in-part for the application involved in the interference, abandonment of the application originally involved in the interference would have no bearing on the interference. Accordingly, no additional language is needed in §1.662(a).

Two comments discussing §1.663 were received. One comment suggested that an explanation of the status of patent claims involved in an adverse judgment should be stated in the rule. This suggestion is not being adopted. The status of patent claims involved in an adverse judgment is stated in 35 U.S.C. §135(a). Another comment suggested that the status of "claims which could have been counts . . . should be made of record." Unless a motion (§1.633(c)) to add claims to correspond to counts is filed, no reference will be made in a judgment as to claims "which could have been made counts."

One comment suggested that the language "then owned by either party but" be inserted after "application" in §1.665. This suggestion is not being adopted. The language "same parties" in §1.665 is intended to cover a party and any assignee. The suggested language "then owned" would narrow the scope of the rule in a manner not intended by the PTO.

An oral comment at the hearing suggested that §1.671(e) be changed so that a party would not have to serve copies of affidavits relied upon under §1.608(b) in those cases where an opponent had already obtained copies of the Rule 608(b) affidavits. This suggestion is not being adopted. See the discussion above answering comments related to §1.612(b). Another comment made at the hearing noted that the PTO is "adopting" the Federal Rules of Evidence. The Federal Rules include a "shop book" rule—Rule 803(b)(6). The commentator expressed the view that adopting of a "shop book" rule might make an important change in evidence which is admissible in interferences and suggested that "it would be helpful if the Patent and Trademark Office would publicly comment on this extremely important evidentiary rule . . . . " The PTO believes that adoption of Rule 803(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Evidence does not constitute a change in the admissibility of "shop book" evidence in interference cases. Rule 803(b)(6) is very similar to the former Federal Shop Book Rule (28 U.S.C. §1732) which it replaced. The courts have articulated a rule of law which the PTO will continue to apply in determining admissibility of laboratory note books under the "shop book" Rule 803(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Evidence. See e.g., Alpert v. Slatin, 305 F.2d 891, 134 USPQ 296 (CCPA 1962) and Elliott v. Barker, 481 F.2d 1337, 179 USPQ 100 (CCPA 1973).

One comment suggested that §1.671(f) be eliminated on the ground that a rule should not be used to train attorneys and agents. The suggestion is not being adopted. The problem addressed by §1.671(f) is significant. By providing in the rules that documentary evidence must be explained the PTO hopes to save both parties and the Board considerable difficulty in presenting and evaluating evidence.

One comment suggested that §1.671(g) should be changed to require a party only to show the "relevancy" of expected testimony as opposed to the "admissibility" of the testimony. This suggestion is being adopted and an appropriate change has been made to §1.671(g) to require a moving party to "describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing."

An oral comment was received which asked whether permission to issue a subpoena would be needed in the event a party seeks to call a witness under the control of an opponent. Ordinarily, the examiner-in-chief can order a party to produce an individual for a deposition as long as the individual is a party or is under the control of the party, e.g., an employee of an assignee. Where so-called "third parties" are concerned, however, issuance of a subpoena may be necessary, because the PTO has no authority to compel attendance of third parties. Several comments concerning §1.672 were received. One comment at the hearing pointed out that use of 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper for affidavits appears to be optional. The commentator is correct in pointing out that the use is optional. By using 8-1/2 by 11 inch paper, however, a party will save considerable time when filing a record (§1.653).

Two comments asked questions concerning §1.672(b), and in particular, the meaning of the word "party" in the phrase "a party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits . . . ." Specifically, one commentator stated:

> It is the scope of the words "the party" which leave doubt as to the meaning of the passage. If "the party" refers only to the party proffering the affidavit testimony, then the passage is fair since such party had the opportunity to use whatever documents it deemed favorable to its position. But if "the party" also encompasses the opponent, i.e., the cross-examining party not proffering the affidavit testimony, then the passage improperly restricts the scope of cross-examination. Surely, the proponent party cannot, simply by confining the affidavit to favorable documents, insulate the witness from cross-examination on unfavorable documents.

Section 1.672(b) refers to a "party" and an "opponent." The "party" is the party filing the affidavit and not an opponent of that party. Any "opponent" conducting cross-examination of an affiant may properly rely on documents and things not referred to in the affidavit.

One comment suggested that the language "a witness whose testimony will not be compelled under 35 U.S.C. 24" should be deleted or revised. According to the commentator:

> This is often not determinable in advance. Even a "voluntary" witness may develop cold feet and require a subpoena, or demand one for his own protection. Nor will all witnesses agreeable to affidavits be agreeable to depositions.

The suggestion is not being adopted. An affidavit may be used only when a witness agrees to sign the affidavit. If an individual refuses to sign an affidavit or voluntarily appear at a deposition, the party calling the witness will have to compel attendance at a deposition by a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. §24 after receiving permission from an examiner-in-chief.

One comment asked why there is "no express provision . . . [in the rules] for simply taking appropriate testimony of an adverse party by notice . . . rather than requiring a subpoena?" In many cases, notice will be sufficient inasmuch as an examiner-in-chief or the Board may generally order an adverse party to appear and give testimony. Thus, in many cases a subpoena is not needed to require attendance at a deposition of an adverse party.

Two comments suggested that a time be set out in the rules by which an affidavit should be filed. The suggestion is being adopted and the second sentence of §1.672(b) has been changed to provide that affidavits shall be filed prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period. The two comments also suggested that the rules specify that documents relied upon in an affidavit be filed with the affidavit. This suggestion is also being adopted by an appropriate change to §1.672(b) which will provide that a party cannot rely on any document referred to in an affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. Any document filed with an affidavit must also be served (§1.646). Section 1.672(b) will also provide that a party may not rely on any "thing" mentioned in an affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the "thing." A "thing" is something other than a document. The comments had suggested that the "things" be limited to those under the possession, custody, or control of the party submitting the affidavit. This suggestion is not being adopted. If a "thing" is not under the possession, custody, or control of a party, the party should resort the use of a deposition and compel production of the "thing" by a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. §24.

Four comments were received discussing §1.673. It was suggested that the time for service under §1.673(b) be three days if service is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail" and ten days if service is accomplished by any other means. This suggestion is being adopted. An appropriate change has been made in the introductory sentence of §1.673(b). It was also suggested that the word "copy" in §1.673(b)(1) be changed to read "list and copy". In support of the suggestion, one commentator states:

> In connection with the service of documents, the amendment to the proposed rule would require that a listing of documents accompany the documents themselves. This would permit cross-checking between lists and documents to ascertain whether or not discrepancies exist and reduce the possibility for later controversy.

The suggestion is being adopted. Under §1.673(b)(1) a list of the documents would have to accompany the documents. One comment suggested that documents served should be "Bates numbered." While this suggestion is not being adopted in the sense of changing the language of a rule, it must be remembered that the party serving documents may be required to later prove exactly what was served. Using "Bates" numbers or an equivalent scheme may prove invaluable in later stages of an interference.

One comment discussing §1.682 suggested that the language "not identified on the record during the taking of testimony of a witness" be deleted. This suggestion is not being adopted. If an official record or printed publication is made an exhibit during a deposition or in an affidavit, it need not be submitted under §1.682. Section 1.682 permits a party to make an official record or printed publication part of the evidence being considered at final hearing without calling a witness. The official record or printed publication must, however, be self-authenticating. On the other hand, a party may present the official record or printed publication as an exhibit during testimony. When this latter course is followed, there is no need to take advantage of the provisions of §1.682. The comment also suggested that a change be made in §1.682(a)(4) because the requirement therein for a "certified" copy appeared to be inconsistent with §1.671(d) which provides that a record of the PTO need not be certified. The suggestion is being adopted by adding "where appropriate" at the beginning of §1.682(a)(4) and a reference to §1.671(d) at the end of §1.682(a)(4). If the official record is not a record of the PTO, it will be necessary to submit a certified copy of the official record.

Comments were received discussing §1.684. One comment suggested that language be inserted in §1.684(a) to make clear that the testimony authorized is for a case-in-chief or a case-in-rebuttal. The suggestion is not being adopted. The testimony authorized by §1.684(a) is necessarily testimony for a case-in-chief or a case-in-rebuttal. The commentator correctly notes that the use of written interrogatories under §1.684 "for cross-examination would seem neither appropriate or justified." Section 1.684 does not apply to cross-examination. If a party submits an affidavit under §1.672(b) or intends to rely on an affidavit under §1.617(e), the party must make the affiant available for cross-examination at a deposition. See §1.673(e). A deposition may be noticed only "for a reasonable time and place in the United States." See §1.673(a). Accordingly, it is not expected that §1.684(a) will be used to cross-examine affiants residing in foreign countries. The party filing the affidavit will be required to make the affiant available for cross-examination in the United States.

One comment suggested that the provisions of §1.685(d) are "harsher" than the corresponding provisions of 37 CFR §1.285(c). The comment is not fully understood. Section 1.685(d) requires an objection to be stated on the record. An objection to the admissibility of evidence must be stated on the record and a motion under§1.656(h) renewing the objection at final hearing must be filed. No longer will a party be permitted to attend a deposition and fail to enter an objection only to raise the objection at final hearing. The current practice permits a party to delay the objection until it is often too late to permit an opponent to correct the evidentiary basis on which the objection is bottomed.

One comment suggested that the second sentence of §1.687(b) ("If the witness refuses to produce a requested document or thing, the party may file a motion (§1.635) for additional discovery under paragraph (c) of this section.") be deleted. This suggestion is being adopted. The PTO agrees with the following remark by the commentator: "[o]mission of the sentence is recommended since it is clear from [paragraph] (c) [of §1.687] that such a motion could be made in an appropriate case."

One comment at the hearing suggested that the PTO's inability to enter protective orders makes discovery unduly complicated. The commentator suggested that under§1.687(c), as set out in the notice of proposed rulemaking, it is possible to obtain appropriate protective orders. The commentator correctly concedes that the maximum sanction which the PTO can enter upon a proven violation of a PTO entered protective order is judgment. See §1.616. The commentator suggested, however, that additional discovery may be conditioned on the issuance of a subpoena duces tecum under 35 U.S.C. §24. Upon issuance of the subpoena, the commentator stated that the opponent could move the district court for entry of a protective order. If a party violates a protective order entered by a district court, the party would be subject to such sanctions as the district court might deem appropriate as well as a sanction by the PTO, including entry of judgment against the party. The PTO, unlike the district court, would not be able to apply a sanction after an interference is terminated.

The commentator's suggestion is believed to be sound. No change in the language of §1.687(b) is believed to be necessary inasmuch as paragraph (b) authorizes the PTO to "specify the terms of conditions of such additional discovery." One of those terms could be requiring a party to issue a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. §24. By making a party proceed in the first instance in the PTO, appropriate PTO orders may be entered suggesting the scope of any protective order and stating the underlying basis for requiring a party to produce documents. The order could be of assistance to the district court in subsequent enforcement or contempt proceedings.

Additional discovery obtained under a protective order issued by either the PTO or a district court will not be admitted in evidence in the PTO in determining the interference. All evidence submitted in an interference must be made available to the public under the provisions of §1.11(a). Accordingly, any protective orders have to be vacated before a document could be admitted in evidence in the PTO which is subject to a protective order.

Example 38 illustrates how the practice would work.

Example 38:

An interference involves party X and party Y. During the interference, party X files a motion for additional discovery under §1.687(c) asking that party Y be required to produce certain documents. Party Y opposes on the sole ground that the documents contain trade secret and confidential information. Party Y indicates that it has no objection to producing the documents for inspection by counsel for party X, but insists that party X not be permitted to inspect the documents. Accordingly, party Y asks the examiner-in-chief to authorize the discovery subject to entry of a protective order. Party Y argues, however, that the sanctions of §1.616 are not sufficient in the event of a violation of the protective order. An examiner-in-chief concludes that additional discovery should be ordered, that a protective order is appropriate, and that the sanctions of §1.616 are not sufficient in the event of a violation of the protective order. Under the circumstances, the examiner-in-chief would enter an order directing party Y to produce the documents for inspection by counsel of party X on the condition that party X seek production of the documents by a subpoena duces tecum under 35 U.S.C. §24. Upon issuance of any subpoena, party Y could move the district court for entry of a protective order. If the district court enters the protective order, party Y can produce the documents to counsel for party X. If the protective order of the examiner-in-chief is violated, an appropriate sanction up to and including judgment may be entered by the Board. In addition, party Y would be in a position to seek contempt or other sanctions in the district court. The documents produced for inspection by counsel for party X could not be admitted in evidence in the interference (until the protective order is vacated), because those documents are not documents which can be made available to the public under §1.11(a).

The following is an anticipated time schedule for a two-party interference:

Event in Interference	Time from last event in the interference	Total time in interference
Interference declared (1.611)
Filing of preliminary statements (1.621) and preliminary motions (1.633)	3 months	3 months
Filing oppositions to preliminary motions (1.638(a))	2/3 month	3-2/3 months
Filing replies to oppositions (1.638(b))	2/3 month	4-1/3 months
Decision on preliminary motions (1.640(b)(1)), open preliminary statements (1.631), set times for filing motions for discovery (1.687(c) and testimony (1.651(a))	1 month	5-1/3 months
Filing of motions for discovery (1.635, 1.651(a), 1.687(c))	1 month	6-1/3 months
Filing of opposition to motion for discovery (1.638(a))	2/3 months	7 months
Filing reply to opposition to motion for discovery (1.638(b))	2/3 months	7-2/3 months
Decision on motion for discovery	2/3 months	8-1/3 months
Time for compliance with any discovery	2/3 months	9 months
Junior party testimony (case-in-chief; 1.672(b)):
Testimony	2 months	11 months
Senior party cross-examination of affiants if needed	1 month	12 months
Senior party testimony (case-in-chief and case- in-rebuttal, 1.672(b)):
Testimony	2 months	13-2/3 months
Junior party cross-examination of affiants if needed	1 month	14-2/3 months
Junior party testimony (case-in-rebuttal):
Testimony	2/3 month	16 months
Senior party cross- examination of affiants if needed	2/3 month	16-2/3 months
Filing of record (1.653(c))	1-1/3 months	18 months
Brief for junior party (1.656)	1 month	19 months
Brief for senior party (1.656)	1 month	20 months
Reply brief for junior party (1.656)	2/3 month	20-2/3 months
Final hearing (1.654)	1 month	21-2/3 months
Decision (1.658)	2 months	23-2/3 months

Other Considerations: These rules do not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rules are in conformity with the requirements of the (1) Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), (2) Executive Order 12291, and (3) the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that these rules will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act; Public Law 96-354). The rules govern the conduct of interference cases which arise in the Patent and Trademark Office. In fiscal 1983, the Patent and Trademark Office received 105,704 patent applications. During the same period, 180 interferences were declared. It is expected that the overall cost will be reduced for obtaining a patent based on application which become involved in an interference. See a "section-by-section" analysis submitted for the Record by Representative Kastenmeier during discussion of H. R. 6286 on the floor of the House in which the following statement appears (130 Cong.Rec. H10528, columns 2 and 3):

> it is expected that interferences will become simpler, more expeditious, and less costly. Under the bill, all issues of patentability and priority which arise in an interference can be decided in a single proceeding rather than in a series of complicated inter partes and ex parte proceedings.

These rules, therefore, will have no significant economic impact on small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy would be less than $100 million. There would be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There would be no adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

These rules do not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

PART 1 — RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority given to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, 23, 41, and 135, Part 1 of Title CFR is amended as set forth below.

1. Section 1.1 is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§1.1 All communications to be addressed to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

* * * * *

(e) Communications relating to interferences and applications or patents involved in an interference should be additionally marked "BOX INTERFERENCE."

2. Section 1.4 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(2) and reprinting the introductory text of paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.4 Nature of correspondence.

(a) Correspondence with the Patent and Trademark Office comprises:

* * * * *

(2) correspondence in and relating to a particular application or other proceeding in the Office. See particularly the rules relating to the filing, processing, or other proceedings of national applications in Subpart B, §§1.31 to 1.352; of international applications in Subpart C, §§1.401 to 1.482; of reexamination of patents in Subpart D, §§1.501 to 1.570; of interferences in Subpart E, §§ 1.601 to 1.688; and of trademark applications §§2.11 to 2.189.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.5 is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§1.5 Identification of application, patent or registration

* * * * *

(e) When a paper concerns an interference, it should state the names of the parties and the number of the interference. The name of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference (§1.610) and the name of the party filing the paper should appear conspicuously on the first page of the paper.

4. Section 1.8 is amended by adding to paragraph (a) a new subparagraph (xii) to read as follows:

§1.8 Certificate of mailing.

* * * * *

(xii) The filing of a paper in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail."

* * * * *

5. Section 1.9 is amended by adding a new paragraph (g) to read as follows:

§1.9 Definitions.

* * * * *

(g) For definitions in interferences see §1.601.

6. Section 1.11 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§1.11 Files open to the public.

(a) After a patent has been issued, the specification, drawings and all papers relating to the case in the file of the patent are open to inspection by the general public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor. After entry of a judgment in an interference by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences as to all parties, the file of any interference which involved a patent, or an application on which a patent has issued, is similarly open to public inspection and procurement of copies. See §2.27 for trademark files.

* * * * *

7. Section 1.14 is amended by removing from paragraph (d) the words "Board of Patent Appeals or the Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting, in their place, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

8. Section 1.17 is amended by revising paragraphs (e), (g), (h), and (l) to read as follows:

§1.17 Patent application processing fees.

* * * * *

(e) For filing a notice of appeal from the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences:

By a small entity (§1.9(f))	$ 57.50
By other than a small entity	115.00

* * * * *

(g) For filing a request for an oral hearing before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in appeal under 35 U.S.C. §134:

By a small entity (§1.9(f))	$ 50.00
By other than a small entity	100.00

(h) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph $120.00

— §1.47 — for filing by other than all the inventors or a person not the inventor
— §1.48 — for correction of inventorship
— §1.182 — for decision on questions not specifically provided for
— §1.183 — to suspend the rules
— §1.377 — for review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent
— §1.378(e) — for reconsideration of decision on petition refusing to accept delayed payment of maintenance fee in expired patent
— §1.644(e) — for petition in an interference
— §1.644(f) — for request for reconsideration of a decision on petition in an interference.
— §1.666(c) — for late filing of interference settlement agreement.
— §§5.12, 5.13 & 5.14 — for expedited handling of foreign filing license
— §5.15 — for changing the scope of a license
— §5.25 — for retroactive license

(i) For filing a petition to the Commissioner under a section of this part listed below which refers to this paragraph ..... $ 60.00

— §1.12 — for access to an assignment record
— §1.14 — for access to an application
— §1.55 — for entry of late priority papers
— §1.102 — to make application special
— §1.103 — to suspend action in application
— §1.177 — for divisional reissues to issue separately
— §1.312 — for amendment after payment of issue fee
— §1.313 — to withdraw an application from issue
— §1.314 — to defer issuance of a patent
— §1.334 — for patent to issue to assignee, assignment recorded late
— §1.666(b) — for access to interference settlement agreement

* * * * *

9. Section 1.36 is revised as follows:

§1.36 Revocation of power of attorney or authorization; withdrawal of attorney or agent.

A power of attorney or authorization of agent may be revoked at any stage in the proceedings of a case, and an attorney or agent may withdraw, upon application to and approval by the Commissioner. An attorney or agent, except an associate attorney or agent whose address is the same as that of the principal attorney or agent, will be notified of the revocation of the power of attorney or authorization, and the applicant or patent owner will be notified of the withdrawal of the attorney or agent. An assignment will not of itself operate as a revocation of a power or authorization previously given, but the assignee of the entire interest may revoke previous powers and be represented by an attorney or agent of the assignee's own selection. See §1.613(d) for withdrawal of an attorney or agent of record in an interference.

10. Section 1.48 is revised as follows:

§1.48 Correction of inventorship.

If the correct inventor or inventors are not named in an application for patent through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the application may be amended to name only the actual inventor or inventors. Such amendment must be diligently made and must be accompanied by (a) a petition including a statement of facts verified by the original named inventor or inventors establishing when the error without deceptive intention was discovered and how it occurred; (b) an oath or declaration by each actual inventor or inventors as required by §1.63; (c) the fee set forth in §1.17(h); and (d) the written consent of any assignee. When the application is involved in an interference, the petition shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.634.

11. Section 1.55 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) "1.224" and inserting, in its place, "1.630".

12. Section 1.59 is revised as follows:

§1.59 Papers of application with filing date not to be returned.

Papers in an application which has received a filing date pursuant to §1.53 will not be returned for any purpose whatever. If applicants have not preserved copies of the papers, the Office will furnish copies at the usual cost of any application in which either the required basic filing fee (§1.16) or the processing and retention fee (§1.21(l)) has been paid. See §1.618 for return of unauthorized and improper papers in interferences.

13. Section 1.68 is revised as follows:

§1.68 Declaration in lieu of oath.

Any document to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office and which is required by any law, rule, or other regulation to be under oath may be subscribed to by a written declaration. Such declaration may be used in lieu of the oath otherwise required, if, and only if, the declarant is on the same document, warned that willful false statements and the like are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both (18 U.S.C. 1001) and may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon. The declarant must set forth in the body of the declaration that all statements made of the declarant's own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true.

14. Section 1.103 is amended by revising paragraph (d) as follows:

§1.103 Suspension of action.

* * * * *

(d) Action on applications in which the Office has accepted a request filed under §1.139 will be suspended for the entire pendency of these applications except for purposes relating to interference proceedings under §§1.601 through 1.688.

15. Section 1.122 is amended by revising paragraph (b) as follows:

§1.122 Entry and consideration of amendments.

* * * * *

(b) Ordinarily all amendments presented in a paper filed while the application is open to amendment are entered and considered, subsequent cancellation or correction being required of improper amendments. Untimely amendatory papers may be refused entry and consideration in whole or in part. For amendments presented during an interference see §1.664.

16. Section 1.136 is amended by removing "§1.207" and inserting, in its place, "§1.611" and by removing "§1.245" and inserting, in its place, "§1.645".

17. Section 1.138 is revised as follows:

§1.138 Express Abandonment.

An application may be expressly abandoned by filing in the Patent and Trademark Office a written declaration of abandonment signed by the applicant and the assignee of record, if any, and identifying the application. An application may also be expressly abandoned by filing a written declaration of abandonment signed by the attorney or agent of record. A registered attorney or agent acting under the provision of §1.34(a), or of record, may also expressly abandon a prior application as of the filing date granted to a continuing application when filing such a continuing application. Express abandonment of the application may not be recognized by the Office unless it is actually received by appropriate officials in time to act thereon before the date of issue.

18. Section 1.181 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

§1.181 Petition to the Commissioner.

(a) Petition may be taken to the Commissioner: (1) from any action or requirement of any examiner in the ex parte prosecution of an application which is not subject to appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to the court; (2) in cases in which a statute or the rules specify that the matter is to be determined directly by or reviewed by the Commissioner; and (3) to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner in appropriate circumstances. For petitions in interferences, see §1.644.

* * * * *

19. The center heading preceding §1.191 is revised to read "APPEAL TO THE BOARD OF PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES".

20. Section 1.191 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraphs (a) and (c) as follows:

§1.191 Appeal to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(a) Every applicant for a patent or for reissue of a patent, or every owner of a patent under reexamination, any of the claims of which have been twice rejected or who has been given a final rejection (§1.113), may, upon the payment of the fee set forth in §1.17(e), appeal from the decision of the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences within the time allowed for response.

* * * * *

(c) An appeal when taken must be taken from the rejection of all claims under rejection which the applicant or patent owner proposes to contest. Questions relating to matters not affecting the merits of the invention may be required to be settled before an appeal can be considered.

* * * * *

21. Section 1.194 is amended by removing the words "Board of Appeals" and inserting, in their place, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

22. Section 1.196 is revised as follows:

§1.196 Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(a) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, in its decision, may affirm or reverse the decision of the examiner in whole or in part on the grounds and on the claims specified by the examiner. The affirmance of the rejection of a claim on any of the grounds specified constitutes a general affirmance of the decision of the examiner on that claim, except as to any ground specifically reversed.

(b) Should the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences have knowledge of any grounds not involved in the appeal for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in the decision a statement to that effect with its reasons for so holding, which statement shall constitute a new rejection of the claims. When the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences makes a new rejection of an appealed claim, the appellant may exercise any one of the following three options:

(1) The appellant may submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner and the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall not be considered final for the purpose of judicial review. The statement shall be binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground for rejection stated in the decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

(2) The appellant may have the case reconsidered under §1.197(b) by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon the same record. Where request for such reconsideration is made the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall, if necessary, render a new decision which shall include all grounds upon which a patent is refused.

(3) The appellant may treat the decision, including the new grounds for rejection given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, as a final decision in the case.

(c) Should the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences include an explicit statement that a claim may be allowed in amended form, appellant shall have the right to amend in conformity with such statement which shall be binding on the examiner in the absence of new references or grounds of rejection.

(d) Although the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences normally will confine its decision to a review of rejections made by the examiner, should it have knowledge of any grounds for rejecting any allowed claim it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim and remand the case to the examiner. In such event, the Board shall set a period, not less than one month, within which the appellant may submit to the examiner an appropriate amendment, a showing of facts or reasons, or both, in order to avoid the grounds set forth in the recommendation of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. The examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection. Should the examiner make the recommended rejection final the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. Whenever a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences includes a remand, that decision shall not be considered a final decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

23. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) as follows:

§1.197 Action following decision.

(a) After decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, the case shall be returned to the examiner, subject to the appellant's right of appeal or other review, for such further action by the appellant or by the examiner, as the condition of the case may require, to carry into effect the decision.

(b) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the decision may be made if filed within one month from the date of the original decision, unless that decision is so modified as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states.

* * * * *

24. Section 1.198 is amended by removing the words "Board of Appeals" and inserting, in their place, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

25. The center heading preceding §1.201 is removed.

26. Sections 1.201 through 1.212 are removed.

27. The center heading preceding §1.215 is removed.

28. Sections 1.215 through 1.228 are removed.

29. The center heading preceding §1.231 is removed.

30. Sections 1.231 through 1.238 are removed.

31. The center heading preceding §1.242 is removed.

32. Sections 1.242 through 1.247 are removed.

33. A center heading preceding §1.248 is added which reads "MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS".

34. Section 1.248 is amended by adding paragraph (c) and revising the section heading as follows:

§1.248 Service of Papers; manner of service; proof of service in cases other than interferences.

* * * * *

(c) See §1.646 for service of papers in interferences.

35. The center heading preceding §1.251 is removed.

36. Sections 1.251 through 1.259 are removed.

37. The center heading preceding §1.261 is removed.

38. Sections 1.261 through 1.268 are removed.

39. The center heading preceding §1.271 is removed.

40. Sections 1.271 through 1.288 are removed.

41. Section 1.292 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and adding paragraph (c) as follows:

§1.292 Public use proceedings.

(a) When a petition for the institution of public use proceedings, supported by affidavits or declarations and the fee set forth in §1.17(j) is filed by one having information of the pendency of an application and is found, on reference to the examiner, to make a prima facie showing that the invention claimed in an application believed to be on file had been in public use or on sale more than one year before the filing of the application, a hearing may be had before the Commissioner to determine whether a public use proceeding should be instituted. If instituted, the Commissioner may designate an appropriate official to conduct the public use proceeding, including the setting of times for taking testimony, which shall be taken as provided by §§1.671 through 1.685. The petitioner will be heard in the proceedings but after decision therein will not be heard further in the prosecution of the application for patent.

* * * * *

(c) A petition for institution of public use proceedings shall not be filed by a party to an interference as to an application involved in the interference. Public use and on sale issues in an interference shall be raised by a preliminary motion under §1.633(a).

42. Section 1.301 is amended by removing the words "Board of Appeals" and the words "Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting, in each of their places, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

43. Section 1.302 is amended by removing from paragraph (b) "1.248" and inserting, in its place, "1.646" and by removing "and other contested cases".

44. Section 1.303 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) the words "Board of Appeals" and the words "Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting, in each of their places, the words "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences" and by removing from paragraph (c) "1.248" and inserting, in its place, "1.646". 45. Section 1.304 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

§1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a) The time for filing the notice and reasons of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§1.303) is sixty days from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under §1.197(b) or §1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty-day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. Except for an appeal from or commencing a civil action after a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in a reexamination proceeding or an interference proceeding, the time periods set forth herein are subject to the provisions of §1.136. See §1.550(c) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in a reexamination proceeding. See §1.645(a) for extensions of time to appeal or commence a civil action in an interference. An examiner-in-chief, upon a showing of excusable neglect, may extend the time for seeking judicial review of a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an interference case when a request is untimely filed after expiration of the time prescribed by this section.

46. Section 1.322 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

§1.322 Certificate of correction of Office mistake.

(a) A certificate of correction under 35 U.S.C. 254 may be issued at the request of the patentee or the patentee's assignee. Such certificate will not be issued at the request or suggestion of anyone not owning an interest in the patent, nor on motion of the Office, without first notifying the patentee (including any assignee of record) and affording the patentee an opportunity to be heard. When the request relates to a patent involved in an interference, the request shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.635.

* * * * *

47. Section 1.323 is revised as follows:

§1.323 Certificate of correction of applicant's mistake.

Whenever a mistake of a clerical or typographical nature or of minor character which was not the fault of the Office, appears in a patent and a showing is made that such mistake occurred in good faith, the Commissioner may, upon payment of the fee set forth in §1.20(a), issue a certificate, if the correction does not involve such changes in the patent as would constitute new matter or would require reexamination. A request for a certificate of correction of a patent involved in an interference shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.635.

48. Section 1.324 is revised as follows:

§1.324 Correction of inventorship in patent.

Whenever a patent is issued and it appears that the correct inventor or inventors were not named through error without deceptive intention on the part of the actual inventor or inventors, the Commissioner may, on petition of all the parties and the assignees and satisfactory proof of the facts and payment of the fee set forth in §1.20(b), or on order of a court before which such matter is called in question, issue a certificate naming only the actual inventor or inventors. A request to correct inventorship of patent involved in an interference shall comply with the requirements of this section and shall be accompanied by a motion under §1.634.

49. Section 1550 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) "Board of Appeals" and inserting, in its place, "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences."

50. Section 1.565 is amended by revising paragraph (b) and adding paragraph (e) as follows:

§1.565 Concurrent office proceedings.

* * * * *

(b) If a patent in the process of reexamination is or becomes involved in litigation or a reissue application for the patent is filed or pending, the Commissioner shall determine whether or not to stay the reexamination or reissue proceeding.

* * * * *

(e) If a patent in the process of reexamination is or becomes involved in an interference, the Commissioner may stay reexamination or the interference. The Commissioner will not consider a request to stay an interference unless a motion (§1.635) to stay the interference has been presented to, and denied by, an examiner-in-chief and the request is filed within ten (10) days of a decision by an examiner-in-chief denying the motion for a stay or such other time as the examiner-in-chief may set.

51. A new subpart entitled "Subpart E—Interferences" is added which reads as follows:

SUBPART E — Interferences

§1.601 Scope of rules, definitions.

This subpart governs the procedure in patent interferences in the Patent and Trademark Office. This subpart shall be construed to secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every interference. For the meaning of terms in the Federal Rules of Evidence as applied to interferences, see §1.671(c). Unless otherwise clear from the context, the following definitions apply to this subpart:

(a) "Additional discovery" is discovery to which a party may be entitled under §1.687 in addition to discovery to which the party is entitled as a matter of right under §1.673(a) and (b).

(b) "Affidavit" means affidavit, declaration under §1.68, or statutory declaration under 28 U.S.C. §1746. A transcript of an ex parte deposition may be used as an affidavit.

(c) "Board" means the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(d) "Case-in-chief" means that portion of a party's case where the party has the burden of going forward with evidence.

(e) "Case-in-rebuttal" means that portion of a party's case where the party presents evidence in rebuttal to the case-in-chief of another party.

(f) A "count" defines the interfering subject matter between (1) two or more applications or (2) one or more applications and one or more patents. When there is more than one count, each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Any claim of an application or patent which corresponds to a count is a claim involved in the interference within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. §135(a). A claim of a patent or application which is identical to a count is said to "correspond exactly" to the count. A claim of a patent or application which is not identical to a count, but which defines the same patentable invention as the count, is said to "correspond substantially" to the count. When a count is broader in scope than all claims which correspond to the count, the count is a "phantom count." A phantom count is not patentable to any party.

(g) The "effective filing date" of an application or a patent is the filing date of an earlier application accorded to the application or patent under 35 U.S.C. §§119, 120, or 365.

(h) In the case of an application, "filing date" means the filing date assigned to the application. In the case of a patent, "filing date" means the filing date assigned to the application which issued as the patent.

(i) An "interference" is a proceeding instituted in the Patent and Trademark Office before the Board to determine any question of patentability and priority of invention between two or more parties claiming the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between two or more pending applications naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, the applications contain claims for the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between one or more pending applications and one or more unexpired patents naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, any application and any unexpired patents contain claims for the same patentable invention.

(j) An "interference-in-fact" exists when at least one claim of a party which corresponds to a count and at least one claim of an opponent which corresponds to the count define the same patentable invention.

(k) A "lead" attorney or agent is a registered attorney or agent of record who is primarily responsible for prosecuting an interference on behalf of a party and is the attorney or agent whom an examiner-in-chief may contact to set times and take other action in the interference.

(l) A "party" is (1) an applicant or patentee involved in the interference or (2) a legal representative or an assignee of an applicant or patentee involved in an interference. Where acts of a party are normally performed by an attorney or agent, "party" may be construed to mean the attorney or agent. An "inventor" is the individual named as inventor in an application involved in an interference or the individual named as inventor in a patent involved in an interference.

(m) A "senior party" is the party with earliest effective filing date as to all counts or, if there is no party with the earliest effective filing date as to all counts, the party with the earliest filing date. A "junior party" is any other party.

(n) Invention "A" is the "same patentable invention" as a invention "B" when invention "A" is the same as (35 U.S.C. §102) or is obvious (35 U.S.C. §103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A". Invention "A" is a "separate patentable invention" with respect to invention "B" when invention "A" is new (35 U.S.C. §102) and nonobvious (35 U.S.C. §103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A".

(o) "Sworn" means sworn or affirmed.

(p) "United States" means the United States of America, its territories and possessions.

§1.602 Interest in applications and patents involved in an interference.

(a) Unless good cause is shown, an interference shall not be declared or continued between (1) applications owned by a single party or (2) applications and an unexpired patent owned by a single party.

(b) The parties, within 20 days after an interference is declared, shall notify the Board of any and all right, title, and interest in any application or patent involved or relied upon in the interference unless the right, title, and interest is set forth in the notice declaring the interference.

(c) If a change of any right, title, and interest in any application or patent involved or relied upon in the interference occurs after notice is given declaring the interference and before the time expires for seeking judicial review of a final decision of the Board, the parties shall notify the Board of the change within 20 days of the change.

§1.603 Interference between applications; subject matter of the interference.

Before an interference is declared between two or more applications, the examiner must be of the opinion that there is interfering subject matter claimed in the applications which is patentable to each applicant subject to a judgment in the interference. The interfering subject matter shall be defined by one or more counts. Each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Each application must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim which corresponds to each count. All claims in the applications which define the same patentable invention as a count shall be designated to correspond to the count.

§1.604 Request for interference between applications by an applicant.

(a) An applicant may seek to have an interference declared with an application of another by (1) suggesting a proposed count and presenting a claim corresponding to the proposed count, (2) identifying the other application and, if known, a claim in the other application which corresponds to the proposed count, and (3) explaining why an interference should be declared.

(b) When an applicant presents a claim known to the applicant to define the same patentable invention claimed in a pending application of another, the applicant shall identify that pending application, unless the claim is presented in response to a suggestion by the examiner. The examiner shall notify the Commissioner of any instance where it appears an applicant may have failed to comply with the provisions of this paragraph.

§1.605 Suggestion of claim to applicant by examiner.

(a) The examiner may suggest that an applicant present a claim in an application for the purpose of an interference with another application or a patent. The applicant to whom the claim is suggested shall amend the application by presenting the suggested claim within a time specified by the examiner, not less than one month. Failure or refusal of an applicant to timely present the suggested claim shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the invention defined by the suggested claim. At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also (1) call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or which are presented with the suggested claim and (2) explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be included in any interference which may be declared.

(b) The suggestion of a claim by the examiner for the purpose of an interference will not stay the period for response to any outstanding Office action. When a suggested claim is timely presented, ex parte proceedings in the application will be stayed pending a determination of whether an interference will be declared.

§1.606 Interference between an application and a patent; subject matter of the interference.

Before an interference is declared between an application and an unexpired patent, an examiner must determine that there is interfering subject matter claimed in the application and the patent which is patentable to the applicant subject to a judgment in the interference. The interfering subject matter will be defined by one or more counts. Each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Any application must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim which corresponds to each count. All claims in the application and patent which define the same patentable invention as a count shall be designated to correspond to the count. At the time an interference is initially declared (§1.611), a count shall not be narrower in scope than any patent claim which corresponds to the count and any single patent claim will be presumed, subject to a motion under §1.633(c), not to contain separate patentable inventions.

§1.607 Request by applicant for interference with patent.

(a) An applicant may seek to have an interference declared between an application and an unexpired patent by (1) presenting a proposed count and a claim corresponding to the proposed count and, if any claim of the patent or application does not correspond exactly to the proposed count, explaining why an interference should be declared, (2) identifying the patent and indicating which claim in the application and which claim or claims of the patent correspond to the proposed count, and (3) applying the terms of the application claim corresponding to the count to the disclosure of the application.

(b) When an applicant seeks an interference with a patent, examination of the application, including any appeal to the Board, shall be conducted with special dispatch within the Patent and Trademark Office. The examiner shall determine whether there is interfering subject matter claimed in the application and the patent which is patentable to the applicant subject to a judgment in an interference. If the examiner determines that there is any interfering subject matter, an interference will be declared. If the examiner determines that there is no interfering subject matter, the examiner shall state the reasons why an interference is not being declared and otherwise act on the application.

(c) When an applicant presents a claim which corresponds exactly or substantially to a claim of a patent, the applicant shall identify the patent and the number of the patent claim, unless the claim is presented in response to a suggestion by the examiner. The examiner shall notify the Commissioner of any instance where an applicant fails to identify the patent.

(d) A notice that an applicant is seeking to provoke an interference with a patent will be placed in the file of the patent and a copy of the notice will be sent to the patentee. The identity of the applicant will not be disclosed unless an interference is declared. If a final decision is made not to declare an interference, a notice to that effect will be placed in the patent file and will be sent to the patentee.

§1.608 Interference between an application and a patent; prima facie showing by applicant.

(a) When the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of an application is three months or less after the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of a patent, the applicant, before an interference will be declared, shall file an affidavit alleging that there is a basis upon which applicant is entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee.

(b) When the earlier of the filing date or the effective filing date of an application is more than three months after the earlier of the filing date or the effective filing date under 35 U.S.C. §120 of a patent, the applicant, before an interference will be declared, shall file (1) evidence which may consist of patents or printed publications, other documents, and one or more affidavits which demonstrate that applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee and (2) an explanation stating with particularity the basis upon which the applicant is prima facie entitled to the judgment. Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the patent. To facilitate preparation of a record (§1.653(g) and (h)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 8-1/2 x

11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.). The significance of any printed publication or other document which is self-authenticating within the meaning of Rule 902 of the Federal Rules of Evidence or §1.671(d) and any patent shall be discussed in an affidavit or the explanation. Any printed publication or other document which is not self-authenticating shall be authenticated and discussed with particularity in an affidavit. Upon a showing of sufficient cause, an affidavit may be based on information and belief. If a examiner finds an application to be in condition for declaration of an interference, the examiner will consider the evidence and explanation only to the extent of determining whether a basis upon which the applicant would be entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee is alleged and, if a basis is alleged, an interference may be declared.

§1.609 Preparation of interference papers by examiner.

When the examiner determines that an interference should be declared, the examiner shall forward to the Board:

(a) All relevant application and patent files and

(b) A statement identifying:

(1) The proposed count or counts;

(2) The claims of any application or patent which correspond to each count, stating whether the claims correspond exactly or substantially to each count;

(3) The claims in any application which are deemed by the examiner to be patentable over any count; and

(4) Whether an applicant or patentee is entitled to the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application and, if so, sufficient information to identify the earlier application.

§1.610 Assignment of interference to examiner-in-chief, time period for completing interference.

(a) Each interference will be declared by an examiner-in-chief who may enter all interlocutory orders in the interference, except that only a panel consisting of at least three members of the Board shall (1) hear oral argument at final hearing, (2) enter a decision under §§1.617, 1.640(c) or (e), 1.652, 1.656(i) or 1.658 or (3) enter any other order which terminates the interference.

(b) As necessary, another examiner-in-chief may act in place of the one who declared the interference. Unless otherwise provided in this section, at the discretion of the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference, a panel consisting of two or more members of the Board may enter interlocutory orders.

(c) Unless otherwise provided in this subpart, times for taking action by a party in the interference will be set on a case-by-case basis by the examiner-in-chief assigned to the interference. Times for taking action shall be set and the examiner-in-chief shall exercise control over the interference such that the pendency of the interference before the Board does not normally exceed two years.

(d) An examiner-in-chief may hold a conference with the parties to consider: (1) simplification of any issues, (2) the necessity or desirability of amendments to counts, (3) the possibility of obtaining admissions of fact and genuineness of documents which will avoid unnecessary proof, (4) any limitations on the number of expert witnesses, (5) the time and place for conducting a deposition (§1.673(g)), and (6) any other matter as may aid in the disposition of the interference. After a conference, the examiner-in-chief may enter any order which may be appropriate.

(e) The examiner-in-chief may determine a proper course of conduct in an interference for any situation not specifically covered by this part.

§1.611 Declaration of interference.

(a) Notice of declaration of an interference will be sent to each party.

(b) When a notice of declaration is returned to the Patent and Trademark Office undelivered, or in any other circumstance where appropriate, an examiner-in-chief may (1) send a copy of the notice to a patentee named in a patent involved in an interference or the patentee's assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office or (2) order publication of an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette.

(c) The notice of declaration shall specify:

(1) the name and residence of each party involved in the interference;

(2) the name and address of record of any attorney or agent of record in any application or patent involved in the interference;

(3) the name of any assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office;

(4) the identity of any application or patent involved in the interference;

(5) where a party is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application, the identity of the earlier application;

(6) the count or counts;

(7) the claim or claims of any application or any patent which correspond to each count; and

(8) the order of the parties.

(d) The notice of declaration may also specify the time for: (1) filing a preliminary statement as provided in §1.621(a); (2) serving notice that a preliminary statement has been filed as provided §1.621(b); and (3) filing preliminary motions authorized by §1.633, oppositions to the motions, and replies to the oppositions.

(e) Notice may be given in the Official Gazette that an interference has been declared involving a patent.

§1.612 Access to applications.

(a) After an interference is declared, each party shall have access to and may obtain copies of the files of any application set out in the notice declaring the interference, except for affidavits filed under §1.131 and any evidence and explanation under §1.608(b) filed separate from an amendment.

(b) After preliminary motions under §1.633 are decided (§1.640(b)), each party shall have access to and may obtain copies of any affidavit filed under §1.131 and any evidence and explanation filed under §1.608(b) in any application set out in the notice declaring the interference.

(c) Any evidence and explanation filed under §1.608(b) in the file of any application identified in the notice declaring the interference shall be served when required by §1.617(b).

(d) The parties at any time may agree to exchange copies of papers in the files of any application identified in the notice declaring the interference.

§1.613 Lead attorney, same attorney representing different parties in an interference, withdrawal of attorney or agent.

(a) Each party may be required to designate one attorney or agent of record as the lead attorney or agent.

(b) The same attorney or agent or members of the same firm of attorneys or agents may not represent two or more parties in an interference except as may be permitted under this Chapter.

(c) An examiner-in-chief may make necessary inquiry to determine whether an attorney or agent should be disqualified from representing a party in an interference. If an examiner-in-chief is of the opinion that an attorney or agent should be disqualified, the examiner-in-chief shall refer the matter to the Commissioner. The Commissioner will make a final decision as to whether any attorney or agent should be disqualified.

(d) No attorney or agent of record in an interference may withdraw as attorney or agent of record except with the approval of an examiner-in-chief and after reasonable notice to the party on whose behalf the attorney or agent has appeared. A request to withdraw as attorney or agent of record in an interference shall be made by motion (§1.635).

§1.614 Jurisdiction over interference.

(a) The Board shall assume jurisdiction over an interference when the interference is declared under §1.611.

(b) When the interference is declared the interference is a contested case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. §24.

(c) The examiner shall have jurisdiction over any pending application until the interference is declared. An examiner-in-chief, where appropriate, may for a limited purpose restore jurisdiction to the examiner over any application involved in the interference.

§1.615 Suspension of ex parte prosecution.

(a) When an interference is declared, ex parte prosecution of an application involved in the interference is suspended. Amendments and other papers related to the application received during pendency of the int be entered or considered in the interference without the consent of an examiner-in-chief.

(b) Ex parte prosecution as to specified matters may be continued concurrently with the interference with the consent of the examiner-in-chief.

§1.616 Sanctions for failure to comply with rules or order.

An examiner-in-chief or the Board may impose an appropriate sanction against a party who fails to comply with the regulations of this part or any order entered by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. An appropriate sanction may include among others entry of an order:

(a) holding certain facts to have been established in the interference;

(b) precluding a party from filing a motion or a preliminary statement;

(c) precluding a party from presenting or contesting a particular issue;

(d) precluding a party from requesting, obtaining, or opposing discovery; or

(e) granting judgment in the interference.

§1.617 Summary judgment against applicant

(a) An examiner-in-chief shall review any evidence filed by an applicant under §1.608(b) to determine if the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. If the examiner-in-chief determines that the evidence shows the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the interference shall proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part. If in the opinion of the examiner-in-chief the evidence fails to show that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the examiner-in-chief shall, concurrently with the notice declaring the interference, enter an order stating the reasons for the opinion and directing the applicant, within a time set in the order, to show cause why summary judgment should not be entered against the applicant.

(b) The applicant may file a response to the order and state any reasons why summary judgment should not be entered. Any request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board shall be made in the response. Additional evidence shall not be presented by the applicant or considered by the Board unless the applicant shows good cause why any additional evidence was not initially presented with the evidence filed under §1.608(b). At the time an applicant files a response, the applicant shall serve a copy of any evidence filed under §1.608(b) and this paragraph.

(c) If a response is not timely filed by the applicant, the Board shall enter a final decision granting summary judgment against the applicant.

(d) If a response is timely filed by the applicant, all opponents may file a statement within a time set by the examiner-in-chief. The statement may set forth views as to why summary judgment should be granted against the applicant, but the statement shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the examiner-in-chief for issuing the order to show cause. Evidence shall not be filed by any opponent. An opponent may not request an oral hearing.

(e) Within a time authorized by the examiner-in-chief, an applicant may file a reply to any statement filed by any opponent.

(f) When more than two parties are involved in an interference, all parties may participate in summary judgment proceedings under this section.

(g) If a response by the applicant is timely filed, the examiner-in-chief or the Board shall decide whether the evidence submitted under §1.608(b) and any additional evidence properly submitted under paragraph (b) of this section shows that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. If the applicant is not prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the Board shall enter a final decision granting summary judgment against the applicant. Otherwise, an interlocutory order shall be entered authorizing the interference to proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part.

(h) Only an applicant who filed evidence under §1.608(b) may request a hearing. If that applicant requests a hearing, the Board may hold a hearing prior to entry of a decision under paragraph (g) of this section. The examiner-in-chief shall set a date and time for the hearing. Unless otherwise ordered by the examiner-in-chief or the Board, the applicant and any opponent will each be entitled to no more than 30 minutes of oral argument at the hearing.

§1.618 Return of unauthorized papers.

(a) The Patent and Trademark Office shall return to a party any paper presented by the party when the filing of the paper is not authorized by, or is not in compliance with the requirements of, this subpart. Any paper returned will not thereafter be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office in the interference. A party may be permitted to file a corrected paper under such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by an examiner-in-chief.

(b) When presenting a paper in an interference, a party shall not submit with the paper a copy of a paper previously filed in the interference.

§1.621 Preliminary statement, time for filing, notice of filing.

(a) Within the time set for filing preliminary motions under §1.633, each party may file a preliminary statement. The preliminary statement may be signed by any individual having knowledge of the facts recited therein or an attorney or agent of record.

(b) When a party files a preliminary statement the party shall also simultaneously file and serve on all opponents in the interference a notice stating that a preliminary statement has been filed. A copy of the preliminary statement need not be served until ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

§1.622 Preliminary statement, who made invention, where invention made.

(a) A party's preliminary statement must identify the inventor who made the invention defined by each count and must state on behalf of the inventor the facts required by paragraph (a) of §§1.623, 1.624, and 1.625 as may be appropriate. When an inventor identified in the preliminary statement is not an inventor named in the party's application or patent, the party shall file a motion under §1.634 to correct inventorship.

(b) The preliminary statement shall state whether the invention was made in the United States or abroad. If made abroad, the preliminary statement shall state whether the party is entitled to the benefit of the second sentence of 35 U.S.C. §104.

§1.623 Preliminary statement; invention made in United States.

(a) When the invention was made in the United States or a party is entitled to the benefit of the second sentence of 35 U.S.C. §104, the preliminary statement must state the following facts as to the invention defined by each count:

(1) The date on which the first drawing of the invention was made.

(2) The date on which the first written description of the invention was made.

(3) The date on which the invention was first disclosed by the inventor to another person.

(4) The date on which the invention was first conceived by the inventor.

(5) The date on which the invention was first actually reduced to practice. If the invention was not actually reduced to practice by or on behalf of the inventor prior to the party's filing date, the preliminary statement shall so state.

(6) The date after the inventor's conception of the invention when active exercise of reasonable diligence toward reducing the invention to practice began.

(b) If a party intends to prove derivation, the preliminary statement must also comply with §1.625.

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(1) of this section that a drawing was made, a copy of the first drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a written description of the invention was made, a copy of the first written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See §1.628(b) when a copy of the first drawing or written description cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

§1.624 Preliminary statement; invention made abroad.

(a) When the invention was made abroad and a party intends to rely on introduction of the invention into the United States, the preliminary statement must state the following facts as to the invention defined by each count:

(1) The date on which a drawing of the invention was first introduced into the United States.

(2) The date on which a written description of the invention was first introduced into the United States.

(3) The date on which the invention was first disclosed to another person in the United States.

(4) The date on which the inventor's conception of the invention was first introduced into the United States.

(5) The date on which an actual reduction to practice of the invention was first introduced into the United States. If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, the preliminary statement shall so state.

(6) The date after introduction of the inventor's conception into the United States when active exercise of reasonable diligence in the United States toward reducing the invention to practice began.

(b) If a party intends to prove derivation, the preliminary statement must also comply with §1.625.

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(1) of this section that a drawing was introduced into the United States a copy of that drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a written description of the invention was introduced into the United States a copy of that written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See §1.628(b) when a copy of the first drawing or first written description introduced in the United States cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

§1.625 Preliminary statement; derivation by an opponent.

(a) When the invention was made in the United States or abroad and a party intends to prove derivation by an opponent from the party, the preliminary statement must state the following as to the invention defined by each count:

(1) The name of the opponent.

(2) The date on which the first drawing of the invention was made.

(3) The date on which the first written description of the invention was made.

(4) The date on which the invention was first disclosed by the inventor to another person.

(5) The date on which the invention was first conceived by the inventor.

(6) The date on which the invention was first communicated to the opponent.

(b) If a party intends to prove priority, the preliminary statement must also comply with §1.623 or §1.624.

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a drawing was made, a copy of the first drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(3) of this section that a written description of the invention was made, a copy of the first written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See §1.628(b) when a first drawing or first written description cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

§1.626 Preliminary statement; earlier application.

When a party does not intend to present evidence to prove a conception or an actual reduction to practice and the party intends to rely solely on the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad to prove a constructive reduction to practice, the preliminary statement may so state and identify the earlier application with particularity.

§1.627 Preliminary statement, sealing before filing, opening of statement.

(a) The preliminary statement and copies of any drawing or written description shall be filed in a sealed envelope bearing only the name of the party filing the statement and the style (e.g., Jones v. Smith) and number of the interference. The sealed envelope should contain only the preliminary statement and copies of any drawing or written description. If the preliminary statement is filed through the mail, the sealed envelope should be enclosed in an outer envelope addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks in accordance with §1.1(e).

(b) A preliminary statement may be opened only at the direction of an examiner-in-chief.

§1.628 Preliminary statement, correction of error.

(a) A material error arising through inadvertence or mistake in connection with (1) a preliminary statement or (2) drawings or a written description submitted therewith or omitted therefrom, may be corrected by a motion (§1.635) for leave to file a corrected statement. The motion shall be supported by an affidavit and shall show that the correction is essential to the ends of justice and shall be accompanied by the corrected statement. The motion shall be filed as soon as practical after discovery of the error.

(b) When a party cannot attach a copy of a drawing or a written description to the party's preliminary statement as required by §§1.623(c), 1.624(c), or 1.625(c), the party (1) shall show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and (2) shall attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States which is available. The party shall file a motion (§1.635) to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the first drawing, first written description, or drawing or written description first introduced into the United States becomes available. A copy of the drawing or written description may be obtained, where appropriate, by a motion (§1.635) for additional discovery under §1.687 or during a testimony period.

§1.629 Effect of preliminary statement.

(a) A party shall be strictly held to any date alleged in the preliminary statement. Doubts as to (1) definiteness or sufficiency of any allegation in a preliminary statement or (2) compliance with formal requirements will be resolved against the party filing the statement by restricting the party to the earlier of its filing date or effective filing date or to the latest date of a period alleged in the preliminary statement as may be appropriate. A party may not correct a preliminary statement except as provided by §1.628.

(b) Evidence which shows that an act alleged in the preliminary statement occurred prior to the date alleged in the statement shall establish only that the act occurred as early as the date alleged in the statement.

(c) If a party does not file a preliminary statement, the party:

(1) shall be restricted to the earlier of the party's filing date or effective filing date and

(2) will not be permitted to prove that:

(i) the party made the invention prior to the party's filing date or

(ii) any opponent derived the invention from the party.

(d) If a party files a preliminary statement which contains an allegation of a date of first drawing or first written description and the party does not file a copy of the first drawing or written description with the preliminary statement as required by §1.623(c), §1.624(c), or §1.625(c), the party will be restricted to the earlier of the party's filing date or effective filing date as to that allegation unless the party complies with §1.628(b). The content of any drawing or written description submitted with a preliminary statement will not normally be evaluated or considered by the Board.

(e) A preliminary statement shall not be used as evidence on behalf of the party filing the statement.

§1.630 Reliance on earlier application.

A party shall not be entitled to rely on the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad unless (a) the earlier application is identified (§1.611(c)(5)) in the notice declaring the interference or (b) the party files a preliminary motion under §1.633 seeking the benefit of the filing date of the earlier application.

§1.631 Access to preliminary statement, service of preliminary statement.

(a) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, concurrently with entry of a decision by the examiner-in-chief on preliminary motions filed under §1.633, any preliminary statement filed under §1.621(a) shall be opened to inspection by the senior party and any junior party who filed a preliminary statement. Within a time set by the examiner-in-chief, a party shall serve copies of its preliminary statement on every opponent who served a notice under §1.621(b).

(b) A junior party who does not file a preliminary statement shall not have access to the preliminary statement of any other party.

(c) If an interference is terminated before the preliminary statements have been opened, the preliminary statements will remain sealed and will be returned to the respective parties who submitted the statements.

§1.632 Notice of intent to argue abandonment, suppression or concealment by opponent.

A notice shall be filed by a party who intends to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice (35 U.S.C. §102(g)). A party will not be permitted to argue abandonment, suppression, or concealment by an opponent unless the notice is timely filed. Unless authorized otherwise by an examiner-in-chief, a notice is timely when filed within ten (10) days of the close of the testimony-in-chief of the opponent.

§1.633 Preliminary Motions.

A party may file the following preliminary motions:

(a) A motion for judgment on the ground that an opponent's claim corresponding to a count is not patentable to the opponent. In determining a motion filed under this paragraph, a claim may be construed by reference to the prior art of record. A motion under this paragraph shall not be based on: (1) priority of invention of the subject matter of a count by the moving party as against any opponent or (2) derivation of the subject matter of a count by an opponent from the moving party. See §1.637(a)

(b) A motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact. A motion under this paragraph is proper only if: (1) the interference involves a design application or patent or a plant application or patent or (2) no claim of a party which corresponds to a count is identical to any claim of an opponent which corresponds to that count. See §1.637(a)

(c) A motion to redefine the interfering subject matter by (1) adding or substituting a count, (2) amending an application claim corresponding to a count or adding a claim in the moving party's application to be designated to correspond to a count, (3) designating an application or patent claim to correspond to a count, (4) designating an application or patent claim as not corresponding to a count, or (5) requiring an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and to designate the claim to correspond to a count. See §1.637(a) and (c).

(d) A motion to substitute a different application owned by a party for an application involved in the interference. See §1.637(a) and (d).

(e) A motion to declare an additional interference (1) between an additional application not involved in the interference and owned by a party and an opponent's application or patent involved in the interference or (2) when an interference involves three or more parties, between less than all applications and any patent involved in the interference. See §1.637(a) and (e).

(f) A motion to be accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad. See §1.637(a) and (f).

(g) A motion to attack the benefit accorded an opponent in the notice declaring the interference of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad. See §1.637(a) and (g).

(h) When a patent is involved in an interference and the patentee has on file or files an application for reissue under §1.171, a motion to add the application for reissue to the interference. See §1.637(a) and (h).

(i) When a motion is filed under paragraph (a), (b), or (g) of this section, an opponent, in addition to opposing the motion, may file a motion to redefine the interfering subject matter under paragraph (c) of this section or a motion to substitute a different application under paragraph (d) of this section.

(j) When a motion is filed under paragraph (c)(1) of this section an opponent, in addition to opposing the motion, may file a motion for benefit under paragraph

(f) of this section as to the count to be added or substituted.

§1.634 Motion to correct inventorship.

A party may file a motion to (a) amend its application involved in an interference to correct inventorship as provided by §1.48 or (b) correct inventorship of its patent involved in an interference as provided in §1.324. See §1.637(a).

§1.635 Miscellaneous motions.

A party seeking entry of an order relating to any matter other than a matter which may be raised under §§1.633 or 1.634 may file a motion requesting entry of the order. See §1.637(a) and (b).

§1.636 Motions, time for filing.

(a) A preliminary motion under §1.633(a) through (h) shall be filed within a time period set by an examiner-in-chief.

(b) A preliminary motion under §1.633(i) or (j) shall be filed within 20 days of the service of the preliminary motion under §1.633(a), (b), or (g) unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(c) A motion under §1.634 shall be diligently filed after an error is discovered in the inventorship of an application or patent involved in an interference unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(d) A motion under §1.635 shall be filed as specified in this subpart or when appropriate unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

§1.637 Content of motions.

(a) Every motion shall include (1) a statement of the precise relief requested, (2) a statement of the material facts in support of the motion, and (3) a full statement of the reasons why the relief requested should be granted.

(b) A motion under §1.635 shall contain a certificate by the moving party stating that the moving party has conferred with all opposing parties in an effort in good faith to resolve by agreement the issues raised by the motion. A moving party shall indicate in the motion whether any other party plans to oppose the motion. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a motion to suppress evidence (§1.656(h)).

(c) A preliminary motion under §1.633(c) shall explain why the interfering subject matter should be redefined.

(1) A preliminary motion seeking to add or substitute a count shall:

(i) Propose each count to be added or substituted.

(ii) When the moving party is an applicant, show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the party's application which correspond to each proposed count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the party's application; when necessary a moving party applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding any proposed claim to the application.

(iii) Identify all claims in an opponent's application which should be designated to correspond to each proposed count; if an opponent's application does not contain such a claim, the moving party shall propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application. The moving party shall show the patentability of any proposed claims to the opponent and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(iv) Designate the claims of any patent involved in the interference which define the same patentable invention as each proposed count.

(v) Show that each proposed count defines a separate patentable invention from every other count in the interference.

(vi) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(2) A preliminary motion seeking to amend an application claim corresponding to a count or adding a claim to be designated to correspond to a count shall:

(i) Propose an amended or added claim.

(ii) Show that the proposed or added claim defines the same patentable invention as the count.

(iii) Show the patentability to the applicant of each amended or added claim and apply the terms of the amended or added claim to the disclosure of the application; when necessary a moving party applicant shall file with the motion an amendment making the amended or added claim to the application.

(iv) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(3) A preliminary motion seeking to designate an application or patent claim to correspond to a count shall:

(i) Identify the claim and the count.

(ii) Show the claim defines the same patentable invention as the count.

(iii) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(4) A preliminary motion seeking to designate an application or patent claim as not corresponding to a count shall:

(i) Identify the claim and the count.

(ii) Show the claim does not define the same patentable invention as any other claim designated in the notice declaring the interference as corresponding to the count.

(5) A preliminary motion seeking to require an opponent who is an applicant to add a claim and designate the claim as corresponding to a count shall:

(i) Propose a claim to be added by the opponent.

(ii) Show the patentability to the opponent of the claim and apply the terms of the claim to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(iii) Identify the count to which the claim shall be designated to correspond.

(iv) Show the claim defines the same patentable invention as the count to which it will be designated to correspond.

(d) A preliminary motion under §1.633(d) to substitute a different application shall:

(1) Identify the different application.

(2) Certify that a complete copy of the file of the different application, except for documents filed under §1.131 or §1.608(b), has been served on all opponents.

(3) Show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the different application which correspond to each count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the different application; when necessary the applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding a claim to the different application.

(4) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(e) A preliminary motion to declare an additional interference under §1.633(e) shall explain why an additional interference is necessary:

(1) When the preliminary motion seeks an additional interference under §1.633(e)(1), the motion shall:

(i) Identify the additional application.

(ii) Certify that a complete copy of the file of the additional application, except for documents filed under §§1.131 or 1.608(b), has been served on all opponents.

(iii) Propose a count for the additional interference.

(iv) Show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the additional application which correspond to each proposed count for the additional interference and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the additional application; when necessary the applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding a claim to the additional application.

(v) When the opponent is an applicant, show the patentability to the opponent of any claims in, or proposed to be added to, the opponent's application which correspond to the proposed count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(vi) When the opponent is a patentee, designate the claims of the patent which define the same patentable invention defined by the proposed count.

(vii) Show that each proposed count for the additional interference defines a separate patentable invention from all counts of the interference in which the motion is filed.

(viii) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(2) When the preliminary motion seeks an additional interference under §1.633(e)(2), the motion shall:

(i) Identify any application or patent to be involved in the additional interference.

(ii) Propose a count for the additional interference.

(iii) When the moving party is an applicant, show the patentability to the applicant of all claims in, or proposed to be added to the party's application which correspond to each proposed count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the party's application; when necessary a moving party applicant shall file with the motion an amendment adding any proposed claim to the application.

(iv) Identify all claims in any opponent's application which should be designated to correspond to each proposed count; if an opponent's application does not contain such a claim, the moving party shall propose a claim to be added to the opponent's application. The moving party shall show the patentability of any proposed claims to the opponent and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the opponent's application.

(v) Designate the claims of any patent involved in the interference which define the same patentable invention as each proposed count.

(vi) Show that each proposed count for the additional interference defines a separate patentable invention from all counts in the interference in which the motion is filed.

(vii) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

(f) A preliminary motion for benefit under §1.633(f) shall:

(1) Identify the earlier application.

(2) When the earlier application is an application filed in the United States, certify that a complete copy of the file of the earlier application, except for documents filed under §1.131 or §1.608(b), has been served on all opponents. When the earlier application is an application filed abroad, certify that a copy of the application filed abroad has been served on all opponents. If the earlier application filed abroad is not in English, the requirements of §1.647 must also be met.

(3) Show that the earlier application constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of each count.

(g) A preliminary motion to attack benefit under §1.633(g) shall explain, as to each count, why an opponent should not be accorded the benefit of the filing date of the earlier application.

(h) A preliminary motion to add an application for reissue under §1.633(h) shall:

(1) Identify the application for reissue.

(2) Certify that a complete copy of the file of the application for reissue has been served on all opponents.

(3) Show the patentability of all claims in, or proposed to be added to, the application for reissue which correspond to each count and apply the terms of the claims to the disclosure of the application for reissue; when necessary a moving applicant for reissue shall file with the motion an amendment adding a claim to the application for reissue.

(4) Be accompanied by a motion under §1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application filed in the United States or abroad.

§1.638 Opposition and reply, time for filing opposition and reply.

(a) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, any opposition to any motion shall be filed within 20 days after service of the motion. An opposition shall (1) identify any material fact set forth in the motion which is in dispute and (2) include an argument why the relief requested in the motion should be denied.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, a reply shall be filed within 15 days after service of the opposition. A reply shall be directed only to new points raised in the opposition.

§1.639 Evidence in support of motion, opposition, or reply.

(a) Proof of any material fact alleged in a motion, opposition, or reply must be filed and served with the motion, opposition, or reply unless the proof relied upon is part of the interference file or the file of any patent or application involved in the interference or any earlier application filed in the United States of which a party has been accorded or seeks to be accorded benefit.

(b) Proof may be in the form of patents, printed publications, and affidavits.

(c) When a party believes that testimony is necessary to support or oppose a preliminary motion under §1.633 or a motion to correct inventorship under §1.634, the party shall describe the nature of the testimony needed. If the examiner-in-chief finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the examiner-in-chief may grant appropriate interlocutory relief and enter an order authorizing the taking of testimony and deferring a decision on the motion to final hearing.

§1.640 Motions, hearing and decision, redeclaration of interference, order to show cause.

(a) A hearing on a motion may be held in the discretion of the examiner-in-chief. The examiner-in-chief shall set the date and time for any hearing. The length of oral argument at a hearing on a motion is a matter within the discretion of the examiner-in-chief. An examiner-in-chief may direct that a hearing take place by telephone.

(b) Motions will be decided by an examiner-in-chief. An examiner-in-chief may consult with an examiner in deciding motions involving a question of patentability. An examiner-in-chief may grant or deny any motion or take such other action which will secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the interference.

(1) When preliminary motions under §1.633 are decided, the examiner-in-chief will, when necessary, set a time for filing any amendment to an application involved in the interference and for filing a supplemental preliminary statement as to any new counts involved in the interference. Failure or refusal of a party to timely present an amendment required by an examiner-in-chief shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by that party of the invention involved. A supplemental preliminary statement shall meet the requirements specified in §§1.623, 1.624, 1.625, or 1.626, but need not be filed if a party states that it intends to rely on a preliminary statement previously filed under §1.621(a). After the time expires for filing any amendment and supplemental preliminary statement, the examiner-in-chief will, if necessary, redeclare the interference.

(2) After a decision is entered on preliminary motions filed under §1.633, a further motion under

§1.633 will not be considered except as provided by §1.655(b).

(c) When a decision on any motion under §§1.633, 1.634, or 1.635 is entered which does not result in the issuance of an order to show cause under paragraph (d) of this section, a party may file a request for reconsideration within 14 days after the date of the decision. The filing of a request for reconsideration will not stay any time period set by the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. No opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed unless requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. A decision of single examiner-in-chief will not ordinarily be modified unless an opposition has been requested by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. The request for reconsideration shall be acted on by a panel of the Board consisting of at least three examiners-in-chief, one of whom will normally be the examiner-in-chief who decided the motion.

(d) An examiner-in-chief may issue an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered against a party when:

(1) A decision on a motion is entered which is dispositive of the interference against the party as to all counts;

(2) The party is a junior party who fails to file a preliminary statement; or

(3) The party is a junior party whose preliminary statement fails to overcome the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of another party.

(e) When an order to show cause is issued under paragraph (d) of this section, the Board shall enter a judgment in accordance with the order unless, within 20 days after the date of the order, the party against whom the order issued files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order. Any other party may file a response to the paper within 20 days of the date of service of the paper. If the party against whom the order was issued fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party. If a party wishes to take testimony in response to an order to show cause, the party's response should be accompanied by a motion (§1.635) requesting the testimony period. See §1.651(c)(4).

§1.641 Unpatentability discovered by examiner-in-chief

During the pendency of an interference, if the examiner-in-chief becomes aware of a reason why a claim corresponding to a count may not be patentable, the examiner-in-chief may notify the parties of the reason and set a time within which each party may present its views. After considering any timely filed views, the examiner-in-chief shall decide how the interference shall proceed.

§1.642 Addition of application or patent to interference.

During the pendency of an interference, if the examiner-in-chief becomes aware of an application or a patent not involved in the interference which claims the same patentable invention as a count in the interference, the examiner-in-chief may add the application or patent to the interference on such terms as may be fair to all parties.

§1.643 Prosecution of interference by assignee.

(a) An assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office of the entire interest in an application or patent involved in an interference is entitled to conduct prosecution of the interference to the exclusion of the inventor.

(b) An assignee of a part interest in an application or patent involved in an interference may file a motion (§1.635) for entry of an order authorizing it to prosecute the interference. The motion shall show (1) the inability or refusal of the inventor to prosecute the interference or (2) other cause why the ends of justice require that the assignee of a part interest be permitted to prosecute the interference. The examiner-in-chief may allow the assignee of a part interest to prosecute the interference upon such terms as may be appropriate.

§1.644 Petitions in interferences.

(a) There is no appeal to the Commissioner in an interference from a decision of an examiner-in-chief or a panel consisting of more than one examiner-in-chief. The Commissioner will not consider a petition in an interference unless:

(1) The petition is from a decision of an examiner-in-chief or a panel and the examiner-in-chief or the panel shall be of the opinion (i) that the decision involves a controlling question of procedure or an interpretation of a rule as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and (ii) that an immediate decision on petition by the Commissioner may materially advance the ultimate termination of the interference;

(2) The petition seeks to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner and is not filed prior to the decision of the Board awarding judgment and does not relate to (i) the merits of priority of invention or patentability or (ii) the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence; or

(3) The petition seeks relief under §1.183.

(b) A petition under paragraph (a)(1) of this section filed more than 15 days after the date of the decision of the examiner-in-chief or the panel may be dismissed as untimely. A petition under paragraph (a)(2) of this section shall not be filed prior to decision by the Board awarding judgment. Any petition under paragraph (a)(3) of this section shall be timely if it is made as part of, or simultaneously with, a proper motion under §§1.633, 1.634, or 1.635. Any opposition to a petition shall be filed within 15 days of the date of service of the petition.

(c) The filing of a petition shall not stay the proceeding unless a stay is granted in the discretion of the examiner-in-chief, the panel, or the Commissioner.

(d) Any petition must contain a statement of the facts involved and the point or points to be reviewed and the action requested. Briefs or memoranda, if any, in support of the petition or opposition shall accompany or be embodied therein. The petition will be decided on the basis of the record made before the examiner-in-chief or the panel and no new evidence will be considered by the Commissioner in deciding the petition. Copies of documents already of record in the interference shall not be submitted with the petition or opposition.

(e) Any petition under paragraph (a) of this section shall be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in §1.17(h).

(f) Any request for reconsideration of a decision by the Commissioner shall be filed within 15 days of the decision of the Commissioner and must be accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h). No opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed unless requested by the Commissioner. The decision will not ordinarily be modified unless such an opposition has been requested by the Commissioner.

(g) Where reasonably possible, service of any petition, opposition, or request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished within one working day. Service by hand or "Express Mail" complies with this paragraph.

(h) An oral hearing on the petition will not be granted except when considered necessary by the Commissioner.

(i) The Commissioner may delegate to appropriate Patent and Trademark Office employees the determination of petitions under this section.

§1.645 Extension of time, late papers, stay of proceedings.

(a) A party may file a motion (§1.635) seeking an extension of time to take action in an interference, to file a notice of appeal (§§1.302, 1.304), or to commence a civil action (§1.303, 1.304). The motion shall be filed within sufficient time to actually reach the examiner-in-chief before expiration of the time for taking action, filing the notice, or commencing the civil action. A moving party should not assume that the motion will be granted even if there is no objection by any other party. The motion will be denied unless the moving party shows good cause why an extension should be granted. The press of other business arising after an examiner-in-chief sets a time for taking action will not normally constitute good cause. A motion seeking additional time to take testimony because a party has not been able to procure the testimony of a witness shall set forth the name of the witness, any steps taken to procure the testimony of the witness, the dates on which the steps were taken, and the facts expected to be proved through the witness.

(b) Any paper belatedly filed will not be considered except upon motion (§1.635) which shows sufficient cause why the paper was not timely filed.

(c) The provisions of §1.136 do not apply to time periods in interferences.

(d) In an appropriate circumstance, an examiner-in-chief may stay proceedings in an interference.

§1.646 Service of papers, proof of service.

(a) A copy of every paper filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in an interference or an application or patent involved in the interference shall be served upon all other parties except:

(1) Preliminary statements when filed under §1.621; preliminary statements shall be served when service is ordered by an examiner-in-chief.

(2) Certified transcripts and exhibits which accompany the transcripts filed under §§1.676 or 1.684; copies of transcripts shall be served as part of a party's record under §1.653(c).

(b) Service shall be on an attorney or agent for a party. If there is no attorney or agent for the party, service shall be on the party. An examiner-in-chief may order additional service or waive service where appropriate.

(c) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, or except as otherwise provided by this part, service of a paper shall be made as follows:

(1) By handing a copy of the paper to the person served.

(2) By leaving a copy of the paper with someone employed by the person at the person's usual place of business.

(3) When the person served has no usual place of business, by leaving a copy of the paper at the person's residence with someone of suitable age and discretion then residing therein.

(4) By mailing a copy of the paper by first class mail; when service is by mail the date of mailing is regarded as the date of service.

(5) When it is shown to the satisfaction of an examiner-in-chief that none of the above methods of obtaining or serving the copy of the paper was successful, the examiner-in-chief may order service by publication of an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette.

(d) An examiner-in-chief may order that a paper be served by hand or "Express Mail".

(e) Proof of service must be made before a paper will be considered in an interference. Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the paper. Proof of service shall include the date and manner of service. In the case of personal service under paragraphs (c)(1) through (c)(3) of this section, proof of service shall include the names of any person served and the person who made the service. Proof of service may be made by an acknowledgment of service by or on behalf of the person served or a statement signed by the party or the party's attorney or agent containing the information required by this section. A statement of an attorney or agent attached to, or appearing in, the paper stating the date and manner of service will be accepted as prima facie proof of service.

§1.647 Translation of document in foreign language.

When a party relies on a document in a language other than English, a translation of the document into English and an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the translation shall be filed with the document.

§1.651 Setting times for discovery and taking testimony, parties entitled to take testimony.

(a) At an appropriate stage in an interference, an examiner-in-chief shall set (1) a time for filing motions (§1.635) for additional discovery under §1.687(c) and (2) testimony periods for taking any necessary testimony.

(b) Where appropriate, testimony periods will be set to permit a party to:

(1) present its case-in-chief and/or case-in-rebuttal and/or

(2) cross-examine an opponent's case-in-chief and/or a case-in-rebuttal.

(c) A party is not entitled to take testimony to present a case-in-chief unless:

(1) the examiner-in-chief orders the taking of testimony under §1.639(c);

(2) the party alleges in its preliminary statement a date of invention prior to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the senior party;

(3) a testimony period has been set to permit an opponent to prove a date of invention prior to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the party and the party has filed a preliminary statement alleging a date of invention prior to that date; or

(4) a motion (§1.635) is filed showing good cause why a testimony period should be set.

(d) Testimony shall be taken during the testimony periods set under paragraph (a) of this section.

§1.652 Judgment for failure to take testimony or file record.

If a junior party fails to timely take testimony authorized under §1.651, or file a record under §1.653(c), an examiner-in-chief, with or without a motion (§1.635) by another party, may issue an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered against the junior party. When an order is issued under this section, the Board shall enter judgment in accordance with the order unless, within 15 days after the date of the order, the junior party files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order. Any other party may file a response to the paper within 15 days of the date of service of the paper. If the party against whom the order was issued fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party.

§1.653 Record and exhibits.

(a) Testimony shall consist of affidavits under §1.672(b) and (e), transcripts of depositions under §§1.672(b) and (c), agreed statements of fact under §1.672(f), and transcripts of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers under §1.684(c).

(b) An affidavit shall be filed as set forth in §1.672(b) or (e). A certified transcript of a deposition including a deposition cross-examining an affiant, shall be filed as set forth in §1.676. An original agreed statement shall be filed as set forth in §1.672(f). A transcript of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers shall be filed as set forth under §1.684(c).

(c) In addition to the items specified in paragraph (b) of this section and within a time set by an examiner-in-chief each party shall file three copies and serve one copy of a record consisting of:

(1) An index of the names of each witness giving the pages of the record where the direct testimony and cross-examination of each witness begins.

(2) An index of exhibits briefly describing the nature of each exhibit and giving the page of the record where each exhibit is first identified and offered into evidence.

(3) The count or counts.

(4) Each (i) affidavit, (ii) transcript, including transcripts of cross-examination of any affiant, (iii) agreed statement relied upon by the party, and (iv) transcript of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers filed under paragraph (b) of this section.

(5) Each notice, official record, and publication relied upon by the party and filed under §1.682(a).

(6) Any evidence from another interference, proceeding, or action relied upon by the party under §1.683.

(7) Each request for an admission and the admission and each written interrogatory and the answer upon which a party intends to rely under §1.688.

(d) The pages of the record shall be consecutively numbered.

(e) The name of each witness shall appear at the top of each page of each affidavit or transcript.

(f) The record may be typewritten or printed.

(g) When the record is printed, it may be produced by standard typographical printing or by any process capable of producing a clear black permanent image. All printed matter except on covers must appear in at least 11 point type on opaque, unglazed paper. Margins must be justified. Footnotes may not be printed in type smaller than 9 point. The page size shall be 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.) with type matter 6-1/2 by 9-1/2 inches (16.5 by 24.1 cm.). The record shall be bound to lie flat when open.

(h) When the record is typewritten, it must be clearly legible on opaque, unglazed, durable paper approximately 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.) in size (letter size). Typing shall be double-spaced on one side of the paper in not smaller than pica-type with a margin of 1-1/2 inches (3.8 cm.) on the left-hand side of the page. The pages of the record shall be bound with covers at their left edges in such manner to lie flat when open in one or more volumes of convenient size (approximately 100 pages per volume is suggested). Multigraphed or otherwise reproduced copies conforming to the standards specified in this paragraph may be accepted.

(i) Each party shall file its exhibits with the record specified in paragraph (c) of this section. One copy of each documentary exhibit shall be served. Documentary exhibits shall be filed in an envelope or folder and shall not be bound as part of the record. Physical exhibits, if not filed by an officer under §1.676(d), shall be filed with the record. Each exhibit shall contain a label which identifies the party submitting the exhibit and an exhibit number, the style of the interference (e.g., Jones v. Smith), and the interference number. Where possible, the label should appear at the bottom right-hand corner of each documentary exhibit. Upon termination of an interference, an examiner-in-chief may return an exhibit to the party filing the exhibit. When any exhibit is returned, the examiner-in-chief shall enter an appropriate order indicating that the exhibit has been returned.

(j) Any testimony, record, or exhibit which does not comply with this section may be returned under §1.618(a).

§1.654 Final hearing.

(a) At an appropriate stage of the interference, the parties will be given an opportunity to appear before the Board to present oral argument at a final hearing. An examiner-in-chief shall set a date and time for final hearing. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief or the Board, each party will be entitled to no more than 60 minutes of oral argument at final hearing.

(b) The opening argument of a junior party shall include a fair statement of the junior party's case and the junior party's position with respect to the case presented on behalf of any other party. A junior party may reserve a portion of its time for rebuttal.

(c) A party shall not be entitled to argue that an opponent abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice unless a notice under §1.632 was timely filed.

(d) After final hearing, the interference shall be taken under advisement by the Board. No further paper shall be filed except under §1.658(b) or as authorized by an examiner-in-chief or the Board. No additional oral argument shall be had unless ordered by the Board.

§1.655 Matters considered in rendering a final decision.

(a) In rendering a final decision, the Board may consider any properly raised issue including (1) priority of invention, (2) derivation by an opponent from a party who filed a preliminary statement under §1.625, (3) patentability of the invention, (4) admissibility of evidence, (5) any interlocutory matter deferred to final hearing, and (6) any other matter necessary to resolve the interference. The Board may also consider whether any interlocutory order was manifestly erroneous or an abuse of discretion. All interlocutory orders shall be presumed to have been correct and the burden of showing manifest error or an abuse of discretion shall be on the party attacking the order.

(b) A party shall not be entitled to raise for consideration at final hearing a matter which properly could have been raised by a motion under §§1.633 or 1.634 unless (1) the motion was properly filed, (2) the matter was properly raised by a party in an opposition to a motion under §§1.633 or 1.634 and the motion was granted over the opposition, or (3) the party shows good cause why the issue was not timely raised by motion or opposition.

(c) To prevent manifest injustice, the Board may consider an issue even though it would not otherwise be entitled to consideration under this section.

§1.656 Briefs for final hearing.

(a) Each party shall be entitled to file briefs for final hearing. The examiner-in-chief shall determine the briefs needed and shall set the time and order for filing briefs.

(b) The opening brief of a junior party shall contain under appropriate headings and in the order indicated:

(1) A table of contents, with page references, and a table of cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes, and other authorities cited, with references to the pages of the brief where they are cited.

(2) A statement of the issues presented for decision in the interference.

(3) A statement of the facts relevant to the issues presented for decision with appropriate references to the record.

(4) An argument, which may be preceded by a summary, which shall contain the contentions of the party with respect to the issues to be decided, and the reasons therefor, with citations to the cases, statutes, other authorities, and parts of the record relied on.

(5) A short conclusion stating the precise relief requested.

(6) An appendix containing a copy of the counts.

(c) The opening brief of the senior party shall conform to the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section except:

(1) a statement of the issues and of the facts need not be made unless the party is dissatisfied with the statement in the opening brief of the junior party and

(2) an appendix containing a copy of the counts need not be included if the copy of the counts in the opening brief of the junior party is correct.

(d) Briefs may be printed or typewritten. If typewritten, legal-size paper may be used. The opening brief of each party in excess of 50 legal-size double-spaced typewritten pages or any other brief in excess of 25 legal-size double-space typewritten pages shall be printed unless a satisfactory reason be given why the brief should not be printed. Any printed brief shall comply with the requirements of §1.653(g). Any typewritten brief shall comply with the requirements of §1.653(h), except legal-size paper may be used and the binding and covers specified are not required.

(e) An original and three copies of each brief must be filed.

(f) Any brief which does not comply with the requirements of this section may be returned under §1.618(a).

(g) Any party, separate from its opening brief, but filed concurrently therewith, may file an original and three copies of concise proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law. Any proposed findings of fact shall be supported by specific references to the record. Any proposed conclusions of law shall be supported by citation of cases, statutes, or other authority. Any opposing party, separate from its opening or reply brief, but filed concurrently therewith, may file a paper accepting or objecting to any proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law; when objecting, a reason must be given. The Board may adopt the proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law in whole or in part.

(h) If a party wants the Board in rendering its final decision to rule on the admissibility of any evidence, the party shall file with its opening brief an original and three copies of a motion (§1.635) to suppress the evidence. The provisions of §1.637(b) do not apply to a motion to suppress under this paragraph. Any objection previously made to the admissibility of an opponent's evidence is waived unless the motion required by this paragraph is filed. An original and three copies of an opposition to the motion may be filed with an opponent's opening brief or reply brief as may be appropriate.

(i) When a junior party fails to timely file an opening brief, an order may issue requiring the junior party to show cause why the Board should not treat failure to file the brief as a concession of priority. If the junior party fails to respond within a time period set in the order, judgment may be entered against the junior party.

§1.657 Burden of proof as to date of invention.

A rebuttable presumption shall exist that, as to each count, the inventors made their invention in the chronological order of the earlier of their filing dates or effective filing dates. The burden of proof shall be upon a party who contends otherwise.

§1.658 Final decision.

(a) After final hearing, the Board shall enter a decision resolving the issues raised at final hearing. The decision may (1) enter judgment, in whole or in part, (2) remand the interference to an examiner-in-chief for further proceedings, or (3) take further action not inconsistent with law. A judgment as to a count shall state whether or not each party is entitled to a patent containing the claims in the party's patent or application which correspond to the count. When the Board enters a decision awarding judgment as to all counts, the decision shall be regarded as a final decision.

(b) Any request for reconsideration of a decision under paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed within 14 days after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. Any reply to a request for reconsideration shall be filed within 14 days of the date of service of the request for reconsideration. Where reasonably possible, service of the request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail." The Board shall enter a decision on the request for reconsideration. If the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision on the request for reconsideration significantly modifies its original decision under paragraph (a) of this section, the Board may designate the decision on the request for reconsideration as a new decision.

(c) A judgment in an interference settles all issues which (1) were raised and decided in the interference, (2) could have been properly raised and decided in the interference by a motion under §1.633 (a) through (d) and (f) through (j) or §1.634 and (3) could have been properly raised and decided in an additional interference with a motion under §1.633(e). A losing party who could have properly moved, but failed to move, under §§1.633 or 1.634, shall be estopped to take ex parte or inter partes action in the Patent and Trademark Office after the interference which is inconsistent with that party's failure to properly move, except that a losing party shall not be estopped with respect to any claims which correspond, or properly could have corresponded, to a count as to which that party was awarded a favorable judgment.

§1.659 Recommendation.

(a) Should the Board have knowledge of any ground for rejecting any application claim not involved in the judgment of the interference, it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim. Upon resumption of ex parte prosecution of the application, the examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection.

(b) Should the Board have knowledge of any ground for reexamination of a patent involved in the interference as to a patent claim not involved in the judgment of the interference, it may include in its decision a recommendation to the Commissioner that the patent be reexamined. The Commissioner will determine whether reexamination will be ordered.

(c) The Board may make any other recommendation to the examiner or the Commissioner as may be appropriate.

§1.660 Notice of reexamination, reissue, protest, or litigation.

(a) When a request for reexamination of a patent involved in an interference is filed, the patent owner shall notify the Board within 10 days of receiving notice that the request was filed.

(b) When an application for reissue is filed by a patentee involved in an interference, the patentee shall notify the Board within 10 days of the day the application for reissue is filed.

(c) When a protest under §1.291 is filed against an application involved in an interference, the applicant shall notify the Board within 10 days of receiving notice that the protest was filed.

(d) A party in an interference shall notify the Board promptly of any litigation related to any patent or application involved in an interference, including any civil action commenced under 35 U.S.C. §146.

§1.661 Termination of interference after judgment.

After a final decision is entered by the Board, an interference is considered terminated when no appeal (35 U.S.C. §141) or other review (35 U.S.C. §146) has been or can be taken or had.

§1.662 Request for entry of adverse judgment; reissue filed by patentee.

(a) A party may, at any time during an interference, request and agree to entry of an adverse judgment. The filing by an applicant or patentee of a written disclaimer of the invention defined by a count, concession of priority or unpatentability of the subject matter of a count, abandonment of the invention defined by a count, or abandonment of the contest as to a count will be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the applicant or patentee as to all claims which correspond to the count. Abandonment of an application by an applicant, other than an applicant for reissue having a claim of the patent sought to be reissued involved in the interference, will be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the applicant as to all claims corresponding to all counts. Upon the filing by a party of a request for entry of an adverse judgment, the Board may enter judgment against the party.

(b) If a patentee involved in an interference files an application for reissue during the interference and omits all claims of the patent corresponding to the counts of the interference for the purpose of avoiding the interference, judgment may be entered against the patentee. A patentee who files an application for reissue other than for the purpose of avoiding the interference shall timely file a preliminary motion under §1.633(h) or show good cause why the motion could not have been timely filed.

(c) The filing of a statutory disclaimer under 35 U.S.C. §253 by a patentee will delete any statutorily disclaimed claims from being involved in the interference. A statutory disclaimer will not be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the patentee unless it results in the deletion of all patent claims corresponding to a count.

§1.663 Status of claim of defeated applicant after interference.

Whenever an adverse judgment is entered as to a count against an applicant from which no appeal (35 U.S.C. §141) or other review (35 U.S.C. §146) has been or can be taken or had, the claims of the application corresponding to the count stand finally disposed of without further action by the examiner. Such claims are not open to further ex parte prosecution.

§1.664 Action after interference.

(a) After termination of an interference, the examiner will promptly take such action in any application previously involved in the interference as may be necessary. Unless entered by order of an examiner-in-chief, amendments presented during the interference shall not be entered, but may be subsequently presented by the applicant subject to the provisions of this part provided prosecution of the application is not otherwise closed.

(b) After judgment, the application of any party may be held subject to further examination, including an interference with another application.

§1.665 Second interference.

A second interference between the same parties will not be declared upon an application not involved in an earlier interference for an invention defined by a count of the earlier interference. See §1.658(c).

§1.666 Filing of interference settlement agreements.

(a) Any agreement or understanding between parties to an interference, including any collateral agreements referred to therein, made in connection with or in contemplation of the termination of the interference, must be in writing and a true copy thereof must be filed before the termination of the interference (§1.661) as between the parties to the agreement or understanding.

(b) If any party filing the agreement or understanding under paragraph (a) of this section so requests, the copy will be kept separate from the file of the interference, and made available only to Government agencies on written request, or to any person upon petition accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(i) and on a showing of good cause.

(c) Failure to file the copy of the agreement or understanding under paragraph (a) of this section will render permanently unenforceable such agreement or understanding and any patent of the parties involved in the interference or any patent subsequently issued on any application of the parties so involved. The Commissioner may, however, upon petition accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.17(h) and on a showing of good cause for failure to file within the time prescribed, permit the filing of the agreement or understanding during the six month period subsequent to the termination of the interference as between the parties to the agreement or understanding.

§1.671 Evidence must comply with rules.

(a) Evidence consists of testimony and exhibits, official records and publications filed under §1.682, evidence from another interference, proceeding, or action filed under §1.683, and discovery relied upon under §1.688, and the specification (including claims) and drawings of any application or patent:

(1) Involved in the interference.

(2) To which a party has been accorded benefit in the notice declaring the interference or by a preliminary motion granted under §1.633.

(3) For which a party has sought, but has been denied, benefit by a preliminary motion under §1.633.

(4) For which benefit was rescinded by a preliminary motion granted under §1.633.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this part, the Federal Rules of Evidence shall apply to interference proceedings. Those portions of the Federal Rules of Evidence relating to criminal actions, juries, and other matters not relevant to interferences shall not apply.

(c) Unless the context is otherwise clear, the following terms of the Federal Rules of Evidence shall be construed as follows:

(1) "Courts of the United States," "U.S. Magistrate," "court," "trial court," or "trier of fact" means examiner-in-chief or Board as may be appropriate.

(2) "Judge" means examiner-in-chief.

(3) "Judicial notice" means official notice.

(4) "Civil action," "civil proceeding," "action," or "trial," mean interference.

(5) "Appellate court" means United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or a United States district court when judicial review is under 35 U.S.C. §146.

(6) "Before the hearing" in Rule 703 means before giving testimony by oral deposition or affidavit.

(7) "The trial or hearing" in Rules 803(24) and 804(5) means the taking of testimony by oral deposition.

(d) Certification is not necessary as a condition to admissibility when the record is a record of the Patent and Trademark Office to which all parties have access.

(e) A party may not rely on an affidavit filed by that party during ex parte prosecution of an application, an affidavit under §1.608(b), or an affidavit under §1.639(b) unless (1) a copy of the affidavit is or has been served and (2) a written notice is filed prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period stating that the party intends to rely on the affidavit. When proper notice is given under this paragraph, the affidavit shall be deemed filed under §1.672(b). A copy of the affidavit shall be included in the record (§1.653).

(f) The significance of documentary and other exhibits shall be discussed with particularity by a witness during oral deposition or in an affidavit.

(g) A party must file a motion (§1.635) seeking permission from an examiner-in-chief prior to taking testimony or seeking documents or things under 35 U.S.C. §24. The motion shall describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing.

(h) Evidence which is not taken or sought and filed in accordance with this subpart shall not be admissible.

§1.672 Manner of taking testimony.

(a) Testimony of a witness may be taken by oral deposition or affidavit in accordance with this subpart.

(b) A party wishing to take the testimony of a witness whose testimony will not be compelled under 35 U.S.C. §24 may elect to present the testimony of the witness by affidavit or deposition. A party electing to present testimony of a witness by affidavit shall, prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period, file and serve an affidavit of the witness or, where appropriate, a notice under §1.671(e). To facilitate preparation of the record (§ 1.653(g) and (h)), a party should file an affidavit on paper which is 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm). A party shall not be entitled to rely on any document referred to in the affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any thing mentioned in the affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the thing. A thing is something other than a document. After the affidavit is filed and within a time set by an examiner-in-chief, any opponent may file a request to cross-examine the witness on oral deposition. If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall notice a deposition under §1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination by any opponent. Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition. At any deposition for the purpose of cross-examination of a witness whose testimony is presented by affidavit, the party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits filed under this paragraph, except to the extent necessary to conduct proper redirect. A party electing to present testimony of a witness by deposition shall notice a deposition of the witness under §1.673(a). The party who gives notice of a deposition shall be responsible for obtaining a court reporter and for filing a certified transcript of the deposition as required by §1.676.

(c) A party wishing to take the testimony of a witness whose testimony will be compelled under 35 U.S.C. §24 must first obtain permission from an examiner-in-chief under §1.671(g). If permission is granted, the party shall notice a deposition of the witness under §1.673 and may proceed under 35 U.S.C. §24. The testimony of the witness shall be taken on oral deposition.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this subpart, if the parties agree in writing, a deposition may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, at any place, upon any notice, and in any manner, and when so taken may be used like other depositions.

(e) If the parties agree in writing, the testimony of any witness may be submitted in the form of an affidavit without opportunity for cross-examination. The affidavit of the witness shall be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office.

(f) If the parties agree in writing, testimony may be submitted in the form of an agreed statement setting forth (1) how a particular witness would testify if called or (2) the facts in the case of one or more of the parties. The agreed statement shall be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. See §1.653(a).

§1.673 Notice of examination of witness.

(a) A party electing to take testimony of a witness by deposition shall, after complying with paragraphs (b) and (g) of this section, file and serve a single notice of deposition stating the time and place of each deposition to be taken. Depositions may be noticed for a reasonable time and place in the United States. Unless the parties agree in writing, a deposition may not be noticed for any other place without approval of an examiner-in-chief (see §1.684). The notice shall specify the name and address of each witness and the general nature of the testimony to be given by the witness. If the name of a witness is not known, a general description sufficient to identify the witness or a particular class or group to which the witness belongs may be given instead.

(b) Unless the parties agree otherwise, a party shall serve, but not file, at least three days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, if service is made by hand or "Express Mail," or at least ten days prior to the conference if service is made by any other means, the following:

(1) A list and copy of each document in the party's possession, custody, or control and upon which the party intends to rely at any deposition and

(2) A list of and a proffer of reasonable access to things in the party's possession, custody, or control and upon which the party intends to rely at any deposition.

(c) A party shall not be permitted to rely at any deposition on any witness not listed in the notice, or any document not served or any thing not listed as required by paragraph (b) of this section, (1) unless all opponents agree in writing or on the record to permit the party to rely on the witness, document, or thing or (2) except upon a motion (§1.635) promptly filed which is accompanied by any proposed notice, additional documents, or lists and which shows sufficient cause why the notice, documents, or lists were not served in accordance with this section.

(d) Each opposing party shall have a full opportunity to attend a deposition and cross-examine. If an opposing party attends a deposition of a witness not named in a notice and cross-examines the witness or fails to object to the taking of the deposition, the opposing party shall be deemed to have waived any right to object to the taking of the deposition for lack of proper notice.

(e) A party electing to present testimony by affidavit and who is required to notice depositions for the purpose of cross-examination under §1.672(b), shall, after complying with paragraph (g) of this section, file and serve a single notice of deposition stating the time and place of each cross-examination deposition to be taken.

(f) The parties shall nor take depositions in more than one place at the same time or so nearly at the same time that reasonable opportunity to travel from one place of deposition to another cannot be had.

(g) Before serving a notice of deposition and after complying with paragraph (b) of this section, a party shall have an oral conference with all opponents to attempt to agree on a mutually acceptable time and place for conducting the deposition. A certificate shall appear in the notice stating that the oral conference took place or explaining why the conference could not be had. If the parties cannot agree to a mutually acceptable place and time for conducting the deposition at the conference, the parties shall contact an examiner-in-chief who shall then designate the time and place for conducting the deposition.

(h) A copy of the notice of deposition shall be attached to the certified transcript of the deposition filed under §1.676(a).

§1.674 Persons before whom depositions may be taken.

(a) Within the United States or a territory or insular possession of the United States a deposition shall be taken before an officer authorized to administer oaths by the laws of the United States or of the place where the examination is held.

(b) Unless the parties agree in writing, the following persons shall not be competent to serve as an officer: (1) a relative or employee of a party, (2) a relative or employee of an attorney or agent of a party, or (3) a person interested, directly or indirectly, in the interference either as counsel, attorney, agent, or otherwise.

§1.675 Examination of witness, reading and signing transcript of deposition.

(a) Each witness before giving an oral deposition shall be duly sworn according to law by the officer before whom the deposition is to be taken.

(b) The testimony shall be taken in answer to interrogatories with any questions and answers recorded in their regular order by the officer or by some other person, who shall be subject to the provisions of §1.674(b), in the presence of the officer unless the presence of the officer is waived on the record by agreement of all parties.

(c) All objections made at the time of the deposition to the qualifications of the officer taking the deposition, the manner of taking it, the evidence presented, the conduct of any party, or any other objection to the proceeding shall be noted on the record by the officer. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to any objection.

(d) Unless the parties agree in writing or waive reading and signature by the witness on the record at the deposition, when the testimony has been transcribed a transcript of the deposition shall be read by the witness and then signed by the witness in the form of (1) an affidavit in the presence of any notary or (2) a declaration.

§1.676 Certification and filing by officer, marking exhibits.

(a) The officer shall prepare a certified transcript of the deposition by attaching to a transcript of the deposition a copy of the notice of deposition, any exhibits to be annexed to the certified transcript, and a certificate signed and sealed by the officer and showing:

(1) The witness was duly sworn by the officer before commencement of testimony by the witness.

(2) The transcript is a true record of the testimony given by the witness.

(3) The name of the person by whom the testimony was recorded and, if not recorded by the officer, whether the testimony was recorded in the presence of the officer.

(4) The presence or absence of any opposing party.

(5) The place where the deposition was taken and the day and hour when the deposition began and ended.

(6) The officer is not disqualified under §1.674.

(b) If the parties waived any of the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, the certificate shall so state.

(c) The officer shall note on the certificate the circumstances under which a witness refuses to sign a transcript.

(d) Unless the parties agree otherwise in writing or on the record at the deposition, the officer shall securely seal the certified transcript in an envelope endorsed with the style of the interference (e.g., Smith v. Jones), the interference number, the name of the witness, and the date of sealing and shall promptly forward the envelope to BOX INTERFERENCE, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. Documents and things produced for inspection during the examination of a witness, shall, upon request of a party, be marked for identification and annexed to the certified transcript, and may be inspected and copied by any party, except that if the person producing the documents and things desires to retain them, the person may (1) offer copies to be marked for identification and annexed to the certified transcript and to serve thereafter as originals if the person affords to all parties fair opportunity to verify the copies by comparison with the originals or (2) offer the originals to be marked for identification, after giving to each party an opportunity to inspect and copy them, in which event the documents and things may be used in the same manner as if annexed to the certified transcript. The exhibits shall then be filed as specified in §1.653(i). If the weight or bulk of a document or thing shall reasonably prevent the document or thing from being annexed to the certified transcript, it shall, unless waived on the record at the deposition by all parties, be authenticated by the officer and forwarded to the Commissioner in a separate package marked and addressed as provided in this paragraph.

§1.677 Form of a transcript of deposition.

(a) A transcript of a deposition must be typewritten on opaque, unglazed, durable paper approximately 8-1/2 by 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.) in size (letter size). Typing shall be double-spaced on one side of the paper in not smaller than pica-type with a margin of 1-1/2 inches (3.8 cm.) on the left-hand side of the page. The pages must be consecutively numbered throughout the entire record of each party (§1.653(d)) and the name of the witness must be typed at the top of each page (§1.653(e)). The questions propounded to each witness must be consecutively numbered unless paper with numbered lines is used and each question must be followed by its answer.

(b) Exhibits must be numbered consecutively and each must be marked as required by §1.653(i).

§1.678 Transcript of deposition must be filed.

Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, a certified transcript of a deposition must be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within 45 days from the date of the deposition. If a party refuses to file a certified transcript, the examiner-in-chief or the Board may take appropriate action under §1.616. If a party refuses to file a certified transcript, any opponent may move for leave to file the certified transcript and include a copy of the transcript as part of the opponent's record.

§1.679 Inspection of transcript.

A certified transcript filed in the Patent and Trademark Office may be inspected by any party. The certified transcript may not be removed from the Patent and Trademark Office for printing (§1.653(g)) unless authorized by an examiner-in-chief upon such terms as may be appropriate.

§1.682 Official records and printed publications.

(a) A party may introduce into evidence, if otherwise admissible, any official record or printed publication not identified on the record during the taking of testimony of a witness, by filing a notice offering the official record or publication into evidence. If the evidence relates to the party's case-in-chief, the notice shall be filed prior to close of testimony of the party's case-in-chief. If the evidence relates to rebuttal, the notice shall be filed prior to the close of testimony of the party's case-in-rebuttal. The notice shall (1) identify the official record or printed publication, (2) identify the portion thereof to be introduced in evidence, (3) indicate generally the relevance of the portion sought to be introduced in evidence, and (4), where appropriate, be accompanied by a certified copy of the official record or a copy of the printed publication (§1.671(d)).

(b) A copy of the notice, official record, and publication shall be served.

(c) Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, any written objection to the notice or to the admissibility of the official record or printed publication shall be filed within 15 days of service of the notice. See also §1.656(h).

§1.683 Testimony in another interference, proceeding, or action.

(a) Prior to close of a party's appropriate testimony period or within such time as may be set by an examiner-in-chief, a party may file a motion (§1.635) for leave to use in an interference testimony of a witness from another interference, proceeding, or action involving the same parties, subject to such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by an examiner-in-chief. The motion shall specify with particularity the exact testimony to be used and shall demonstrate its relevance.

(b) Any objection to the admissibility of the testimony of the witness shall be made in an opposition to the motion. See also §1.656(h).

§1.684 Testimony in a foreign country.

(a) An examiner-in-chief may authorize testimony of a witness to be taken in a foreign country. A party seeking to take testimony in a foreign country shall, prior to the close of the party's appropriate testimony period or within such time as may be set by an examiner-in-chief, file a motion (§1.635):

(1) Naming the witness.

(2) Describing the particular facts to which it is expected that the witness will testify.

(3) Stating the grounds on which the moving party believes that the witness will so testify.

(4) Demonstrating that the expected testimony is relevant.

(5) Demonstrating that the testimony cannot be taken in this country at all or cannot be taken in this country without hardship to the moving party greatly exceeding the hardship to which all opposing parties will be exposed by the taking of the testimony in a foreign country.

(6) Accompanied by an affidavit stating that the motion is made in good faith and not for the purpose of delay or harassing any party.

(7) Accompanied by written interrogatories to be asked of the witness.

(b) Any opposition under §1.638(a) shall state any objection to the written interrogatories and shall include any cross-interrogatories to be asked of the witness. A reply under §1.638(b) may be filed and shall be limited to stating any objection to any cross-interrogatories proposed in the opposition.

(c) If the motion is granted, the moving party shall be responsible for obtaining answers to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories before an officer qualified to administer oaths in the foreign country under the laws of the United States or the foreign country. The officer shall prepare a transcript of the interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories and shall transmit the transcript to BOX INTERFERENCE, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, with a certificate signed and sealed by the officer and showing:

(1) The witness was duly sworn by the officer before answering the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories.

(2) The recorded answers are a true record of the answers given by the witness to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories.

(3) The name of the person by whom the answers were recorded and, if not recorded by the officer, whether the answers were recorded in the presence of the officer.

(4) The presence or absence of any party.

(5) The place, day, and hour that the answers were recorded.

(6) A copy of the recorded answers was read by or to the witness before the witness signed the recorded answers and that the witness signed the recorded answers in the presence of the officer. The officer shall state the circumstances under which a witness refuses to read or sign recorded answers.

(7) The officer is not disqualified under §1.674.

(d) If the parties agree in writing, the testimony may be taken before the officer on oral deposition.

(e) A party taking testimony in a foreign country shall have the burden of proving that false swearing in the giving of testimony is punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country. Unless false swearing in the giving of testimony before the officer shall be punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country where testimony is taken, the testimony shall not be entitled to the same weight as testimony taken in the United States. The weight of the testimony shall be determined in each case.

§1.685 Errors and irregularities in depositions.

(a) An error in a notice for taking a deposition is waived unless a motion (§1.635) to quash the notice is filed as soon as the error is, or could have been, discovered.

(b) An objection to a qualification of an officer taking a deposition is waived unless:

(1) The objection is made on the record of the deposition before a witness begins to testify.

(2) If discovered after the deposition, a motion (§1.635) to suppress the deposition is filed as soon as the objection is, or could have been, discovered.

(c) An error or irregularity in the manner in which testimony is transcribed, a certified transcript is signed by a witness, or a certified transcript is prepared, signed, certified, sealed, indorsed, forwarded, filed, or otherwise handled by the officer is waived unless a motion (§1.635) to suppress the deposition is filed as soon as the error or irregularity is, or could have been, discovered.

(d) An objection to the competency of a witness, admissibility of evidence, manner of taking the deposition, the form of questions and answers, any oath or affirmation, or conduct of any party at the deposition is waived unless an objection is made on the record at the deposition stating the specific ground of objection. Any objection which a party wishes considered by the Board at final hearing shall be included in a motion to suppress under §1.656(h).

(e) Nothing in this section precludes taking notice of plain errors affecting substantial rights although they were not brought to the attention of an examiner-in-chief or the Board.

§1.687 Additional Discovery.

(a) A party is not entitled to discovery except as authorized in this subpart.

(b) Where appropriate, a party may obtain production of documents and things during cross-examination of an opponent's witness or during the testimony period of the party's case-in-rebuttal.

(c) Upon a motion (§1.635) brought by a party within the time set by an examiner-in-chief under §1.651 or thereafter as authorized by §1.645 and upon a showing that the interest of justice so requires, an examiner-in-chief may order additional discovery, as to matters under the control of a party within the scope of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, specifying the terms and conditions of such additional discovery.

(d) The parties may agree to discovery among themselves at any time. In the absence of an agreement, a motion for additional discovery shall not be filed except as authorized by this subpart.

§1.688 Use of discovery.

(a) If otherwise admissible a party may introduce into evidence, an answer to a written request for an admission or an answer to a written interrogatory obtained by discovery under §1.687 by filing a copy of the request for admission or the written interrogatory and the answer. If the answer relates to a party's case-in-chief, the answer shall be filed prior to the close of testimony of the party's case-in-chief. If the answer relates to the party's rebuttal, the admission or answer shall be filed prior to the close of testimony of the party's case-in-rebuttal. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, any written objection to the admissibility of an answer shall be filed within 15 days of service of the answer.

(b) A party may not rely upon any other matter obtained by discovery unless it is introduced into evidence under this subpart.

1. In the second column after the last full paragraph, the following paragraph is added:

An oral comment was received by telephone concerning the declaration of an interference under §§1.603 and 1.606 with applications filed under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 157—Statutory Invention Registration (SIR). Under 35 U.S.C. 157(c), a published SIR has all of the attributes specified for patents except those specified in 35 U.S.C. 183 and 271 to 289. Consequently, interferences will be declared between an application and either an application containing a request for a SIR (37 CFR 1.293) or a published SIR. Until sufficient experience is gained by the PTO, the interference will be conducted by procedure established on a case by case basis.

In the second column, after the first full paragraph, the following paragraph is added:

Oral comments have been received by telephone concerning the doctrine of interference estoppel under 37 CFR 1.658(c) with respect to a party's failure to move under 37 CFR 1.633(e) to declare an "additional interference" between an additional application not involved in the interference and owned by the party and an opponent's application or patent involved in the interference on a separate patentable invention. Generally a party will be estopped for failure to move when the separate patentable invention (subject matter) which could have been the subject of the "additional interference" was claimed (during the pendency of the interference) (1) in the opponent's involved application or patent or (2) in a non-involved application owned by the party.

The following illustrates the general applicability of interference estoppel in certain situations where a party fails to move under 37 CFR 1.633(e) to declare an "additional interference" on a separate patentable invention.

Party's non-involved application	Opponent's involved application or patent	Estoppel

13. On page 428, the first column, the last sentence of §1.617(b) is corrected by inserting the words "on each opponent" after the words "shall serve".

14. On page 428, the first column, the last sentence of §1.617(d) is corrected by removing the words "an oral" and inserting, in their place, the article "a".

15. On page 428, the first column, the last sentence of §1.617(g) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

16. On page 428, the second column, the second sentence of §1.621(a) is corrected by inserting the word "by" after the first occurrence of the word "or".

17. On page 428, the second column, the first sentence of §1.621(b) is corrected by inserting a comma after the first occurrence of word "statement".

18. On page 428, the third column, the first sentence of §1.624(a) is corrected by removing the semicolon appearing after the word "count" and inserting, in its place, a colon.

19. On page 430, the first column, the last sentence of §1.631(a) is corrected by removing the words "a party shall serve copies of its preliminary statement on every opponent" and inserting, in their place, the words "a party shall serve a copy of its preliminary statement on each opponent".

20. On page 430, the first column, the heading of §1.633 is corrected by changing to lower case the first letter of the word "Motions".

21. On page 430, the third column, in §1.636(b) the reference to "§1.633(a), (b), or (g)" is corrected to read "§1.633(a), (b), (c)(1), or (g)".

22. On page 431, the second column, in §§1.637(d)(2) and 1.637(e)(1)(ii) the reference to "§1.608(b)" is corrected to read "§1.608".

23. On page 431, the second column, §1.637(e)(1)(iv) is corrected by removing the words "a claim" and inserting, in their place, the words "any claim".

24. On page 431, the third column, §1.637(e)(2)(iii) is corrected by removing the first occurrence of the word "party's" and inserting, in its place, the word "party".

25. On page 431, the third column, the second sentence of §1.637(e)(2)(iv) is corrected by removing the two occurrences of the word "claims" and inserting, in their place, the word "claim".

26. On page 431, the third column, in the first sentence of §1.637(f)(2), the reference to "§1.608(b)" is corrected to read "§1.608".

27. On page 432, the first column, §1.637(h)(3) is corrected by removing the words "a claim" and inserting, in their place, the words "any proposed claim".

28. On page 432, the second column, §1.640(b)(2) is corrected by removing the words "entered or" and inserting, in their place, the words "entered on".

29. On page 432, the third column, the penultimate sentence of §1.640(c) is corrected by inserting the article "a" before the words "single examiner-in-chief".

30. On page 432, the third column, §1.640(d)(1) is corrected by removing the words "all counts" and inserting, in their place, the words "any count".

31. On page 432, the third column, the first sentence of §1.640(e) is corrected by removing the word "filed" and inserting, in its place, the word "files".

32. On page 433, the second column, §1.644(i) is corrected by removing the word "petition" and inserting, in its place, "petitions".

33. On page 433, the second column, the first sentence of §1.645(a) is corrected by inserting the word "or" after "§§1.302," and after "§§1.303,".

34. On page 433, the third column, in the first sentence of §1.646(a), the spelling of the word "every" is corrected.

35. On page 433, the third column, §1.646(c) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

36. On page 434, the third column, §1.653(c)(5) is corrected by removing the word "an" and inserting, in its place, the word "and".

37. On page 434, the third column, the last sentence of §1.653(g) is corrected by removing the word "found" and inserting, in its place, the word "bound".

38. On page 435, the first column, the penultimate sentence of §1.653(i) is corrected by removing the words "and exhibit" and inserting, in their place, the words "an exhibit".

39. On page 436, the third column, the second sentence of §1.664(a) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

40. On page 437, the first column, the last sentence of §1.666(c) is corrected by removing the word "Commission" and inserting, in its place, "Commissioner".

41. On page 437, the second column, the first sentence of §1.671(b) is corrected by removing the word "part" and inserting, in its place, the word "subpart".

42. On page 437, the second column, in the first sentence of §1.671(e) the reference to "§1.608(b)" is corrected to read "§1.608".

43. On page 437, the third column, the third sentence of §1.672(b) is corrected by removing the words "a party shall file" and inserting, in their place, the words "a party should file".

44. On page 438, the third column, in §1.676(a), the spelling of the third occurrence of the word "transcript" is corrected.

45. On page 440, the first column, the second sentence of §1.684(c)(6) is corrected by removing the words "a witness refused to read" and inserting, in their place, the words "a witness refuses to read".

46. On page 440, the second column, §1.685(c) is corrected by inserting the word "or" after the first occurrence of the word "error," and by removing the word "indorsed" and inserting, in its place, the word "endorsed".

37 CFR Part 1
[Docket No. 50103-6060]

Arbitration of Patent Interference Cases

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: Section 105 of the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, Pub. L. 98-622, provides for arbitration of patent interference cases. In this document, the Patent and Trademark Office is publishing a proposed regulation to implement the arbitration provision.
Date: Comments and suggestions should be received by Nov. 14, 1986. No hearing will be held.
Address: Address written comments to Box Interference, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

For Further Information Contact: Ian A. Calvert or Michael Sofocleous by telephone at (703) 557-4000 or by mail marked to the attention of either and addressed to Box Interference, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: Section 105 of the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, enacted on Nov. 8, 1984, provides for the arbitration of patent interference cases. Section 105, codified as 35 U.S.C. 135(d), provides:

> Parties to a patent interference, within such time as may be specified by the Commissioner by regulation, may determine such contest or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of title 9 to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. The parties shall give notice of any arbitration award to the Commissioner, and such award shall, as between the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issues to which it relates. The arbitration award shall be unenforceable until such notice is given. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the Commissioner from determining patentability of the invention involved in the interference.

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) conducts interference proceedings to determine any question of patentability and priority of invention between two or more parties claiming the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between two or more pending applications naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, the applications contain claims for the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between one or more pending applications and one or more unexpired patents naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, any application and any unexpired patent contain claims for the same patentable invention. Patent interference cases can be quite expensive. Arbitration may prove useful to minimize expenses in interference cases. The proposed arbitration rule, if adopted, would apply to all pending interferences.

The PTO published an advance notice of rulemaking in the Federal Register of Jan. 16, 1985. (50 FR 2294 through 2296). The notice was also published in the Official Gazette on Feb. 12, 1985. 1051 Official Gazette 9-10; 1051 TMOG 10-11. The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs' Patent, Trademark & Copyright Journal, Vol. 29, pp. 310 [Jan. 24, 1985], hereinafter "BNA." Five written comments were received in response to the advance notice. The comments are analyzed herein. The five comments are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

Guidelines for Arbitration

From the tenor of the comments, it is apparent that the commentors desire guidance from the PTO concerning its policy with respect to the arbitration of patentability issues and extensions of time for arbitration.

Under proposed §1.690 the arbitrator could determine issues of patentability as between the parties but a determination that the subject matter is patentable would not be binding upon the PTO. If the arbitrator's award holds that a party's claims corresponding to the count are unpatentable over prior art or under 35 U.S.C. 112, that determination would be binding on that party vis-a-vis the party's opponent and would result in a judgment adverse to that party. The judgment, however, would not discharge the duty that each party has under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring to the attention of the examiner in charge of its respective application any prior art and/or reason relied upon by the arbitrator in the determination of unpatentability.

It is the longstanding practice of the PTO to favor the settlement of interferences and the PTO looks with favor on all proper efforts in that direction as being conducive to the termination of the proceeding. See 4 Rivise and Caesar, Interference Law and Practice, section 861, pp. 2956 (Michie Co. 1948) and the Commissioner's Notice of Nov. 9, 1976, titled, "Extensions of Time and Filing of Papers in Interferences," 953 Official Gazette 2 (Dec. 7, 1976). In this regard, the notice states that:

> . . . stipulations or motions for extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.245 will not henceforth be approved or granted, respectively, unless accompanied by a detailed showing of facts sufficient to establish that the action for which the extension is sought could not have been or cannot be taken or completed during the time previously set therefor, and that the entire extension appears necessary for the taking or completion of that action. Since the Office favors the amicable settlement of interferences, the foregoing requirement will be liberally applied in the case of a first request for extension of time for the purpose of negotiating settlement.

Consequently, the examiner-in-chief could give favorable consideration to a motion for an extension of time for purposes of settlement; however, a further motion for an extension for that purpose would not be granted unless it is accompanied by a schedule of specific dates showing that the parties will make a good faith effort to promptly terminate the proceeding. If preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 have not been filed, the examiner-in-chief would not normally extend the time for their filing merely for purposes of settlement. In these circumstances, the examiner-in-chief would require that the preliminary motions be filed or that their filing be waived.

If the proceeding is in the testimony stage, the examiner-in-chief could grant the parties' motion to extend all the unexpired testimony times to close concurrently on the date the record is due provided they file a stipulation that any evidence to be submitted will be in one of the forms specified in 37 CFR 1.672(e)and (f), i.e., affidavit testimony or a stipulation either as to what a particular witness would testify to if called or the facts in the case of any party.

Analogously, the aforesaid practice would apply to arbitration. Parties who intend to arbitrate an interference would be required to notify the examiner-in-chief in writing of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement within 20 days of its execution. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 135(c) an agreement to arbitrate is considered to be one "made in connection with and in contemplation of the termination of the interference" and therefore would have to be in writing and a copy would have to be filed in the PTO. The notification would be made in a separate paper. Merely incorporating the notification in the settlement agreement under 35 U.S.C. 135(c) would not be sufficient to comply with proposed §1.690(a). The parties also would be required to adhere to a time schedule approved by the examiner-in-chief such that the interference proceeding can be expeditiously resolved so as to prevent the unnecessary postponement of the beginning of the running of the term of any patent resulting from an application involved in the interference. Pritchard v. Loughlin, 361 F.2d 483, 149 USPQ 841 (CCPA 1966).

If the parties desire to arbitrate an interference prior to the close of the motions period, the examiner-in-chief would not normally grant an extension of time for that purpose. The parties would be required to file their preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633. After the motions are filed, the examiner-in-chief could grant an extension only upon compliance with 37 CFR 1.645 which requires a showing of "good cause." Such a "good cause" showing would normally include a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth, inter alia, the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority and (3) terminating the interference.

The arbitration agreement should include the following provisions:

(1) The name of the arbitrator or a date certain (not more than 30 days after the execution of the agreement) for his or her selection.

(2) The issues to be decided by the arbitrator.
(3) That the arbitrator's award is binding on the parties and that the Board can enter a judgment based thereon.

A copy of the arbitration award must be filed within 20 days from the date of the award or by the date set by the examiner-in-chief.

If the proceeding is in the testimony stage and the parties desire to arbitrate, the examiner-in-chief could grant a reasonable extension for that purpose. A motion for a further extension for that purpose would not be granted unless it is accompanied by a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth, inter alia, the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority, and (3) terminating the interferences. If the parties were to submit the required schedule, a motion for a further extension could be granted. If the parties file a copy of the arbitration agreement and they agree that any evidence submitted in the proceeding will be in one of the forms specified by 37 CFR 1.672(e) of (f), the examiner-in-chief could give favorable consideration to the parties' motion that all the unexpired times be extended to close concurrently on the date the record is due. By that date, the parties would be required to file the arbitrator's award and their records, if necessary for the resolution of any issue not decided by the arbitrator. If the award is not dispositive of all the issues in the interference, the examiner-in-chief would set brief times so that the parties could explain their evidence relating to any issues which the arbitrator did not, or was unable to, decide. For example, the award might be dispositive of the issue of priority between the parties and leave for the Board's determination the question of substituting a new count raised in a preliminary motion under 37 CFR 1.633.

The arbitration award, filed by the parties, would be in the nature of a final decision and must include the following:

(1) The style (e.g., Jones v. Smith), the number of the interference and the names of the real parties in interest.
(2) The subject matter in issue, i.e., the counts and a table of counts, if necessary, indicating the relationship of the parties' claims corresponding to each count and those claims not corresponding thereto.
(3) The issues for decision before the arbitrator.
(4) The arbitrator's decision. The decision may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof.
(5) A summary, if appropriate, indicating, inter alia, that judgment should be awarded to one of the parties.

Any party to the arbitration can attack the award only in the manner provided by 9 U.S.C. 10 and 11.

9 U.S.C. 10 reads as follows:

In either of the following cases the United States court in and for the district wherein the award was made may make an order vacating the award upon the application of any party to the arbitration—
(a) Where the award was procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means.
(b) Where there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators, or either of them.
(c) Where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct in refusing to postpone the hearing, upon sufficient cause shown, or in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy; or of any other misbehavior by which the rights of any party have been prejudiced.
(d) Where the arbitrators exceeded their powers, or so imperfectly executed them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made.
(e) Where an award is vacated and the time within which the agreement required the award to be made has not expired the court may, in its discretion, direct a rehearing by the arbitrators.

9 U.S.C 11 reads as follows:

In either of the following cases the United States court in and for the district wherein the award was made may make an order modifying or correcting the award upon the application of any party to the arbitration—
(a) Where there was an evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in the description of any person, thing, or property referred to in the award.
(b) Where the arbitrators have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them, unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matter submitted.
(c) Where the award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy.

The order may modify and correct the award, so as to effect the intent thereof and promote justice between the parties.

See, for example, Fairchild & Co., Inc. v. Richmond, F. & P. R. Co., 516 F.Supp. 1305 (D.D.C. 1981). If such an attack were to be made by one of the parties while the interference is pending before the Board, the Board would not stay the interference. Rather, the Board would issue its judgment in accordance with the award. So long as the award is in compliance with proposed §1.690, it would carry the presumption that the arbitrator acted correctly in making his decision and accordingly, the party designated by the award as the prevailing party would be entitled prima facie to a judgment in its favor. If the dissatisfied party brings an action in an appropriate United States district court and if the court vacates, modifies or corrects the award, the Board would take action consistent with the court's findings. No action would like in the PTO to vacate or correct an arbitration award, unless all parties agreed in writing.

The following examples illustrate the proposed practice of the PTO concerning arbitration.

Example 1

Arbitration Practice—Preliminary State

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The parties decide to arbitrate the interference in accordance with proposed §1.690 and file a motion for an extension of time so that they can "freely" arbitrate the interference, but do not file a waiver of their right to file motions.

The examiner-in-chief would deny the motion because the parties' intention to arbitrate, in and of itself, does not constitute a showing of "good cause" within the meaning of 37 CFR 1.645(a). Even if the parties file an agreement to arbitrate, the PTO would not grant any extension of time to permit the parties to "freely" arbitrate an interference prior to the expiration of the time for filing preliminary motions.

Example 2

Arbitration Practice—Testimony Stage

An interference is delcared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633. The parties file preliminary motions; the examiner-in-chief renders a decision thereon and sets the testimony times. The parties file a notice of intent to arbitrate the interference under proposed §1.690(a) and a motion for a one month extension of the testimony times. The examiner-in-chief could grant the motion, but would indicate that if the parties file another motion for an extension for that purpose, the motion must be accompanied by a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority and (3) terminating the interference.

The parties file a motion for an additional one month extension of time to permit the parties to arbitrate the interference. Accompanying the motion is a proposed schedule of times and a copy of the arbitration agreement which provides, inter alia, (i) the name of the arbitrator or a date certain for his selection, (ii) that the arbitrator's award will be binding on the parties, (iii) the issues to be decided by the arbitrator and (iv) that the award will be filed by the date the record is due. The parties also indicate that the evidence to be filed in the proceeding will be in one of the forms specified by 37 CFR 1.672(e) of (f). The examiner-in-chief could grant the motion and indicate that he will give favorable consideration to a motion to extend all the unexpired times to close concurrently on the date the record is due should the parties request such.

On the date for filing the record, the parties file the arbitrator's award and their evidentiary records, if necessary. The award states (i) the style and number of the interference and the real parties in interest, (ii) the subject matter in issue and the parties' claims which correspond thereto and which do not correspond thereto, (iii) the issues for decision before the arbitrator, (iv) the arbitrator's decision (which may include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof) and (v) that judgment should be awarded to one of the parties. The examiner-in-chief examines the award to ensure that it complies with proposed §1.690 and is dispositive of the issues in the interference which can be decided by the arbitrator. If the award is otherwise acceptable, the Board would issue a judgment based on the award. If the award is not dispositive of all the issues in the interference, the examiner-in-chief would determine how the interference will proceed.

Arbitration Practice—Award Decides Interference-in-Fact Issue and Junior Party Takes No Testimony

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(b) on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact between his claims corresponding to the count and his opponent's claims corresponding thereto. The examiner-in-chief denies the motion, examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. On the date for filing the record, the junior party files the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award. He does not file a record. In his award the arbitrator holds that no interference-in-fact exists between the parties' claims corresponding to the count.

The motion would be denied because the award decides a mattet of patentability which would not result in a judgment adverse to one of the parties. Consequently, the junior party would be placed under an order to show cause why judgment under 37 CFR 1.652 should not be entered against him for his failure to file an evidentiary record by the time set therefor. In response to the order, the junior party requests final hearing to review the examiner-in-chief's denial of the motion for judgment and a testimony period to show no interference-in-fact. The examiner-in-chief would grant the junior party's request to the extent that final hearing is set and would deny the request for testimony because the junior party already had the opportunity to take testimony on the matter.

Arbitration Practice—Cannot Decide Patentability

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(a) on the ground that the claims corresponding to the count are unpatentable over prior art. In his decision on motions, the examiner-in-chief grants the motion and places both parties under an order pursuant to 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1) to show cause why judgment should not be entered against them as to the count. In response to the order, the senior party files a paper in accordance with 37 CFR 1.640(e) purportedly showing good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order and a motion requesting permission to arbitrate the patentability issue. The examiner-in-chief would deny the motion. The arbitrator is without authority to establish vis-a-vis the public that the subject matter of the count is patentable. Thus, the arbitration will serve no useful purpose. The Board would consider the senior party's paper and enter an appropriate order.

Example 5

Arbitration Practice—Award After Decision on Motions

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(a) on the ground that the claims corresponding to counts 1 and 2 are unpatentable over prior art. In his decision on motions, the examiner-in-chief grants the motion with respect to count 1, denies the motion with respect to count 2 and places both parties under an order pursuant to 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1) to show cause why judgment should not be entered against them as to count 1. The senior party files a paper in accordance with 37 CFR 1.640(e); the junior party, a response thereto. The Board considers the paper and the response thereto and based on the record enters judgment adverse to both parties as to count 1. Thereafter, the examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets dates for taking testimony and filing the record.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. In his award, the arbitrator decides that judgment should be awarded to the junior party. On the date for filing the record, both parties file the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award. No record is filed.

The motion would be granted and accordingly it would be held that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to count 2.

Example 6

Arbitration Practice—Award Decides Patentability

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633 are filed and after the examination of the preliminary statements, the examiner-in-chief sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. In his award, the arbitrator finds (1) that the evidence is insufficient to establish a prior public use bar under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) against the junior party, (2) that the claims of the junior party corresponding to the count are patentable under 35 U.S.C. 103 over the prior art cited by the senior party to the junior party, and (3) that judgment on priority should be awarded to junior party. On the date for filing the record, the parties file their records and the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award.

The motion would be granted and accordingly it would be held that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to the count. After the termination of the proceeding, each party has the duty under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring before the primary examiner the evidence concerning the purported public use bar and the prior art cited by the senior party and/or considered by the arbitrator.

Example 7

Arbitration Practice—Award Grants Priority to Junior Party Contingent Upon Granting of Preliminary Motion Under 1.633(c)

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c)(1) to substitute another count. The examiner-in-chief denies the motion, examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intention to arbitrate and enter into an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. The agreement provides that any evidence to be submitted by the parties will be in the form of a stipulation under 37 CFR 1.672(e) and (f). The parties file a motion requesting that all the unexpired testimony times be extended to close concurrently on the date the record is due. The motion would be granted.

On the date for filing the record, the junior party files his record and the award. The award states, inter alia, that if the Board at final hearing should grant the junior party's motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c)(1) to substitute a new count, judgment should be awarded to the junior party based on the evidence. Otherwise, the award states that judgment should be awarded to the senior party.

The examiner-in-chief sets the brief times and after the filing thereof the interference would be set for final hearing so that the Board can review the examiner-in-chief's denial of the junior party's motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c) and issue an appropriate judgment based on the award.

Example 8

Arbitration Practice —Award Attacked

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No preliminary motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intention to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief.

On the date for filing the record, both parties file their records. The junior party files the award which states that judgment should be awarded to him and a motion for judgment based on that award. The senior party files an opposition to the motion for judgment on the grounds (i) that the award contains errors of law, (ii) that the award was procured by "corruption, fraud or undue means" in violation of 9 U.S.C. 10(a), and (iii) that the arbitrator exhibited "evident partiality" in violation of 9 U.S.C. 10(b) and was "guilty of misconduct . . . in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material" to the interference, citing 9 U.S.C. 10(c).

The Board would grant the judgment based on the award, holding that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to the count. So long as the award is in compliance with the provisions of proposed §1.690, it would carry a presumption that the arbitrator acted properly in all respects. Consequently, before the PTO the award is binding upon the parties and the junior party is prima facie entitled to a judgment in its favor. Thus, no action lies in the PTO as regards the matter raised by the senior party. The senior party's action lies in an appropriate United States district court and the PTO would take any action consistent with the court's decision.

Example 9

Arbitration Practice—Award Cannot Modify Board's Final Decision

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference and enter into an arbitration agreement. Neither party notifies the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate nor do they file a copy of the agreement in the interference. Both parties timely file their records and briefs. Both waive oral agrument. The Board enters a final decision after consideration of the evidence in favor of the senior party.

The junior party requests reconsideration of the Board's final decision, submits a copy of the arbitration award and moves that the Board set aside its final decision and enter judgment in his favor based on the award. In support of its request, the junior party cites 9 U.S.C. 9, which provides that "any party to the arbitration may apply to the court so specified for an order confirming the award" and 35 U.S.C. 135(d) which provides that title 9 applies to interference arbitrations.

The Board would deny the motion to set aside. The parties did not comply with proposed §1.690(a), e.g., notify the examiner-in-chief in writing of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement within twenty (20) days of its execution. The denial of the motion is an appropriate sanction under 37 CFR 1.616. Such action by the Board is considered consistent with long-standing interference practice. Cf. Humphrey v. Fickert, 1904 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 447 (Comm'r. 1904) wherein the Board, after it had considered the evidence, refused to set aside its award of priority to Fickert and act upon the Fickert's concession of priority in favor of Humphrey, the losing party.

Example 10

Arbitration Award Filed With Record—No Notice to Examiner-in-Chief

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference and enter into an arbitration agreement. Neither party notifies the examiner-in-chief of the agreement. The junior party timely files its record together with a copy of the arbitration award and a motion for judgment based on the award.

The motion would be denied. Under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.616, the examiner-in-chief places both parties under an order to show cause why judgment should not be rendered against them for their failure to comply with proposed §1.690(a), i.e., failing to notify him of their intent to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement.

Analysis of Comments

One commentor suggests that the parties should be able to arbitrate at any stage of the proceeding, including immediately after the declaration of the interference. Another commentor suggests that arbitration should not be instituted until after the motion period when the issues have been finally determined. The parties can begin arbitration at any stage of the interference; however, no extension of the time for filing preliminary motions will be granted for the purpose of arbitration. See Example 1. No change is necessary to the rule proposed in the advance notice.

One commentor suggests that the PTO should become involved in the selection of the arbitrator by maintaining a roster of arbitrators. This suggestion is not being adopted because the selection of an arbitrator is a matter for the parties.

One commentor notes that the American Arbitration Association (AAA) has developed rules for handling patent matters and requests that the PTO "give notice that following AAA rules is prima facie acceptable, as to the procedure used." In the PTO's view, the parties can stipulate the use of any procedure for resolving the arbitration.

One commentor suggests that the arbitrator should be able to "certify questions to the Board." The statute, 35 U.S.C. 135(d), and proposed §1.690 provide that the parties may determine the interference or "any aspect thereof by arbitration." If the parties elect to arbitrate, the arbitrator must decide the interference. He cannot "certify" questions to the Board since "certification" would defeat the purpose of arbitration.

One commentor suggests that

[The] arbitrator should have subpoena power or discovery authority to protect his own reputation in the event (a) a party is withholding information or (b) the parties are colluding in withholding information from the arbitrator.

While the arbitration proceeding is pending before him, the arbitrator has the authority under 9 U.S.C. 7 to summon in writing any person to attent . . . as a witness and in a proper case to bring with him . . . any book, record, document or paper which may be deemed material in the case.

If any person so summoned refuses or neglects to obey the summons, the arbitrator or a party may petition an appropriate United States district court pursuant to 9 U.S.C. 7 to compel the attendance of the person or to punish the person for contempt.

With respect to proposed §1.690(a), one commentor urges that the subparagraph be changed by deleting "or any aspects thereof" so that the arbitrator can determine priority in its totality. The commentor believes that the retention of this language would tend to cause undue delays, thus requiring the examiner-in-chief to exert strong control in maintaining the schedule for an interference. The suggestion is not being adopted because the statute 35 U.S.C. 135(d), provides:

Parties to a patent interference . . . may determine such contents or any aspect thereof by arbitration. [Emphasis added.]

To adopt this suggestion would constitute taking from interference parties a right conferred on them by statute.

With respect to proposed §1.690(a), one commentor suggests that a provision be added to the proposed rule requiring "advance notice to the examiner-in-chief of a proposed arbitration and specifying the issues to be arbitrated." This suggestion is being adopted and accordingly the following two sentences are added to proposed §1.690(a):

The parties must notify the Board in writing of their intention to arbitrate and specify the issues to be arbitrated. A copy of an agreement to arbitrate must be in writing and filed within twenty (20) days after its execution.

These two sentences require that the notification of intent to arbitrate must be in writing and should be presented in a separate paper, directed to the examiner-in-chief's attention and that the agreement to arbitrate must be in writing and be filed within twent (20) days after its execution.

With respect to proposed §1.690(b), one commentor states:

Proposed sub-section (b) states that "(b) An interference or any aspect thereof shall be arbitrated within such time as may be authorized on a case by case basis by an examiner-in-chief." Since this is indefinite, it would in actual practice require obtaining advance approval from the examiner-in-chief in every case before even initiating arbitration efforts. Since this provision provides no guidance to the examiner-in-chief it could also lead to arbitrarily restrictive decisions. That seems contrary to the intent of the statute, which is to broadly provide a generally available resolution of disputes by the parties outside of the PTO. Furthermore, this provision even seems inconsistent with the practice until now under interference rule 272(c) [37 CFR 1.272(c) (1984)] which already allowed the parties, without advance approval by anyone, to stipulate to dispositive facts at any time during the testimony period or before the record was due. Yet an arbitration may well constitute or provide such stipulations. As with stipulations under 272(c), since any arbitration decisions are to the direct benefit of the PTO in reducing issues which must otherwise be decided by the Board at final hearing, there is no logical reason to restrict the availability of arbitration at any time before the filing of final briefs with the Board. It is respectively submitted that, pursuant to the intent of the statute, it is really not the appropriate business of the PTO as to when the parties conduct arbitration as long as it does not interfere with the orderly operation of interferences or cause the Board to unnecessarily decide an issue which is being arbitrated. The purpose of this statute is to provide maximum flexibility to the parties, free of regulatory constraints, and that is what the enabling regulations for the statute should provide.

Accordingly, it is suggested that this proposed subsection (b) be changed to: — any arbitration shall be completed and noticed by the time set for the filing of final briefs.—

These comments, which are essentially directed to the guidelines for arbitration, the authority of the examiner-in-chief vis-a-vis the rights of the parties to "freely" arbitrate and an apparent inconsistency between the old practice and the new practice, have been carefully considered. In addition, the commentor suggests that proposed §1.690(b) be changed to state that the arbitration be completed and noticed by the time set for the filing of final briefs.

The arbitration guidelines are sufficiently discussed in the section, "Guidelines For Arbitration," supra, and will not be discussed below.

With respect to the authority of the examiner-in-chief and the rights of the parties, advance approval by the examiner-in-chief is required for the parties to arbitrate in order to prevent unnecessary work in the PTO. The parties must file their preliminary motions by the time set therefor and any arbitration must conform with the time schedule approved by the examiner-in-chief. If the parties are unable to meet the time schedule, they may file a motion for extension of time pursuant to the provisions of 37 CFR 1.645(a). Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.610(c), the examiner-in-chief must exercise control over the interference such that its pendency does not normally exceed two years. Consequently, the parties must notify the Board of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement. When the award is filed, the examiner-in-chief must review the award to determine whether it is dispositive of all the issues in the interference. If the award is not, the examiner-in-chief must determine how the interference should proceed.

With respect to the assertion concerning an apparent inconsistency between proposed §1.690(b) and §1.672(e) and (f), the counterpart of §1.272(c), the guidelines show that none exists.The parties to an interference can agree to file stipulated evidence with respect to any issue whether or not it is decided by arbitration.

The suggestion that proposed §1.690(b) be changed is not being adopted in view of the language in proposed §1.690(c), infra.

Three commentors request that the arbitration award be made binding on the parties in order to save expense and reduce the pendency time of the interference proceeding. It is urged that if the arbitration is not binding, the arbitration would "serve as a rehearsal for the usual interference procedure." This suggestion is being adopted and proposed §1.690(c) is being changed to require that the parties who desire to arbitrate must enter into a binding arbitration agreement.

One commentor suggests that if the arbitration is binding, then the reasons and conclusions need not be given but if the arbitration is not binding, then the reasons and conclusions for the award should be given so as to aid settlement. Another commentor concerned with possible "colusion" between the parties and the arbitrator and suggest that a "sufficient record" be created for the PTO and "interested third parties." These suggestions are being adapted in part. While the PTO would prefer that the award include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof, it is left to the discretion of the parties as to whether the award will contain such a statement. With respect to possible "collusion," the attorneys for the parties are subject to the Patent and Trademark Code of Professional Office Responsibility, 37 CFR 10.20 to 10.112, and any violation thereof can be brought to the attention of Director of Enrollment and Discipline. Accordingly, proposed §1.690(c) is being changed to state that the award may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof.

Two commentors suggest that proposed §1.690(c) be changed to read that the arbitration award should be filed on or prior to the date set for the filing of final briefs so that the PTO need not decide an interference which has already been resolved by the parties. This suggestion is being adopted to the extent that proposed §1.690(c) is being changed to require that the parties must file a copy of the arbitration award within twenty (20) days from the date of the award unless otherwise ordered by the examiner-in-chief.

One commentor requests that a "reasonable grace period" be provided for filing an inadvertently unfiled award. Proposed §1.690(c) has been changed to read that the parties must file the award within twenty (20) days from the date of the award unless otherwise ordered by the examiner-in-chief. If the award is not filed, the examiner-in-chief may issue appropriate sanctions under 37 CFR 1.616. Accordingly, this suggestion is not being adopted.

In view of the foregoing discussion, proposed §1.690(c) has been modified to read as follows:

An arbitration award will be given no consideration unless it is binding on the parties, is in writing and states in a clear and definite manner (1) the issue or issues arbitrated and (2) the disposition of each issue. The award may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, the parties shall give notice to the Board of an arbitration award by filing within twenty (20) days from the date of the award a copy of the award signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators. When an award is timely filed, the award shall, as to the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issue or issues to which it relates.

Two commentors urge that patentability questions should not be arbitrated in view of the public interest. One would go further and amend subparagraph (d) to read that unless ordered by an examiner-in-chief, an arbitration award shall not decide a preliminary motion for judgement under §§1.633(a) or 1.633(b), a preliminary motion to redefine the interfering subject matter under §1.633(c), a preliminary motion to substitute a different application under §1.633(d) or a motion to declare an additional interference under §1.633(e). These suggestions are not being adopted. Subparagraph (d) makes clear that an arbitration award shall not preclude the Office from determining patentability of any invention in the interference. An arbitration award can decide a question of patentability which is binding on that party vis-a-vis his opponent and will result in a judgement adverse to that party. After the termination of the interference each party has the duty under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring to the attention of the examiner in charge of its application any evidence of unpatentability brought before or considered by the arbitrator. Consequently, the adoption of these suggestions could unduly restrict the parties' use of arbitration and prevent an arbitrator from deciding a proper matter of patentability.

Other Considerations

This rule does not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of natural resources.

The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the proposed rule will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96-354) because arbitration is intended to minimize expenses in interference cases.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The rule will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delations, Conflicts of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority given to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 135, Part 1 of Title 37 CFR is proposed to be amended as follows:

PART 1–RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. New section 1.690 is proposed to be added to read as follows:

§1.690 Arbitration of Interferences.

(a)Parties to a patent interference may determine the interference or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of Title 9, United States Code. The parties must notify the Board in writing of their intention to arbitrate. An agreement to arbitrate must be in writing, specify the issues to be arbitrated, the name of the arbitrator or a date not more than 30 days after the execution of the agreement for the selection of the arbitrator, and provide that the arbitrator's award shall be binding on the parties and that judgement thereon can be entered by the Board. A copy of the agreement must be filed within twenty (20) days after its execution. The parties shall be solely responsible for the selection of the arbitrator and the rules for conducting proceedings before the arbitrator. Issues not disposed of by arbitration will be resolved in accordance with the procedures established in 37 CFR, Subpart E of Part 1, as determined by the examiner-in-chief.

(b) An interference or any aspect thereof shall be arbitrated within such time as may be authorized on a case-by-case basis by an examiner-in-chief.

(c) An arbitration award will be given no consideration unless it is binding on the parties, is in writing and states in a clear and definite manner (1) the issue or issues arbitrated and (2) the disposition of each issue. The award may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, the parties shall give notice to the Board of an arbitration award by filing within twenty (20) days from the date of the award a copy of the award signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators. When an award is timely filed, the award shall, as to the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issue or issues to which it relates.

(d) An arbitration award shall not preclude the Office from determining patentability of any invention involved in the interference.

Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(145) Disclosure Document Program

This notice consolidates and supersedes the notices of Mar. 26, 1969 (862 O.G. 1) and Aug. 11, 1970 (878 O.G. 1) relating to the Patent Office Disclosure Document Program. Under this program the Patent Office accepts and preserves, for a period of two years, papers referred to as "Disclosure Documents." These papers may be used as evidence of the dates of conception of inventions.

The Program

A paper disclosing an invention and signed by the inventor or inventors may be forwarded to the Patent Office by the inventor (or by any one of the inventors when there are joint inventors), by the owner of the invention, or by the attorney or agent of the inventor(s) or owner. It will be retained for two years and then be destroyed unless it is referred to in a separate letter in a related patent application within said two years.

A Disclosure Document is not a patent application and the date of its receipt in the Patent Office will not become the effective filing date of any patent application subsequently filed. However, like patent applications, these documents will be kept in confidence by the Patent Office. If patent protection is desired, a patent application should be filed as soon as possible.

This program does not diminish the value of conventional witnessed and notarized records as evidence of conception of an invention, but it should provide a more credible form of evidence than that provided by the popular practice of mailing a disclosure to oneself or another person by registered mail. The program is made available as a service to those persons desiring to use it.

Content of Disclosure Document

Although there are no restrictions as to content and claims are not necessary, the benefits afforded by a Disclosure Document will depend directly upon the adequacy of the disclosure. Therefore, it is strongly urged that the document contain a clear and complete explanation of the manner and process of making and using the invention in sufficient detail to enable a person having ordinary knowledge in the field of the invention to make and use the invention. When the nature of the invention permits, a drawing or sketch should be included. The use or utility of the invention should be described, especially in chemical inventions.

The Disclosure Document must be limited to written matter or drawings on paper or other thin, flexible material, such as linen or plastic drafting material, having dimensions or being folded to dimensions not to exceed 8 1/2 by 13 inches. Photographs also are acceptable. Each page should be numbered. Text and drawings should be sufficiently dark to permit reproduction with commonly used office copying machines.

A $10 fee is charged for filing a Disclosure Document. Payment must accompany the Disclosure Document when it is submitted to the Patent Office.

In addition to the $10 fee, the Disclosure Document must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a separate paper in duplicate, signed by the inventor, stating that he is the inventor and requesting that the material be received for processing under the Disclosure Document Program. The papers will be stamped by the Patent Office with an identifying number and date of receipt, and the duplicate request will be returned in the self-addressed envelope together with a warning notice indicating that the Disclosure Document may be relied upon only as evidence and that a patent application should be diligently filed if patent protection is desired. The inventor's request may take the following form:

"The undersigned, being the inventor of the disclosed invention, requests that the enclosed papers be accepted under the Disclosure Documen' Program, and that they be preserved for a period of two years."

Retention

The Disclosure Document will be preserved in the Patent Office for two years after its receipt and will then be destroyed unless it is referred to in a separate letter in a related patent application filed within the two-year period. The Disclosure Document must be referred to in the separate letter by title, number, and date of receipt. Acknowledgment of receipt of such letters will be made in the next official communication or in separate letter from the Patent Office. Unless it is desired to have the Patent Office retain the Disclosure Document beyond the two-year period, it is not required that it be referred to in a patent application.

Warning as to Limitations

The two-year retention period should not be considered to be a "grace period" during which the inventor can wait to file his patent application without possible loss of benefits. It should be recognized that in establishing priority of invention an affidavit or testimony referring to a Disclosure Document must usually also establish diligence in completing the invention or in filing the patent application since the filing of the Disclosure Document.

Inventors are also reminded that any public use or sale in the United States, or publication of the invention anywhere in the world, more than one year prior to the filing of a patent application on that invention will prohibit the granting of a patent on that invention.

If the inventor is not familiar with what is considered to be "diligence in completing the invention" or "reduction to practice" under the patent law, or if he has other questions about patent matters, the Patent Office advises him to consult an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent Office. Patent attorneys and agents may be found in the telephone directories of most major cities. Also, many large cities have associations of patent attorneys which may be consulted.

Assistant Commissioner of Patents.

(146) Suspension of Action Under 37 CFR 1.103 and Under 37 CFR 1.212

The purpose of this notice is to clarify existing Office practice with respect to suspension of action. "Suspension of action" under 37 CFR 1.103 applies only to the situation where action is to be taken by the Examiner. In other words, action cannot be suspended in an application which contains an outstanding Office action awaiting response by the applicant.

Under 37 CFR 1.212, upon declaration of an interference, ex parte prosecution of an application is suspended and any outstanding Office actions are considered as withdrawn by operation of the rule. Ex parte Peterson, USPQ 119 (Commissioner of Patents, 1941). Upon termination of the interference, the Examiner will reinstate the action treated as withdrawn by operation of 37 CFR 1.212 and set a statutory period for response. The formats set forth in MPEP 1109.01 and MPEP 1109.02 may be followed.

Careful adherence to the distinction set forth above will prevent any question of abandonment from arising in connection with cases in which suspension of prosecution has occurred.

WILLIAM FELDMAN,
Mar. 7, 1978. Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Patents.

(147) POSTAL SERVICE EMERGENCY CONTINGENCY PLAN

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office is establishing the following contingency plan for filing any paper or paying any fee in the Office in the event of an emergency caused by any major interruption in the mail service in the United States. Upon determination by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks that such an emergency exists, a notice activating the plan will be issued by the Commissioner. The activating notice will be published in the Wall Street Journal and made available in a special recorded telephone message at area code 703, 557-3158. Also, certain publications, patent bar groups, and other organizations closely associated with the patent system, will be notified. Termination of the program will be similarly announced. Where the postal emergency is not nationwide, the Commissioner will designate the areas of the United States in which the procedures outlined below will be in effect.

U.S. Department of Commerce District Offices (formerly referred to as Department of Commerce Field Offices) will be designated on an emergency basis, as receiving stations for filing papers and paying fees in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Upon determination that an emergency exists, the following procedures may be followed: All papers and fees should be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Patent and Trademark Office and deposited in one of the District Offices. Such papers will be considered as received in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office on the day of deposit. The District Office will date stamp each envelope and the accompanying receipt card which completely identifies the deposited papers. The receipt card will be returned to the depositor. Applicants or their representatives should assure the legibility of the date stamp.

District Office deposits should be limited to checks in payment of issue fees, new application papers wherein priority dates or statutory bars may be involved, amendments where the six month statutory period for response is about to expire, trademark oppositions, Section 8 affidavits, trademark renewals, and to other papers for which the patent and trademark statutes do not provide a remedy for failure to obtain a particular date.

Where papers originate from overseas, it is suggested that the papers be mailed to a registered agent in Canada, with a request that the papers be forwarded by courier to the nearest District Office in the United States.

In regard to pending applications, if the time for taking any action or paying any fee expires during the period that the Commissioner declares to be an emergency, the time will be extended until one month after the end of the emergency period, provided that such extension does not exceed the maximum period for response provided for in the statutes.

Since this extension of time will be automatic, there will be no record in the individual files to indicate that a response filed during the extended period is in fact timely. In order to provide a complete record, applicants or their representatives should file a paper referring to this notice in each case in which a response is filed during the extended period.

(148) Examiner Testimony

As stated in Section 1701 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, patent examiners are forbidden to testify as patent experts or to express opinions, in testimony or otherwise, as to the invalidity of any issued patent. Patent examiners have, in connection with litigation involving patent validity, been called to testify on factual matters. In those cases, the practice has been to permit the examiner to testify only upon the issuance of a subpoena.

Henceforth, patent examiners will be permitted to testify on deposition in patent suits, without the need for a subpoena, provided the following conditions are satisfied:

1. The party proposing to take the testimony will state in writing, that the questions to be asked of the examiner will be phrased to comply with the permissible scope of inquiry as outlined in the protective orders contained in the Court opinions in In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ 86, 89 and Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Manufacturing Co., 167 USPQ 170, 171: ". . . the scope of the oral depositions of the patent examiners is hereby limited to matters of fact and must not go into hypothetical or speculative areas or the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of the patent examiners in acting upon the patent applications maturing into the patent [in suit]." 167 USPQ 171.
2. That in addition to complying with the requirements of Rule 30 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the party taking the testimony will agree to give notice of the taking of the deposition of the patent examiner to the Solicitor, at least thirty days prior to the date on which the taking of the deposition is desired.
3. That the party taking the deposition arrange with the Solicitor to notice the deposition at a place convenient to the Patent Office.

If the party desiring to take the testimony of the examiner does not agree to the conditions enumerated, the Patent Office will not permit the examiner to be deposed without a subpoena and compliance with the procedure set forth in Section 7.02, Department of Commerce Administrative Order 205-12, June 29, 1967 as amended April 10, 1970. That section states:

> In any case where it is sought by subpoena, order or other compulsory process or other demand of a court or other authority (hereinafter referred to as a "demand") to require the production or disclosure of any record in the files of the Department of Commerce or other information acquired by an officer or employee of the Department as a part of the performance of his official duties or because of his official status, the matter shall be immediately referred for determination to the appropriate official described in subsection 4.01 of this order. If such official has discretion with respect to disclosure and he determines that it would be improper to comply with the demand, or if he has no discretion with respect to disclosure, the matter shall be promptly referred to the Secretary of Commerce for final determination. Unless and until the Secretary determines that the records or information should be produced, the officer or employee who appears in answer to the demand shall inform the court or other authority (a) that the section 7 of this order prohibits the officer or employee from producing or disclosing the records or other information demanded without the prior approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and (b) that the demand has been, or is being, as the case may be, referred for the prompt consideration of the Secretary. The officer or employee shall also provide the court or other authority with a copy of the regulations prescribed in this section 7 of this order, and shall respectfully request the court or other authority to stay the demand pending the receipt of instructions or directions from the Secretary of Commerce concerning the demand.

ROBERT GOTTSCHALK,

(149) No Change in Foreign Filing License Requirements

It should be noted that the change to 37 CFR 5.19 deleting the requirement to obtain an export license for filing a patent application in a foreign country does not in any way alter the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 184. 35 U.S.C. 184 requires that a foreign filing license be obtained from the Patent and Trademark Office before any patent application, based on an invention made in the United States, is filed abroad unless a corresponding application has been on file in the USPTO for over six months.

United States Adherence to the International Union for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (UPOV)

On Nov. 12, 1980, the United States deposited its instrument of acceptance of the 1978 text of the UPOV Convention. The United States was the second State to adhere to this text, New Zealand having earlier done so.

The UPOV Convention will take effect with respect to the United States and the other adherents to the 1978 text upon a total of five adherences, three of which must be by present member States (States adhering to the 1961 text of the Convention). We expect at least three present member States to adhere shortly and the 1978 text to take effect, therefore, during 1981.

The United States deposited its instrument of acceptance on the basis of the legal protection offered for asexually reproduced plants under the plant patent law (35 U.S.C. 161–164). Accordingly, the Convention will apply only to asexually reproduced plants protected under this law. Steps are now being taken, however, by the Plant Variety Protection Office of the Department of Agriculture to conform the implementation of the Plant Variety Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 2321 et seq.) to the Convention's requirements. When this is done, the United States will notify the UPOV Secretariat that the Convention is also applicable in the United States to sexually reproduced plants protected under that Act.

Questions concerning the UPOV Convention may be directed to the Office of Legislation and International Affairs of the Patent and Trademark Office. This Office may be addressed as follows: Box 4, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. The Office's telephone number is (703) 557–3065.

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(151) Taking Effect in the United States of the International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants

The International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (the UPOV Convention) will take effect in the United States on Nov. 8, 1981. It will apply to all applications for the patenting of plants under the provisions of Title 35, United States Code, which are filed on or after Nov. 8, 1981. The actual filing date will govern in determining whether the Convention will apply to an application, even though the application may be entitled to an earlier effective date under section 119 or 120 of Title 35, United States Code.

In addition to the United States, the UPOV Convention will be in effect as of Nov. 8, 1981, in the following fourteen States: Belgium, Denmark, Federal Republic of Germany, France, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Republic of South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.

No changes in the patent law are needed to implement the UPOV Convention in the United States. An applicant for a plant patent will be required, however, to submit for registration a variety name for the plant to be patented. Registration is required by Article 13 of the UPOV Convention.

Registrability shall be determined in accordance with the International Code of Nomenclature for Cultivated Plants (1980). As an interim procedure pending the promulgation of an appropriate rule, inclusion of the variety name in the application will be accepted as a submission of the name for registration. No plant patent as a result of an application filed on or after Nov. 8, 1981, shall be issued without the registration of a variety name. Questions concerning this variety naming requirement or the UPOV Convention may be addressed to:

(152) Policy Regarding Exchange Agreements Under the Authority of 35 USC Section 6(a)

Background

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO), by virtue of Section 6(a) of Title 35, United States Code, is empowered to enter into exchange agreements with other organizations to further the use of patent and trademark information, and to facilitate the use and availability of that information. In recognition of these objectives, the PTO establishes the following guidelines and principles which shall apply when evaluating and entering into exchange agreements with other public, private, domestic and foreign agencies, firms and companies.

Nature of Exchange Agreements

Exchange agreements by the PTO will generally be for the purpose of (1) acquiring goods and services which will assist the PTO in accomplishing its mission and achieving its goals; (2) reducing the cost to the government of processing activities associated with the examination of applications for patent and trademark registration; (3) fostering the dissemination of information contained in patent and trademark documents; and (4) furthering the general goal of automating patent and trademark examination processes.

In exchange agreements, the PTO and the industrial or commercial concerns will share in the cost and risks of the endeavor. Terms and conditions of each agreement, including the business arrangements, are negotiable within the limits of prevailing statutes and regulations and will be commensurate with the risks, involvement, and investment of the parties to the agreements. The PTO's intent is to offer as much latitude as practical in the agreement.

Each agreement will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis. Agreements will vary in size, complexity, scope and the nature of the materials, services, and/or products being exchanged by the parties. All exchange agreements will be subject to the availability of funds.

Incentives

Incentives provided by the PTO for the purpose of entering into exchange agreements may include, but are not limited to (1) providing copies of PTO documents; (2) providing computer processable data obtained from patents, trademark applications, trademark registrations, and other data sources developed by the PTO; (3) providing government furnished equipment necessary for the other party to fulfill the agreement; and (4) entering into joint programs where each party funds its own participation.

Considerations

The factors to be considered by the PTO prior to entering into an exchange agreement or providing incentives shall include, but will not be limited to the following considerations: (1) public or social need for the product(s) of the agreement; (2) enhanced dissemination of technological information; (3) benefits accruing to the public or the U.S. Government from the endeavor; (4) the desirability of private sector involvement in PTO programs; (5) the merit of the research, development or application proposed; (6) the degree of risk and financial participation by the other party; (7) the amount of proprietary data or other information to be furnished by the concern; (8) the rights in data to be granted to the PTO and the concern as a result of their contributions; (9) the willingness and ability of the concern to market and sell any resulting new or enhanced products on a reasonable basis; and (10) the impact of PTO sponsorship upon a given industry or area of commercial endeavor.

Administration

The Administrator for Automation is delegated the authority to enter into negotiations. The Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks will approve exchange agreements on behalf of the PTO. Before proceeding into comprehensive evaluation of a joint endeavor, a preliminary assessment will be made of the merits of the offer. Exchange agreement proposals which are too sketchy or ill-defined to (1) establish the merit in the basic idea, (2) establish that the proposal is in accordance with PTO program objectives, or (3) establish that the proposing organization is willing to make significant contribution to the endeavor, will not be evaluated in depth and will be treated as correspondence or advertising. This preliminary assessment will be conducted by the Administrator for Automation or his or her designee to determine if the proposal warrants further consideration. If this determination is positive and if the parties agree to proceed with a joint endeavor, the Administrator for Automation will enter into detailed discussions and negotiations with the offeror regarding the technical and business aspects of the offer. Upon reaching a mutually satisfactory arrangement, the agreement will be submitted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks for approval. Administration of the exchange agreement program will be performed by the Administrator for Automation.

Due to resource limitations and the necessity for diversity in the program, only one offer will normally be accepted for a given PTO incentive. If substantially similar offers are received within any 45-day period, they will be evaluated and/or negotiated together. The offer which provides the best total consideration for the Government will be accepted. Special consideration shall be given to small and minority businesses, as appropriate.

GERALD J. MOSSINGHOFF,
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(153) Policy and Plans Regarding Exchange Agreements Entered into by the Patent and Trademark Office to Competitive Procurement Contracts

Background

Under the authority of section 6(a) of title 35, United States Code, the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) entered into exchange agreements with non-Federal entities to further the use of patent and trademark information and to facilitate the availability of that information. Some of these agreements will be converted to procurement contracts through competitive solicitations or assistance instruments, as appropriate. Toward this objective, the PTO establishes the following guidelines that shall apply to these conversions and to any subsequent business arrangements of a similar barter or exchange nature with private firms involving ADP resources. An inventory and description of the exchange agreements is also provided. Exchange agreements that will not be converted are identified and the reason for their exclusion explained.

Guidelines

From time to time the PTO needs goods and services to accomplish its goals for which it may offer other goods and services of comparable value as consideration rather than money. Such arrangements may be considered for a particular goal that might otherwise not be reached, in gaining access to published information and/or electronic data and/or in fostering the dissemination of intellectual property information. In return for goods and services it needs, the PTO may offer any or all of the following as full or partial compensation to the provider: (1) copies of PTO documents, (2) electronic data developed by the PTO from patents, trademark applications, trademark registrations, and other data sources, (3) Government-furnished equipment, and (4) other data and information resulting from special projects that may be undertaken. The use of consideration other than money will be in accord with the objectives of the Exchange Agreement provisions of P.L. 97–247.

Regardless of the barter or exchange nature and/or provisions of such arrangements, they will be developed as procurement contracts conforming to applicable procurement statutes and Federal Acquisition Regulations or assistance instruments as described in P.L. 95–224. Services which involve the delivery of ADP services will additionally conform to the Federal Information Resource Management Regulations. Agreements which have as their primary purpose the delivery of services to the public will be processed as assistance instruments under the provisions of the Grant and Cooperative Agreements Act of 1977, P.L. 95–224.

In seeking competitive procurements to replace exchange agreements, whenever possible, solicitation documents will (1) describe PTO needs in functional terms, (2) set forth the method that will be used in evaluating proposals, and (3) indicate the factors that will be considered and their relative weight or importance. Factors and weights will be based on the needs of the PTO and the interests of the public. When solicitation documents are ready for release, announcements will be published in the Commerce Business Daily (CBD) to inform prospective offerors of the date of the release. The PTO will competitively acquire the services of an independent audit or accounting firm to assign a fair market value to non-monetary considerations received or provided to assist in evaluating offers.

Contracts and assistance instruments will be awarded for one year with options for additional years, if required. The number of option years will be sufficient to provide an incentive for competitors to investment in an offering, but not for such a long period that future competition would be unreasonably limited.

Exclusive licenses will not be issued to any foreign owned firm or to any subsidiary or affiliate of a foreign owned firm. When feasible, competitive procurements will be structured to favor non-exclusive licenses. In any case, an exclusive license shall not impair the ability of the public to obtain data in a form historically provided by the PTO or in some equivalent form not subject to license restrictions. Licensees will not be entitled to obtain patent or trademark information not accessable by the public.

Exchange Agreements to be Converted by Competitive Procurement

Exchange agreements now in effect that are to be converted through competitive solicitations are listed below. The tentative date for issuance of the solicitation document is shown for each.

Exchange of Trademark Data and Information with Thomson and Thomson

Under an agreement with Thomson and Thomson (T&T), of 1 Monarch Dr., North Quincy, Mass. 02171, digitized images of the figurative elements of active trademark registrations in effect in 1983 and to be registered during the subsequent 10 year period were or are to be provided to the PTO. The same figurative elements were or are to be coded for retrieval using a coding system and manual developed jointly by T&T and the PTO. The textual information contained in the trademark applications and other trademark documents for the period from 1984 to 1992 were or are to be provided. All data furnished or to be furnished by T&T were or are to be provided on magnetic tape in an agreed upon format and standard. In return for this electronic data, the PTO furnished or will furnish paper copies of registration, application, and other Office documents, copies of Trademark Official Gazettes (OG), certain microfilm equipment, reports from certain special studies and analyses and electronic data representing updates to the text data base of active trademark registrations for the period corresponding to the term of the agreement, from 1984 to 1992.

It is contemplated that the provisions of this exchange agreement will be ended and the substance of it will be converted by one or more competitive procurements for different types of data. The solicitations are planned to issue in Feb. or Mar., 1986.

Exchange of Patent Data and Information with Derwent

Under an agreement with Derwent, Inc., of 684 Elm St., Suite 500, McLean, Va. 22101, paper copies of copyrighted English Abstracts of Derwent's coverage of world patents and electronic data corresponding to the bibliographic data and alerting abstracts of certain Derwent files (CPI, WPI, and EPI) are provided to the PTO. In addition, a royalty credit of 300 hours connect time to Derwent data available on-line from time-sharing services is provided. The PTO furnishes Derwent paper or microfilm copies of foreign patents it receives from other patent offices, for pick-up at those offices, OG copies, and the following electronic U.S. patent data: patent bibliographic data with all claims, the Patent Master Classification File and the Patent Assignment Transaction Data File (backfile and updates).

This agreement, will be ended and the substance of it together with some additional data, data uses, and services will be converted by competitive procurement. The solicitation is planned to issue in Mar. or Apr., 1986.

Exchange of Services and Patent Data with Mead Data Central

Mead Data Central, of P.O. Box 933, Dayton, Ohio 54401, provides services related to the use of its on-line data systems (LEXPAT, LEXIS, NEXIS) in the amount of service credits of $77,000 annually to the PTO. In return, the PTO has or is furnishing to Mead Data Central, the following electronic data: the Patent Full Text File (backfile and updates), the Patent Assignment Transaction Data File, the Manual of Classification File, and the file of the Index to U.S. Patent Classification and paper copies of Certificates of Correction and Notices of Litigation.

This agreement will be converted by competitive replacement or, alternatively, will be terminated. If a competitive acquisition is to be undertaken, the solicitation is planned to issue approximately in Mar., 1986; if it is to be terminated, it is planned to be terminated by Oct., 1986.

Exchange of Patent Data and Information with Research Publications, Inc.

Under an exchange agreement with Research Publications, Inc., of 12 Lunar Dr., Woodbridge, Conn. 06525, the PTO receives COM-generated 16mm microfilm of its classification data files in two sequences. The magnetic tape files are provided to Research Publications every six months in the record format in which it is normally produced through the PTO maintenance program.

The PTO plans to terminate this exchange agreement in Sept. 1986.

Exceptions to Conversion by Competitive Acquisitions

Exchange agreements that are to be replaced by other than competitive procurements are listed below. The reason for the exception is given.

Exchange with Compu-Mark S.A. Related to Trademark Backfile Data

Under the exchange agreement with N.V. COMPU-MARK S.A. (CM) of P.O. Box 61, B2510 Mortsel, Belgium, CM provided or will provide the PTO with electronic data on magnetic tape consisting of the text data in all trademark registrations active in 1983 and registered before 1980 and of the character data contained in the assignment index cards as of 1984. The PTO provided or is providing CM with paper copies of the active registrations found in its bound volumes, assignment index cards, and other PTO documents and electronic copies of the text data corresponding to new registrations and applications post-1979 and other trademark case data for the period from 1983 to 1992.

The PTO intends to procure data obtained from CM on a sole source basis, as previously advertised in the CBD on Dec. 15, 1984. To the knowledge of the PTO, CM is the only source of this collection of data that meets the specifications of the PTO. The negotiated price is expected to be less than the cost of its replacement by other, competitive means. Estimates of the replacement cost obtained from other, independent firms will be used to validate the final price, contract terms and conditions. The sole source award is planned to be completed by Jan. 1986.

Exchange of Services and Patent Data with Pergamon Infoline

Pergamon Infoline (Pergamon) of 1340 Old Chain Bridge Rd., McLean, Va. 22101, provided or is providing the PTO with the following: electronic data corresponding to the bibliographic data, including abstracts, of approximately 130,000 U.S. patents issued between 1970 and 1974 for which no other electronic data are available in the PTO, services consisting of royalty credits in an amount of $10,000 annually applied to the use of Pergamon's on-line data base, and training of 300 patent examiners in the use of the Infoline system. The PTO furnishes Pergamon the following electronic data: the full text of the patent text backfile from 1975 to 1983, annual issuances of patent assignment transaction data, annual updates of patent bibliographic data with exemplary claims, annual issuances of the Patent Master Classification File; the annual issuance of the Attorney Roster File, periodic issuances of the Special Index Term File 364–200, and periodic issuances of the Special Index Term file 364–900.

The PTO plans to terminate this exchange agreement in Sept. 1986.

Administration

The PTO Administrator for Automation has been assigned responsiblity for administering all exchange agreements, their replacement, or their termination. Any requests for additional information about the agreements now in effect should be addressed to:

J. Howard Bryant
Administrator for Automation
Department of Commerce
U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Washington, D.C. 20231

Information on the competitive solicitations should be addressed to:

Office of Procurement
Patent and Trademark Office
Box 6
Washington, D.C. 20231

At this time the PTO is seeking expressions of interest. Interested parties should write to the procurement office identified above citing the exchange agreement(s) for which subsequent receipt of a competitive solicitation is requested. Each competitive solicitation will be separately summarized in the CBD prior to issuance.

Dec. 2, 1985. DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant of Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(154) Qualifications for Admission to the Examination for Registration to Practice Before the Patent and Trademark Office

37 CFR 1.341(c) provides in pertinent part, "No person will be admitted to practice and registered unless he shall . . . establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is of good moral character and good repute and  possessed of the legal and scientific and technical qualifications necessary to enable him to render applicants for patents valuable service . In order that the Commissioner may determine whether the person  has the qualifications specified, satisfactory proof of good moral character and repute, and of sufficient basic training in scientific and technical matters must be submitted ***."

All persons requesting application forms are routinely furnished with a circular entitled "General Requirements For Admission To The Examination For Registration To Practice Before The Patent and Trademark Office". The circular contains a list of the subjects in which a person must have a bachelor's degree or the equivalency thereof in scientific and technical training to meet registration qualifications. It is strongly recommended that persons who do not have a bachelor's degree in one of those subjects comply with the instructions in the paragraph following the list to show their scientific and technical qualifications. If it is intended to rely on courses in computer science, no more than 3 semester hours of courses in computer programming will be accepted as providing part of the required basic training in scientific and technical matters. Computer science courses oriented away from the physical sciences or engineering, e.g., toward accounting or business, will not be accepted as providing any of the requisite basic training in scientific and technical matters.

Many applications for admission to an examination are filed on or just prior to the announced closing date for doing so, and these applications are frequently disapproved because the person does not furnish a satisfactory showing of his or her qualifications. For instance, persons with a bachelor's degree in a subject other than one of those listed in the circular frequently do not follow instructions in the circular and do not furnish both their transcripts and official course descriptions. Other persons list charges brought against them requiring further showings to overcome doubts raised by the charges about their character and reputation. Still others who failed one section of the examination three times do not furnish a satisfactory showing of sufficient additional legal training to pass the examination.

The Office of Enrollment and Discipline evaluates each application for admission to the examination on an individual basis as soon as practical after receipt in that office. Thereafter, notification is promptly mailed to each person whose application has been disapproved.

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM — formerly Civil Service Commission), which administers the examination, requires that it receive correct data from the Patent and Trademark Office identifying the locale of the examination and the number of persons to be tested well ahead of the examination date. To afford adequate time to present a satisfactory supplemental showing to gain admission to the examination for which application is being made, it is recommended that all persons file their applications early, preferably at least two months before the closing date.

All supplemental showings of qualifications and all applications filed after the announced closing date to apply for admission to an examination will be considered only in connection with the person's admission to the next succeeding examination. Admission to an examination given on a particular date is available only to persons who have filed a completed application form, a $75.00 admission fee, and a satisfactory showing of qualifications on or before the closing date for applying for admission to the examination. Examinations are given in Apr. and Oct. each year, and the respective closing dates for applying for admission to the examinations are the preceding Jan. 31 and July 31.

Practice before the Patent and Trademark Office

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending its rules governing practice before the PTO by attorneys and agents. These rules are needed to clarify and modernize the rules relating to admission to practice and the conduct of disciplinary cases. The rules are also needed to set out in the Code of Federal Regulations a PTO Code of Professional Responsibility. By amending the rules, the PTO believes the standards for admission to practice in patent cases will be more easily understood, that those practicing before the PTO will have ready access to a code of professional responsibility, and that procedure in disciplinary cases will be more easily understood. The PTO expects that the conduct of disciplinary proceedings under these rules will be more effective and less costly.
Dates: The effective date of these rules (except §1.21(a)(5) and (6)) is Mar. 8, 1985. Section 1.21(a)(5) and (6) is effective Apr. 8, 1985.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 557-4025 (if no answer, message may be left at 703-557-4103) or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Attorneys and agents practice before the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) in patent cases. 35 U.S.C. 31. Attorneys also practice before the PTO in trademark and other non-patent cases. 5 U.S.C. 500(b). A few agents also practice before the PTO in trademark cases under rules in force prior to Jan. 1, 1957.

A notice of proposed rulemaking for attorney and agent conduct and disciplinary procedure was published on Aug. 11, 1983 in the Federal Register, 48 F.R. 36478, and on Sept. 20, 1983 in the Official Gazette, 1034 O.G. 39, 1034 TMOG 33. A notice extending the comment period and setting a second hearing was published on Oct. 5, 1983 in the Federal Register, 48 F.R. 45424, and on Oct. 18, 1983, in the Official Gazette, 1035 O.G. 19, 1035 TMOG 17. The PTO decided to withdraw, and not adopt, the rules proposed in the Federal Register notice of Aug. 11, 1983. There were numerous objections to the proposed rules and the public indicated that a longer period for study and review of a code of conduct and disciplinary procedures was necessary.

An advance notice of proposed rulemaking setting out revised rules being considered for standards of conduct and disciplinary proceedings was published on Mar. 16, 1984, in the Federal Register, 49 F.R. 10012, and on Apr. 10, 1984, in the Official Gazette, 1041 O.G. 15, 1041 TMOG 13. Numerous organizations and individuals filed comments in response to the advance notice.

On Aug. 24, 1984, the PTO published in the Federal Register a notice of proposed rulemaking. 49 F.R. 33790. On Aug. 28, 1984, the notice was also published in the Official Gazette. 1045 O.G. 29; 1045 TMOG 25. The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs, Patents, Trademark & Copyright Journal, Vol. 28, No. 694, pp. 485-515 (Aug. 30, 1984). Twenty-two written comments were timely received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The comments are analyzed herein. A hearing was held on Oct. 10, 1984. Five individuals appeared at the hearing. Oral comments made at the hearing are also analyzed herein. The twenty-two written comments and a copy of the transcript of the hearing are available for public inspection in Room 12B10, Crystal Gateway II, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hgw., Arlington, Va.

This notice of rulemaking sets out rules in three areas:

(1) Practice of attorneys and agents before the PTO in patent, trademark, and other non-patent cases (§§10.2 through 10.19);

(2) A PTO Code of Professional Responsibility (§§10.20 through 10.112); and

(3) Rules governing (a) investigation of possible violations of the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility and (b) disciplinary proceedings to reprimand, suspend, or exclude (disbar) individuals from practicing before the PTO who, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, are found to have violated a disciplinary rule of the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility (§§10.130 through 10.170).

Familiarity with the advance notice and notice of proposed rulemaking is assumed. Changes in the text of the rules published for comment in the notice of proposed rulemaking are discussed. Comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking are discussed. Comments not timely received in response to the advance notice are also discussed.

Tables 1, 2, and 3 are included in this notice to assist readers in correlating present rules with the new rules and to find the principal source for the new rules. An indication in Tables 1, 2, or 3 that a section is "new" means that a corresponding section does not currently appear in Tile 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Table 1 shows the principal sources of the new rules which relate to (1) admission to practice of attorneys and agents in patent cases and (2) practice in trademark and other non-patent cases.

Table 2 shows the principal sources of the rules for the new PTO Code of Professional Responsibility.

Table 3 shows the principal sources of the new rules for disciplinary proceedings.

Other sources for, and rationale in support of, the proposed rules are discussed in the Supplementary Information of the advance notice, 49 F.R. 10012-10022, and the Supplementary Information of the notice of proposed rulemaking, 49 F.R. 33790-33803.

In issuing these rules, the PTO has made every effort to minimize preemption of State control over the practice of law. Thus, in §10.1, second sentence, the new rules provide:

> Nothing in . . . [these rules] shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to maintain control over the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives.

This provision of §10.1 is based on language in Sperry v. Florida ex rel. Florida Bar, 373 U.S. 379, 402 (1963), and makes clear the PTO's intent to regulate only conduct related or relevant to practice before the PTO.

In an effort to ascertain whether the proposed rules would have any adverse impact on the States, copies of both the advance notice of Mar. 16, 1984, and the notice of proposed rulemaking of Aug. 24, 1984, were sent to Bar Counsel in each State. The PTO received responses from Bar Counsel in Ala., Conn., Fla., Ga., Md., Miss., Nebr., Tex., and Vt. Comments were also received from the National Organization of Bar Counsel, the American Bar Association, and others.

Alaska Bar Counsel, contrary to other bar counsel filing comments, suggested that creation of a PTO Code of Professional Responsibility would be "inherently confusing" to any attorney practicing in a State and also before the PTO. The new rules, however, do not establish for the first time a PTO Code of Professional Responsibility. The current PTO code appears in 37 CFR §§1.344 and 2.12. Sections 1.344 and 2.12 merely incorporate by reference the Code of Professional Responsibility of the American Bar Association (1970). The new PTO code more appropriately sets out the standards of conduct relevant to the practice of law before the PTO. Alaska Bar Counsel also felt that it would be more appropriate if the PTO brought alleged ethics violations by attorneys to local state enforcement authorities. This view was not shared by other bar counsel who filed comments. The statute (35 U.S.C. 32) authorizes the Commissioner to administer discipline. The PTO has taken disciplinary action in instances where a State has declined to do so. Moreover, there are registered patent agents who are not subject to discipline by State enforcement agencies. Finally, Alaska Bar counsel suggested that "adjudicative agencies" are too closely involved in a disciplinary matter to be impartial. Congress has determined otherwise. 35 U.S.C. 32 and 5 U.S.C. 500(d).

Comments were received from the Statewide Grievance Committee of Connecticut in response to the advance notice. Many helpful suggestions were made in the comments. Most of the suggestions were adopted at the time the notice of proposed rulemaking was published.

The Florida Bar, through its Director of Lawyer Regulation, filed comments in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The Florida Bar commented on §§10.1(c) and 10.23(c) (5). The PTO's response to the comment appears later in this notice under a discussion of §10.1.

An Assistant General Counsel of the State Bar of Georgia filed a response to the advance notice. The response stated, among other things: "Although due to the press of business at the present time I am unable to provide a substantive response in this correspondence, I will respond within the appropriate time limits after having an opportunity to study the enclosed . . . [advance notice]." No further response was received.

Bar counsel for the Attorney Grievance Commission of Maryland filed a response to the advance notice. In his response Bar Counsel states in part:

> It does not appear to me that any of the proposed Rules would present any difficulty in the administration of discipline within Md.

Complaint Counsel for Miss. responded to the advance notice. He stated in part:

> I have not reviewed the proposed Code in comparison with the Code of Professional Responsiblity in great detail. In general however I can state that adoption of the proposed Code would not have an adverse effect upon the function of this office.

The General Counsel of the State Bar of Texas responded to the advance notice and did "not perceive that any problem would be created by . . . [the proposed rules] in Tex." The General Counsel did express the thought that the PTO's use of the word "practitioner" instead of "lawyer" would not prevent reciprocal discipline in Tex. based on disciplinary action by the PTO. The PTO sees no reason for disagreeing with the General Counsel. The word "practitioner" is used by the PTO to define registered attorneys, registered agents, and other attorneys authorized to practice in trademark and other non-patent cases before the PTO under 5 U.S.C. 500(b).

The Chairman of the Professional Conduct Board of Vermont responded to the advance notice. He states in part:

> I find nothing contained in the proposed rules which would present any difficulty in the administration of disciplinary matters within the State of Vermont. Further, I see no problems created vis-a-vis the Code of Professional Responsibility in this jurisdiction.

The President of the National Organization of Bar Counsel responded to the notice of proposed rulemaking. He expressed a concern as to whether the PTO intended to "provide for notice and information of . . . [each disciplinary violation by an attorney] to each jurisdiction where the attorney is licensed." Two provisions of the rules are designed to insure that States are notified of PTO disciplinary action. Section 10.158(b) (1) requires a disciplined attorney to notify all bars of which he or she is a member and to file a copy of the notice with the Director of Enrollment and Discipline of the PTO. Section 10.159(a) requires the Director to notify known state bars and appropriate bar associations of PTO disciplinary action. In addition, as a matter of policy, the PTO intends to notify the National Discipline Data Bank of the American Bar Association.

Comments were filed in response to the advance notice and the notice of proposed rulemaking by the Standing Committee on Professional Discipline of the American Bar Association. The comments filed in response to the advance notice were analyzed in the notice of proposed rulemaking and are not re-analyzed in this notice. In its comments responding to the notice of proposed rulemaking the Standing Committee made several helpful suggestions, some of which are being adopted. A full discussion of the PTO rationale for adopting or not adopting a particular suggestion appears under analysis of comments later in this notice. The Standing Committee urged adoption of the 1983 ABA Model Rules. The PTO is not now adopting the Model Rules inter alia because most States have not adopted those rules. If a significant number of states adopt the Model Rules, the PTO will consider further amendments to its Code of Professional Responsibility. The Standing Committee suggested changes to §10.23(c) (12) which are being adopted in part. The Standing Committee suggested that notice be given to a practitioner prior to any meeting of the Committee on Discipline. This suggestion is not being adopted. In most instances, a practitioner will be able to respond to a notice under 5 U.S.C. 558(c). The Committee will have the practitioner's response at the time of its deliberation. The Standing Committee urged that hearings in disciplinary matters should be open to the public. Others opposed this position. The PTO is not adopting this suggestion in view of 35 U.S.C. 122. Further rationale for not adopting the Standing Committee's suggestion appears later in the notice. The Standing Committee urged a change in §10.149 to make the burden for proving a disciplinary violation one of "clear and convincing evidence." This suggestion is being adopted. The Standing Committee urged that more discovery be permitted than was authorized by §10.152 as proposed. This suggestion is being adopted as explained further in this notice. The Standing Committee also thought §10.159 should provide for notice to the ABA National Discipline Data Bank when the PTO administers discipline. While §10.159 will not specifically mention the Data Bank, a change has been made to permit the Director to notify appropriate bar associations. The Data Bank is an appropriate bar association.

Changes in Text: Several changes have been made in the text of the new rules from the text of the proposed rules which were published for comment in the notice of proposed rulemaking. Those changes are discussed below.

In §1.8, the new subparagraph will be (xiii). Subparagraph (xii) was added when the rules relating to patent interference proceedings were amended. See 49 F.R. 48451 (Dec. 12, 1984).

In the first sentence of §1.31, the term "agent" has been changed to "registered agent" to make clear that only registered agents are intended.

Section 1.33(c) is being amended to delete a reference to former §§1.341 and 1.347 and to now refer to §§10.5 and 10.11.

Section 1.56(f) and (h) is being amended to delete a reference to former §1.346 and to now referred to §10.18.

In the second sentence of §10.1, "subpart shall" has been changed to "part shall" and "maintain control over" has been changed to "regulate." In the same sentence, "within its borders" has been deleted.

In §10.2(b) (1), "maintain the register" has been changed to "maintain the register provided for in §10.5".

In the next-to-the-last sentence of §10.7(b), "examining corps" has been changed to "patent examining corps".

The language "an alien" in §10.9(b) has been changed to read "a resident alien" to make clear that aliens registered under paragraphs (a) or (b) of §10.6 must be resident aliens.

In the first sentence of §10.14(c), "foreigner" has been changed to "foreign attorney or agent", "registered and in good standing" has been changed to "registered or in good standing", "applicants" has been changed to "parties" and "trademark applications" has been changed to "trademark cases".

In §10.18(a) (1), "the paper has been read" has been changed to "the paper has been read by the practitioner".

Several changes have been made in §10.23.

In §10.23(c) (4) (iii), "improperly" has been added before "bestowing."

In §10.23(c) (5), "on ethical grounds" has been added after the first occurrence of "attorney or agent" and "suspension or disbarment as an attorney or agent" (after "10.6(c)") has been deleted.

In §10.23(c) (7), "patent" has been added before "application of another" and the following has been added as a second sentence: "See §§1.604(b) and 1.607(c) of this Subchapter."

In §10.23(c) (8), "Failing to forward" has been changed to "Failing to inform a client or former client"; "inability to forward, to" has been changed to "inability to notify"; "client correspondence" has been changed to "client of correspondence"; "is correspondence which" has been changed to "is correspondence of which"; and "under the circumstances should be forwarded to the client or former client" has been changed to "under the circumstances the client or former client should be notified."

Section 10.23(c) (12) has been changed to read: "Knowingly filing, or causing to be filed, a frivolous complaint alleging a violation by a practitioner of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility."

In §10.23(c) (15), "including" has been changed to "making a" and "matter" has been changed to "statement".

In §10.36(b) (3), the language "in the locality" has been deleted.

The following language has been deleted from §10.40(c): ", and may not withdraw in other matters,".

In §10.62(b), the language "contemplated or pending litigation or" has been deleted.

In §10.63(a), the language "contemplated or pending litigation or" has been deleted. Both occurrences of "trial or" have been deleted from §10.63(a). The language "contemplated or pending litigation or" has been deleted from §10.63(b).

The following sentence has been added to §10.64(b): "A practitioner may, however, advance any fee required to prevent or remedy an abandonment of a client's application by reason of an act or omission attributable to the practitioner and not to the client, whether or not the client is ultimately liable for such fee."

In §10.84(a) (3), "§10.85" has been changed to "this part".

The following sentence has been added to §10.87(a): "It is not improper, however, for a practitioner to encourage a client to meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions."

Subparagraph (5) of §10.89(c) as it appeared in the notice of proposed rulemaking has been deleted. Subparagraph (6) of §10.89(c) as it appeared in the notice of proposed rulemaking has been changed to read: "(5) Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct before the Office (see §1.3 of this Subchapter)." Subparagraph (7) of §10.89(c) has been redesignated as subparagraph (6).

In §10.112(a), the language:

> maintained: (1) in the case of a practitioner whose office is located in the United States, the State in which the practitioner's office is situated or (2) in the case of a practitioner having an office in a foreign country or registered under §10.6(c) in the United States or the foreign country has been changed to read:

maintained in the United States or, in the case of a practitioner having an office in a foreign country or registered under §10.6(c), in the United States or the foreign country.

In §10.131(a), the second sentence has been deleted as being unnecessary in view of §10.132(b). The second sentence of §10.131(a) in the notice of proposed rulemaking read: "The investigation shall be such as to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that a violation of a Disciplinary Rule by a practitioner has occurred."

In the first sentence of §10.132(a), the language "that there is probable cuase to believe" has been deleted. The Committee on Discipline, not the Director, shall determine whether there is probable cause to believe that a practitioner has violated a Disciplinary Rule. See §§10.4(b) and 10.132(b).

Several changes have been made in §10.133. In the first sentence of §10.133(b), the language "§§10.132(b) and 10.134" has been replaced with "§10.134". The reference to §10.132(b) is not necessary. The language "his or her resignation by filing" in §10.133(b) has been deleted as unnecessary. The second sentence of §10.133(b) has been modified to become new paragraphs (c) and (d). Paragraph (c) indicates the content of an affidavit of resignation filed prior to the date set by the administrative law judge (ALJ) for hearing. Paragraph (d) indicates the content of an affidavit of resignation filed on or after the date set by the ALJ for hearing. Paragraph (c) has been redesignated as new paragraph (e). In addition, the language "paragraph (b)" therein has been changed to "paragraphs (b) or (c)". Paragraphs (d) and (e) have been redesignated as new paragraphs (f) and (g), respectively.

In §10.135(a) (2) (i), "Committee on Enrollment" has been changed to "Director".

In §10.149, "a preponderance of" has been changed in both instances to "clear and convincing".

Several changes have been made to §10.152 to expand discovery. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of §10.152 as set out in the notice of proposed rulemaking have been redesignated as paragraphs (e) and (f), respectively, and new paragraphs (a) through (d) have been added. New paragraph (a) sets forth discovery which is authorized. New paragraph (b) sets forth matter which cannot be discovered. Paragraph (c) sets forth factors which an ALJ can consider in determining whether to authorize discovery. Paragraph (d) requires that a motion be filed which addresses specifically and separately each particular request for discovery. In paragraph (e) (formerly paragraph (a)), a new subparagraph (3) has been added to specify that the ALJ may require the parties to set out in a pre-hearing statement information related to expert witnesses. Old subparagraphs (3) and (4) have been redesignated as new subparagraphs (4) and (5), respectively.

In §10.154(b), a new subparagraph (5) has been added which states: "(5) any extenuating circumstances."

In §10.155(a), both occurrences of "on the respondent" have been deleted.

Several changes have been made to §10.158. In §10.158(b) (1), after "all clients of the practitioner" the following has been added "for whom he or she is handling matters before the Office". In §10.158(b) (2), "client's active case files" has been changed to "client's active Office case files". In §10.158(c), changes have been made to make paragraph (c) applicable to corporate patent departments and to prohibit a suspended or excluded practitioner from meeting in person or in the presence of another practitioner with an official of the PTO in connection with the prosecution of a patent, trademark, or other case.

The following has been added to the end of §10.159(a): "and any appropriate bar associations."

Several changes have been made in §10.160(c). "A practitioner has been suspended or excluded" has been changed to "An individual who has resigned under §10.133 or who has been suspended or excluded". The language "if the Director is satisfied" has been changed to "when the individual makes a clear and convincing showing". The language "suspended or excluded practitioner" has been changed to "individual".

Response to and Analysis of Comments: Twenty-two (22) written comments where timely received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The comments have been analyzed. Some suggestions made in comments have been adopted and others have been rejected. A detailed analysis of the timely received comments follows. Several comments were not timely received by July 9, 1984, in response to the advance notice of proposed rulemaking of Mar. 16, 1984. These comments have now been considered and are analyzed herein.

Several comments were received which suggested that the rules purport to regulate attorney conduct beyond that necessary or proper for administration of federal programs by the PTO. It is not, and has never been, the intention of the PTO to regulate conduct except to the extent necessary for the accomplishment of federal objectives. Thus, only that conduct which is relevant to the practice of patent, trademark, or other law before the PTO is what the PTO seeks to regulate. The preamble of §10.1 indicates that Subpart 10 governs solely the practice of patent, trademark, and other law before the PTO. As noted in the preamble to §10.1, "[n]othing in this subpart shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to regulate the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives." See Sperry v. Florida ex rel. Florida Bar, 373 U.S. 379, 402 (1963). See also Michigan Canners and Freezers Ass'n. v. Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining Board, 104 S. Ct. 2518, 2523 (1984) (State Law is preempted when it stands as an obstacle to the accomplishment and execution of the full purposes and objectives of Congress) and Fidelity Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n. v. de la Cuesta, 102 S. Ct. 3014, 3022 (1982) (federal regulations have no less preemptive effect than federal statutes).

Several comments were received concerning §10.1. The Florida Bar noted that in the notice of proposed rulemaking the PTO indicated "that failure to pay State bar dues is not a basis for suspension or exclusion before the PTO because failure to pay the dues has no relationship to the federal objectives which the PTO seeks to accomplish." 49 F.R. 33795, column 1, third full paragraph. The Florida Bar suggested that "the loss of good standing [should] be of concern to the PTO." The PTO agrees in part. Suspension from a State bar for failure to pay dues will not be viewed by the PTO as "misconduct." See §10.23(c) (5), which has been changed to define misconduct as suspension or disbarment on ethical grounds. If an attorney is suspended by his or her State bar for failure to pay bar dues, and for that reason is no longer in good standing before the State bar, that attorney is no longer an attorney within the meaning of §10.1(c). An attorney suspended from his or her State bar for failure to pay bar dues would no longer be eligible to represent individuals before the PTO in trademark and other non-patent cases.

One commentator suggested that the second sentence of §10.1 be changed to read: "Nothing in this subpart shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to regulate the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives." The suggestion is being adopted. The commentator noted that as originally proposed in the notice of proposed rulemaking, the phrase "to maintain control over the practice of law within its borders" is unduly restrictive. The commentator correctly pointed out that "[c]ertainly, New York would have the authority to regulate the practice of law by a New York attorney residing in Fla."

Another commentator noted the language "federal objectives" in §10.1 and felt it would be appropriate for the PTO "to set forth what the federal objectives really are." The PTO does not believe it is appropriate to set out in the regulations specific federal objectives. The PTO engages in the examination of applications for patents, reexamination of issued patents, examination of applications for registrations of trademarks, and numerous inter partes patent and trademark proceedings. The federal objectives of the PTO center around these activities.

With respect to §10.2(c), one commentator argued that "it is unfair to require the payment of a fee to review a final decision of the Director." The PTO disagrees. The review provided by §10.2(c) is a service preformed by the PTO for which a fee may be charged. There is no compelling reason for not charging a fee.

Several comments were received discussing §10.4. One commentator suggested "that a provision for no discovery or testimony from a member of the Committee on Discipline is unfair and inappropriate." The PTO does not believe that a "mini-trial" should be conducted in a subsequent disciplinary proceeding of how or why the Committee on Discipline reached its decision. The commentator also argued that 10.4(c) "would be in direct conflict with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure" in any review in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. Again, the PTO disagrees. The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure do not apply to disciplinary cases in the PTO. Moreover, those rules do not apply in cases seeking judicial reivew of a decision of the Commissioner in a disciplinary matter. Applicable law (35 U.S.C. 32 and Local Rule 1-26 of the district court) provides for review on the record made in the PTO. See also Camp v. Pitts, 411 U.S. 138 (1973). Hence, there is no discovery in a proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 32.

Comments were received which suggest that the associate and assistant solicitors in the Office of the Solicitor cannot be isolated from the Solicitor and the Deputy Solicitor. The associate and assistant solicitors are to be isolated so that (1) the associate and assistant solicitors may act as attorney for the Director in prosecuting a disciplinary proceeding and (2) the Solicitor and Deputy Solicitor may act as legal advisor to the Commissioner in deciding a disciplinary matter. In disciplinary matters, the associate and assistant solicitors will report directly to the Director. Associate and assistant solicitors will not have occasion to discuss disciplinary matters with the Solicitor or Deputy Solicitor.

The following discussion in the Attorney General's Manual on the Administrative Procedure Act, pp. 57-58 (1947), commenting on original §5(c) (now 5 U.S.C. 554(d)) is believed particularly relevant to the issues raised in the comments:

> Assuming that an agency will in many cases wish to consult with certain of its staff members, it may proceed in one of two ways. It may in a particular case consult with staff members who in fact have not performed investigative or prosecuting functions in that or a factually related case. In the alternative, the agency may find it feasible so to organize its staff assignments that the staff members whom it most frequently desires to consult will be free of all investigative and prosecuting functions.
> [I]f the agency so organizes its staff that the general counsel is not responsible for the investigative and prosecuting functions, he would be regularly available to the agency for consultation on the decision of cases.[1]

Several commentators suggested that members of the public or the PTO bar should be members of the Committee on Discipline. This suggestion is not being adopted. As noted in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33793, column 2, last paragraph), there are two reasons for not adopting the suggestion. Use of individuals outside the PTO is made difficult by 35 U.S.C. 122. Administrative delays would take place because it would be more difficult to schedule meetings.

One commentator suggested that the language "at least" in the phrase "at least three employees of the Office" should be deleted from the second sentence of §10.4(a). This suggestion is not being adopted. The "at least" language will permit the Commissioner to appoint alternate members to substitute for a member who may be disqualified or who may be unavailable for an extended period.

Section 10.10 provides that only practitioners who are registered under §10.6 or individuals given limited recognition under §10.9 will be permitted to prosecute patent applications of others before the PTO. One comment was received which noted that the rules do not address the "status" of (a) "an individual in a training program directed to the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent" or (b) "a long-time employee working within a patent organization in the area of preparation and prosecution of applications for patent, but has never become registered to practice as either a Patent Agent or Patent Attorney." The commentator suggested that the rules should state what such individuals or employees may do. The suggestion is not being adopted. Only registered practitioners (attorneys and agents) may practice patent law before the PTO. The commentator also suggested that the rules should provide that long-time corporate or government employees who have never been registered should be given limited recognition by the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted. Limited recognition will be given only on a case-by-case basis. See §10.9.

One comment suggested that "applicants" and "trademark applications" in the first sentence of §10.14(c) rendered it unclear whether an individual authorized to practice before the PTO in trademark cases could prosecute post-registration cases, such as a cancellation proceeding. The rule has been clarified by changing "applicants" to "parties" and "trademark applications" to "trademark cases". An individual authorized to represent others under §10.14 is authorized to appear in any trademark case.

Several comments were received discussing §10.18. One comment made at the hearing suggested that the rule should specify who should read the paper being signed. The commentator stated: "I think it would be salutary if what you really mean is that the practitioner who signs it has read it." The suggestion is being adopted and the language of §10.18(a) (1) has been changed from "the paper has been read" to "the paper has been read by the practitioner".

Two individuals commented that requiring the signature of a practitioner would eliminate the "custom" of having an associate sign the name of a principal attorney on a paper which the principal authorizes the associate to file. Section 10.18 requires that the practitioner signing the paper sign his or her own name. The rule would permit associate attorney John Smith to sign on behalf of principal attorney David Jones by signing the paper as follows: "David Jones by John Smith." The rule would not permit Smith to merely sign Jones' name or to sign "David Jones by JS." The rule does not authorize a non-practitioner (e.g., a para-legal or secretary) to sign a paper on behalf of a practitioner.

One comment asked the following:

> Assume an inventor is under Final Rejection and the period for proper response is near at hand. The attorney is now instructed to "keep the case alive" until a CIP [continuation-in-part] is prepared and filed. For reasons outside the control of the attorney, the CIP cannot be filed in time. Assume now the attorney files a Notice of Appeal, never intending to prosecute the appeal, intending only to buy time until the CIP can be filed. Would the filing of the Notice of Appeal violate Rule 10.18 and subject the attorney to PTO disciplinary action?

A notice of appeal is a proper response to a final rejection. Accordingly, it would not appear under the circumstances outlined that the notice of appeal was "interposed for delay" within the meaning of §10.18(a) (4).

Three comments were received discussing §10.22. One comment suggested that modifiers, such as "knowingly" and "willfully" be inserted in paragraphs (a) and (b) of §10.22. The suggestion is not being adopted. A "materially false statement," a failure "to disclose a material fact," or furthering the application of another "known . . . to be unqualified" constitute acts which cannot be characterized as innocent. Accordingly, there is no need to insert the "modifiers" in the text of the rule. Another commentator suggested that the provisions of §10.22 are not relevant to the federal objectives of the PTO. The PTO disagrees. Practitioners who (1) fail to tell the truth, (2) fail to reveal material information or (3) knowingly further the application of an unqualified individual to a bar, demonstrate that they are "disreputable" within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 32. A third commentator suggested that §10.22(b) is too broad because a practitioner could recommend an individual for membership in a bar and the individual might fail to pass the bar examination. Unless a practitioner has good reason to know that the individual will fail to pass a bar examination, it is not apparent how the practitioner's recommendation could amount to a violation of the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility.

[1]The general counsel's participation in rule making and in court litigation would be entirely compatible with his role in advising the agency in the decision of adjudicatory cases subject to section 5(c).

Numerous comments were received discussing §10.23. One comment suggested that §10.23(c) (8) be changed to require notification of a client rather than requiring correspondence to be forwarded. This suggestion has been adopted by making appropriate changes to §10.23(c) (8).

A suggestion was made to delete the reference to $5000 in §10.23(c) (17). This suggestion is not being adopted. See the discussion in the advance notice, 49 F.R. 10016, column 1.

A suggestion was made that §10.23(c) (5) has "a built-in inequity as regards different patent attorneys in different states." According to the commentator, a practitioner suspended for an act by Ohio might not be suspended for the same act by New York. The commentator reasons it would be unfair for the Office to suspend the Ohio practitioner, but not the New York practitioner. The commentator's concern is not warranted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

Another commentator noted that §10.23(a) (3) "points up the difficulty of superimposing . . . [a] set of rules on of the various local jurisdictions." Here again, the commentator's concern is not believed warranted in view of the second sentence of §10.1. Another commentator noted that "moral turpitude" is hard to define. It was suggested that possession of marijuana is regarded as a crime involving moral turpitude in some states where a 99-year sentence may be received. It was suggested that in other states possession of marijuana might result in "a slap on the wrist." If a practitioner is incarcerated for a crime in a state, it follows that the practitioner is not capable of representing individuals before the Office. This is true even if the same practitioner would not have been incarcerated in another state for the same act.

The Florida Bar raised a question concerning §10.23(c) (5) which is answered under the discussion above of §10.1. Section 10.23(c) (5) has been changed to make suspension or disbarment "on ethical grounds" a basis for suspension or disbarment by the Office. "Ethical grounds" would include incompetence, but would not include failure to pay State bar dues.

One comment suggested that "disreputable" and "gross misconduct" in §10.23(a) be defined. The terms "disreputable" and "gross misconduct" appear in 35 U.S.C. 32 and need no further definition in the rules. For a discussion of "disreputable," see Poole v. United States, 54 A.F.T.R. 2d (P-H) 84-5536 (D.D.C. June 29, 1984).

Several comments suggested that the Model Rules of Professional Conduct of the American Bar Association (1983) be adopted in place of §10.23. Adoption of the Model Rules was given consideration prior to publication of the advance notice and the notice of proposed rulemaking. The matter has been considered again. However, it has not been demonstrated to the Office that a large number of states have adopted the Model Rules. As noted in the notice of proposed rulemaking, at least Va. has rejected the Model Rules. Accordingly, the PTO will not, at this time, adopt the Model Rules. If a large number of states adopt the Model Rules in the future, the PTO would be willing to reconsider its position.

One comment suggested that "before the Office" be inserted after the word "conduct" in §10.23(b) (4), (5), and (6). This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

A suggestion was received that "improperly" be inserted at the beginning of §10.23(c) (4) (iii). This suggestion has been adopted.

A suggestion was received that the word "patent" be inserted before "application" in §10.23(c) (7). This suggestion has been adopted.

A suggestion was received that §10.23(c) (15) be changed so that a trademark practitioner could present potentially scandalous subject matter in order to receive a determination on the merits of registrability. See e.g., In re McGinley, 660 F.2d 481, 211 USPQ 668 (CCPA 1981). Section 10.23(c) (15) has been changed to refer only "making a scandalous or indecent statement in a paper filed in the Office."

Several individuals suggested that it may be difficult to determine the identity of tunder §10.23(c) (8), particularly in corporate patent departments. The PTO will presume that practitioners know the identities of their clients and that information conveyed to the client is being conveyed in a manner acceptable to the client.

Section 10.23(c) (12) has been changed in response to comments which suggested that it would be difficult for practitioners to comply with §10.23(c) (12) on the one hand and §§10.24 and 10.131 on the other hand. The purpose of §10.23(c) (12) is to eliminate a frivolous complaint against practitioners. Accordingly, §10.23(c) (12) has been changed to define as misconduct "knowningly filing, or causing to be filed, a frivolous complaint alleging a violation by a practitioner of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility."

Several individuals criticized §10.24. The provisions of §10.24 are derived from DR 1-103 of the Code of Professional Responsibility of the American Bar Association (1970)—the rule currently applicable to practitioners. See 37 CFR §§1.344 and 2.13. The PTO is not aware that the current rule causes any problems. Accordingly, the numerous suggestions to delete or amend §10.24 are not being adopted.

One comment was received which suggested that charging another person with trademark infringement and requesting that the person withdraw a pending application "might be . . . interpreted as a violation" of §10.31(a). The PTO disagrees. A reasonable interpretation of the rule does not justify the unreasonable construction by the commentator.

At the hearing, an individual discussed §10.32. The individual suggested that three "practices" should be sanctioned under any PTO Code of Professional Responsibility and it was suggested that all three practices might be prohibited by §10.32. First, the individual suggested that "the giving of moderately priced presents . . . to established clients on appropriate occasions—Christmas, weddings of their daughters" should not constitute a violation of §10.32. The PTO agrees. The giving of a gift to an "established client" on the occasions suggested is not a gift "to a person for recommending the practitioner's services." Second, the individual suggested that a practitioner should not be prohibited from "paying for ordinary client entertainment." The PTO agrees. Again the "client" is not "a person recommending the practitioner's services" in return for being entertained. Third, the individual argued that the rules should not preclude an "exchange of cases with foreign practitioners." An "exchange" was said to occur "[w]here a foreign patent practitioner in his country sends cases to an American patent or trademark practitioner to prosecute before the PTO, and you send the foreign firm cases to prosecute before the foreign patent office, on the more or less explicit basis that it's something in the nature of a trade." According to the individual, the "exchange" ordinarily takes place without knowledge of the practitioner's client. The individual expressed the opinion that "exchanges" without knowledge of the client presently occur routinely. The PTO believes that the suggested "exchange" may ethically take place only when the practitioner's clients are fully advised of the exchange. Three other witnesses at the hearing expressed the view—correctly the PTO believes—that client knowledge is essential to an ethical exchange of the type contemplated. No change in §10.32 is being made.

A suggestion was received that "in matters before the Office" be inserted after "professional employment" in §10.33. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1. Another comment suggested that Rule 7.3 of the Model Rules of Professional Conduct (1983) be adopted in place of §10.33. The suggestion is not being adopted. Section 10.33 is based partly on Rule 7.3, but contains the additional language "under circumstances evidencing undue influence, intimidation, or overreaching." Section 10.33 is designed to prohibit so-called "ambulance chasing." In Ohralik v. Ohio State Bar Ass'n., 436 U.S. 447 (1978), the Supreme Court held that a state could lawfully regulate ambulance chasing. In its opinion, the Supreme Court said:

> We need not discuss or evaluate each of these interests in detail as appellant has conceded that the State has a legitimate and indeed "compelling" interest in preventing those aspects of solicitation that involve fraud, undue influence, intimidation, overreaching, and other forms of 'vexatious conduct.' We agree that protection of the public from these aspects of solicitation is a legitimate and important state interest.

436 U.S. at 462. The additional language appearing in §10.33 is designed to limit the application of §10.33 to those situations in which the PTO has a legitimate interest. See also 35 U.S.C. 32 and §10.31(a).

A suggestion was received that §10.35(b) should be deleted. According to the suggestion, "[r]egulation of the practitioner's business arrangements should be left to state regulation." While the PTO is in general agreement with the rationale suggested, there exist partnerships of agents which are not subject to regulation by any state. Moreover, the commentator has not suggested or shown that §10.35(b) is inconsistent with the policy of any state. Practitioners should not be free to hold themselves out as being associated with a partnership or other organizations when an association does not in fact exist.

One comment suggested that "in the locality" be deleted from §10.36(b)(3). This suggestion is being adopted, because "in the locality" has no particular significance in the practice of patent and trademark law. Clients of patent and trademark practitioners are not necessarily located where counsel are located. Moreover, the practice is national in scope.

An individual at the hearing suggested that the PTO should delete subparagraphs (1) and (2) from §10.37(a). This suggestion is not being adopted. The individual suggested that a client need not know that "employment" has been referred to another practitioner or to a foreign practitioner. The PTO disagrees and so did three other individuals who expressed a view at the hearing. Moreover, the PTO believes that when "farming out" occurs with the consent of a client, that the fee division should be proportional to the services rendered. Under §10.37, "farming out" of work without knowledge and consent of a client will constitute a disciplinary rule violation.

One commentator suggested that §10.39 "may result in numerous claims to the effect that a practitioner brought a proceeding 'merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring another person.' " Section 10.39 continues existing policy (37 CFR §1.344 and DR 2-109 of the ABA Code (1970)). Under existing policy, the PTO has not experienced "numerous claims." Accordingly, there is no reason to expect such claims under §10.39.

A suggestion was received that the first sentence of §10.40(a) be changed to read: "A practitioner may withdraw from employment in a proceeding before the Office without permission from the Commissioner in those instances in which a substitute has been selected and is willing to serve." This suggestion is not being adopted. If "a substitute has been selected and is willing to serve," presumably with the consent of the client, a new power of attorney may be filed in the PTO. Another commentator suggested that §10.40 should not apply to corporate attorneys. This suggestion likewise is not being adopted. If a corporate atorney changes jobs, the attorney should withdraw from representing the "old" corporation or the old corporation should revoke any power of attorney.

One comment suggested that the PTO should be under a burden of deciding requests for permission to withdraw within thirty (30) days. This suggestion is not being adopted, but it is and will continue to be PTO policy to promptly decide requests for permission to withdraw.

One comment suggested that ", and may not withdraw in other matters," be deleted from §10.40(c). This suggestion has been adopted.

One comment asked whether a power of attorney given during prosecution of a patent application continues to be viable after the patent is issued. The answer is "yes." Communications received during reexamination proceedings are sent to the correspondence address established during prosecution of the application which matures into the patent being reexamined. See 37 CFR §1.525. Notices concerning maintenance fees likewise are mailed to the correspondence address. See 37 CFR §1.363, 49 F.R. 34725 (Aug. 31, 1984). The commentator also raised a question of who is the client when a case is filed on behalf of an individual, but the individual's assignee pays the practitioner's bills. Practitioners are expected to know the identities of their clients. If a practitioner is hired by a corporation and wishes to make that fact plain on the record of a patent application, the practitioner may file an assignment and a power of attorney signed by the assignee. If a dispute should then occur between the individual and the assignee, the record would be clear that the assignee is the client.

A comment suggested that §10.40(a) "would appear to be unreasonable" in view of the language "giving due notice to another practitioner." Such language does not appear in §10.40(a).

An oral comment was received by phone which questioned whether the use of para-legals or apprentices by a practitioner constitutes the unauthorized practice of law. If a para-legal or apprentice works under the direction of a practitioner and the practitioner does not allow the para-legal or apprentice to hold themselves out as a practitioner, there is no unauthorized practice of law problem within the meaning of §10.47.

One comment discussing §10.49 made the following statement:

> ". . . if the intent of this section is to prohibit a practitioner from forming a partnership with a lawyer who, while in good standing with his State bar, does not qualify to practice before the Office (either because he has not taken the patent examination or is not qualified to handle trademark matters), then it should be stricken."

As explained in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33797, column 3), the PTO does not intend to prohibit formation of law firms by members of the Bar of any state.

One comment suggested that "in matters before the Office" should be inserted after "employment" in §10.62(a). This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

Another comment suggested that §§10.62 and 10.63 be replaced with Rule 3.7(b) of the Model Rules of Professional Conduct of the ABA (1983). For reasons already discussed, the PTO is not adopting the Model Rules. The comment went on to suggest that practitioners would not be free testify concerning attorney diligence in patent interference cases. The PTO has made it plain twice that it disagrees. See the advance notice (49 F.R. 10016, column 3 (Mar. 16, 1984)) and the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33797, column 3, last paragraph (Aug. 24, 1984)).

A comment suggested that language in §§10.62 and 10.63 is not clear. Specifically, the commentator referred to "solely to an uncontested matter" or "solely to a matter of formality." This language occurs in the current rules and has not caused any known difficulty.

Two comments were received which suggested that §10.64(b) should permit practitioners to pay fees which rightfully should be paid by a practitioner. This suggestion is being adopted and the following sentence has been added to §10.64(b): "A practitioner may, however, advance any fee required to prevent or remedy an abandonment of a client's application by reason of an act or omission attributable to the practitioner and not to the client, whether or not the client is ultimately liable for such fee." One of the commentators supplied the following rationale with which the PTO agrees:

> It sometimes happens that payment of a fee is necessitated by some act or omission for which the practitioner and not the client is responsible. One example is a fee for an extension of time to respond to an Office Action (see 37 C.F.R. §1.17 and §1.136), where the delay has resulted from the practitioner's workload for other clients, or from the practitioner's absence from his or her office for purposes unrelated to the client's business. Another example is a petition fee for revival of an application unintentionally abandoned through some inadvertent oversight on the practitioner's part. In these circumstances, it would seem unjust to require the client to bear the cost of the fee.

One comment suggested that §10.65 should be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

Another comment suggested that §10.65(a) "may limit a practitioner serving on the board of directors of a client." The commentator went on to say that practitioners serving on boards of directors is a common practice. Inasmuch as the client consents to practitioner serving on the board, it is believed that §10.65 does not limit a practitioner as suggested by the commentator.

One comment was received which suggested that §10.66(d) be changed to exclude corporate patent departments. According to the comment, "why should an entire corporate patent department have to withdraw if one of its members has to withdraw for disciplinary reasons?" In situations where it would not be appropriate for an entire firm or department to withdraw, §10.66(d) permits the Commissioner or the Director to so order. See e.g., Sunkist Growers, Inc. v. The Benjamin Ansehl Co., 221 USPQ 1077 (Comm'r.Pat. 1984). Another comment suggested that §10.66 should be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

One comment was received which suggested that §10.67 be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

A comment was received which suggested that §10.68(c) might be construed to preclude a practitioner from joining a law firm where attorneys who are not registered to practice before the PTO "are in control," i.e., are the "senior" partners. The definition of practitioner (see §10.1(r)) precludes such a construction, because any attorney in good standing in any State is a practitioner. Another comment suggested that §10.68 be amended to indicate that it relates only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

One comment was made at the hearing which suggested that modifiers, such as "knowingly, willfully, intentionally," be inserted in §10.77. This suggestion is not being adopted. The PTO believes §10.77 states clearly the prohibited conduct.

A comment was received which suggested that §§10.77, 10.78, and 10.84 be amended to indicate that they refer only to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

One comment suggested that the term "unwarranted" in §10.85(a) (2) is "too vague as to its limits." The PTO disagrees. Contrary to the suggestion by the commentator, it is believed that practitioners can readily determine whether they are advocating a position that is unwarranted under existing law.

A comment was received which suggested that §10.85(b) can place a difficult burden on patent counsel. In support of his position, the commentator gave two examples and commented on both examples as follows:

> Example 1: A client engages a patent attorney in the preparation of a patent application, and the patent attorney goes through the usual routine of advising the client of statutory bars, duty to disclose, etc. The attorney prepares and files the application, and during the course of the prosecution, the client informs the attorney of some activities that occurred a couple of years before filing the application, which activities might constitute an offer for sale. The attorney advises that this must be disclosed to the Patent Examiner, but the applicant refuses to follow this course of action and discharges the patent attorney. The client then engages another attorney to complete the prosecution, without telling the new attorney of the potentially damaging prior art.
> Comment: In accordance with my interpretation of §10.85(b), the first attorney would be required to disclose this situation to the Office, unless the term "prepetrated a fraud" as it appears in that rule does not include the deliberate failure to disclose relevant prior art. My concern is that this could make for some very poor relationships with the client who might not understand the attorney's duty of disclosure before the Office.
> Example 2: A rather poor inventor has managed to drum up enough money for the filing fee for a patent application and then proceeds to prepare and file his own patent application, without the assistance of a patent attorney. After a few months, the inventor obtains some financing from an investor, and the inventor and the investor consult the patent attorney to see if he would continue with the prosecution of the application. The attorney reviews the fact pattern and informs both the inventor and the investor that there is unquestionably some prior art, in the form of an earlier publication by the inventor, which must be disclosed before the Office. When the inventor and the investor find that the attorney intends to disclose this prior art as soon as he is engaged as their attorney, the inventor and the investor tell the attorney that they would rather engage the services of some other patent attorney, and that they will not tell the second attorney of the prior art.
> Comment: As I would interpret §10.85 (b), the first patent attorney would be obliged to inform the Office of the relevant prior art. The first patent attorney would likely have the serial number and filing date of the application, and it would appear to me that the patent attorney would have to disclose not only the prior art, but also disclose the intent of the inventor and the investor not to disclose the same. This is pretty harsh treatment, and I can see where the inventor and the investor would have some very hard feelings against the patent attorney.

The PTO agrees that under the circumstances of Example 1, a "client . . . might not understand the attorney's duty of disclosure . . . " Likewise, the PTO can understand "where the inventor and the investor [in Example 2] would have some very hard feelings against the patent attorney." Nevertheless, the commentator has correctly noted in each case that the practitioner is required to advise the PTO. The practitioner's obligation under §10.85(b) has not been changed by the rules and is mandated by Kingsland v. Dorsey, 338 U.S. 318 (1949). See also Nahstoll, The Lawyer's Allegiance: Priorities Regarding Confidentiality, 41 Wash. & Lee L. Rev. 421 (1984).

A comment was received which suggested that §10.85 be amended to indicate that it pertains only to matters before the PTO. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

Two comments were received which suggested that §10.87(a) could be construed to prohibit a practitioner from recommending that a client meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions. Both comments suggested that §10.87(a) be amended to permit a practitioner to recommend that a client engage in settlement discussions directly with an opposing party. The suggestion is being adopted and the following sentence has been added to §10.87(a): "It is not improper, however, for a practitioner to encourage a client to meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions."

A suggestion was made that §10.87 be amended to indicate that it pertains only to matters before the PTO. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

One comment suggested that §10.89(c) (5) be "eliminated on the grounds of vagueness" because one cannot "be expected to comply with apparently unpublished customs of courtesy or practice." The suggestion is being adopted. Subparagraph (6) of §10.89(c) is being redesignated as subparagraph (5) and has also been changed to read: "Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct before the Office (see §1.3 of this Subchapter)." Subparagraph (7) has been redesignated as subparagraph (6).

Another comment discussing §10.89 asked "since when must counsel cite to the Examiner in ex parte proceedings cases known to be directly adverse to the position being advocated?" Counsel are expected to advise patent and trademark examiners of known controlling authority which is contrary to a position being advocated. It is important for counsel to do so in ex parte cases because there is no advocate taking a position contrary to the position being taken by an applicant. See also Southern Pacific Transportation Co. v. Public Utilities Commission of the State of Calif., 716 F.2d 1285, 1291 (9th Cir. 1983).

A commentator contended that §10.89(a) "makes no sense" because a decision of the PTO may have been overruled by the Federal Circuit. Section 10.89(a) is limited to "a decision of the Office made in the course of a proceeding." Practitioners are expected to follow interlocutory orders entered in PTO proceedings. Obviously if such an order is ultimately overruled or reversed by a court, it no longer need be followed. The same commentator suggested that §10.89(c) (3) is not appropriate. Specifically, the commentator indicated that practitioners often rely on the specification of a patent application and prior art. The specification and prior art are evidence, not the "practitioner's personal knowledge."

One commentator suggested that §§10.92 and 10.93 be amended to indicate that they relate solely to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

A commentator at the hearing suggested that §10.93 be changed to permit practitioners to discuss procedural matters with interlocutory examiners or members of the Board of Patent Interferences or the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. In view of Public Law 98–622, November 8, 1984, the Board of Patent Interferences will cease to exist on February 8, 1985. All patent interference cases will be transfered to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and will be assigned to an examiner-in-chief. Practitioners may consult an examiner-in-chief orally upon adequate notice to opposing counsel. A telephone conference call may be arranged when opposing counsel desires to participate in the oral consultation. The same is true of the interlocutory examiners or members of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Questions of a purely procedural nature may be asked. However, an examiner-in-chief or the interlocutory examiner or member of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board may nevertheless decline to answer procedural questions without opposing counsel being present or involved in a conference call.

One commentator suggested that §§10.101, 10.102, 10.103, and 10.111 be amended to indicate that they refer only to proceedings in the PTO. The suggestion is not being adopted in view of the second sentence of §10.1.

One comment suggested that practitioners residing in the United States should be able to maintain trust funds in a bank in any State. This suggestion is being adopted and §10.112(a) has been changed to implement the suggestion. However, if a State bar requires funds to be kept in a bank within the State, a practitioner would be required to keep funds in a bank in the State in order to comply with State rules. Another comment suggested that §10.112(c)(2) is not practical. According to the commentator, "invention samples and invention disclosures and drawings usually are the client's property, but keeping them in a safe deposit box is totally impractical." The commentator overlooks that portion of §10.112(c)(2) which reads "in a safe deposit box or other place of safekeeping . . . ." A client may consent to a practitioner keeping invention samples, invention disclosures, and drawings in the practitioner's office. The practitioner, of course, should see to it that the office is maintained with appropriate security.

An individual testified at the hearing that §10.112 is not clear. According to the individual, "I think the rules should specify that if you get money up front from a client, whether it's called a retainer, pre-payment, or whatever . . . that money has to be put into a trust fund or a trust account . . . and that you can't take the money out and spend it until you have performed the services and sent a bill to the client that says X dollars has come out of your trust account in payment of Y services." The PTO believes that §10.112(b)(2) specifies "that you can't take the money out and spent it until you have performed the services" and that §10.112(c)(3) specifies that you must send "a bill to the client." Accordingly, no change to §10.112 is necessary.

One commentator testified at the hearing that the PTO rules do not address "those individuals who, due to a mental or physical defect, are not able to bring themselves in conformity with the rules of conduct . . . ." On the contrary, §10.130 specifies that any practitioner shown to be "incompetent" may be suspended or excluded. The commentator at the hearing referred to an individual "who has a drinking problem or one who is mentally incapable of representing people before the . . . Office." The statute (35 U.S.C. 32) and the rules address such an individual. As noted in the advance notice, the PTO has declined to adopt the suggestion appearing in Manson, Helping Lawyers Who Need Help (But Won't Ask for It!), 25 Va. Bar News 27 (June 1977). See 49 F.R. 10017, column 1 (Mar. 16, 1984). If an individual is suspended due to a drinking problem, reinstatement (see §10.160) may be conditioned on a clear and convincing showing that the drinking problem has been overcome.

One individual testified at the hearing that a "statute of limitations" should be inserted in §10.131. This suggestion is not being adopted. As the individual noted during testimony, statues of limitations do not apply in disciplinary proceedings.

A suggestion was received that §10.132 be changed to expressly provide that:

> No disposition adverse to the respondent shall be recommended by the Director until the respondent shall have been afforded the opportunity to be heard.

This suggestion is not being adopted. Section 10.132(a) provides that, where necessary, the Director shall comply with 5 U.S.C. 558(c) prior to calling a meeting of the Committee on Discipline. The relevant portion of 5 U.S.C. 558(c) provides:

> Except in cases of willfulness or those in which public health, interest, or safety required otherwise, the withdrawal, suspension, revocation, or annulment of a license is lawful only if, before the institution of agency proceedings therefor, the license has been given;

VOL 1074 ISS 2 JAN 13 1987 UMI

(1) notice by the agency in writing of the facts or conduct which may warrant the action; and
(2) opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with all lawful requirements.

Where appropriate, a notice under §588(c) will be issued prior to the time the Director takes a case to the Committee on Discipline. Any reply to the §558 (c) notice will be reviewed by the Director and the Committee on Discipline prior to deciding whether a complaint should be filed.

Another suggestion was received which indicated that §10.132(c) should be changed so that the "accused practitioner . . . [would] have the right to select an administrative law judge from a panel of such judges, such panel including the names of at least two law judges." This suggestion is not being adopted. No rationale was given in support of the suggestion and there is no known reason to permit a respondent to select the particular administrative law judge (ALJ) to be assigned to hear the practitioner's case.

Several changes have been made in §10.133 by the PTO which are not in response to any comment or suggestion. The language "§§10.132(b) and 10.134" in the first sentence of §10.133(b) has been changed to §10.134". This change was made because a reference to §10.132(b) is not necessary. The language "his or her resignation by filing" in the first sentence of §10.133(b) has also been deleted as unnecessary. The second sentence of paragraph (b) of §10.133 has been replaced by new paragraphs (c) and (d). New paragraph (c) specifies the content of an affidavit of resignation filed prior to the date set by the ALJ for a hearing. New paragraph (d) specifies the content of an affidavit of resignation filed on or after the date set by the ALJ for a hearing. Old paragraph (c) has been redesignated as new paragraph (e) and the language "paragraph (b)" therein has been changed to read "paragraphs (b) and (c)". Old paragraphs (d) and (e) have been redesignated as new paragraphs (f) and (g), respectively.

New paragraph (c) of §10.133 has been added to define the conditions under which a practitioner may resign prior to the date set by the ALJ for a hearing. Experience has shown that practitioners do not readily resign prior to hearing if they are required to admit the charges against them and/or are required to admit that they could not have been defended against the charges or the subject of an investigation. Paragraph (c) does not require a practitioner to admit the charges or any lack of defense at the time of resignation. Rather, under §10.133(c)(5), any admission is operative at the time of a request for reinstatement and only for the limited purpose of determining the request for reinstatement. By deferring the time when the practitioner makes the admissions, it is believed that settlements are more likely. Once a hearing begins, however, there is no reason to permit a resignation without admission of the facts and a lack of defense. The admissions of paragraph (c)(5) are relevant in determining whether reinstatement should be granted and whether sufficient time has passed between resignation and any application for reinstatement.

One comment was made at the hearing which suggested that "if, in fact there is a real stalemate in a settlement discussion, that there be some avenue so that there be, in essence, binding arbitration" on the part of the respondent and the Director. This suggestion is not being adopted. There is no reason to impose binding arbitration in disciplinary matters. While settlements are to be encouraged, if the parties (the respondent and the Director) cannot reach a mutually agreeable settlement, the proper recourse is to proceed with the disciplinary proceeding.

A suggestion was received that the second sentence of §10.138 be deleted. The suggestion is not being adopted. The second sentence of §10.138 provides that evidence obtained by a subpoena under 35 U.S.C. 24 will not be admitted unless prior approval was obtained from the ALJ to proceed under §24. This provision is necessary to retain control over the proceedings in the ALJ. Moreover, an order authorizing a party to proceed under §24 can be helpful to any district court which is required to determine whether an individual should be compelled to answer counsel's questions. Additional rationale in support of the PTO's decision not to adopt the suggestion appears in the advance notice (49 F.R. 10019, columns 1 and 2) and in the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 33800, column 1).

Two individuals testified at the hearing concerning §10.144. Section 10.144 provides that hearings in disciplinary cases will not be open to the public. One individual suggested that hearings in disciplinary matters should be opened to the public. The other individual took the opposite position and supported §10.144 as proposed. The suggestion to open hearings to the public is not being adopted at this time. The PTO believes that a practitioner should not unnecessarily be exposed to charges of alleged wrongdoing until the practitioner is found to have violated the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility. Unnecessary and premature exposure could cause a practitioner's clients to find other counsel based on mere allegations. Additionally, the PTO is required to maintain information concerning patent applications in secrecy. 35 U.S.C. 122. In most disciplinary cases information concerning a patent application is revealed at any hearing. Accordingly, the PTO will not provide for public hearings. However, the PTO intends to further study the possibility of hearings open to the public (e.g., in a disciplinary proceeding involving only trademark matters) and may, in the future, propose to modify §10.144.

Numerous comments were received which suggested that the burden of proof set forth in §10.149 should be changed from "preponderance of evidence" to "clear and convincing evidence." As announced at the hearing, this suggestion is being adopted. The "clear and convincing evidence" standard brings §10.149 in conformance with §10.158(d)(1)(ii) which also requires proof by clear and convincing evidence.

The term "clear and convincing evidence" is not succeptable to a precise definition. The PTO, therefore, deems it appropriate to set forth its views on what constitutes "clear and convincing evidence." "Clear and convincing evidence" falls somewhere between proof beyond a reasonable doubt and proof by a preponderance of evidence.

A reasonable doubt is a doubt based upon reason and common sense—the kind of doubt that would make a reasonable person hesitate to act. Proof beyond a reasonable doubt must, therefore, be proof of such a convincing character that a person would be willing to rely and act upon it unhesitatingly in the most important of his or her affairs. Devitt, Federal Jury Practice and Instructions §11.01 (2d ed. 1970).

To establish a fact by a preponderance of evidence means to prove that fact is more likely so than not so. A preponderance of evidence means such evidence as, when considered and compared with that opposed to it, has more convincing force, and produces in the mind of the trier of fact a belief that what is sought to be proved is more likely true than not true. Devitt, supra at §7.01.

Clear and convincing evidence is that measure or degree of proof which will produce in the mind of the trier of fact a firm belief or conviction as to an allegation sought to be established; it is more than a preponderance of evidence, but less than that required to establish guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. Hobson v. Eaton, 399 F.2d 781 (6th Cir. 1968). It does not mean clear and unequivocal." Fred C. Walker Agency, Inc. v. Lucas, 215 Va. 535, 540–541, 211 S.E.2d 88, 92 (1975).

Several comments were received which suggested that §10.150 be changed to make the Federal Rules of Evidence applicable to disciplinary proceedings. The suggestion is not being adopted. The PTO has explained, in both the advance notice (49 F.R. 10020, column 2) and the notice of proposed rulemaking (49 F.R. 338001, columns 1 and 2) why it cannot adopt the Federal Rules of Evidence in disciplinary cases. The "Federal Rules of Evidence . . . do not apply to administrative proceedings . . . ." Davis, Administrative Law Treatise, §14.01 (Supp. 1970). The controlling law is set out in 5 U.S.C. 556(d) which provides in part: "Any oral or documentary evidence may be received, but the agency as a matter of policy shall provide for the exclusion of irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence. A sanction may not be imposed or rule or order issued except on consideration of the whole record or those parts thereof cited by a party and supported by and in accordance with the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence." It appears to be the concern of some of the comments that the Administrative Procedure Act does not articulate an appropriate standard of evidence and that hearsay may be admitted. Suffice it to say that many adjudications occur daily under the Administrative Procedure Act, including disciplinary proceedings. The following language appearing in an opinion of the Eleventh Circuit in TRW-United Greenfield Division v. National Labor Relations Board, 716 F.2d 1391, 1394 (11th Cir. 1983), may be helpful:

> At the hearing the ALJ refused to allow five additional employees to testify that other employees told them that such a statement had been made. TRW contends it was denied a full and fair hearing by the exclusion of this testimony. The general rule is that administrative tribunals are not bound by the strict rules of evidence governing jury trials. Opp Cotton Mills, Inc. v. Administrator of Wage & Hour Div., 312 U.S. 126, 155, 61 S.Ct. 524, 537, 85 L.Ed. 624 (1971). Thus, the admission of testimony which would be deemed incompetent in judicial proceedings would not invalidate the administrative order. Tagg Bros. & Moorhead v. United States, 280 U.S. 420, 442, 50 S.Ct. 220, 225, 74 L.Ed. 524 (1930). But this assurance of a desirable flexibility in administrative procedure does not go so far as to justify orders without a basis in evidence having rational probative force. Mere uncorroborated hearsay or rumor does not constitute substantial evidence. Consolidated Edison Co. v. N.L.R.B., 305 U.S. 197, 230, 59 S.Ct. 206, 217, 83 L.Ed. 126 (1938). Therefore, the hearsay testimony of other employees would not have amounted to substantial evidence sufficient to support a finding for the company. We find that TRW was not denied a full and fair hearing by the judge's refusal to admit hearsay testimony.

A suggestion was received that §10.151 be changed to make the deposition rules of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure applicable to disciplinary proceedings. This suggestion is not being adopted. The discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are not being adopted by the PTO in disciplinary cases. Except for discovery which the parties agree to make voluntarily, all discovery under these rules will require the prior permission of the ALJ. This prior permission is designed to insure that the ALJ retains control over the proceeding. By requiring prior approval of the ALJ to take a deposition, the rules insure that the deposition will relate to evidence the ALJ deems to be relevant and will afford the ALJ the option of determining whether he or she wishes to observe the witness.

Several comments were received which suggested that §10.152 be changed to permit more discovery. Some commentators urged adoption of the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure relating to requests for admissions, interrogatories, and requests for production of documents. Other commentators felt that the discovery proposed in the notice of proposed rulemaking was not sufficient and that more discovery should be authorized. These latter commentators, however, did not urge adoption of the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. As one commentator noted:

> Disciplinary proceedings are not in the nature of civil actions and full discovery within the scope of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure is probably not needed or desirable.

The PTO agrees that more discovery is appropriate than would have been authorized under §10.152 as proposed. The PTO does not agree, however, that discovery should be commensurate in scope with the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

One commentator at the hearing who urged adoption of the discovery provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, correctly recognized the existence of "concerns of the Patent [and Trademark] Office regarding what are alleged to be general discovery abuses." There is ample basis for the PTO's concern. See e.g., Pollack, Discovery—Its Abuse and Correction, 80 F.R.D. 219 (1979) (reproducing remarks made by Judge Pollack at the Fifth Circuit Judicial Conference on April 26, 1978 at New Orleans). The same commentator at the hearing went on to note, however, that if the ALJ "gets on top of a case and monitors a case very actively, then no discovery abuses will occur, and if they do, they will be dealt with swiftly and properly."

Advocates of discovery "reform" seemingly rely on two principles which are claimed to be the cure-all for discovery abuse: (1) active control by the judge and (2) sanctions. See e.g. Second Report of the Special Committee for the Study of Discovery Abuse, 92 F.R.D. 137 (1980). The PTO is not in a position to impose the most effective sanction—costs. However, the PTO can invest the ALJ with control over discovery. It is because the PTO can invest the ALJ with control over discovery that the suggestion for more discovery is being adopted. Section 10.152 has been changed to permit discovery which the PTO believes will be effective. The scope of the discovery, however, will not be commensurate in scope with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Paragraph (a) of §10.152 will permit limited discovery an answer is filed. Discovery is not authorized prior to the filing of an answer. A party seeking discovery will have to make out a clear and convincing case to the ALJ that discovery is necessary and relevant. If discovery is authorized, the ALJ may set conditions he or she deems appropriate to accomplish the discovery. For example, the ALJ may set the place and time for inspection of documents which are required to be produced or the ALJ can order a party to mail copies of the documents to the other party. Under paragraph (a) of §10.152, discovery is limited to a reasonable number of requests for admissions, interrogatories, or requests for production of documents and things. Consideration was given to setting numerical maximums for requests for admission, interrogatories and requests for production of documents and things. See e.g., Local Rule 11.1 of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. However, numerical maximums are not presently specified. Should discovery become a problem, the PTO will give further consideration to limiting the number of discovery requests which a party may file.

Paragraph (b) of §10.152 specified certain matters which cannot be discovered. Matter which will be used by another party solely for impeachment or cross-examination cannot be discovered. Documents which will be used as part of the Director's case-in-chief or the respondent's case-in-rebuttal or affirmative defenses are subject to discovery. Patent applications not available to a respondent under 35 U.S.C. §122 are not subject to discovery. Matter relating to disciplinary proceedings commenced prior to the effective date of these rules is not available. For the most part, the reasons for a particular length of suspension or disbarment have not been stated in the past. Accordingly, disciplinary proceedings commenced prior to these rules are not particularly relevant. See Poole v. United States, 54 A.F.T.R. 2d (P-H) 84–5536 (D.D.C. June 29, 1984). Prior disciplinary proceedings which resulted in public discipline being imposed will continue to be available in the Office of the Director of Enrollment and Discipline. Respondents will continue to be free to inspect the files of those proceedings. Matters relating to experts, except as may be required by the ALJ under §10.152(e), likewise are not subject to discovery. Privileged matter and attorney work product are excluded from matter which can be discovered.

Paragraph (c) sets forth some factors the ALJ can consider in determining whether to authorize discovery or to limit discovery which is authorized. The factors include delay (which is a major consideration in disciplinary matters), burden on the party required to produce discovery, availability of the discovery sought to the public (in which case, discovery may not be necessary), the extent to which the matter sought to be discovered is equally available to both parties, and the extent to which discovery is available from another source.

Paragraph (d) of §10.152 requires a party desiring discovery to file a motion which explains, in detail, how each request is relevant to an issue raised in the complaint or the answer.

Paragraph (e) of §10.152 sets out matter which the ALJ can require a party to produce in a pre-hearing statement. Subparagraph (4) states the matter the ALJ can require disclosed related to experts.

The PTO has every reason to believe that the discovery authorized by §10.152 will be useful and that sufficient authority has been given to the ALJ to effectively control discovery and prevent abuses. The PTO intends to monitor discovery closely in the future and will consider amending these rules if abuses occur.

One comment suggested that §10.154(b) be modified by adding "any extenuating circumstances" as a matter to be considered in imposing a penalty. This suggestion is being adopted. Another comment suggested that §10.154 should address "probation." This suggestion is not being adopted. Nevertheless, the PTO has authority to place a practitioner on probation for all or a portion of any suspension and to revoke the probation upon a showing of a violation. See In re Dula, 1030 Official Gazette 20 (May 17, 1983).

One comment suggested that §10.155 be modified to specify that the Director should serve a copy of any appeal "on the respondent or on the attorney for respondent." This suggestion is not being adopted. However, in view of the suggestion the language "on the respondent" (both occurrences) in §10.155(a) is being deleted. Section 10.142(a) specifies how service is made on a respondent who is represented by an attorney.

A suggestion was received that §10.157 be modified to provide that a stay would be entered in every case where a respondent seeks judicial review of a decision of the Commissioner. This suggestion was rejected at the time the notice of proposed rulemaking was published (49 F.R. 33802) and is not being adopted. There are cases where a stay is not appropriate, e.g., when the disbarred practitioner is incarcerated. There are other times when a stay may be appropriate. Accordingly, stays will be granted in the discretion of the Commissioner.

Several comments were received discussing §10.158. Some commentators suggested that §10.158 was "too lenient" and another suggested that it was "too hard" on suspended and excluded practitioners. Section 10.158 is designed to advise suspended practitioners as to what they can and cannot do during any period of suspension. The PTO believes that §10.158 strikes a reasonable balance in a difficult area. See the discussion concerning §10.158 in the advance notice (49 F.R. 10021, columns 2 and 3). One comment suggested that §10.158 should be made applicable to corporations. This suggestion is being adopted by appropriate changes in §10.158(c) to refer to client-employers. Another comment suggested that §10.158(b)(1) and (2) be changed to refer to matters before the PTO. This suggestion is also being adopted.

An oral comment was received asking whether the Director could conduct an investigation in connection with a determination under §10.158(d). The Director may conduct whatever investigation is warranted to determine whether a suspended or excluded practitioner seeking reinstatement has complied with regulations relating to suspended and excluded practitioners.

A comment was received regarding §10.159(a) which suggested that the Director notify the American Bar Association National Discipline Data Bank when a practitioner is suspended or excluded. This suggestion is not being adopted as such. However, §10.159(a) has been changed to authorize the Director to notify "any appropriate bar association." The PTO is not inclined to mention any particular bar association by name in the rules. It will be the practice of the PTO to notify the National Discipline Data Bank, among others, when a practitioner is disciplined. Another comment suggested that the entire file of a disciplinary proceeding should not be open to the public when only some, but not all, charges are sustained. This suggestion is not being adopted. In most disciplinary matters, it would be highly inconvenient to segregate the relevant from the irrelevant. Moreover, once discipline is imposed, the principal rationale for keeping the file secret no longer exists. The disciplined practitioner will suffer whatever public embarassment results from discipline apart from whether part or all of the file is open to the public.

With respect to §10.160, one commentator suggested that the burden on the suspended or excluded practitioner for reinstatment be stated in the rules. This suggestion is being adopted and a "clear and convincing showing" requirement has been added to §10.160(c). Section 10.149 sets out the burden on the Director for proof of allegations in the complaint and upon the respondent for proving affirmative defenses. The showing required by §10.158(d)(1) is by "clear and convincing evidence." One commentator suggested that the 5-year period of §10.160(b) should be changed to a 3-year period. This suggestion is not being adopted. According to the commentator, the PTO has failed to state why a 5-year period was proposed. The commentator believes a 3-year period is more appropriate, although no reason is given in support of the commentator's belief. The PTO, after considering the matter, has concluded that some period must be specified and there is no reason to change the 5-year period proposed. A commentator suggested that a practitioner suspended for less than six months should "automatically" be reinstated. This suggestion is not being adopted, because the Director, as a condition to any reinstatement, must find that the suspended practitioner complied with §10.158. Another commentator questioned whether the rules should provide for application for reinstatement during a period of probation. The PTO believes the rules need not make provision for application for reinstatement during probation. For example, if a practitioner is suspended for a period of three years and it is ordered that the practitioner be actually suspended for at least one year and that the last two years the practitioner be placed on probation, the practitioner would be able to apply for reinstatement after serving one year of the three year suspension.

The PTO disagrees with the following comment concerning§10.161(b). "This clause is ex post facto legislation as it seeks retroactively an increase of penalties regarding conduct which occurred prior to the legislation." No legislation is involved. Section 10.161(b) does not "increase penalties."

Other Considerations: The rules will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rules are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96–354) and Executive Order 12291.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the rules will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96–354). The rules regulate the conduct of attorneys and agents who represent individuals and juristic entities before the Patent and Trademark Office and would not be expected to result in an increase of fees charged by attorneys and agents to entities, including small entities.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that the rules are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The information reporting requirements contained in the rules have been approved by the Office of Management and Budget, OMB Control No. 0651–0012 and OMB Control No. 0651–0017.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1, 2 and 10.

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations, Conflict of interests, Courts, Inventions and patents, Trademarks, Lawyers.

For the reasons given in the preamble and under the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; and 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, and 41. Parts 1, 2, and 10 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below:

Part 1—Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. Section 1.8 is amended by adding to paragraph (a) (12) a new subparagraph (xiii) to read as follows:

§1.8 Certificate of mailing.

(a) * * *

(2) * * *

(xiii) Papers filed in connection with a disciplinary proceeding under Part 10 of this Subchapter.

2. Section 1.21 is amended by adding to paragraph (a) two new subparagraphs (5) and (6) to read as follows:

§1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

(a) * * *

(5) For review of a decision of the Director of Enrollment and Discipline under §10.2(c) 60.00

(6) For requesting regrading of an examination under §10.7(c) 60.00

* * * * *

3. Section 1.31 is revised to read as follows:

§1.31 Applicants may be represented by a registered attorney or agent.

An applicant for patent may file and prosecute his or her own case, or he or she may be represented by a registered attorney, registered agent, or other individual authorized to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in patent cases. See §§10.6 and 10.9 of this Subchapter. The Patent and Trademark Office cannot aid in the selection of a registered attorney or agent.

4. Section 1.33 is amended by removing from paragraph (c) "1.341 and 1.347" and inserting in its place "10.5 and 10.11".

5. Section 1.34 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

§1.34 Recognition for representation.

(a) When a registered attorney or agent acting in a representative capacity appears in person or signs a paper in practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in a patent case, his or her personal appearance or signature shall constitute a representation to the Patent and Trademark Office that under the provisions of this Subchapter and the law, he or she is authorized to represent the particular party in whose behalf he or she acts. In filing such a paper, the registered attorney or agent should specify his or her registration number with his or her signature. Further proof of authority to act in a representative capacity may be required.

* * * * *

6. Section 1.56 is amended by removing from paragraphs (f) and (h) "1.346" and inserting in its place "10.18".

7. The center heading preceding §1.341 is removed.

8. Sections 1.341 through 1.348 are removed.

9. Section 1.455 is amended by removing from paragraph (a) "1.341" and inserting in its place "10.10".

Part 2—Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

10. Section 2.11 is revised to read as follows:

§2.11 Applicants may be represented by an attorney.

The owner of a trademark may file and prosecute his or her own application for registration of such trademark, or he or she may be represented by an attorney or other individual authorized to practice in trademark cases under §10.14 of this Subchapter. The Patent and Trademark Office cannot aid in the selection of an attorney or other representative.

11. Sections 2.12 through 2.16 are removed.

12. Section 2.17 is amended by revising paragraph (a) as follows:

§2.17 Recognition for representation.

(a) When an attorney as defined in §10.1(c) of this Subchapter acting in a representative capacity appears in person or signs a paper in practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in a trademark case, his or her personal appearance or signature shall constitute a representation to the Patent and Trademark Office that, under the provisions of §10.14 and the law he or she is authorized to represent the particular party in whose behalf he or she acts. Further proof of authority to act in a representative capacity may be required.

* * * * *

13. Section 2.19 is revised to read as follows:

§2.19 Revocation of power of attorney or of other authorization to represent, withdrawal.

(a) Authority to represent an applicant or a party to a proceeding may be revoked at any stage in the proceedings of a case upon notification to the Commissioner; and when it is so revoked, the Office will communicate directly with the applicant or party to the proceeding or with such other qualified person as may be authorized. The Patent and Trademark Office will notify the person affected of the revocation of his or her authorization.

(b) An individual authorized to represent an applicant or party in a trademark case may withdraw upon application to and approval by the Commissioner.

Part 10—Representation of others before the Patent and Trademark Office

§10.1 Definitions.

This part governs solely the practice of patent, trademark, and other law before the Patent and Trademark Office. Nothing in this part shall be construed to preempt the authority of each State to regulate the practice of law, except to the extent necessary for the Patent and Trademark Office to accomplish its federal objectives. Unless otherwise clear from the context, the following definitions apply to this part:

(a) "Affidavit" means affidavit, declaration under 35 U.S.C. 25 (see §1.68 and §2.20 of this Subchapter), or statutory declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746.

(b) "Application" includes an application for a design, plant, or utility patent, an application to reissue any patent, and an application to register a trademark.

(c) "Attorney" or "lawyer" means an individual who is a member in good standing of the bar of any United States court or the highest court of any State. A "non-lawyer" is a person who is not an attorney or lawyer.

(d) "Canon" is defined in §10.20(a).

(e) "Confidence" is defined in §10.57(a).

(f) "Differing interests" include every interest that may adversely affect either the judgment or the loyalty of a practitioner to a client, whether it be a conflicting, inconsistent, diverse, or other interest.

(g) "Director" means the Director of Enrollment and Discipline.

(h) "Disciplinary Rule" is defined in §10.20(b).

(i) "Employee of a tribunal" includes all employees of courts, the Office, and other adjudicatory bodies.

(j) "Giving information" within the meaning of §10.23(c)(2) includes making (1) a written statement or representation or (2) an oral statement or representation.

(k) "Law firm" includes a professional legal corporation or a partnership.

(l) "Legal counsel" means practitioner.

(m) "Legal profession" includes the individuals who are lawfully engaged in practice of patent, trademark, and other law before the Office.

(n) "Legal service" means any legal service which may lawfully be performed by a practitioner before the Office.

(o) "Legal System" includes the Office and courts and adjudicatory bodies which review matters on which the Office has acted.

(p) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(q) "Person" includes a corporation, an association, a trust, a partnership, and any other organization or legal entity.

(r) "Practitioner" means (1) an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Office in patent cases or (2) an individual authorized under 5 U.S.C. 500(b) or otherwise as provided by this Subchapter, to practice before the Office in trademark cases or other non-patent cases. A "suspended or excluded practitioner" is a practitioner who is suspended or excluded under §10.156. A "non-practitioner" is an individual who is not a practitioner.

(s) A "proceeding before the Office" includes an application, a reexamination, a protest, a public use proceeding, a patent interference, an inter partes trademark proceeding, or any other proceeding which is pending before the Office.

(t) "Professional legal corporation" means a corporation authorized by law to practice law for profit.

(u) "Registration" means registration to practice before the Office in patent cases.

(v) "Respondent" is defined in §10.134(a)(1).

(w) "Secret" is defined in §10.57(a).

(x) "Solicit" is defined in §10.33.

(y) "State" includes the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and other federal territories and possessions.

(z) "Tribunal" includes courts, the Office, and other adjudicatory bodies.

(aa) "United States" means the United States of America, its territories and possessions.

§10.2 Director of Enrollment and Discipline.

(a) Appointment. The Commissioner shall appoint a Director of Enrollment and Discipline. In the event of the absence of the Director or a vacancy in the office of the Director, the Commissioner may designate an employee of the Office to serve as acting Director of Enrollment and Discipline. The Director and any acting Director shall be an active member in good standing of the bar of a State.

(b) Duties. The Director shall:

(1) Receive and act upon applications for registration, prepare and grade the examination provided for in §10.7(b), maintain the register provided for in §10.5, and perform such other duties in connection with enrollment and recognition of attorneys and agents as may be necessary.

(2) Conduct investigations into possible violations by practitioners of Disciplinary Rules, with the consent of the Committee on Discipline initiate disciplinary proceedings under §10.132(b), and perform such other duties in connection with investigations and disciplinary proceedings as may be necessary.

(c) Review of Director's decision. Any final decision of the Director refusing to register an individual under §10.6, recognize an individual under §§10.9 or 10.14(c), or reinstate a suspended or excluded petitioner under §10.160, may be reviewed by petition to the Commissioner upon payment of the fee set forth in §1.21(a)(5). A petition filed more than 30 days after the date of the decision of the Director may be dismissed as untimely. Any petition shall contain (1) a statement of the facts involved and the points to be reviewed and (2) the action requested. Briefs or memoranda, if any, in support of the petition shall accompany or be embodied therein. The petition will be decided on the basis of the record made before the Director and no new evidence will be considered by the Commissioner in deciding the petition. Copies of documents already of record before the Director shall not be submitted with the petition. An oral hearing on the petition will not be granted except when considered necessary by the Commissioner.

(OMB Control No. 0651–0012).

§10.3 Committee on Enrollment.

(a) The Commissioner may establish a Committee on Enrollment composed of one or more employees of the Office.

(b) The Committee on Enrollment shall, as necessary, advise the Director in connection with the Director's duties under §10.2(b)(1).

§10.4 Committee on Discipline.

(a) The Commissioner shall appoint a Committee on Discipline. The Committee on Discipline shall consist of the at least three employees of the Office, none of whom reports directly or indirectly to the Director or the Solicitor. Each member of the Committee on Discipline shall be a member in good standing of the bar of a State.

(b) The Committee on Discipline shall meet at the request of the Director and after reviewing evidence presented by the Director shall, by majority vote, determine whether there is probable cause to bring charges under §10.132 against a practitioner. When charges are brought against a practitioner, no member of the Committee on Discipline, employee under the direction of the Director, or associate solicitor or assistant solicitor in the Office of the Solicitor shall participate in rendering a decision on the charges.

(c) No discovery shall be authorized of, and no member of the Committee on Discipline shall be required to testify about, deliberations of the Committee on Discipline.

Individuals Entitled to Practice Before the Patent and Trademark Office

§10.5 Register of attorneys and agents in patent cases.

A register of attorneys and agents is kept in the Office on which are entered the names of all individuals recognized as entitled to represent applicants before the Office in the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent. Registration in the Office under provisions of this part shall only entitle the individuals registered to practice before the Office in patent cases.

§10.6 Registration of attorneys and agents.

(a) Attorneys. Any citizen of the United States who is an attorney and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent attorney to practice before the Office. When appropriate, any alien who is an attorney, who lawfully resides in the United States, and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent attorney to practice before the Office, provided: registration is not inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien was admitted to, and resides in, the United States and further provided: the alien may remain registered only (1) if the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States and registation does not become inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States or (2) if the alien ceases to reside in the United States, the alien is qualified to be registered under paragraph (c) of this section. See also §10.9(b).

(b) Agents. Any citizen of the United States who is not an attorney and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent agent to practice before the Office. When appropriate, any alien who is not an attorney, who lawfully resides in the United States, and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered as a patent agent to practice before the Office, provided: registration is not inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien was admitted to, and resides in, the United States, and further provided: the alien may remain registered only (1) if the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States and registration does not become inconsistent with the terms upon which the alien continues to lawfully reside in the United States or (2) if the alien ceases to reside in the United States, the alien is qualified to be registered under paragraph (c) of this section. See also §10.9(b).

Note: All individuals registered prior to Nov. 15, 1938, were registered as attorneys, whether they were attorneys or not, and such registrations have not been changed.

(c) Foreigners. Any foreigner not a resident of the United States who shall file proof to the satisfaction of the Director that he or she is registered and in good standing before the patent office of the country in which he or she resides and practices and who is possessed of the qualifications stated in §10.7, may be registered as a patent agent to practice before the Office for the limited purpose of presenting and prosecuting patent applications of applicants located in such country, provided: the patent office of such country allows substantially reciprocal privileges to those admitted to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Registration as a patent agent under this paragraph shall continue only during the period that the conditions specified in this paragraph obtain.

(d) Government employees. Any officer or employee of the United States who is disqualified by statute (18 U.S.C. 203, 205) from practicing as an attorney or agent in proceedings or other matters before Government departments or agencies, may not be registered to practice before the Office. If any registered attorney or agent becomes an officer or employee of the United States who is disqualified by statute from practicing as an attorney or agent in proceedings and other matters before Government departments or agencies, his or her name shall be endorsed as inactive on the register during the period of any employment by the United States. An officer or employee of the United States whose official duties require the preparation and prosecution of applications for patent and who fulfills the requirements of this part may be registered to practice before the Office to the extent necessary to carry out his or her official duties. A written statement describing the official duties of the officer or employee and signed on behalf of the agency employing the officer or employee may be required by the Director.

(e) Former Office employees. No individual who has served in the Office will be registered after termination of his or her services, nor if registered before such service, be reinstated, unless he or she signs a written statement indicating that he or she has read 18 U.S.C. 207. No individual who has served in the patent examining corps of the Office will be registered after termination of his or her services, nor if registered before such service, be reinstated, unless he or she signs a written undertaking (1) not to prosecute or aid in any manner in the prosecution of any patent application pending in any patent examining group during his or her period of service therein and (2) not to prepare or prosecute or to assist in any manner in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application of another (i) assigned to such group for examination and (ii) filed within two years after the date he or she left such group, without written authorization of the Director. Associated and related classes in other patent examining groups may be required to be included in the undertaking or designated classes may be excluded from the undertaking. When an application for registration or reinstatement is made after resignation from the Office, the applicant will not be registered or reinstated if he or she has prepared or prosecuted or assisted in the preparation or prosecution of any patent application as indicated in this paragraph.

(OMB Control No. 0651–0012)

§10.7 Requirements for registration.

(a) No individual will be registered to practice before the Office unless he or she shall:
(1) apply to the Commissioner in writing on a form supplied by the Director and furnish all requested information and material and
(2) establish to the satisfaction of the Director that he or she is:
(i) of good moral character and repute;
(ii) possessed of the legal, scientific, and technical qualifications necessary to enable him or her to render applicants for patents valuable service; and
(iii) is otherwise competent to advise and assist applicants for patents in the presentation and prosecution of their applications before the Office.
(b) In order that the Director may determine whether an individual seeking to have his or her name placed upon the register has the qualifications specified in paragraph (a) of this section, satisfactory proof of good moral character and repute and of sufficient basic training in scientific and technical matters must be submitted to the Director. Except as provided in this paragraph, each applicant for registration must take and pass an examination which is held from time to time. Each application for admission to take the examination for registration must be accompanied by the fee set forth in §1.21(a)(1) of this Subchapter. The taking of an examination may be waived in the case of any individual who has actively served for at least four years in the patent examining corps of the Office. The examination will not be administered as a mere academic exercise.
(c) Within two months from the date an applicant is notified that he or she failed an examination, the applicant may request regrading of the examination upon payment of the fee set forth in §1.21(a)(6). Any applicant requesting regrading shall particularly point out the errors which the applicant believed occurred in the grading of his or her examination.
(OMB Control No. 0651–0012)

§10.8 Oath and registration fee.

Before an individual may have his or her name entered on the register of attorneys and agents, the individual must, after his or her application is approved, subscribe and swear to an oath or make a declaration prescribed by the Commissioner and pay the registration fee set forth in §1.21(a)(2) of this Subchapter.
(OMB Control No. 0651–0012)

§10.9 Limited recognition in patent cases.

(a) Any individual not registered under §10.6 may, upon a showing of circumstances which render it necessary or justifiable, be given limited recognition by the Director to prosecute as attorney or agent a specified application or specified applications, but limited recognition under this paragraph shall not extend further than the application or applications specified.
(b) When registration of a resident alien under paragraphs (a) or (b) of §10.6 is not appropriate, the resident alien may be given limited recognition as may be appropriate under paragraph (a) of this section.

§10.10 Individuals not registered or recognized to practice in patent cases.

Only practitioners who are registered under §10.6 or individuals given limited recognition under §10.9 will be permitted to prosecute patent applications of others before the Office.

§10.11 Removing names from the register.

(a) Registered attorneys and agents shall notify the Director of any change of address. Any notification to the Director of any change of address shall be separate from any notice of change of address filed in individual applications.
(b) A letter may be addressed to any individual on the register, at the address of which separate notice was last received by the Director, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such individual desires to remain on the register. The name of any individual failing to reply and give any information requested by the Director within a time limit specified will be removed from the register and the names of individuals so removed will be published in the Official Gazette. The name of any individual so removed may be reinstated on the register as may be appropriate and upon payment of the fee set forth in §1.21(a)(3) of this Subchapter.
(OMB Control No. 0651–0012)

§§10.12–10.13 [reserved]

§10.14 Individuals who may practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases.

(a) Attorneys. Any individual who is an attorney may represent others before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases. An attorney is not required to apply for registration or recognition to practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases.
(b) Non-lawyers. Individuals who are not attorneys are not recognized to practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases, except that individuals not arrotneys who were recognized to practice before the Office in trademark cases under this chapter prior to Jan. 1, 1957, will be recognized as agents to continue practice before the Office in trademark cases.
(c) Foreigners. Any foreign attorney or agent not a resident of the United States who shall prove to the satisfaction of the Director that he or she is registered or in good standing before the patent or trademark office of the country in which he or she resides and practices, may be recognized for the limited purpose of representing parties located in such country before the Office in the presentation and prosecution of trademark cases, provided: the patent or trademark office of such country allows substantially reciprocal privileges to those permitted to practice in trademark cases before the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Recognition under this paragraph shall continue only during the period that the conditions specified in this paragraph obtain.
(d) Recognition of any individual under this section shall not be construed as sanctioning or authorizing the performance of any act regarded in the jurisdiction where performed as the unauthorized practice of law.
(e) No individual other than those specified in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section will be permitted to practice before the Office in trademark cases. Any individual may appear in a trademark or other non-patent case in his or her own behalf. Any individual may appear in a trademark case for (1) a firm of which he or she is a member or (2) a corporation or association of which he or she is an officer and which he or she is authorized to represent, if such firm, corporation, or association is a party to a trademark proceeding pending before the Office.

§10.15 Refusal to recognize a practitioner.

Any practitioner authorized to appear before the Office may be suspended or excluded in accordance with the provisions of this part. Any practitioner who is suspended or excluded under this subpart or removed under §10.11(b) shall not be entitled to practice before the Office.

§§10.16–10.17 [reserved]

§10.18 Signature and certificate of practitioner.

(a) Every paper filed by a practitioner representing an applicant or party to a proceeding in the Office must bear the signature of, and be personally signed by, such practitioner except those papers which are required to be signed by the applicant or party. The signature of practitioner to a paper filed by him or her, constitutes a certificate that:
(1) the paper has been read by the practitioner;
(2) the paper's filing is authorized;
(3) to the best of his or her knowledge, information, and belief, there is good ground to support the paper, including any allegations of improper conduct contained or alleged therein; and
(4) it is not interposed for delay.
(b) Any practitioner knowingly violating the provisions of this section is subject to disciplinary action. See §10.23(c)(15).

§10.19 [reserved]

Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility

§10.20 Canons and Disciplinary Rules.

(a) Canons are set out in §§10.21, 10.30, 10.46, 10.56. 10.61, 10.76, 10.83, 10.100, and 10.110. Canons are statements of axiomatic norms, expressing in general terms the standards of professional conduct expected of practitioners in their relationships with the public, with the legal system, and with the legal profession.
(b) Disciplinary Rules are set out in §§10.22–10.24, 10.31–10.40, 10.47–10.57, 10.62–10.68, 10.77, 10.78, 10.84, 10.85, 10.87–10.89, 10.92, 10.93, 10.101–103, 10.111, and 10.112. Disciplinary Rules are mandatory in character and state the minimum level of conduct below which no practitioner can fall without being subjected to disciplinary action.

§10.21 Canon 1.

A practitioner should assist in maintaining the integrity and competence of the legal profession.

§10.22 Maintaining integrity and competence of the legal profession.

(a) A practitioner is subject to discipline if the practitioner has made a materially false statement in, or if the practitioner has deliberately failed to disclose a material fact requested in connection with, the practitioner's application for registration or membership in the bar of any United States court or any State court or his or her authority to otherwise practice before the Office in trademark and other non-patent cases.
(b) A practitioner shall not further the application for registration or membership in the bar of any United States court, State court, or administrative agency of another person known by the practitioner to be unqualified in respect to character, education, or other relevant attribute.

§10.23 Misconduct.

(a) A practitioner shall not engage in disreputable or gross misconduct.
(b) A practitioner shall not:
(1) Violate a Disciplinary Rule.
(2) Circumvent a Disciplinary Rule through actions of another.
(3) Engage in illegal conduct involving moral turpitude.
(4) Engage in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation.
(5) Engage in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice.
(6) Engage in any other conduct that adversely reflects on the practitioner's fitness to practice before the Office.
(c) Conduct which constitutes a violation of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section includes, but is not limited to:
(1) Conviction of a criminal offense involving moral turpitude, dishonesty, or breach of trust.
(2) Knowingly giving false or misleading information or knowingly participating in a material way in giving false or misleading information, to:
(i) A client in connection with any immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office.
(ii) The Office or any employee of the Office.
(3) Misappropriation of, or failure to properly or timely remit, funds received by a practitioner or the practitioner's firm from a client to pay a fee which the client is required by law to pay to the Office.
(4) Directly or indirectly improperly influencing, attempting to improperly influence, offering or agreeing to improperly influence, or attempting to offer or agree to improperly influence an official action of any employee of the Office by:
(i) use of threats, false accusations, duress, or coercion,
(ii) an offer of any special inducement or promise of advantage, or
(iii) improperly bestowing of any gift, favor, or thing of value.
(5) Suspension or disbarment from practice as an attorney or agent on ethical grounds by any duly constituted authority of a State or the United States or, in the case of a practitioner who resides in a foreign country or is registered under §10.6(c), by any duly constituted authority of:
(i) a State,
(ii) the United States, or
(iii) the country in which the practitioner resides.
(6) Knowingly aiding or abetting a practitioner suspended or excluded from practice before the Office in engaging in unauthorized practice before the Office under §10.158.
(7) Knowingly withholding from the Office information identifying a patent or patent application of another from which one or more claims have been copied. See §§1.604(b) and 1.607(c) of this Subchapter.
(8) Failing to inform a client or former client or failing to timely notify the Office of an inability to notify to a client or former client of correspondence received from the Office or the client's or former client's opponent in an inter partes proceeding before the Office when the correspondence (i) could have a significant effect on a matter pending before the Office, (ii) is received by the practitioner on behalf of a client or former client and (iii) is correspondence of which a reasonable practitioner would believe under the circumstances the client or former client should be notified.
(9) Knowingly misusing a certificate of mailing under §1.8 of this Subchapter or a certificate of "Express Mail" under §1.10 of this Subchapter.
(10) Violating the duty of candor or good faith requirements of §1.56(a) of this Subchapter.
(11) Knowingly filing, or causing to be filed, an application which is subject to being stricken under §1.56(c) of this Subchapter.
(12) Knowingly filing, or causing to be filed, a frivolous complaint alleging a violation by a practitioner of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility.
(13) Knowingly preparing or prosecuting a patent application in violation of an undertaking signed under §10.6(e).
(14) Knowingly failing to advise the Director in writing of any change which would preclude continued registration under §10.6.
(15) Knowingly signing a paper filed in the Office in violation of the provisions of §10.18 or making a scandalous or indecent statement in a paper filed in the Office.

(16) Willfully refusing to reveal or report knowledge or evidence to the Director contrary to §10.24 or paragraph (b) of §10.131.

(17) Representing before the Office in a patent case either a joint venture comprising an inventor and an invention developer or an inventor referred to the registered practitioner by an invention developer when (i) the registered practitioner knows, or has been advised by the Office, that a formal complaint filed by a federal or state agency, based on any violation of any law relating to securities, unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, mail fraud, or other civil or criminal conduct, is pending before a federal or state court or federal or state agency, or has been resolved unfavorably by such court or agency, against the invention developer in connection with invention development services and (ii) the registered practitioner fails to fully advise the inventor of the existence of the pending complaint or unfavorable resolution thereof prior to undertaking or continuing representation of the joint venture or inventor. "Invention developer" means any person, and any agent, employee, officer, partner, or independent contractor thereof, who is not a registered practitioner and who advertises invention development services in media of general circulation or who enters into contracts for invention development services with customers as a result of such advertisement. "Invention development services" means acts of invention development required or promised to be performed, or actually performed, or both, by an invention developer for a customer. "Invention development" means the evaluation, perfection, marketing, brokering, or promotion of an invention on behalf of a customer by an invention developer, including a patent search, preparation of a patent application, or any other act done by an invention developer for consideration toward the end of procuring or attempting to procure a license, buyer, or patent for an invention. "Customer" means any individual who has made an invention and who enters into a contract for invention development services with an invention developer with respect to the invention by which the inventor becomes obligated to pay the invention developer less than $5,000 (not to include any additional sums which the invention developer is to receive as a result of successful development of the invention). "Contract for invention development services" means a contract for invention development services with an invention developer with respect to an invention made by a customer by which the inventor becomes obligated to pay the invention developer less than $5,000 (not to include any additional sums which the invention developer is to receive as a result of successful development of the invention).

(18) In the absence of information sufficient to establish a reasonable belief that fraud or inequitable conduct has occurred, alleging before a tribunal that anyone has committed a fraud on the Office or engaged in inequitable conduct in a proceeding before the Office.

(d) A practitioner who acts with reckless indifference to whether a representation is true or false is chargeable with knowledge of its falsity. Deceitful statements of half-truths or concealment of material facts shall be deemed actual fraud within the meaning of this part.

§10.24 Disclosure of information to authorities

(a) A practitioner possessing unprivileged knowledge of a violation of a Disciplinary Rule shall report such knowledge to the Director.

(b) A practitioner possessing unprivileged knowledge or evidence concerning another practitioner, employee of the Office, or a judge shall reveal fully such knowledge or evidence upon proper request of a tribunal or other authority empowered to investigate or act upon the conduct of practitioners, employees of the Office, or judges.

(OMB Control No. 0651–0017)

§§10.25–10.29 [reserved]

§10.30 Canon 2.

A practitioner should assist the legal profesion in fulfilling its duty to make legal counsel available.

§10.31 Communications concerning a practitioner's services.

(a) No practitioner shall with respect to any prospective business before the Office, by word, circular, letter, or advertising, with intent to defraud in any manner, deceive, mislead, or threaten any prospective applicant or other person having immediate or prospective business before the Office.

(b) A practitioner may not use the name of a Member of either House of Congress or of an individual in the service of the United States in advertising the practitioner's practice before the Office.

(c) Unless authorized under §10.14(b), a non-lawyer practitioner shall not hold himself or herself out as authorized to practice before the Office in trademark cases.

(d) Unless a practitioner is an attorney, the practitioner shall not hold himself or herself out:

(1) to be an attorney or lawyer or

(2) as authorized to practice before the Office in non-patent and trademark cases.

§10.32 Advertising.

(a) Subject to §10.31, a practitioner may advertise services through public media, including a telephone directory, legal directory, newspaper, or other periodical, radio, or television, or through written communications not involving solicitation as defined by §10.33.

(b) A practitioner shall not give anything of value to a person for recommending the practitioner's services, except that a practitioner may pay the reasonable cost of advertising or written communication permitted by this section and may pay the usual charges of a not-for-profit lawyer referreal service or other legal service organization.

(c) Any communication made pursuant to this section shall include the name of at least one practitioner responsible for its content.

§10.33 Direct contact with prospective clients.

A practitioner may not solicit professional employment from a prospective client with whom the practitioner has no family or prior professional relationship, by mail, in-person or otherwise, when a significant motive for the practitioner's doing so is the practitioner's pecuniary gain under circumstances evidencing undue influence, intimidation, or overreaching. The term "solicit" includes contact in person, by telephone or telegraph, by letter or other writing, or by other communication directed to a specific recipient, but does not include letters addressed or advertising circulars distributed generally to persons not specifically known to need legal services of the kind provided by the practitioner in a particular matter, but who are so situated that they might in general find such services useful.

§10.34 Communication of fields of practice.

A registered practitioner may state or imply that the practitioner is a specialist as follows:

(a) A registered practitioner who is an attorney may use the designation "Patents," "Patent Attorney," "Patent Lawyer," "Registered Patent Attorney," or a substantially similar designation.

(b) A registered practitioner who is not an attorney may use the designation "Patents," "Patent Agent," "Registered Patent Agent," or a substantially similar designation, except that any practitioner who was registered prior to November 15, 1938, may refer to himself or herself as a "patent attorney."

§10.35 Firm names and letterheads.

(a) A practitioner shall not use a firm name, letterhead, or other professional designation that violates §10.31. A trade name may be used by a practitioner in private practice if it does not imply a current connection with a government agency or with a public or charitable legal services organzation and is not otherwise in violation of §10.31.

(b) Practitioners may state or imply that they practice in a partnership or other organization only when that is the fact.

§10.36 Fees for legal services.

(a) A practitioner shall not enter into an agreement for, charge, or collect an illegal or clearly excessive fee.

(b) A fee is clearly excessive when, after a review of the facts, a practitioner of ordinary prudence would be left with a definite and firm conviction that the fee is in excess of a reasonable fee. Factors to be considered as guides in determining the reasonableness of a fee include the following:

(1) The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly.

(2) The likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the practitioner.

(3) The fee customarily charged for similar legal services.

(4) The amount involved and the results obtained.

(5) The time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances.

(6) The nature and length of the professional relationship with the client.

(7) The experience, reputation, and ability of the practitioner or practitioners performing the services.

(8) Whether the fee is fixed or contingent.

§10.37 Division of fees among practitioners.

(a) A practitioner shall not divide a fee for legal services with another practitioner who is not a partner in or associate of the practitioner's law firm or law office, unless:

(1) The client consents to employment of the other practitioner after a full disclosure that a division of fees will be made.

(2) The division is made in proportion to the services performed and responsibility assumed by each.

(3) The total fee of the practitioners does not clearly exceed reasonable compensation for all legal services rendered to the client.

(b) This section does not prohibit payment to a former partner or associate pursuant to a separation or retirement agreement.

§10.38 Agreements restricting the practice of a practitioner.

(a) A practitioner shall not be a party to or participate in a partnership or employment agreement with another practitioner that restricts the right of a practitioner to practice before the Office after the termination of a relationship created by the agreement, except as a condition to payment of retirement benefits.

(b) In connection with the settlement of a controversy or suit, a practitioner shall not enter into an agreement that restricts the practitioner's right to practice before the Office.

§10.39 Acceptance of employment.

A practitioner shall not accept employment on behalf of a person if the practitioner knows or it is obvious that such person wishes to:

(a) Bring a legal action, commence a proceeding before the Office, conduct a defense, assert a position in any proceeding pending before the Office, or otherwise have steps taken for the person, merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring any other person.

(b) Present a claim or defense in litigation or any proceeding before the Office that is not warranted under existing law, unless it can be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.

§10.40 Withdrawal from employment.

(a) A practitioner shall not withdraw from employment in a proceeding before the Office without permission from the Office (see §§1.36, and 2.19 of this Subchapter). In any event, a practitioner shall not withdraw from employment until the practitioner has taken reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of the client, including giving due notice to his or her client, allowing time for employment of another practitioner, delivering to the client all papers and property to which the client is entitled, and complying with applicable laws and rules. A practitioner who withdraws from employment shall refund promptly any part of a fee paid in advance that has not been earned.

(b) Mandatory withdrawal. A practitioner representing a client before the Office shall withdraw from employment if:

(1) the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the client is bringing a legal action, commencing a proceeding before the Office, conducting a defense, or asserting a position in litigation or any proceeding pending before the Office, or is otherwise having steps taken for the client, merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring any person;

(2) the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the practitioner's continued employment will result in violation of a Disciplinary Rule;

(3) the practitioner's mental or physical condition renders it unreasonably difficult for the practitioner to carry out the employment effectively; or

(4) the practitioner is discharged by the client.

(c) Permissive withdrawal. If paragraph (b) of this section is not applicable, a practitioner may not request permission to withdraw in matters pending before the Office unless such request or such withdrawal is because:

(1) the petitioner's client:

(i) insists upon presenting a claim or defense that is not warranted under existing law and cannot be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law;

(ii) personally seeks to pursue an illegal course of conduct;

(iii) insists that the practitioner pursue a course of conduct that is illegal or that is prohibited under a Disciplinary Rule;

(iv) by other conduct renders it unreasonably difficult for the practitioner to carry out the employment effectively;

(v) insists, in a matter not pending before a tribunal, that the practitioner engage in conduct that is contrary to the judgment and advice of the practitioner but not prohibited under the Disciplinary Rule; or

(vi) has failed to pay one or more bills rendered by the practitioner for an unreasonable period of time or has failed to honor an agreement to pay a retainer in advance of the performance of legal services.

(2) the practitioner's continued employment is likely to result in a violation of a Disciplinary Rule;

(3) the practitioner's inability to work with co-counsel indicates that the best interests of the client likely will be served by withdrawal;

(4) the practitioner's mental or physical condition renders it difficult for the practitioner to carry out the employment effectively;

(5) the practitioner's client knowingly and freely assents to termination of the employment; or

(6) the practitioner believes in good faith, in a proceeding pending before the Office, that the Office will find the existence of other good cause for withdrawal.

§§10.41-10.45 [reserved]

§10.46 Canon 3.

A practitioner should assist in preventing the unauthorized practice of law.

§10.47 Aiding unauthorized practice of law.

(a) A practitioner shall not aid a non-practitioner in the unauthorized practice of law before the Office.
(b) A practitioner shall not aid a suspended or excluded practitioner in the practice of law before the Office.
(c) A practitioner shall not aid a non-lawyer in the unauthorized practice of law.

§10.48 Sharing legal fees.

A practitioner or a firm of practitioners shall not share legal fees with a non-practitioner except that:
(a) An agreement by a practitioner with the practitioner's firm, partner, or associate may provide for the payment of money, over a reasonable period of time after the practitioner's death, to the practitioner's estate or to one or more specified persons.
(b) A practitioner who undertakes to complete unfinished legal business of a deceased practitioner may pay to the estate of the deceased practitioner that proportion of the total compensation which fairly represents the services rendered by the deceased practitioner.
(c) A practitioner or firm of practitioners may include non-practitioner employees in a compensation or retirement plan, even though the plan is based in whole or in part on a profit-sharing arrangement, providing such plan does not circumvent another Disciplinary Rule.

§10.49 Forming a partnership with a non-practitioner.

A practitioner shall not form a partnership with a non-practitioner if any of the activities of the partnership consist of the practice of patent, trademark, or other law before the Office.

§§10.50-10.55 [reserved]

§10.56 Canon 4.

A practitioner should preserve the confidences and secrets of a client.

§10.57 Preservation of confidences and secrets of a client.

(a) "Confidence" refers to information protected by the attorney-client or agent-client privilege under applicable law. "Secret" refers to other information gained in the professional relationship that the client has requested be held inviolate or the disclosure of which would be embarrassing or would be likely to be detrimental to the client.
(b) Except when permitted under paragraph (c) of this section, a practitioner shall not knowingly:
(1) Reveal a confidence or secret of a client.
(2) Use a confidence or secret of a client to the disadvantage of the client.
(3) Use a confidence or secret of a client for the advantage of the practitioner or of a third person, unless the client consents after full disclosure.
(c) A practitioner may reveal:
(1) Confidences or secrets with the consent of the client affected but only after a full disclosure to the client.
(2) Confidences or secrets when permitted under Disciplinary Rules or required by law or court order.
(3) The intention of a client to commit a crime and the information necessary to prevent the crime.
(4) Confidences or secrets necessary to establish or collect the practitioner's fee or to defend the practitioner or the practitioner's employees or associates against an accusation of wrongful conduct.
(d) A practitioner shall exercise reasonable care to prevent the practitioner's employees, associates, and others whose services are utilized by the practitioner from disclosing or using confidences or secrets of a client, except that a practitioner may reveal the information allowed by parargraph (c) of this section through an employee.

§§10.58-10.60 [reserved]

§10.61 Canon 5.

A practitioner should exercise independent professional judgment on behalf of a client.

§10.62 Refusing employment when the interest of the practitioner may impair the practitioner's independent professional judgment.

(a) Except with the consent of a client after full disclosure, a practitioner shall not accept employment if the exercise of the practitioner's professional judgment on behalf of the client will be or reasonably may be affected by the practitioner's own financial, business, property, or personal interests.
(b) A practitioner shall not accept employment in a proceeding before the Office if the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm ought to sign an affidavit to be filed in the Office or be called as a witness, except that the practitioner may undertake the employment and the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm may testify:
(1) If the testimony will relate solely to an uncontested matter.
(2) If the testimony will relate solely to a matter of formality and there is no reason to believe that substantial evidence will be offered in opposition to the testimony.
(3) If the testimony will relate solely to the nature and value of legal services rendered in the case by the practitioner or the practitioner's firm to the client.
(4) As to any matter, if refusal would work a substantial hardship on the client because of the distinctive value of the practitioner or the practitioner's firm as counsel in the particular case.

§10.63 Withdrawal when the practitioner becomes a witness.

(a) If, after undertaking employment in a proceeding in the Office, a practitioner learns or it is obvious that the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm ought to sign an affidavit to be filed in the Office or be called as a witness on behalf of a practitioner's client, the practitioner shall withdraw from the conduct of the proceeding and the practitioner's firm, if any, shall not continue representation in the proceeding, except that the practitioner may continue the representation and the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm may testify in the circumstances enumerated in paragraphs (1) through (4) of §10.62(b).
(b) If, after undertaking employment in a proceeding before the Office, a practitioner learns or it is obvious that the practitioner or another practitioner in the practitioner's firm may be asked to sign an affidavit to be filed in the Office or be called as a witness other than on behalf of the practitioner's client, the practitioner may continue the representation until it is apparent that the practitioner's affidavit or testimony is or may be prejudicial to the practitioner's client.

§10.64 Avoiding acquisition of interest in litigation or proceeding before the Office.

(a) A practitioner shall not acquire a proprietary interest in the subject matter of a proceeding before the Office which the practitioner is conducting for a client, except that the practitioner may:
(1) Acquire a lien granted by law to secure the practitioner's fee or expenses; or
(2) Contract with a client for a reasonable contingent fee; or
(3) In a patent case, take an interest in the patent as part or all of his or her fee.
(b) While representing a client in connection with a contemplated or pending proceeding before the Office, a practitioner shall not advance or guarantee financial assistance to a client, except that a practitioner may advance or guarantee the expenses of going forward in a proceeding before the Office including fees required by law to be paid to the Office, expenses of investigation, expenses of medical examination, and costs of obtaining and presenting evidence, provided the client remains ultimately liable for such expenses. A practitioner may, however, advance any fee required to prevent or remedy an abandonment of a client's application by reason of an act or omission attributable to the practitioner and not to the client, whether or not the client is ultimately liable for such fee.

§10.65 Limiting business relations with a client.

A practitioner shall not enter into a business transaction with a client if they have differing interests therein and if the client expects the practitioner to exercise professional judgment therein for the protection of the client, unless the client has consented after full disclosure.

§10.66 Refusing to accept or continue employment if the interests of another client may impair the independent professional judgment of the practitioner.

(a) A practitioner shall decline proffered employment if the exercise of the practitioner's independent professional judgment in behalf of a client will be or is likely to be adversely affected by the acceptance of the proffered employment, or if it would be likely to involve the practitioner in representing differing interests, except to the extent permitted under paragraph (c) of this section.
(b) A practitioner shall not continue multiple employment if the exercise of the practitioner's independent professional judgment in behalf of a client will be or is likely to be adversely affected by the practitioner's representation of another client, or if it would be likely to involve the practitioner in representing differing interests, except to the extent permitted under paragraph (c) of this section.
(c) In the situations covered by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section a practitioner may represent multiple clients if it is obvious that the practitioner can adequately represent the interest of each and if each consents to the representation after full disclosure of the possible effect of such representation on the exercise of the practitioner's independent professional judgment on behalf of each.
(d) If a practitioner is required to decline employment or to withdraw from employment under a Disciplinary Rule, no partner, or associate, or any other practitioner affiliated with the practitioner or the practitioner's firm, may accept or continue such employment unless otherwise ordered by the Director or Commissioner.

§10.67 Settling similar claims of clients.

A practitioner who represents two or more clients shall not make or participate in the making of an aggregate settlement of the claims of or against the practitioner's clients, unless each client has consented to the settlement after being advised of the existence and nature of all the claims involved in the proposed settlement, of the total amount of the settlement, and of the participation of each person in the settlement.

§10.68 Avoiding influence by others than the client.

(a) Except with the consent of the practitioner's client after full disclosure, a practitioner shall not:
(1) Accept compensation from one other than the practitioner's client for the practitioner's legal services to or for the client.
(2) Accept from one other than the practitioner's client any thing of value related to the practitioner's representation of or the practitioner's employment by the client.
(b) A practitioner shall not permit a person who recommends, employs, or pays the practitioner to render legal services for another, to direct or regulate the practitioner's professional judgment in rendering such legal services.
(c) A practitioner shall not practice with or in the form of a professional corporation or association authorized to practice law for a profit, if a non-practioner has the right to direct or control the professional judgment of a practitioner.

§§10.69-10.75 [reserved]

§10.76 Canon 6.

A practitioner should represent a client competently.

§10.77 Failing to act competently.

A practitioner shall not:
(a) Handle a legal matter which the practitioner knows or should know that the practitioner is not competent to handle, without associating with the practitioner another practitioner who is competent to handle it.
(b) Handle a legal matter without preparation adequate in the circumstances.
(c) Neglect a legal matter entrusted to the practitioner.

§10.78 Limiting liability to client.

A practitioner shall not attempt to exonerate himself or herself from, or limit his or her liability to, a client for his or her personal malpractice.

§§10.79-10.82 [reserved]

§10.83 Canon 7.

A practitioner should represent a client zealously within the bounds of the law.

§10.84 Representing a client zealously.

(a) A practitioner shall not intentionally:
(1) Fail to seek the lawful objectives of a client through reasonably available means permitted by law and the Disciplinary Rules, except as provided by paragraph (b) of this section. A practitioner does not violate the provisions of this section, however, by acceding to reasonable requests of opposing counsel which do not prejudice the rights of the client, by being punctual in fulfilling all professional commitments, by avoiding offensive tactics, or by treating with courtesy and consideration all persons involved in the legal process.
(2) Fail to carry out a contract of employment entered into with a client for professional services, but a practitioner may withdraw as permitted under §§10.40, 10.63, and 10.66.
(3) Prejudice or damage a client during the course of a professional relationship, except as required under this part.
(b) In representation of a client, a practitioner may:
(1) Where permissible, exercise professional judgment to waive or fail to assert a right or position of the client.

(2) Refuse to aid or participate in conduct that the practitioner believes to be unlawful, even though there is some support for an argument that the conduct is legal.

§10.85 Representing a client within the bounds of the law.

(a) In representation of a client, a practitioner shall not:
(1) Initiate or defend any proceeding before the Office, assert a position, conduct a defense, delay a trial or proceeding before the Office, or take other action on behalf of the practitioner's client when the practitioner knows or when it is obvious that such action would serve merely to harass or maliciously injure another.
(2) Knowingly advance a claim or defense that is unwarranted under existing law, except that a practitioner may advance such claim or defense if it can be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.
(3) Conceal or knowingly fail to disclose that which the practitioner is required by law to reveal.
(4) Knowingly use perjured testimony or false evidence.
(5) Knowingly make a false statement of law or fact.
(6) Participate in the creation or preservation of evidence when the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the evidence is false.
(7) Counsel or assist a client in conduct that the practitioner knows to be illegal or fraudulent.
(8) Knowingly engage in other illegal conduct or conduct contrary to a Disciplinary Rule.

(b) A practitioner who receives information clearly establishing that:

(1) A client has, in the course of the representation, perpetrated a fraud upon a person or tribunal shall promptly call upon the client to rectify the same, and if the client refuses or is unable to do so the practitioner shall reveal the fraud to the affected person or tribunal.

(2) A person other than a client has perpetrated a fraud upon a tribunal shall promptly reveal the fraud to the tribunal.

§10.86 [reserved]

§10.87 Communicating with one of adverse interest.

During the course of representation of a client, a practitioner shall not:
(a) Communicate or cause another to communicate on the subject of the representation with a party the practitioner knows to be represented by another practitioner in that matter unless the practitioner has the prior consent of the other practitioner representing such other party or is authorized by law to do so. It is not improper, however, for a practitioner to encourage a client to meet with an opposing party for settlement discussions.
(b) Give advice to a person who is not represented by a practitioner other than the advice to secure counsel, if the interests of such person are or have a reasonable possibility of being in conflict with the interests of the practitioner's client.

§10.88 Threatening criminal prosecution.

A practitioner shall not present, participate in presenting, or threaten to present criminal charges solely to obtain an advantage in any prospective or pending proceeding before the Office.

§10.89 Conduct in proceedings.

(a) A practitioner shall not disregard or advise a client to disregard any provision of this Subchapter or a decision of the Office made in the course of a proceeding before the Office, but the practitioner may take appropriate steps in good faith to test the validity of such provision or decision.

(b) In presenting a matter to the Office, a practitioner shall disclose:
(1) Controlling legal authority known to the practitioner to be directly adverse to the position of the client and which is not disclosed by opposing counsel or an employee of the Office.
(2) Unless privileged or irrelevant, the identities of the client the practitioner represents and of the persons who employed the practitioner.
(c) In appearing in a professional capacity before a tribunal, a practitioner shall not:
(1) State or allude to any matter that the practitioner has no reasonable basis to believe is relevant to the case or that will not be supported by admissible evidence.
(2) Ask any question that the practitioner has no reasonable basis to believe is relevant to the case and that is intended to degrade a witness or other person.
(3) Assert the practitioner's personal knowledge of the facts in issue, except when testifying as a witness.
(4) Assert the practitioner's personal opinion as to the justness of a cause, as to the credibility of a witness, as to the culpability of a civil litigant, or as to the guilt or innocence of an accused; but the practitioner may argue, on the practitioner's analysis of the evidence, for any position or conclusion with respect to the matters stated herein.
(5) Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct before the Office (see §1.3 of the Subchapter).
(6) Intentionally or habitually violate any provision of this Subchapter or established rule of evidence.

§10.90–10.91 [reserved]

§10.92 Contact with witnesses.

(a) A practitioner shall not suppress any evidence that the practitioner or the practitioner's client has a legal obligation to reveal or produce.
(b) A practitioner shall not advise or cause a person to be secreted or to leave the jurisdiction of a tribunal for the purpose of making the person unavailable as a witness therein.
(c) A practitioner shall not pay, offer to pay, or acquiesce in the payment of compensation to a witness contingent upon the content of the witness' affidavit, testimony or the outcome of the case. But a practitioner may advance, guarantee, or acquiesce in the payment of:
(1) Expenses reasonably incurred by a witness in attending, testifying, or making an affidavit.
(2) Reasonable compensation to a witness for the witness' loss of time in attending, testifying, or making an affidavit.
(3) A reasonable fee for the professional services of an expert witness.

§10.93 Contact with officials.

(a) A practitioner shall not give or lend anything of value to a judge, official, or employee of a tribunal under circumstances which might give the appearance that the gift or loan is made to influence official action.
(b) In an adversary proceeding, including any inter partes proceeding before the Office, a practitioner shall not communicate, or cause another to communicate, as to the merits of the cause with a judge, official, or Office employee before whom the proceeding is pending, except:
(1) In the course of official proceedings in the cause.
(2) In writing if the practitioner promptly delivers a copy of the writing to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if the adverse party is not represented by a practitioner.
(3) Orally upon adequate notice to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if the adverse party is not represented by a practitioner.

(4) As otherwise authorized by law.

§§10.94-10.99 [reserved]

§10.100 Canon 8.

A practitioner should assist in improving the legal system.

§10.101 Action as a public official.

(a) A practitioner who holds public office shall not:
(1) Use the practitioner's public position to obtain, or attempt to obtain, a special advantage in legislative matters for the practitioner or for a client under circumstances where the practitioner knows or it is obvious that such action is not in the public interest.
(2) Use the practitioner's public position to influence, or attempt to influence, a tribunal to act in favor of the practitioner or of a client.
(3) Accept any thing of value from any person when the practitioner knows or it is obvious that the offer is for the purpose of influencing the practitioner's action as a public official.
(b) A practitioner who is an officer or employee of the United States shall not practice before the Office in patent cases except as provided in §10.6(d).

§10.102 Statements concerning officials.

(a) A practitioner shall not knowingly make false statements of fact concerning the qualifications of a candidate for election or appointment to a judicial office or to a position in the Office.
(b) A practitioner shall not knowingly make false accusations against a judge, other adjudicatory officer, or employee of the Office.

§10.103 Practitioner candidate for judicial office.

A practitioner who is a candidate for judicial office shall comply with applicable provisions of law.

§10.104-10.109 [reserved]

§10.110 Canon 9.

A practitioner should avoid even the appearance of professional impropriety.

§10.111 Avoiding even the appearance of impropriety.

(a) A practitioner shall not accept private employment in a matter upon the merits of which he or she has acted in a judicial capacity.
(b) A practitioner shall not accept private employment in a matter in which he or she had personal responsibility while a public employee.
(c) A practitioner shall not state or imply that the practitioner is able to influence improperly or upon irrelevant grounds any tribunal, legislative body, or public official.

§10.112 Preserving identity of funds and property of client.

(a) All funds of clients paid to a practitioner or a practitioner's firm, other than advances for costs and expenses, shall be deposited in one or more identifiable bank accounts maintained in the United States or, in the case of a practitioner having an office in a foreign country or registered under §10.6(c), in the United States or the foreign country.
(b) No funds belonging to the practitioner or the practitioner's firm shall be deposited in the bank accounts required by paragraph (a) of this section except as follows:
(1) Funds reasonably sufficient to pay bank charges may be deposited therein.
(2) Funds belonging in part to a client and in part presently or potentially to the practitioner or the practitioner's firm must be deposited therein, but the portion belonging to the practitioner or the practitioner's firm may be withdrawn when due unless the right of the practitioner or the practitioner's firm to receive it is disputed by the client, in which event the disputed portion shall not be withdrawn until the dispute is finally resolved.
(c) A practitioner shall:
(1) Promptly notify a client of the receipt of the client's funds, securities, or other properties.
(2) Identify and label securities and properties of a client promptly upon receipt and place them in a safe deposit box or other place of safekeeping as soon as practicable.
(3) Maintain complete records of all funds, securities, and other properties of a client coming into the possession of the practitioner and render appropriate accounts to the client regarding the funds, securities, or other properties.
(4) Promptly pay or deliver to the client as requested by a client the funds, securities, or other properties in the possession of the practitioner which the client is entitled to receive.
(OMB Control No. 0651-0017)

§§10.113-10.129 [reserved]

Investigations and Disciplinary Proceedings

§10.130 Reprimand, suspension or exclusion.

(a) The Commissioner may, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, (a) reprimand or (b) suspend or exclude, either generally or in any particular case, any individual, attorney, or agent shown to be incompetent or disreputable, who is guilty of gross misconduct, or who violates a Disciplinary Rule.
(b) Petitions to disqualify a practitioner in ex parte or inter partes cases in the Office are not governed by §§10.130 through 10.170 and will be handled on a case-by-case basis under such conditions as the Commissioner deems appropriate.

§10.131 Investigations.

(a) The Director is authorized to investigate possible violations of Disciplinary Rules by practitioners. See §10.2(b) (2).
(b) Practitioners shall report and reveal to the Director any knowledge or evidence required by §10.24. A practitioner shall cooperate with the Director in connection with any investigation under paragraph (a) of this section and with officials of the Office in connection with any disciplinary proceeding instituted under §10.132(b).
(c) Any non-practitioner possessing knowledge or information concerning a violation of a Disciplinary Rule by a practitioner may report the violation to the Director. The Director may require that the report be presented in the form of an affidavit.

§10.132 Initiating a disciplinary proceeding; reference to an administrative law judge.

(a) If after conducting an investigation under §10.131(a) the Director is of the opinion that a practitioner has violated a Disciplinary Rule, the Director shall after complying where necessary with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 558(c), call a meeting of the Committee on Discipline. The Committee on Discipline shall then determine as specified in §10.4(b) whether a disciplinary proceeding shall be instituted under paragraph (b) of this section.
(b) If the Committee on Discipline determines that probable cause exists to believe that a practitioner has violated a Disciplinary Rule, the Director shall institute a disciplinary proceeding by filing a complaint under §10.134. The complaint shall be filed in the Office of the Director. A disciplinary proceeding may result in:

(1) a reprimand or

(2) suspension or exclusion of a practitioner from practice before the Office.

(c) Upon the filing of a complaint under §10.134, the Commissioner will refer the disciplinary proceeding to an administrative law judge.

§10.133 Conference between Director and practitioner; resignation.

(a) General. The Director may confer with a practitioner concerning possible violations by the practitioner of a Disciplinary Rule whether or not a disciplinary proceeding has been instituted.

(b) Resignation. Any practitioner who is the subject of an investigation under §10.131 or against whom a complaint has been filed under §10.134 may resign from practice before the Office only by submitting with the Director an affidavit stating his or her desire to resign.

(c) If filed prior to the date set by the administrative law judge for a hearing, the affidavit shall state that:

(1) the resignation is freely and voluntarily proferred;

(2) the practitioner is not acting under duress or coersion from the Office;

(3) the practitioner is fully aware of the implications of filing the resignation;

(4) the practitioner is aware (i) of a pending investigation or (ii) of charges arising from the complaint alleging that he or she is guilty of a violation of the Patent and Trademark Office Code of Professional Responsibility, the nature of which shall be set forth by the practitioner to the satisfaction of the Director;

(5) the practitioner acknowledges that, if and when he or she applies for reinstatement under §10.160, the Director will conclusively presume, for the limited purpose of determining the application for reinstatement, that:

(i) the facts upon which the complaint is based are true and

(ii) the practitioner could not have successfully defended himself or herself against (A) charges predicated on the violation under investigation or (B) charges set out in the complaint filed against the practitioner.

(d) If filed on or after the date set by the administrative law judge for a hearing, the affidavit shall make the statements required by subparagraphs (1) through (4) of paragraph (b) of this section and shall state that:

(1) the practitioner acknowledges the facts upon which the complaint is based are true; and

(2) the resignation is being submitted because the practitioner could not successfully defend himself or herself against (i) charges predicated on the violation under investigation or (ii) charges set out in the complaint.

(e) When an affidavit under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section is received while an investigation is pending, the Commissioner shall enter an order excluding the practitioner "on consent." When an affidavit under paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section is received after a complaint under §10.134 has been filed, the Director shall notify the administrative law judge. The administrative law judge shall enter an order transferring the disciplinary proceeding to the Commissioner and the Commissioner shall enter an order excluding the practitioner "on consent."

(f) Any practitioner who resigns from practice before the Office under this section and who intends to reapply for admission to practice before the Office must comply with the provisions of §10.158.

(g) Settlement. Before or after a complaint is filed under §10.134, a settlement conference may occur between the Director and a practitioner for the purpose of settling any disciplinary matter. If an offer of settlement is made by the Director or the practitioner and is not accepted by the other, no reference to the offer of settlement or its refusal shall be admissible in evidence in the disciplinary proceeding unless both the Director and the practitioner agree in writing.

§10.134 Complaint.

(a) A complaint instituting a disciplinary proceeding shall:

(1) Name the practitioner, who may then be referred to as the "respondent."

(2) Give a plain and concise description of the alleged violations of the Disciplinary Rules by the practitioner.

(3) State the place and time for filing an answer by the respondent.

(4) State that a decision by default may be entered against the respondent if an answer is not timely filed.

(5) Be signed by the Director.

(b) A complaint will be deemed sufficient if it fairly informs the respondent of any violation of the Disciplinary Rules which form the basis for the disciplinary proceeding so that the respondent is able to adequately prepare a defense.

§10.135 Service of complaint.

(a) A complaint may be served on a respondent in any of the following methods:

(1) By handing a copy of the complaint personally to the respondent, in which case the individual handing the complaint to the respondent shall file an affidavit with the Director indicating the time and place the complaint was handed to the respondent.

(2) By mailing a copy of the complaint by "Express Mail" or first-class mail to:

(i) a registered practitioner at the address for which separate notice was last received by the Director or

(ii) a non-registered practitioner at the last address for the respondent known to the Director.

(3) By any method mutually agreeable to the Director and the respondent.

(b) If a complaint served by mail under paragraph (a)(2) of this section is returned by the U.S. Postal Service, the Director shall mail a second copy of the complaint to the respondent. If the second copy of the complaint is also returned by the U.S. Postal Service, the Director shall serve the respondent by publishing an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette for four consecutive weeks, in which case the time for answer shall be at least thirty days from the fourth publication of the notice.

(c) If a respondent is a registered practitioner, the Director may serve simultaneously with the complaint a letter under §10.11(b). The Director may require the respondent to answer the §10.11(b) letter within a period of not less than 15 days. An answer to the §10.11(b) letter shall constitute proof of service. If the respondent fails to answer the §10.11(b) letter, his or her name will be removed from the register as provided by §10.11(b).

(d) If the respondent is represented by an attorney under §10.140(a), a copy of the complaint shall also be served on the attorney.

§10.136 Answer to complaint.

(a) Time for answer. An answer to a complaint shall be filed within a time set in the complaint which shall be not less than thirty days.

(b) With whom filed. The answer shall be filed in writing with the administrative law judge. The time for filing an answer may be extended once for a period of no more than thirty days by the administrative law judge upon a showing of good cause provided a motion requesting an extension of time is filed within thirty days after the date the complaint is filed by the Director. A copy of the answer shall be served on the Director.

(c) Content. The respondent shall include in the answer a statement of the facts which constitute the grounds of defense and shall specifically admit or deny each allegation set forth in the complaint. The respondent shall not deny a material allegation in the complaint which the respondent knows to be true or state that respondent is without sufficient information to form a belief as to the truth of an allegation when in fact the respondent possesses that information. The respondent shall also state affirmatively special matters of defense.

(d) Failure to deny allegations in complaint. Every allegation in the complaint which is not denied by a respondent in the answer is deemed to be admitted and may be considered proven. No further evidence in respect of that allegation need be received by the administrative law judge at any hearing. Failure to timely file an answer will constitute an admission of the allegations in the complaint.

(e) Reply by Director. No reply to an answer is required by the Director and any affirmative defense in the answer shall be deemed to be denied. The Director may, however, file a reply if he or she chooses or if ordered by the adminstrative law judge.

§10.137 Supplemental complaint.

False statements in an answer may be made the basis of a supplemental complaint.

§10.138 Contested case.

Upon the filing of an answer by the respondent, a disciplinary proceeding shall be regarded as a contested case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 24. Evidence obtained by a subpoena issued under 35 U.S.C. 24 shall not be admitted into the record or considered unless leave to proceed under 35 U.S.C. 24 was previously authorized by the administrative law judge.

§10.139 Administrative law judge; appointment; responsibilities; review of interlocutory orders; stays.

(a) Appointment. An administrative law judge, appointed under 5 U.S.C. 3105, shall conduct disciplinary proceedings as provided by this part.

(b) Responsibilities. The administrative law judge shall have authority to:

(1) Administer oaths and affirmations;

(2) Make rulings upon motions and other requests;

(3) Rule upon offers of proof, receive relevant evidence, and examine witnesses;

(4) Authorize the taking of a deposition of a witness in lieu of personal appearance of the witness before the adminstrative law judge;

(5) Determine the time and place of any hearing and regulate its course and conduct;

(6) Hold or provide for the holding of conferences to settle or simplify the issues;

(7) Receive and consider oral or written arguments on facts or law;

(8) Adopt procedures and modify procedures from time to time as occasion requires for the orderly disposition of proceedings;

(9) Make initial decisions under §10.154; and

(10) Perform acts and take measures as necessary to promote the efficient and timely conduct of any disciplinary proceeding.

(c) Time for making initial decision. The administrative law judge shall set times and exercise control over a disciplinary proceeding such that an initial decision under §10.154 is normally issued within six months of the date a complaint is filed. The administrative law judge may, however, issue an initial decision more than six months after a complaint is filed if in his or her opinion there exist unusual circumstances which preclude issuance of an initial decision within six months of the filing of the complaint.

(d) Review of interlocutory orders. An interlocutory order of an administrative law judge will not be reviewed by the Commissioner except:

(1) when the administrative law judge shall be of the opinion (i) that the interlocutory order involves a controlling question of procedure or law as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and (ii) that an immediate decision by the Commissioner may materially advance the ultimate termination of the disciplinary proceeding or

(2) in an extraordinary situation where justice requires review.

(e) Stays pending review of interlocutory order. If the Director or a respondent seeks review of an interlocutory order of an administrative law judge under paragraph (b)(2) of this section, any time period set for taking action by the administrative law judge shall not be stayed unless ordered by the Commissioner or the administrative law judge.

§10.140 Representative for Director or respondent.

(a) A respondent may be represented before the Office in connection with an investigation or disciplinary proceeding by an attorney. The attorney shall file a written declaration that he or she is an attorney within the meaning of §10.1(c) and shall state:

(1) the address to which the attorney wants correspondence related to the investigation or disciplinary proceeding sent and

(2) a telephone number where the attorney may be reached during normal business hours.

(b) The Commissioner shall designate at least two associate solicitors in the Office of the Solicitor to act as representatives for the Director in disciplinary proceedings. In prosecuting disciplinary proceedings, the designated associate solicitors shall not involve the Solicitor or the Deputy Solicitor. The Solicitor and the Deputy Solicitor shall remain insulated from the investigation and prosecution of all disciplinary proceedings in order that they shall be available as counsel to the Commissioner in deciding disciplinary proceedings.

§10.141 Filing of papers.

(a) The provisions of §1.8 of this Subchapter do not apply to disciplinary proceedings.

(b) All papers filed after the complaint and prior to entry of an initial decision by the administrative law judge shall be filed with the administrative law judge at an address or place designated by the administrative law judge. All papers filed after entry of an initial decision by the administrative law judge shall be filed with the Director. The Director shall promptly forward to the Commissioner any paper which requires action under this part by the Commissioner.

(c) The administrative law judge or the Director may provide for filing papers and other matter by hand or by "Express Mail."

§10.142 Service of papers.

(a) All papers other than a complaint shall be served on a respondent represented by an attorney by:

(1) delivering a copy of the paper to the office of the attorney; or

(2) mailing a copy of the paper by first-class mail or "Express Mail" to the attorney at the address provided by the attorney under §10.140(a)(1); or

(3) any other method mutually agreeable to the attorney and a representative for the Director.

(b) All papers other than a complaint shall be served on a respondent who is not represented by an attorney by:

(1) delivering a copy of the paper to the respondent; or

(2) mailing a copy of the paper by first-class mail or "Express Mail" to the respondent at the address to which a complaint may be served or such other address as may be designated in writing by the respondent; or

(3) any other method mutually agreeable to the respondent and a representative of the Director.

(c) A respondent shall serve on the representative for the Director one copy of each paper filed with the administrative law judge or the Director. A paper may be served on the representative for the Director by:

(1) delivering a copy of the paper to the representative; or
(2) mailing a copy of the paper by first-class mail or "Express Mail" to an address designated in writing by the representative; or
(3) any other method mutually agreeable to the respondent and the representative.
(d) Each paper filed in a disciplinary proceeding shall contain therein a certificate of service indicating:
(1) the date on which service was made and
(2) the method by which service was made.
(e) The administrative law judge or the Commissioner may require that a paper be served by hand or by "Express Mail."
(f) Service by mail is completed when the paper mailed in the United States is placed into the custody of the U.S. Postal Service.

§10.143 Motions.

Motions may be filed with the administrative law judge. The adminstrative law judge will determine on a case-by-case basis the time period for response to a motion and whether replies to responses will be authorized. No motion shall be filed with the administrative law judge unless such motion is supported by a written statement by the moving party that the moving party or attorney for the moving party has conferred with the opposing party or attorney for the opposing party in an effort in good faith to resolve by agreement the issues raised by the motion and has been unable to reach agreement. If issues raised by a motion are resolved by the parties prior to a decision on the motion by the administrative law judge, the parties shall promptly notify the administrative law judge.

§10.144 Hearings.

(a) The administrative law judge shall preside at hearings in disciplinary proceedings. Hearings will be stenographically recorded and transcribed and the testimony of witnesses will be received under oath or affirmation. The administrative law judge shall conduct hearings in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 556. A copy of the transcript of the hearing shall become part of the record. A copy of the transcript shall be provided to the Director and the respondent at the expense of the Office.
(b) If the respondent to a disciplinary proceeding fails to appear at the hearing after a notice of hearing has been given by the administrative law judge, the administrative law judge may deem the respondent to have waived the right to a hearing and may proceed with the hearing in the absence of the respondent.
(c) A hearing under this section will not be open to the public except that the Director may grant a request by a respondent to open his or her hearing to the public and make the record of the disciplinary proceeding available for public inspection, provided agreement is reached in advance to exclude from public disclosure information which is privileged or confidential under applicable laws or regulations. If a disciplinary proceeding results in disciplinary action against a practitioner, and subject to §10.159(c), the record of the entire disciplinary proceeding, including any settlement agreement, will be available for public inspection.

§10.145 Proof; variance; amendment of pleadings.

In case of a variance between the evidence and the allegations in a complaint, answer, or reply, if any, the administrative law judge may order or authorize amendment of the complaint, answer, or reply to conform to the evidence. Any party who would otherwise be prejudiced by the amendment will be given reasonable opportunity to meet the allegations in the complaint, answer, or reply, as amended, and the administrative law judge shall make findings on any issue presented by the complaint, answer, or reply as amended.

§§10.146-10.148 [reserved]

§10.149 Burden of proof.

In a disciplinary proceeding, the Director shall have the burden of proving his or her case by clear and convincing evidence and a respondent shall have the burden of providing any affirmative defense by clear and convincing evidence.

§10.150 Evidence.

(a) Rules of evidence. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law and equity are not controlling in hearings in disciplinary proceedings. However, the administrative law judge shall exclude evidence which is irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious.
(b) Depositions. Depositions of witnesses taken pursuant to §10.151 may be admitted as evidence.
(c) Government documents. Official documents, records, and papers of the Office are admissible without extrinsic evidence of authenticity. These documents, records and papers may be evidenced by a copy certified as correct by an employee of the Office.
(d) Exhibits. If any document, record, or other paper is introduced in evidence as an exhibit, the administrative law judge may authorize the withdrawal of the exhibit subject to any conditions the administrative law judge deems appropriate.
(e) Objections. Objections to evidence will be in short form, stating the grounds of objection. Objections and rulings on objections will be a part of the record. No exception to the ruling is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties.

§10.151 Depositions.

(a) Depositions for use at the hearing in lieu of personal appearance of a witness before the administrative law judge may be taken by respondent or the Director upon a showing of good cause and with the approval of, and under such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by, the administrative law judge. Depositions may be taken upon oral or written questions, upon not less than ten days written notice to the other party, before any officer authorized to administer an oath or affirmation in the place where the deposition is to be taken. The requirement of ten days notice may be waived by the parties and depositions may then be taken of a witness and at a time and place mutually agreed to by the parties. When a deposition is taken upon written questions, copies of the written questions will be served upon the other party with the notice and copies of any written cross-questions will be served by hand or "Express Mail" not less then five days before the date of the taking of the deposition unless the parties mutually agree otherwise. A party on whose behalf a deposition is taken shall file a copy of a transcript of the deposition signed by a court reporter with the administrative law judge and shall serve one copy upon the opposing party. Expenses for a court reporter and preparing, serving, and filing depositions shall be borne by the party at whose instance the deposition is taken.
(b) When the Director and the respondent agree in writing, a deposition of any witness who will appear voluntarily may be taken under such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreeable to the Director and the respondent. The deposition shall not be filed with the administrative law judge and may not be admitted in evidence before the administrative law judge unless he or she orders the deposition admitted in evidence. The admissibility of the deposition shall lie within the discretion of the administrative law judge who may reject the deposition on any reasonable basis including the fact that demeanor is involved and that the witness should have been called to appear personally before the administrative law judge.

§10.152 Discovery.

Discovery shall not be authorized except as follows:
(a) After an answer is filed under §10.136 and when a party establishes in a clear and convincing manner that discovery is necessary and relevant, the administrative law judge, under such conditions as he or she deems appropriate, may order an opposing party to:
(1) answer a reasonable number of written requests for admission or interrogatories;
(2) produce for inspection and copying a reasonable number of documents; and
(3) produce for inspection a reasonable number of things other than documents.
(b) Discovery shall not be authorized under paragraph (a) of this section of any matter which:
(1) will be used by another party solely for impeachment or cross-examination;
(2) is not available to the party under 35 U.S.C. §122;
(3) relates to any disciplinary proceeding commenced in the Patent and Trademark Office prior to Mar. 8, 1985;
(4) relates to experts except as the administrative law judge may require under paragraph (e) of this section.
(5) is privileged; or
(6) relates to mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal theories of any attorney or other representative of a party.
(c) the administrative law judge may deny discovery requested under paragraph (a) of this section if the discovery sought:
(1) will unduly delay the disciplinary proceeding;
(2) will place an undue burden on the party required to produce the discovery sought; or
(3) is available (i) generally to the public, (ii) equally to the parties; or (iii) to the party seeking the discovery through another source.
(d) Prior to authorizing discovery under paragraph (a) of this section, the administrative law judge shall require the party seeking discovery to file a motion (§10.143) and explain in detail for each request made how the discovery sought is necessary and relevant to an issue actually raised in the complaint or the answer.
(e) The administrative law judge may require parties to file and serve, prior to any hearing, a pre-hearing statement which contains

(1) A list (together with a copy) of all proposed exhibits to be used in connection with a party's case-in-chief,
(2) a list of proposed witnesses,
(3) as to each proposed expert witness:
(i) an identification of the field in which the individual will be qualified as an expert;
(ii) a statement as to the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify; and
(iii) a statement of the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to tesify,
(4) the identity of government employees who have investigated the case, and
(5) copies of memoranda reflecting respondent's own statements to administrative representatives.

(f) After a witness testifies for a party, if the opposing party requests, the party may be required to produce, prior to cross-examination, any written statement made by the witness.

§10.153 Proposed findings and conclusions; post-hearing memorandum.

Except in cases when the respondent has failed to answer the complaint, the administrative law judge, prior to making an initial decision, shall afford the parties a reasonable opportunity to submit proposed findings and conclusions and a post-hearing memorandum in support of the proposed findings and conclusions.

§10.154 Initial decision of administrative law judge.

(a) The administrative law judge shall make an initial decision in the case. The decision will include (a) a statement of findings and conclusions, as well as the reasons or basis therefore with appropriate references to the record, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, and (b) an order of suspension or exclusion from practice, an order of reprimand, or an order dismissing the complaint. The administrative law judge shall file the decision with the Director and shall transmit a copy to the representative of the Director and to the respondent. In the absence of an appeal to the Commissioner, the decision of the administrative law judge will, without further proceedings, become the decision of the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks thirty (30) days from the date of the decision of the administrative law judge.
(b) The initial decision of the administrative law judge shall explain the reason for any penalty of reprimand, suspension or exclusion. In determining any penalty, the following should normally be considered:
(1) the public interest;
(2) the seriousness of the violation of the Disciplinary Rule;
(3) the deterrent effects deemed necessary; and
(4) the integrity of the legal profession; and
(5) any extenuating circumstances.

§10.155 Appeal to the Commissioner.

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under §10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. An appeal by the respondent will be filed with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. If the Director files the appeal, the Director shall serve a copy of the appeal. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of an appeal or copy thereof, the other party may file a reply brief in duplicate with the Director. If the Director files the reply brief, the Director shall serve a copy of the reply brief. Upon the filing of an appeal and a reply brief, if any, the Director shall transmit the entire record to the Commissioner.
(b) The appeal will be decided by the Commissioner on the record made before the administrative law judge.
(c) The Commissioner may order reopening of a disciplinary proceeding in accordance with the principles which govern the granting of new trials. Any request to reopen a disciplinary proceeding on the basis of newly discovered evidence must demonstrate that the newly discovered evidence could not have been discovered by due diligence.

§10.156 Decision of the Commissioner.

(a) An appeal from an initial decision of the administrative law judge shall be decided by the Commissioner. The Commissioner may affirm, reverse, or modify the initial decision or remand the matter to the administrative law judge for such further proceedings as the Commissioner may deem appropriate. Entry of a decision by the Commissioner is a final agency action in a disciplinary proceeding. In making a final decision, the Commissioner shall review the record or those portions of the record as may be cited by the parties in order to limit the issues. The Comissioner shall tranmit a copy of the final decision to the Director and to the respondent.
(b) A final decision of the Commissioner may dismiss a disciplinary proceeding, reprimand a practitioner, or may suspend or exclude the practitioner from practice before the Office.

§10.157 Review of Commissioner's final decision.

(a) Review of the Commissioner's final decision in a disciplinary case may be had by a petition filed in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia. See 35 U.S.C. 32 and Local Rule 1-26 of the United States District Court for the District of Columbia.

(b) The Commissioner may stay a final decision pending review of the Commissioner's final decision.

§10.158 Suspended or excluded practitioner.

(a) A practitioner who is suspended or excluded from practice before the Office under §10.156(b) shall not engage in unauthorized practice of patent, trademark and other non-patent law before the Office.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioner, any practitioner who is suspended or excluded from practice before the Office under §10.156(b) shall:

(1) Within 30 days of entry of the order of suspension or exclusion, notify all bars of which he or she is a member and all clients of the practitioner for whom he or she is handling matters before the Office in separate written communications of the suspension or exclusion and shall file a copy of each written communication with the Director.

(2) Within 30 days of entry of the order of suspension or exclusion, surrender a client's active Office case files to (i) the client or (ii) another practitioner designated by the client.

(3) Not hold himself or herself out as authorized to practice law before the Office.

(4) Promptly take any necessary and appropriate steps to remove from any telephone, legal, or other directory any advertisement, statement, or representation which would reasonably suggest that the practitioner is authorized to practice patent, trademark or other non-patent law before the Office, and within 30 days of taking those steps, file with the Director an affidavit describing the precise nature of the steps taken.

(5) Not advertise the practitioner's availability or ability to perform or render legal services for any person having immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office.

(6) Not render legal advice or services to any person having immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office as to that business.

(7) Promptly take steps to change any sign identifying a practitioner's or the practitioner's firm's office and the practitioner's or the practitioner's firm's stationary to delete therefrom any advertisement, statement, or representation which would reasonably suggest that the practitioner is authorized to practice law before the Office.

(8) Within 30 days, return to any client any unearned funds, including any unearned retainer fee, and any securities and property of the client.

(c) A practitioner who is suspended or excluded from practice before the Office and who aides another practitioner in any way in the other practitioner's practice of law before the Office, may, under the direct supervision of the other practitioner, act as a para-legal for the other practitioner or perform other services for the other practitioner which are normally performed by lay-persons, provided:

(1) the practitioner who is suspended or excluded is:

(i) a salaried employee of:

(A) the other practitioner;

(B) the other practitioner's law firm; or

(C) a client-employer who employs the other practitioner as a salaried employee;

(2) the other practitioner assumes full professional responsibility to any client and the Office for any work performed by the suspended or excluded practitioner for the other practitioner;

(3) the suspended or excluded practitioner, in connection with any immediate, prospective, or pending business before the Office, does not:

(i) communicate directly in writing, orally, or otherwise with a client of the other practitioner;

(ii) render any legal services to a client of the other practitioner; or

(iii) meet in person or in the presence of the other practitioner with:

(A) any Office official in connection with the prosecution of any patent, trademark, or other case;

(B) any client of the other practitioner, the other practioner's law firm, or the client-employer of the other practitioner;

(C) any witness or potential witness which the other practitioner, the other practitioner's law firm, or the other practitioner's client-employer may or intends to call as a witness in any proceeding before the Office. The term "witness" includes individuals who will testify orally in a proceeding before, or sign an affidavit or any other document to be filed in, the Office.

(d) When a suspended or excluded practitioner acts as a para-legal or performs services under paragraph (c) of this section, the suspended or excluded practitioner shall not thereafter be reinstated to practice before the Office unless:

(1) the suspended or excluded practitioner shall have filed with the Director an affidavit which (i) explains in detail the precise nature of all para-legal or other services performed by the suspended or excluded practitioner and (ii) shows by clear and convincing evidence that the suspended or excluded practitioner has complied with the provisions of this section and all Disciplinary Rules, and

(2) the other practitioner shall have filed with the Director a written statement which (i) shows that the other practitioner has read the affidavit required by subparagraph (d) (1) of this section and that the other practitioner believes every statement in the affidavit to be true and (ii) states why the other practitioner believes that the suspended or excluded practitioner has complied with paragraph (c) of this section.

§10.159 Notice of suspension or exclusion.

(a) Upon issuance of a final decision reprimanding a practitioner or suspending or excluding a practitioner from practice before the Office, the Director shall give notice of the final decision to appropriate employees of the Office and to interested departments, agencies, and courts of the United States. The Director shall also give notice to appropriate authorities of any State in which a practitioner is known to be a member of the bar and any appropriate bar association.

(b) The Director shall cause to be published in the Official Gazette the name of any practitioner suspended or excluded from practice. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioner, the Director shall publish in the Official Gazette the name of any practitioner reprimanded by the Commissioner.

(c) The Director shall maintain records, which shall be available for public inspection, of every disciplinary proceeding where a practitioner is reprimanded, suspended, or excluded unless the Commissioner orders that the proceeding be kept confidential.

§10.160 Petition for reinstatement.

(a) A petition for reinstatement of a practitioner suspended for a period of less than five years will not be considered until the period of suspension has passed.

(b) A petition for reinstatement of a practitioner excluded from practice will not be considered until five years after the effective date of the exclusion.

(c) An individual who has resigned under §10.133 or who has been suspended or excluded may file a petition for reinstatement. The Director may grant a petition for reinstatement when the individual makes a clear and convincing showing that the individual will conduct himself or herself in accordance with the regulations of this part and that granting a petition for reinstatement is not contrary to the public interest. As a condition to reinstatement, the Director may require the individual to:

(1) meet the requirements of §10.7, including taking and passing an examination under §10.7(b) and

(2) pay all or a portion of the costs and expenses, not to exceed $1,500, of the disciplinary proceeding which lead to suspension or exclusion.

(d) Any suspended or excluded practitioner who has violated the provisions of §10.158 during his or her period of suspension or exclusion shall not be entitled to reinstatement until such time as the Director is satisfied that a period of suspension equal in time to that ordered by the Commissioner or exclusion for five years has passed during which the suspended or excluded practitioner has complied with the provisions of §10.158.

(e) Proceedings on any petition for reinstatement shall be open to the public. Before reinstating any suspended or excluded practitioner, the Director shall publish in the Official Gazette a notice of the suspended or excluded practitioner's petition for reinstatement and shall permit the public a reasonable opportunity to comment or submit evidence with respect to the petition for reinstatement.

§10.161 Savings clause.

(a) A disciplinary proceeding based on conduct engaged in prior to the effective date of these regulations may be instituted subsequent to such effective date, if such conduct would continue to justify suspension or exclusion under the provisions of this part.

(b) No practitioner shall be subject to a disciplinary proceeding under this part based on conduct engaged in before the effective date hereof if such conduct would not have been subject to disciplinary action before such effective date.

§10.162-10.169 [reserved]

§10.170 Suspension of rules.

(a) In an extraordinary situation, when justice requires, any requirement of the regulations of this part which is not a requirement of the statutes may be suspended or waived by the Commissioner or the Commissioner's designee, sua sponte, or on petition of any party, including the Director or the Director's representative, subject to such other requirements as may be imposed.

(b) Any petition under this section will not stay a disciplinary proceeding unless ordered by the Commissioner or an administrative law judge.

(156) Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) Update

Accession to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) by Barbados, ratification of the PCT by Italy and listing of PCT Member Countries.

The United States Patent and Trademark Office has received notification from the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) that Barbados deposited its instrument of accession to the PCT on 12 Dec. 1984. Therefore, according to PCT Article 63(2), Barbados may be designated in international applications filed on and after 12 Mar. 1985.

The Office also received notification from WIPO that Italy deposited its instrument of ratification to the PCT on 28 Dec. 1984. Therefore, Italy may be designated in international applications filed on and after 28 Mar. 1985. It should be noted that only regional patent protection through the European Patent Office will be available for PCT applications designating Italy. Applicants who wish to secure an Italian national patent must file directly with the Italian Patent Office.

The entry into force of the PCT for Italy is of particular importance since it has the consequence that, as from 28 Mar. 1985, all countries party to the European Patent Convention (Austria, Belgium, France, Germany (Federal Republic of), Italy, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom) will also be party to the PCT. This opens the possibility of obtaining, by filing a single international application under the PCT, a European patent for all those countries with the same rights as would be conferred by a national patent granted in each country. Currently, about 5000 designations of Italy are made by applicants from the United States in European patent applications each year.

(158) Japanese Patent Office Introduction of an Accelerated Examination and Accelerated Appeal Examination System for Working-Related Patent (or Utility Model) Applications

Note for Foreign Applicants

1. The Japanese Patent office has decided, after long consideration, to introduce, through the administrative operation of the Patent Law and the Utility Model Law, an accelerated examination and accelerated appeal examination system for working-related patent (or utility model) applications, pursuant to the following basic polices:

(1) A part of the examination capability shall be allocated for accelerated examination and Accelerated appeal examination.

(2) The accelerated examination and accelerated appeal examination system shall initially begin on a test basis. The requirements and applications to which the accelerated examination and appeal examination are applied shall be reviewed, if necessary, taking into consideration the situation following the initial test period.

(3) Applicants shall be requested to submit the documents necessary for accelerated examination and accelerated appeal examination, such as the prior art search report and the comparison with prior art, that justify the accelerated procedure.

(4) Applicants shall be requested strictly to select requests for accelerated examination or accelerated appeal examination in order to attain fully the purpose of that system.

2. The acceptance of receipt by the Japanese Patent Office of the Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination or Accelerated Appeal Examination for working-related patent (or utility model) applications shall commence on February 1, 1986.

3. The present text introduces the information that should be fully understood by foreign applicants who wish to make use of the above-mentioned system. Reference is made to the related Section of the Japanese Patent (or Utility Model) Law (Section 8):

(Patent administrator for residents abroad)

8. — (1) A person who has neither his domicile nor residence (nor, in the case of a legal entity, its establishment) in Japan (hereinafter referred to as "resident abroad") may not, except where a request for registration under subsection (3) is filed or as otherwise prescribed by Cabinet Order, proceed before the Office or institute a suit against any measure taken by an administrative agency in accordance with this Law or an order or ordinance thereunder, except through his representative with respect to his patent who has his domicile or residence in Japan (hereinafter referred to as "patent administrator").

(2) The patent administrator shall, in addition to the powers specially conferred on him, represent the principal in all procedures and in a suit instituted against measures taken by an administrative agency in accordance with this Law or an order or ordinance thereunder.

(3) Where a resident abroad is a patentee or has a registered right relating to a patent, the appointment or change of his patent administrator, the power of attorney or the extinguishment thereof shall not be effective against any third person unless it is registered.

4. Foreign applicants who submit the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination or Accelerated Appeal Examination" for working-related patent (or utility model) applications shall proceed before the Japanese Patent Office in writing, in Japanese, through patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

5. The Guideline attached as an Appendix hereto should be fully reviewed by foreign applicants. The notes and italics appear especially for foreign applicants and are not contained in the original text of the Guideline.

6. The Guideline provides information necessary to patent agents who proceed before the Japanese Patent Office on behalf of foreign applicants. Therefore, foreign applicants are requested to consult fully with patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan and are familiar with such information.

Introduction

The Japanese Patent Office is presently working on the promotion of comprehensive measures from a long-term perspective, represented by the following four major items designed to shorten the period of examination and appeal examination in order to deal with a greater number of pending applications:

(1) building up of a so-called "paperless system";
(2) guiding cooperation to improve patent management in domestic corporations;
(3) reformation of the patent system; and
(4) improvement in examination capacity.

As an immediate measure meeting applicants' needs before the establishment of such comprehensive measures, the accelerated examination and appeal examination system will be adopted in respect of working-related applications. The intention is to minimize the adverse effects that could accompany a delay in examination and appeal examination.

In introducing the accelerated examination and appeal examination system, however, a part of the examination capability will be allocated for accelerated examination and appeal examination with due regard to the effect on applications not eligible for accelerated examination and appeal examination. For that reason, the system will be put in practice as a test at the initial stage under certain conditions limiting the applicable objectives to working-related applications only. The accelerated appeal examination system will also be applied, for the time being, only to those applications of particular urgency among working-related applications in view of the general importance of appeal cases.

From such points of view, applicants or patent agents concerned will be requested to submit the information necessary to justify accelerated examination and appeal examination for the purpose of attaining the goal of the accelerated procedure. At the same time, they will be requested also to select strictly such working-related applications as they really wish to be dealt with in an accelerated manner in order that the purpose of accelerated examination and appeal examination will fully be realized.

II. Accelerated Examination System

1. Accelerated Examination

(1) Applications eligible for accelerated examination.

The Japanese Patent Office may apply accelerated examination to patent (or utility model) applications that satisfy all the conditions mentioned below:

(a) a patent (or utility model) application for an invention that the applicant or one who has been granted a license*1 (licensee) from the applicant in respect of the invention has already worked or the working*2 of which has been scheduled to start by the applicant or his licensee within a period no longer than six months from the date of submission of "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination";
(b) examination by an examiner has not yet started;
(c) request for examination has already been made.

(2) Accelerated examination procedures.

(a) When the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" is submitted to the Patent Office, the Directors of the corresponding examination division shall decide whether or not the application is eligible for accelerated examination. The result of selection shall not be notified in writing.

(b) An examiner shall start promptly the examination of applications selected by the Directors as eligible for accelerated examination and shall speed up the entire examination process to the final decision, including the opposition procedure, without delay.

In the event, however, that the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" is submitted before the laying-open of applications for public inspection ("Kokai Koho"), the process shall be started promptly after the said laying-open of applications.

(c) As for the description for the state of working under the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination", confirmation of the state of working by hearing or confirmation by field survey may be made if subsequently regarded as necessary.

[Note 1] The hearing shall not be open.

(3) Public access to documents.

The "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" shall be open to public access as in the case of other application documents, regardless of the results of selection.

(4) Indication in the official publication ("Kokoku Koho").

Working-related applications concerning which publication is made following the accelerated examination procedure shall be so indicated in the official publication as follows:

(a) indication with certain mark in the table of contents; and
(b) indication of "Application through accelerated examination", in the official publication of patent (or utility model) applications.

2. Submission Procedures—Submission of "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination"

(1) Submitter.

A submitter of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" for a working-related application eligible for accelerated examination shall be restricted to the applicant of the application concerned.

(2) Submission of documents.

Documents requesting accelerated examination shall either be submitted directly to the receiving window (Second Application Division, Japanese Patent Office; 3-1, Kasumigaseki 1-chome, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo, Japan) or mailed to the Director General, Japanese Patent Office (4-3, Kasumigaseki 3-chome, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 100, Japan) with indication of "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" on the envelope.

[Note 2] The contents of this matter relate only to patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

(3) Period of submission.

The "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" may be submitted at any time after the request for examination has been made.

(4) Fee.

No fee shall be charged for the submission of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination".

(5) Documents to be submitted.

Documents concerning accelerated examination (the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination") shall be submitted separately for each application requesting accelerated examination. (See II.3, below, for the preparation of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination".) The said submitted documents shall not be returned after receipt by the Patent Office.

(6) Supplement to submitted documents.

If the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" is submitted before the laying-open of the application concerned for public inspection, the supplement procedure for submitted documents shall be requested as follows:

(a) Supplementing documents on prior art investigation and comparison with prior art from the viewpoint of Section 29*bis* of the Patent Law and Section 3*bis* of the Utility Model Law shall be submitted after the laying-open of the application concerned.

[Note 3] (i) There are few advantages for both domestic and foreign applicants in submitting the "Explanation Concerning Accelerated Examination" before the laying-open of the applications concerned.
(ii) Since foreign applicants are not requested to investigate patent documents in Japanese unless they so wish, they need not submit a prior art investigation report from the viewpoints of Sections 29*bis* of the Patent Law and 3*bis* of the Utility Model Law.

(b) If all the invention information symbols of the IPC that appeared in the official publication of the said application ("Kokai Koho") are not included in the prior art investigation submitted before the laying-open of the application concerned, supplementary documents on prior art investigation covering fields of art defined by the IPC symbols not included in the original documents, and a comparison with prior art in respect of such additional fields from the viewpoint of Section 29(1) and (2) of the Patent Law and Section 3(1) and (2) of the Utility Model Law shall be submitted after the laying-open of the application concerned.

[Note 4] Since foreign applicants are not requested to investigate patent documents in Japanese unless they so wish, they need not submit supplementary documents on the prior art investigation and comparison with prior art from the above viewpoint.

3. Preparation of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination"

(1) Form

Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination

To: Mr. Date:
The Director General of the Patent Office
1. Identification of the case:
2. Title of the invention (or utility model) and its IPC symbol appearing in the official publication ("Kokai Koho"): (IPC symbols)
3. Date of the request for examination of application:
4. Submitter (Applicant)
Domicile (residence):
Name: (seal)
5. Agent
Domicile (residence):
Name: (seal)
6. State of working
(1) Specification of the working-related act
(2) Period of working of the invention (or utility model)
(3) Relation between the invention (or utility model) and the specified working-related act
7. Prior art investigation and comparison with prior art
(1) Results of investigation
(2) Comparison with prior art
(3) Other particulars if necessary
8. List of attached documents

[Note 5] Contents of this matter relate only to patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

(2) Bibliography.

The spaces for bibliography (1–5) shall be completed in the following manner:

(a) For the space for "Identification of the case", the patent (or utility model) application number and the laying-open number of the patent (or utility model) application shall be entered. For an international application made in the Japanese language that includes Japan among the designated States or the elected States under the PCT, the patent (or utility model) application number shall be inserted as:

Patent (or utility model) application No.
WO **/**;

and for an international application made in a foreign language that includes Japan among the designated States or the elected States under the PCT, the number shall be inserted as:

Patent (or utility model) application No.

Secondary publication number of an international application in the Japanese language ("Kohyo Koho") No. ...

(b) The IPC symbols consisting of invention information (the IPC symbols preceding double oblique strokes) appearing in the official unexamined publication of the application concerned ("Kokai Koho") shall be inserted in the space for the IPC symbols.

(c) Next to the domicile of the heading "Submitter (Applicant)" and "Agent", the telephone number of the submitter (applicant) or his agent shall be entered if possible.

(d) Other instruction shall be the same as items 1–3, proviso to 4, 6, 7, 10 and 12–14 of the Notes to Form No. 1 of the Regulations under the Patent Law.

As to the date of submission, the date of delivery in the case of direct submission to the receiving window of the Patent Office or the date of posting or receipt by the post office in the case of mailing shall be inserted.

[Note 6] Contents of this matter relate only to patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

(3) State of working.

The space for "state of working" in the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" shall be completed as follows:

(a) Specification of the working-related act. It shall be specified and described whether the act within Japan by the applicant or by his licensee comes under manufacturing, using, assigning, leasing, displaying for the purpose of assignment or lease, or importing to Japan.

(b) Period of working of the invention (or utility model). When the working-related act has started or is scheduled to start shall be described. However, the scheduled period within which working is to start shall be restricted to within six months from the date of submission of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination".

If, for example, the working-related act is manufacturing, the description may be as follows:-

"Manufacturing since ..., 19..."; or
"Scheduled for manufacture from ..., 19..."

[Note 7] It is not necessary to identify the location of use or name of licensee, and additional materials to describe state of working are not required in principle.

---

*This note and the Guideline were prepared by the Japanese Patent Office. The French-language version of them Note and of the Guideline will be published in the March issue of La Propriete industrielle.

*1 "License" as used herein includes any license contractes between foreigners.

*2 "Working of inventions" means manufacturing, use, assignment, importing and similar acts within Japan, as defined by Section*3 of the Japanese Patent Law.

*3 (Definitions)
2.–(1) "Invention" in this Law means the highly advanced creation of technical ideas by which a law of nature is utilized.
(2) "Patented invention" in this Law means an invention for which a patent jas been granted.
(3) "Working" of an invention in this Law means the following acts:
(i)in the case of an inveation of a product, acts of manufacturing, using, assigning, leasing, displaying for the purpose of assignment or lease, or importing, the product;
(ii) in the case of an invention of a process, acts of using the process;
(iii) in the case of an invention of a process of manufacturing a product, acts of using, assigning, leasing, displaying for the purpose of assignment or lease, or importing, the product manufactured by the process, in addition to the acts mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

(c) Relation between invention (or utility model) and the specified working-related act. A description shall be given of how the invention (or utility model) that is the subject of the application is applied in the specified working-related act. If, for example, the working-related act is manufacturing, description may be given in that part of the product the art of the invention (or utility model) is applied.

[Note 8] The contents of the description in the explanation of the state of working are sufficient if they are provided to the extent as follows:

Examples of the Description in the Explanation of the State of Working

1. When the working of an invention has commenced

	Item	Working by Applicant
(i)	Specification of the working-related acts	Export to Japan
(ii)	Time of working	Exporting as from (month) 1984
(iii)	Relation between the specified working-related act and the invention concerned	Exporting bolts worked with the invention of this application whose screwdriver setting groove on the bolt-head is made in cross-groove

	Item	Working by Licensee
(i)	Specification of working-related acts	Export to Japan
(ii)	Time of working	Our licensee has been exporting as from (month) 1984
(iii)	Relation between the specified working-related act and the invention concerned	Exporting bolts worked with the invention of this application whose screwdriver setting groove on the bolt-head is made in cross-groove

2. When the working of an invention is scheduled to start within six months from the date of submission of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination"

	Item	Working by Applicant
(i)	Specification of working-related acts	Export to Japan
(ii)	Time of working	Scheduled to export as from (month) 1986
(iii)	Relation between the specified working-related act and the invention concerned	Preparing the export of bolts worked with the invention of this application whose screwdriver setting groove on the bolt-head is made in cross-groove.

	Item	Working by Licensee
(i)	Specification of working-related acts	Export to Japan
(ii)	Time of working	Our licensee is scheduled to export as from (month) 1986
(iii)	Relation between the specified working-related act and the invention concerned	Preparing the export of bolts worked with the invention of this application whose screwdriver setting groove on the bolt-head is made in cross-groove

(4) Prior art investigation and comparison with prior art.

On submitting the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination", a description of the prior art investigation and comparison with prior art is requested to attain the objectives of accelerated examination. The prior art investigation and comparison with prior art should preferably be made in the manner in (a) through (e), below.

(a) Documents to be investigated

(i) The documents to be investigated shall cover at least Japanese unexamined publications, i.e., "Kokai Koho" (including the secondary publication of international applications in Japanese, i.e., "Kohyo Koho").

If, however, the submitter is a foreign applicant, the investigation of Japanese unexamined publications ("Kokai Koho") may be substituted by patent documents written in English, French or German.

(ii) Depending on the particularity of the art, "specified publications" as shown in the attached material may be designated as documents to be investigated. If, however, the submitter is a foreign applicant, such publications as are in Japanese may be exempted from investigation.

[Note 9] Foreign applicants are requested to investigate patent documents in any of the foreign language listed in (a)(i), above, from the viewpoint of Section 29(2) of the Patent Law and Section 3(2) of the Utility Model Law.

(Patentability of inventions)

29.—(1) Any person who has made an invention which is industrially applicable may obtain a patent therefor, except in the case of the following inventions:

(i) inventions which were publicly known in Japan prior to the filing of the patent application;
(ii) inventions which were publicly worked in Japan prior to the filing of the patent application;
(iii) inventions which were described in a publication distributed in Japan or elsewhere prior to the filing of the patent application.

(2) Where an invention could easily have been made, prior to the filing of the patent application, by a person with ordinary skill in the art to which the invention pertains, on the basis of an invention or inventions referred to in any of the paragraphs of subsection (1), a patent shall not be granted for such an invention notwithstanding subsection (1).

(Registrability of utility models)

3.—(1) Any person who has made a device which is industrially applicable and which relates to the shape or construction of articles or a combination of articles may obtain a utility model registration therefor, except in the case of the following devices:

(i) devices which were publicly known in Japan prior to the filing of the utility model application;
(ii) devices which were publicly worked in Japan prior to the filing of the utility model application;
(iii) devices which were described in a publication distributed in Japan or elsewhere prior to the filing of the utility model application.

(2) Where a device could very easily have been made, prior to the filing of the utility model application by a person with ordinary skill in the art to which the device pertains, on the basis of a device or devices referred to in any of the paragraphs of subsection (1), a utility model registration shall not be granted for such a device notwithstanding subsection (1).

[Note 10] List of "Specified Publications" in (a)(ii), above

Title of Publication	Related IPC Symbols
Chemical Abstract	A 01 N, A 61 K C 07 B,C,D,F,G,H,J,K C 09 B,K, D 06 P
Applied Optics	G 02 B, G 03 B, F,H

(b) Extent of investigation. If Japanese unexamined publications are investigated, the extent of investigation shall cover the fields of art at least centered around the IPC symbol or symbols consisting of the invention information (the IPC symbol or symbols preceding double oblique strokes) appearing in the publication of the unexamined application concerned ("Kokai Koho"). In that case, the period of investigation shall extend from 1971 to the date of issue of the publication of the unexamined application concerned ("Kokai Koho").

[Note 11] Foreign applicants are not requested to do so, unless they so wish.

(c) Results of investigation.

(i) In the space for results of investigation, the titles of related documents obtained as a result of the prior art investigation shall be described in the manner corresponding to the instruction shown in 42.31A of the "Examination Manual for Patents and Utility Models" compiled by the Patent Office. If no related document has been found after the prior art investigation, documents showing the general state of the art as technical background to the application may be described.

In the space for results of investigation, the names of institutions and services, etc., if used, may be entered.

(ii) Copies of prior art documents shall be attached.
(iii) For prior art documents written in a foreign language, the necessary part shall be indicated on a copy of the document and the translation thereof that is submitted. In the case of English documents, a translation may be omitted.
(iv) In the place of a prior art investigation by a foreign applicant, documents cited as results of investigations by examining patent offices or intergovernmental organizations or by International Searching Authorities pursuant to the PCT may be entered in the space for the results of investigation. In the place of a prior art investigation by a domestic applicant, documents cited as results of investigations by International Searching Authorities pursuant to the PCT or by the European Patent Office (EPO) may be entered in the space for the results of investigation. In those cases, the examining patent office or organization that made such investigation shall also be entered.
(v) When submitting the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Examination" before the laying-open of an application, the IPC symbols which define the fields of art, the investigation of which fields the applicant has made in advance, shall be entered in the space for the result of the prior art investigation, since an additional prior art investigation may become necessary so as to cover all the fields of art defined by the invention information symbols of the IPC appearing in the publication of the unexamined application concerned ("Kokai Koho").

[Note 12] Foreign applicants are not requested to do so regarding paragraph (v), above, unless they so wish.

(d) Comparison with prior art.

In the space for comparison with prior art, a concrete and concise description of different points holding the better part of inventions claimed in the patent (or utility model) application and its effect should be given, compared with the prior art described in the listed documents in the light of Sections 29(1) and (2) and 29*bis* of the Patent Law and Sections 3(1) and (2) and 3*bis* of the Utility Model Law. In this case, due consideration should also be given to the completeness of the specification in the light of Section 36 of the Patent Law and Section 5 of the Utility Model Law. The above description should be prepared, for example, in the same manner as in preparing a written argument against the examiner's reasons for refusal.

If it does not seem possible to maintain patentability without amendment of the specification, a draft amendment of the specification shall be presented and the comparison with prior art should be made on the basis of that draft.

If the specification includes a detailed comparison with prior art in the light of Section 29(1) and (2) of the Patent Law and Section 3(1) and (2) of the Utility Model Law, the description in the space for comparison with prior art may be replaced by an indication of the appropriate part of the specification. However, the prior art investigation and comparison with prior art in the light of Section 29*bis* of the Patent Law and Section 3*bis* of the Utility Model Law shall be described.

[Note 13] Foreign applicants are not requested to investigate from the viewpoint of Section 29*bis* of the Patent Law or Section 3*bis* of the Utility Model Law.

(e) Other particulars, if necessary.

An applicant that is a small or medium enterprise or an individual may be exempted from the investigation of "specified publications" mentioned in subparagraph (a)(ii), above, and from attachment of copies of prior art documents mentioned in subparagraph (c)(ii), above. If an applicant that is a small or medium enterprise or an individual omits the investigation of "specified publications" and the attachment of copies as mentioned above, the applicant shall state in the space for "Other particulars, if necessary" the fact that the applicant is a small or medium enterprise as provided for in the Small and Medium Enterprise Basic Law or an individual.

For a small or medium enterprise, it is requested to state the type of small or medium enterprise as shown in the following table and also to indicate whether the number of employees and capital fall with the number of employees and capital provided for in the said Law.

Definition of Small and Medium Enterprises Established by the Small or Medium Enterprise Basic Law

Type of business	Number of Employees	Amount of Capital
Manufacturing, mining, etc.	not more than 300	not more than Y100,000,000
Wholesalers	not more than 100	not more than Y 30,000,000
Retailers and services	not more than 50	not more than Y 10,000,000

III. Accelerated Appeal Examination System

1. Accelerated Appeal Examination

The procedures of accelerated examination shall apply correspondingly to accelerated appeal examination. The procedures that are particularly different are hereinafter introduced.

(1) Appeal cases eligible for accelerated appeal examination.

The Japanese Patent Office may apply accelerated appeal examination to appeal cases concerning patent (or utility model) applications satisfying all the conditions as specified below:

(a) Where the appeal case concerns a patent (or utility model) application for an invention which the demandant or one who has been granted a license[*4] (licensee) in respect of that invention from the demandant has already worked or the working[*5] of which has been scheduled to start by the demandant or his licensee within a period of no longer than six months from the date of submission of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" and for which the granting of a patent is urgently required by the reason of (i) or (ii), below:

(i) in the case where any third party, without any consent of the demandant, has already worked the invention or in the case where the working of that invention has been scheduled to start by the third party without any prior consent of the demandant;
(ii) in the case where opposition to the grant of the patent was filed at the examination stage.

(b) When an appeal examination by a collegial body in charge has not yet commenced (in such an appeal case, since a patent (or utility model) application has proceeded again to the stage of appeal examination after reconsideration by the former examiner under Section 161*bis* of the Patent Law, appeal examination for the said case shall be deemed not to have started);
(c) Where the appeal case is against examiner's decision of refusal.

[Note 15] Accelerated appeal examination applies both to appeal cases proceeding to the appeal stage after the final decision of refusal by an examiner through accelerated examination and appeal cases for which demands for appeals have already been filed.

(2) Accelerated appeal examination procedures.

(a) When the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" is submitted to the Patent Office, the head of appeal examiner's group (appeal examiner-in-chief) of the corresponding appeal examiner's group shall decide whether or not the appeal case is eligible for accelerated appeal examination. The results of the selection shall not be notified in writing.

(b) A collegial body in charge shall promptly commence the examination of the appeal case as a case eligible for accelerated appeal examination by the head of appeal examiner's group and shall speed up the entire appeal examination process to the final decision, including the opposition procedure, without delay.

(c) As for descriptions in the space for the state of working, state of urgency, allegations concerning the completeness of the specification and allegations against the reasons for the examiner's refusal of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination", a request for the submission of materials, for a hearing or for suitable measures may be made if necessary.

[Note 16] Submitted documents and details of hearings are not open.

(3) Public access to documents.

The "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" shall be open to public access as in the case of other appeal case documents, regardless of the results of selection.

(4) Indication in the official publication.

The procedure for indication in the publication of applications ("Kokoku Koho") through accelerated examination shall apply in the case of accelerated appeal examination.

2. Submission Procedures—Submission of "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination"

(1) Submitter.

A submitter of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" shall be restricted to the demandant of the appeal case concerned.

(2) Submission of documents.

Documents concerning accelerated appeal examination ("Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination") shall be either submitted directly to the receiving window (Clerical Division, Appeal Department, Japanese Patent Office; 3–1 Kasumigaseki 1–chome, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 100, Japan) or mailed to the Director-General, Japanese Patent Office (4–3, Kasumigaseki 3–chome, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 100, Japan) with indication of "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" on the envelope. (The submission of documents shall be made by patent agents in the case of foreign demandants.)

[Note 17] The contents of this matter relate only to patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

(3) Period of submission.

The "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" may be submitted at any time after the demand for appeal has been filed.

(4) Fee.

No fee is charged as in the case of accelerated examination.

(5) Documents to be submitted.

The documents concerning accelerated appeal examination ("Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination") shall be submitted separately for each appeal case requesting accelerated appeal examination. (Refer to III.3, below, for the preparation of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination".)
The said submitted documents shall not be returned after receipt by the Patent Office.

3. Preparation of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination"

Form.

Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination

5. State of working
(1) Specification of the working-related act
(2) Period of working of the invention (or utility model)
(3) Relation between the invention (or utitlity model) and the specified working-related act
6. State of Urgency
7. Allegations
(1) Allegation concerning the completeness of the specification
(2) Allegation against the examiner's reasons for refusal
8. List of attached documents

The "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" may be quoted in the space for state of working, if there is no change in the subsequent state of working.
A hearing may be conducted for the submitter on the descriptions in the space for 6, 7 and 8, if necessary.

[Note 18] The contents of this matter relate only to patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

(2) Bibliography.

The space for bibliography (1–4) in the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" shall be completed as follows:

(a) For the space "Identification of the case", the appeal case number, patent (or utility model) application number and the laying-open number of the patent (or utility model) application shall be entered.
(b) The IPC symbols consisting of the invention information (the IPC symbols preceding double oblique strokes) appearing in the official unexamined publication of the application concerned ("Kokai Koho") shall be inserted in the space for IPC symbols.
(c) Next to the domicile under the headings "Submitter" and "Agent", the telephone number of the submitter or his agent shall be entered, if possible.
(d) Other instructions shall be the same as in items 1–3, 6, 7, 10 and 12–14 of the Notes to Form No. 1 of the Regulations under the Patent Law.
As to the date of submission, the date of delivery in the case of direct submission to the receiving window of the Clerical Division, Appeal Examination Department, Patent Office, or the date of posting or receipt by the post office in the case of mailing, shall be inserted.

[Note 19] The contents of this matter relate only to patent agents who have their domicile or residence in Japan.

3. State of working.

The space for "State of working" in the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination" shall be completed as follows:

(a) Specification of the working-related act. Whether the act within Japan by the demandant or his licensee comes under manufacturing, using, assigning or leasing, displaying for the purpose of assignment or lease, or importing to Japan shall be specified and described.
(b) Period of working of the invention (or utility model). When the working-related act has started or is scheduled to start shall be described. However, the scheduled period to start working shall be restricted to within six months from the date of submission of the "Explanation of Circumstances Concerning Accelerated Appeal Examination".
If, for example, the working related act is manufacturing, the description may be as follows:
"Manufacturing since ..., 19..."; or
"Scheduled for manufacture from ..., 19 ..."

[Note 20] It is not necessary to identify the location of the use and name of the licensee, and additional materials to describe the state of working are not required in principle.

(c) Relation between the invention (or utility model) and the specified working-related act. A description shall be provided of how the invention (or utility model) of the application is applied in the specified working-related act. If, for example, the working-related act is manufacturing, a description shall be provided of to what part of the product the art of the invention (or utility model) is applicable.

(4) State of urgency.

In the space for "State of Urgency", an explanation shall be given of at least one of the following cases as provided in (a) or (b) where urgent granting of the patent is required.
If the matters necessary for clarifying such state fall within the scope of corporate secrecy and it may interfere with commercial dealings to submit such matters, the omission of the submission of such matters may be allowed by indicating that the demandant is prepared to clarify such matters in hearing.

The details of such a hearing shall not be open.

(a) Where any third party, without consent of the demandant, has already worked the invention or has

[*4] "License" as used herein includes any license contracted between foreigners with a view to implementing such a license in Japan.
[*5] "Working of inventions" means manufacturing, use, assignment, importing and similar acts within Japan, as defined by Section 2 of the Japanese Patent Law.

scheduled to start the working of the invention in an apparent manner.

Where a state of urgency is explained by this case, clarification of (A) the third party, (B) the working-related act by any third party and (C) the relation between the working-related act and the inventions claimed in the application concerned is required in principle. Where the third party has scheduled to start in an apparent manner the working of inventions claimed in the application concerned, clarification of the state of the schedule for working is required by means of attaching objective documents or other reliable materials.

A "third party" means any party other than the demandant in the appeal case and his licensee.

(b) When opposition to the grant of patent was filed in the stage of examination.

Where a state of urgency is explained by this case, the circumstances behind the grounds for the oppositions to the grant of the patent shall be explained in relation to inventions claimed in the patent (or utility model) application concerning which the examiner's decision of refusal has been brought about.

(5) Allegations.

Since it is necessary for an efficient accelerated appeal examination that the specification be complete and that the grounds against the reasons for refusal be based on the detailed description in the specificaiton, the following allegations are requested to be described for clarifying those matters.

(i) Allegation concerning the completeness of specification. In the space for "Allegation concerning the completeness of the specification", it shall be alleged that the explanation is complete in the following respects:

(a) It shall be explained, according to "the itemized descriptions of patent (or utility model) specification" specified in the Regulations (Note 14 to Form No. 16 of the Regulations under the Patent Law and Note 13 to Form No. 3 of the Regulations under the Utility Model Law), for example, how the purpose, constitution and effects of the invention (or utility model) are clearly described in the space for a detailed explanation of the invention:

[Note 21] Example where itemized description is preferable:

Detailed Description of the Invention

(a) Industrial Field of Utilization
(b) Prior Art
(c) Problems that the Invention is to solve
(d) Means of Solving the Problems
(e) Operation of the Invention
(f) Working Examples
(g) Effects of the Invention

(b) It shall be explained how the constitution of the claimed invention (or utility model) is accurately described in the space for a detailed explanation of the invention.

The explanations in (a) and (b), above, may be omitted where the patent (or utility model) application has been published in the examination stage in the official publication ("Kokoku Koho").

(ii) Allegation against examiner's reasons for refusal. In the space for "Allegation against examiner's reasons for refusal", the grounds against the examiner's reasons for refusal shall be concretely alleged indicating the duly corresponding described parts in the specification.

4. Inquiry.

(1) Inquiry Window.

An answer by telephone shall be given to any inquiry on the matters relating to accelerated appeal examination from a demandant (or his patent agent).

I. APPEALS

A. Appeal Fees in Patent Cases

Appeal fees deficiencies are frequent in the case of appeal fees, causing necessity for extension fees to cover the additional time consumed in making up the appeal fee deficiency.

II. APPLICATION FILES

A. Requests for Allowed Patent Application Files

Applicants or attorneys requesting files from the Publishing Division, Office of Publications, should make their request at least twenty-four hours in advance to ensure file availability. Attention is especially directed to out-of-town requesters who visit the Office, anticipating same day service. Although the Office is usually able to respond promptly, unexpected inconvenience can be avoided if arrangements are made in advance.

Inquiries and requests should be directed to the Correspondence Section at (703) 557–6397 or (703) 557–6398 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. through 5:00 p.m. on weekdays.

B. Returning Files to the File Information Unit (FIU)

As follow-up to a previously identified problem involving FIU file histories being left in the Public Search Room rather than being returned as required, all charge cards were monitored for a three week period.

Of the 2,011 files obtained, a total of 32 were not properly returned. Although the percentage of abuse is not great, customers are again reminded that files obtained through the FIU are official government records which must be returned by 7:45 p.m. on the same day they are obtained. Additionally, files obtained through the FIU shall not be removed from the confines of the Public Search Room at any time.

FIU personnel will continue to periodically monitor this problem. Should individual patterns of abuse be discerned, administrative sanctions up to termination of access privileges will be applied.

III. APPLICATION PAPERS

A. Addressing Papers Involving Secrecy of Certain Inventions and Licenses to Export and File Applications in Foreign Countries (37 CFR 5)

All correspondence in connection with 37 CFR 5 should be addressed to:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
(Attention Licensing and Review)
Washington, D.C. 20231

Improperly addressing such correspondence may delay delivery and could result in violations of 37 CFR 5. See 37 CFR 5.33 regarding correspondence.

B. Amendments After Final for Patent Applications

Amendments under 37 CFR 1.116 would be greatly expedited if they were headlined with the title "Amendment After Final Rejection," with that title underlined in red. This would facilitate ready identification of these amendments by the PTO support staff and expedite docketing and delivery to the examiner for special treatment. In many cases this would avoid the necessity for extensions of time and filing unnecessary notices of appeal.

C. Data To Be Included On Patent and Trademark Papers Filed in the PTO In Response To Office Actions

Perhaps the greatest cause of delay and wasted time in the support sections of the PTO is in trying to match papers bearing incorrect or incomplete data with applications. Because some trademark papers are not clearly identified as pertaining to trademark applications, they are frequently misrouted to the patent examining group.

On all papers related to patent applications, type the word "Patent" in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please include the correct serial number, filing date, inventor's name, and title of the invention. Additionally include the examiner's name, and group art unit number or other identifying data found on the most recent letter from the PTO (37 CFR 1.1(a)). However, please note that an organizational restructuring of the Patent Examining Corps has resulted in many applications being reassigned to new Groups and Art Units. Your attention is directed to the NOTICE OF CHANGES IN THE PATENT EXAMINING CORPS that appeared in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE on June 26, 1984, (1043 OG 23), which identifies the Group Art Unit of each examiner (1043 OG 40 through 1043 OG 67). Letters mailed from the Groups after Apr. 15, 1984, should reflect the current identifying data.

For all papers related to trademark applications, type the word "Trademark" in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please set forth the applicant's name, correct serial number (including series number which currently is "73"), filing date, law office, examining attorney and mark.

Trademark documents for which no fee is required at the time of filing (e.g., amendments to applications and requests for extensions of time to file an opposition) should continue to be addressed:

Box 5
Commissioner of Patent and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Mail directed to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board should have "Attention TTAB" on the envelope in addition to "Box 5".

D. Express Mail

Many applicants are losing the advantage of receiving the date a paper or fee was deposited at the Post Office when "Express Mail" is used due to a failure of following proper procedures. According to 37 CFR §1.10, any such paper or fee must include a certificate of mailing by "Express Mail," signed by the person mailing the paper or fee.

Often, the certificate is missing, illegible, inaccurate, incomplete, or difficult to locate. As a result, the paper or fee is considered to have been filed on the date of receipt in the PTO.

To ensure papers and fees sent by "Express Mail" are accorded the proper certificate date, the following suggestions and reminders are offered:

1. Each document must have a certificate of mailing typed on or affixed to the document.
2. The certificate should be placed on the first page of the document or the covering letter to ensure easy accessibility.
3. The certificate should be legible.
4. Dates on the certificate must correspond to dates on the Express Mail label.
5. Each certificate must have an original signature.

The preferred wording and information to be included on this certificate is as follows:

"Express Mail" Mailing Label No. (insert B no. from Express Mail label)
Date of Deposit (insert date from Express Mail Label)

I hereby certify that this paper or fee is being deposited with the United States Postal Service "Express Mail Post Office To Addressee" service under 37 CFR 1.10 on the date indicated above and is addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(Typed or printed name of person mailing paper or fee)
(Signature of person mailing paper or fee)

By following these procedures, problems concerning filing dates should be minimized.

E. Express Mail (Continuation)

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) continues to receive correspondence filed under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10 in which the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" certifies that the correspondence is being mailed on one date while the "Express Mail" label shows a "Date-In" on a different date. This usually occurs when the "Express Mail" package is deposited in a remote "Express Mail" receptacle or mailbox after the last pick-up and accordingly are not being picked-up and processed by the Postal Service until the next business day. The question as to the treatment of such a situation was covered in the final rulemaking published on Jan. 20, 1983, at 48 FR 2696–2714 and on Feb. 1, 1983, at 1027 O.G. 9. The following comments appear therein:

> "Comment: One person questioned what treatment will be accorded a paper placed in an 'Express Mail' box receptacle after the box has been cleared for the last time on a given day."
> "Reply: The paper will be considered to be deposited as of the date of receipt indicated on the 'Express Mail' mailing label by the Postal Service clerk."

While the number of such instances in which the certificate states one date and the receipt states a different date is not large when compared to the total number of filings under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10, it does cause problems for the PTO and the applicants involved when it does occur.

In view of the above, it is recommended that where the filing date of a paper or fee is critical, e.g., the filing of a patent application, and particularly when the deposit by "Express Mail" is being made late in the business day, the correspondence should be personally delivered to a Post Office where receipt of the "Express Mail" package by the Postal Service on the date indicated in the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" can be immediately obtained from a Postal Service clerk.

Applicants are also reminded that 37 CFR 1.10 requires that the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" be signed by the person actually mailing the paper or fee; i.e., the person who actually deposits the paper or fee with the U.S. Postal Service. The PTO has encountered some instances in which the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" was signed by an attorney and the deposit was made by the attorney's secretary or another member of the attorney's staff. This is improper under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10. This section differs in that regard from 37 CFR 1.8.

F. Information to be Included on Papers Filed in Pending Applications

The Patent Examining Corps is currently in the midst of a workload balancing program among the Examining Groups. To facilitate prompt matching of incoming papers with applications it would be most helpful if the following information appears at the top of all papers filed in pending applications:

1. Serial Number (checked for accuracy)
2. Group Art Unit Number (from the most recent paper received from a Group Art Unit, or from the filing receipt if no paper has been received from a Group Art Unit)
3. Name of the Examiner (who prepared the most recent Office Action)
4. Title of the Invention
5. Filing Date (of the application)
6. Inventor's Name

G. Mailing Responses to the PTO

In general, it would eliminate or greatly reduce processing steps by the PTO support staff, and will avoid interruption of the examiner's work, if a few simple, general rules were followed in regard to mailing of the responses to the PTO.

1. After a patent or trademark application is filed, please avoid filing additional papers (other than those requesting a filing receipt or those required by the Office) until the filing receipt or return post card identifying the Serial Number and Patent Examining Group Art Unit or Trademark Law Office has been received.
2. In patent applications, requests for extensions of time, changes of address, proposed drawing corrections, and petitions are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response." In trademark applications, change of address and powers of attorney are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response". Please present such items in separate papers, appropriately titled, since they are all handled by different personnel (37 CFR 1.4(c)). However, please include a statement in the amendment/response describing the paper being filed.
3. Where a supplemental or preliminary amendment is found necessary in patent or trademark applications, please telephone the examiner and request that the examiner delay action for a certain time in order to avoid crossing in the mails of the amendment and the Office action.
4. File patent and trademark documents which have no particular time or sequence requirement with materials submitted in response to the statutory or regulatory requirements. Examples are certified copies of foreign documents to support priority and formal drawings in patent applications or changes of Power of Attorney or Mailing Address following first action.
5. If a disclosure statement is to be filed before an Office action, file it when the application is filed. Some Group Art Units have greatly reduced the pendency to first action. Hence, many examiners are taking up new applications before an information statement is matched with the application.
6. Assignment documents should be filed with accompanying transmittal letters bearing current return addresses to assure prompt processing.
7. Letter and coupon orders for patent copies must contain the requester's name and current mailing address so that the order can be filled.

H. PTO Special Mail Boxes

Special mail box numbers have been established to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded directly to the appropriate area without being opened. Therefore, if any documents other than the specified type identified for each box are addressed to that box, they will be delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they were intended.

The following special boxes should be used only for their specified purpose. Address mail as follows:

Box_____
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Box 4 — Mail for the Office of Legislation and International Affairs.
Box 5 — "No fee" mail related to trademarks.
Box 7 — Reissue applications for patents involved in litigation and any subsequently filed papers for these applications.
Box 8 — All papers for the Office of the Solicitor.
Box 9 — Coupon orders for U.S. patent and trademark copies.
Box 10 — Orders for certified copies of patent and trademark applications.
Box 12 — Contributions to the Examiner Education Program.
Box AF — Amendments or Correspondence after Final Rejection of patent applications.
Box Interference — Communications relating to interference and applica tions and patents involved in interference.

Box M. Fee — Correspondence related to a patent that is subject to the payment of a maintenance fee.

Box Pat. Ext. — Applications for patent term extension.

Box PCT — Mail related to applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty

Box Reexam — Mail related to reexamination applications.

I. Reissue Amendments

In order to avoid unnecessary delays in the issuance of reissue applications, applicants and their attorneys are reminded to exercise caution and give sufficient attention to 37 CFR 1.121(a) and (e) in presenting reissue amendments to the PTO. The practices and procedures vary somewhat from regular utility application amendments, and this frequently causes clerical problems and editorial revisions.

MPEP Sec. 1455 provides guidance for proper entry of amendments and claim numbering. Publication of the reissue application(s) may be needlessly postponed while formal irregularities are corrected.

J. Reissue Oaths and/or Declarations

Since standard oath and declaration forms are not used in reissue applications, applicants are commonly neglecting to include averments required by 37 CFR 1.63 per 37 CFR 1.175(a). The most frequent omissions involve the "duty of disclosure" acknowledgment, and the "reviewed and understands" statement. Such omissions usually necessitate additional handling and correspondence, and cause undue time delays, which result in postponement of publication of the reissue patent.

A frequent problem in reissue practice is the failure of applicants to satisfactorily comply with 37 CFR 1.175 regarding the description of all errors of the original patent in the reissue oath or declaration. Applicants are required to specify errors in the original reissue oath or declaration at the time of filing the reissue application. They must also specify, in a supplemental oath or declaration, any errors brought to their attention during the prosecution, as well as the circumstances surrounding the occurrence or discovery of these errors. Every departure from the original patent represents an "error" and must be particularly and distinctly specified and supported in the original, or a supplemental, reissue oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.175. See MPEP Sec. 1414 and 1444. Postponement of publication of the reissue patent may result if these requirements are not met at the time of allowance.

K. Response to Final Rejection — Avoiding Extension Fees

In regular applications wherein a three (3) month Shortened Statutory Period (SSP) is set for response to a Final Rejection, the response would best be filed within two (2) months of the date of the Office Action. If filed within two (2) months, any Advisory Action mailed after the SSP expires will reset the SSP to expire on the date of the Advisory Action for extension fee purposes, but never more than six (6) months from the date of the Final Rejection.

L. Response to Final Rejection — Expediting Processing and Reply by PTO

In order to ensure the quickest reply to an amendment or response after Final Rejection the paper should be marked in the upper right portion:

"RESPONSE UNDER 37 CFR 1.116
EXPEDITED PROCEDURE
EXAMINING GROUP (Insert Group Number)";

and the envelope should be marked in the lower left corner:

"BOX AF"

The marking on the paper preferably should be written in, highlighted by, or encircled with, a bright color felt-point marker.

If the paper is being hand-carried to the Examining Group (instead of mailing to Box AF), the envelope also should be marked:

"RESPONSE UNDER 37 CFR 1.116
EXPEDITED PROCEDURE
EXAMINING GROUP (Insert Group Number)"

M. Return Post Card

If a receipt for any paper filed in the Patent and Trademark Office is desired, it may be obtained by enclosing with the paper a self-addressed post card identifying the paper. The Patent and Trademark Office will stamp the receipt date on the card and place it in the outgoing mail.

The identifying data on the card should be so complete as to clearly identify the paper for which receipt is requested. For example, the card should identify the applicant's names(s), serial number, filing date, interference number, etc. Also, the paper(s) should be identified by specifying the type thereof, namely affidavit, amendment, appeal, itemized components of applications, brief, drawings, fees, motions, supplemental oath or declaration, petition, etc.

A post card receipt which itemizes and properly identifies the papers which are being filed serves as prima facie evidence of receipt in the PTO of all the items listed thereon on the date stamped thereon by the PTO unless the post card receipt has been annotated by the PTO to indicate that one or more items were not received. A post card receipt will not serve as prima facie evidence of receipt in the PTO if the papers are not itemized in a detailed manner, e.g., number of pages of specification and number of sheets of drawings, or if the post card receipt has been annotated to indicate that one or more items was not received.

When papers for more than one document are filed under a single cover, a return addressed post card should be attached to the paper for each document for which a receipt is desired.

N. Transmittal Letters

When statutory fees are to be charged to a deposit account, the processing of the application can be facilitated by submitting the applicant's transmittal letter or other correspondence specifying the account to be charged in triplicate. Submission of these documents in triplicate will eliminate the need for the Mail Room to photocopy the document and thereby reduce the processing time of incoming mail.

IV. ASSIGNMENTS

When requesting correction or updating of a previously recorded patent or trademark assignment document, providing the reel and frame number of that document to the Assignment Branch will greatly expedite the recording process.

To ensure the correct printing of ownership information on a Trademark Registration at issue date, provide the Trademark Office examining attorney with the reel and frame number of the appropriate assignment document as soon as you are notified of it.

V. CERTIFICATES OF CORRECTION

A. Accurate Requests

Many requests for "Certificates of Correction" result from a perfunctory comparison of the issued patent with the attorney's application file, without investigating whether the recitation in the issued patent is correct. In many instances, change to the PTO file wrapper has been caused by the examiner prior to printing of the patent in order to make appropriate corrections to the file.

VI. CERTIFICATION SERVICES

A. Certification Services

Expedited service requests for certification of copies that have been made by the requester shall be limited to those files open for public inspection. If there is such a need for expedited service, the request should be made to the Manager, Examination Services Division. All other requests for copies must be made to the Certification Branch, which will fill your request within 7 days or less.

B. Questions Frequently Asked

Q. What does "certified" mean?
A. Authentication of copies by ribbon and seal of the PTO with the signature of an officer authorized by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Q. What does an application consist of?
A. (1) Specification (2) Claims (3) Oath or Declaration (4) Drawings, when necessary, and (5) Filing Fee.

Q. What does a file wrapper and contents (file history) consist of?
A. The original application papers plus all correspondence between the applicant/attorney of record/assignee and the PTO.

Q. Why are certified copies of the application-as-filed required?
A. Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the U.S. and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in other countries must apply for a patent in that country by filing a certified copy of his or her U.S. application.

Q. What regulations govern the filing of a U.S. application in a foreign country?
A. There is a treaty relating to patents which involves 92 countries and is known as the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property. It provides that each country guarantees to the citizens of other countries the same patent rights that it gives to its own citizens.

Q. How does one request copies of an application-as-filed?
A. By submitting a written order identifying the application by serial number, filing date, name of inventor and title of invention to:

U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
Box 10
Washington, D.C. 20231

Q. Can anyone request a copy of a pending application?
A. No. Pending applications are preserved in secrecy. No information or copies may be obtained without written authority of the applicant, attorney of record, or the assignee, if any. Such written consent must accompany the request for copies.

Q. Can orders for copies be placed by phone?
A. No. All orders must be in writing.

Q. May office copies of my application be sent to the PTO for certification?
A. No. We do not certify copies prepared outside the PTO.

Q. Will the PTO mail certified copies ordered directly to a foreign country?
A. No. With respect to the exportation of technical data, the PTO discontinued the practice of forwarding direct to any foreign country certified copies of U.S. applications ordered by residents of the United States.

Q. Are cited references in a file automatically furnished when a file wrapper and contents is requested?
A. No. Cited references are not included as papers comprising the file history. References cited are furnished only if specifically requested.

Q. Can cited references, when requested, be certified with the file wrapper and contents under one certificate?
A. No. Each reference must be certified separately.

Q. Are there instances when references are included in a file wrapper and contents?
A. Yes. If the references are submitted as attachments to a response from the applicant and if such response is entered and made a part of the file.

Q. Exclusive of applications-as-filed and file wrappers and contents of patented files, what other types of copies may be obtained from the Certification Branch?
A. The following items may be obtained:

1. Certified copies of issued U.S. patents and designs.

VOL
074
ISS
JA
13
1987
UMI

2. Certified copies of foreign patents.
3. Certified copies of publications from the Scientific Library.
4. Certified copies of Office letters.
5. Certified duplicate filing receipts.
6. Certified copies of an assignment and application-as-filed, under one certificate.
7. Copies of disclosure documents.
8. Copies of the following files:
   a. Defensive publication files.
   b. Reexamination files.
   c. Interference files.
   d. Trademark files.
   e. Opposition files.
   f. Concurrent use proceedings files.
   g. Statutory Invention Request.
   h. Certified copies of assignment documents.
   i. Abstract of title.

Q. What is required to have a file reconstructed?
A. Submit a written request along with a notice from the PTO Official Search unit stating that the file cannot be located.

Q. What procedures are used to reconstruct a file?
A. The Certification Branch requests the loan of a copy from the attorney of record, assignee or applicant.

Q. How long does it take to reconstruct a file?
A. The time is dependent upon the receipt of the copy from the attorney. Normally it takes about two months.

VII. DRAWINGS

A. Application File Drawings

Application Branch personnel are having some difficulty matching drawings with applications during pre-examination processing. It would be helpful if the applicant's name, docket number, and the title of the invention were put on the back of the drawings. This may be done by writing lightly on the drawings or by using gum labels.

When the Office receives formal or substitute drawings, a cover letter identifying the application by serial number should accompany them. It is extremely difficult to associate the drawings with the files when this information is missing. The application serial number should be placed on the sheet of drawing in accordance with 37 CFR 1.84(l).

According to 37 CFR 1.84(l), identifying indicia (such as the attorney's docket number, inventor's name, number of sheets, etc.) not to exceed 2¼ inches may be placed in a centered location between the side edges within three-fourths inch of the top edge. Either this marking technique on the front of the drawing or the placement of this information on the back of the drawing is acceptable. However, for identification of the serial number, the PTO prefers that it be placed on the front.

B. Submission of Corrected Drawings in Allowed Patent Applications

When drawings need to be corrected in an allowed application, the applicant is required to submit acceptable corrected drawings within a three-month shortened statutory period. Within that three-month period, two weeks should be allowed for review of the correction by the Office. If a correction is determined to be unacceptable by the Office, the applicant must arrange to have an acceptable correction re-submitted within the original three-month period to avoid the necessity of obtaining an extension of time and of paying the extension fee. Therefore, the applicant should file corrected drawings as soon as possible following the setting of the three-month shortened statutory period.

C. Submission of Drawings

For your convenience and for more effective handling of any drawing corrections which may be necessary, please DO NOT SUBMIT ORIGINAL DRAWINGS WITH PATENT APPLICATIONS. DO SUBMIT THREE HIGH QUALITY COPIES. If the copies submitted pass the formality review and patent examination, no substitute drawings will be necessary. If corrections are necessary, they should be made to the original drawings. Either a good copy of the corrected drawings or the corrected original can then be submitted after the Notice of Allowability is mailed.

VIII. EXTENSIONS OF TIME

A. Extension of Time Fees in Patent Cases

Many requests for extension of time are being filed with insufficient fees. In the overwhelming majority of these cases the deficiency is due to the fact that an old fee schedule has been used.

In those instances where there is no authorization to charge an account, additional fees are necessary to cover the additional time consumed in making up the original deficiency. If the maximum six-month period has expired before the deficiency is noted and corrected, the application is held abandoned. In those instances where authorization to charge is included, processing delays are encountered in returning the papers to the PTO Finance Branch in order to apply these charges prior to action on the cases.

Please note that effective Oct. 5, 1985, the extension fees in patent cases are as follows:

	Small Entity	Non-small Entity
One Month Extension	$28	$56
Two Month Extension	85	170
Three Month Extension	195	390
Four Month Extension	305	610

B. Extensions of Time for Patent Applications

An extension of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) is not permitted in the following instances:

1. Where an applicant is so notified in an Office action as, for example, in a Reissue application involving a litigated patent.
2. Where the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to 37 CFR 1.207. See 37 CFR 1.245 for provisions governing extensions of time in interference proceedings.
3. In reexamination proceedings. See 37 CFR 1.550(c) for extensions of time in reexamination proceedings.
4. In PCT international applications. In PCT applications, the only extensions permitted are for corrections of PCT Article 14 defects in international applications before the Receiving Office.

C. Extensions of Time in Patent Cases (Supplemental Amendments)

If a timely and complete response has been filed after a Non-Final Office Action, an extension of time is not required to permit filing and/or entry of an additional amendment after expiration of the shortened statutory period.

If a timely response has been filed after a Final Office Action, an extension of time is required to permit filing and/or entry of a Notice of Appeal or filing and/or entry of an additional amendment after expiration of the shortened statutory period unless the timely-filed response placed the application in condition for allowance. Of course, if a Notice of Appeal has been filed within the shortened statutory period, the period has ceased to run.

D. Extension of Time Policy

Where an extension of time is required to file a response in a timely manner, the response is not considered complete until the response, fee, and request or petition for an extension of time are received. The fee and request or petition must be filed before the expiration of the extended period requested. The fee cannot be paid outside the statutory six-month limit for the period of response.

The extension of time policy for after final practice is set forth in MPEP §§706.07(f) and 1302.04. In essence, where applicants' approval is not needed to amend the claims, no extension of time is required. However, if applicants' approval is required and applicants did not file their response within two months of the FINAL REJECTION, the appropriate extension of time must be purchased.

If applicants have a deposit account, it is recommended that applicants file, in an individual application, a general authorization to charge any of the fees set forth in 37 CFR §§ 1.16 to 1.18 to a deposit account for the entire pendency of the application (1032 OG 32).

Also, it should be noted that extensions of time may be purchased for extending the time required to pay for the request for an oral hearing before the Board of Appeals. MPEP §1209(I). The time for a request and fee for an oral hearing is one month from the date of the Examiner's Answer or any supplemental Examiner's Answer.

E. Extensions of Time in Patent Cases

Submission of the appropriate extension fee under 37 CFR 1.136(a) is to no avail unless a request or petition for extension is filed. Frequently, the request is omitted, which then requires an additional extension fee to cover the period to the date of the request. Occasionally, the application is held abandoned because the six month maximum statutory period has expired before detection of the omission of the request for extension. It is critical that a paper specifically requesting the extension be filed with late responses. It is also wise to use the Certificate of Mailing practice when requesting extensions.

Extensions of time by fee payment under 37 CFR 1.136(a) are appropriate for filing of the Brief on Appeal in regular applications. No more than four months may be granted under 37 CFR 1.136(a). Beyond those four months, any further request must show sufficient cause under 37 CFR 1.136(b), and no additional extension fee is appropriate.

An extension of time is not required in order to hold an interview with the examiner. However, an extension is required for the purpose of filing a follow-up amendment by applicant and/or for the entry of an Examiner's Amendment requiring approval of the applicant.

Extensions of time are appropriate for the purpose of achieving continuity between parent and continuing applications. A separate paper requesting the extension of time must be filed in the parent application. It would be useful to file a copy of that request or petition with the papers constituting the filing of the continuing application.

IX. MAINTENANCE FEES

A. Fee Address and Payer Number

Effective Nov. 1, 1984, 37 CFR 1.363 provides for a "fee address" to be entered in the Office patent file records for use in all correspondence relating to maintenance fees. The fee address is in addition to the "correspondence address" under 37 CFR 1.33 which will continue to be used for all reexamination and interference purposes. If no separate fee address is specified, the correspondence address will also be used for maintenance fee correspondence.

In order to simplify changes in address by patent owners having several patents, and data input by the Patent and Trademark Office, a "payer number" will be assigned to each fee address when a fee address is presented to the Office in a patent or earlier upon request. A request for a payer number before a maintenance fee is paid or due will permit a patent owner to request that the fee address and payer number be recorded in the Office records of the patents owned on which maintenance fees are due so that all notices relating to maintenance fees will be sent to the fee address.

The Patent and Trademark Office has established a procedure for assigning a payer number upon request by a patent owner or a party responsible for paying maintenance fees. Such a party may be, for example, the finance office of a corporation or of a separate organization specializing in maintenance fee payments. Under the procedure, a patent owner or other party may request a payer number for a particular fee address by writing to:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Box M. Fee
Washington, D.C. 20231

Each request for a payer number should include:
— the fee address to be used by the Office, and
— the telephone number of the fee addressee to be used to resolve problems.

After receipt of a payer number, it may be used to indicate to the Patent and Trademark Office the fee address to be used in particular patents on which maintenance fees will become due and in applications in which issue fees have been or are being paid. Any request for entry of a payer number or fee address in the Office records of a patent, however, must be signed by the patent owner or his or her attorney or agent of record.

After a payer number has been assigned, it should be used in all future maintenance fee payments and related correspondence. However, where a payer number has not been previously entered in the Office records for a particular patent, the mere indication of a payer number at the time of payment of the maintenance fee, without the signature of the patent owner or the owner's attorney or agent of record, will not serve to make the payer number of record in the Office for that patent.

The problems which most often arise in connection with attempts to establish a fee address in a particular patent or group of patents is that the request is being signed by an attorney who is not of record in each of the patents. This results in the request being entered only in part.

Also, when the request is signed by an owner of the patent, the records of the Assignment Branch do not always reflect such ownership. Where the assignment was recorded prior to Dec. 1980, it would help the Office if the PTO reel and frame number of the assignment recordation were presented in the paper requesting that a fee address be entered, and if the person signing the request would indicate his or her title.

Lastly, as fees are now being submitted for payment in patents that issued three or four years ago, if a fee address has not been established, please be sure that the current correspondence address has been made of record.

B. Maintenance Fee Transmittal Form Notice

Where maintenance fee payments are to be made by authorization to charge a deposit account, the Maintenance Fee Transmittal Form, should reflect both the Payor's Name and signature in the bottom left corner thereof.

X. NEW APPLICATIONS

A. Continuation or Divisional Application

When filing under Rule 1.60 retain at least one original claim from the parent application to assure a complete application. Only amendments reducing the number of claims or adding a reference to the prior application (Rule 1.78(a)) will be entered, upon request, before calculating the filing fee and granting the filing date. Reminder: Applicant cannot file a CIP (continuation-in-part) under Rule 1.60.

B. File Wrapper Continuation (FWC) Applications

Many continuation applications filed under 37 CFR 1.62 (FWC) contain no preliminary amendment to the claims which were finally rejected in the parent application. The result is a first action final rejection of these claims. Applicants should file any desired amendments at the time the application is filed under 37 CFR 1.62, since the Office is treating these applications as "Special" and an action on the merits will be rendered quite promptly.

C. File Wrapper Continuation

To expedite processing under Rule 1.62, make certain that the parent serial number cited in the transmittal letter is the correct serial number.

D. Information Cited on Form PTO–1449

The Public is encouraged to use Form PTO–1449, "Information Disclosure Citation," when preparing a statement under 37 CFR 1.97–1.99 (see MPEP §609). This form provides the Office with a uniform way of listing the citations and a vehicle from which the information thereon can be printed on the issued patent.

Recently, citations are being presented on various forms prepared by the public rather than on Form PTO–1449. As a result, delays are cropping up in the printing process. Because the printer has difficulty in following the various formats and is having to query the examiner each time a non-PTO–1449 form is used, you are encouraged to use the Form PTO–1449 with any submission under 37 CFR 1.97–1.99.

Note that listing citations on Form PTO–1449 does not raise an irrebuttable presumption that the citation is prior art. A holding by an examiner that any citation on Form PTO–1449 is prior art to claimed subject matter can be rebutted by procedures commonly used to rebut the prior art status of an examiner's citations on Form PTO–892, "Notice of References Cited".

Among the information that should be provided on Form PTO–1449 is the date of the citation. In addition, it is helpful if the class and subclass of each citation is provided. It is appreciated that classification information may not be known at the time Form PTO–1449 is prepared. When classification information is not known, draw a line in the boxes under the class and subclass heading adjacent to the citation for which classification information is not known.

E. New Application Filing Problems

Applications continue to be filed incorrectly under both 37 CFR 1.60 and 37 CFR 1.62. This causes problems not only for applicants but also for the Patent and Trademark Office. Filing dates are not granted to applications which do not comply with the rules. As a result, petitions with fees are required to be filed in such applications before a filing date will be granted.

Most often, the problems that arise in this area can be characterized as the following:

1. Applicants continue to fail to comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.60 with regard to what must be submitted upon filing under the rule. This is true even after the clarifying amendments (effective Apr. 1. 1984) were made to the rule. This problem was also addressed in the Official Gazette Notice of May 8, 1984 entitled "Filing of Patent Applications Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.60."
2. A true copy of the prior application must be filed including the specification (including claims), drawings, oath or declaration showing the applicant's signature or an indication it was signed, and any amendments referred to in the oath or declaration filed to complete the prior application.

3. Applicants are using transmittal forms which request filings under one rule when, in fact, they wish to file under another rule. For example, a transmittal form requesting filing under 37 CFR 1.62 may be filed when it was really desired to file a divisional application under 37 CFR 1.60 and not to abandon the parent application.

   Applications have also been filed with a transmittal form requesting filing under 37 CFR 1.60 when it was intended to file under 37 CFR 1.62. The confusion in the record of such applications must be clarified by a decision on petition before the applications can be processed for examination.
4. Some applicants fail to realize that the parent application is abandoned by the filing of a continuing application under 37 CFR 1.62. Paragraph (g) of 37 CFR 1.62 states:

   > "The filing of a request for a continuing application under this section will be considered to be a request to expressly abandon the prior application as of the filing date granted the continuing application."

   Correction after such a mistaken filing under 37 CFR 1.62 usually requires a revival of the parent application under 37 CFR 1.137(a) or (b) which expends resources of both the applicant and the PTO.
5. Some applicants are attempting to file continuing applications under 37 CFR 1.62 after payment of the issue fee in the parent application. Such applications are improper and are not entitled to a filing date. Additionally, such filings will not affect the prior application, i.e., the parent application may issue as a patent. Paragraph (a) of 37 CFR 1.62 specifies that continuing applications may be filed under 37 CFR 1.62 "before the payment of the issue fee, abandonment of, or termination of proceedings on the prior application".
6. Some applicants are attempting to file continuation-in-part applications under 37 CFR 1.62 with a new specification rather than with the changes made by amendment to the prior application. As stated in 37 CFR 1.62(a) filings under 37 CFR 1.62 use the specification of the prior application.

   Paragraph (c) of 37 CFR 1.62 also states:

   > "In the case of a continuation-in-part application which adds and claims additional disclosure by amendment, an oath or declaration as required by §1.63 must also be filed. . ." (emphasis added)

F. Patent Applications

We are trying to expedite and improve preliminary processing of patent applications. Please help by putting patent applications and associated papers (e.g., assignments) in separate envelopes apart from all other mail. Identify on the outside of the envelope "PATENT APPLICATION".

Petition for License

Rule 5.12 states that "filing of an application for patent for inventions made in the United States will be considered to include a petition for license under 35 U.S.C. 184 for the subject of the application. The filing receipt will indicate a license is granted". There is no need to request a corrected filing receipt deleting the words "License Granted". Its intent is to provide the necessary acknowledgement for those filing abroad.

G. NEW APPLICATIONS — Payment of Processing and Retention Fees

An application, which has become abandoned pursuant to 37 CFR 1.53(d) for failure to pay the filing fee, will be disposed of unless the processing and retention fee set forth in §1.21(l) is paid within the 1-year period referred to in §1.53(d). Moreover, the processing and retention fee must be timely paid in order to obtain certified copies of the application (e.g., for convention priority purposes) or to establish in a later filed application the filing date benefit of an earlier copending application under 35 USC 120 and 37 CFR 1.78(a)(3). Therefore, an application which has become abandoned for the reasons set forth above should be immediately reviewed in order to timely determine the advisability of submitting a processing and retention fee payment.

H. Surcharge for Filing a Patent Application

Filing dates are accorded to applications filed without the basic filing fee and without the oath or declaration. In such cases, a notice is mailed by Application Branch requiring at least the basic filing fee and the oath or declaration, accompanied by a surcharge (37 CFR 1.16(e)). In numerous instances, applicants fail to submit the surcharge causing the application to become abandoned. See 37 CFR 1.53(d) and MPEP §506.

XI. PATENT COPIES

A. Price of Patent Copies

The price of a patent copy increased from $1.00 to $1.50 on Oct. 5, 1985. The new $1.50 coupons are available, but we will accept the old ones and provide a $.50 coupon refund as appropriate.

XII. PETITIONS TO REVIVE

A. Petitions to Revive Abandoned Applications

Frequently, a petition to revive an abandoned application is accompanied by an unnecessary request and fee for extension of time. Our policy is set forth in MPEP 711.03(c). Specifically, a response does not require a request and fee for extension of time as a condition of revival.

Further, a petition to revive an abandoned application is often accompanied by an unnecessary terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer is required only when a grantable petition based on unavoidable delay is not filed within six months of the date of abandonment (37 CFR 1.137(a) and 1.137(c)). It follows that a terminal disclaimer should not accompany a petition based on unintentional abandonment (37 CFR 1.137(b)). In these respects, analogous reasoning applies to petitions to accept late payment of the issue fee under 37 CFR 1.155 or 1.316.

Finally, when a terminal disclaimer is a necessary component of the petition, the period to be disclaimed must equal the number of months between the date of abandonment and the date a grantable petition is filed. The date of abandonment is the date the period for response has expired (see MPEP 711.04(a)). This is normally the end of the three month shortened statutory period. Moreover, the terminal disclaimer should employ the format shown in Figure 1.

XIII. PUBLIC SEARCH ROOM

A. Loose Documents

When photocopies are made of patented files, patent applications and patents in the Public Search Room, we have noticed that papers from files and pages of patents have been left on the copying machines. In general, some documents are not returned to files and patents are not stapled and refiled in the bundles.

XIV. POWER TO INSPECT

A. Power of Attorney

The Office receives letters granting power to inspect patent applications. These may only be granted by the attorney of record or inventor. Sometimes the person signing the power is not authorized to do so, causing delay until proper authorization is received. Copies of completed applications cannot be made during the pre-examination process. They can be inspected, but not pulled from the work flow to have copies made.

B. Withdrawal of Attorney

To expedite the handling of requests for permission to withdraw as attorney under 37 CFR §1.36, submit the request in triplicate (original and two copies) and indicate thereon the present mailing addresses of the attorney who is withdrawing and of the applicant. The examining group number should also appear on all such requests. Because the Office does not recognize law firms, each attorney of record must sign the notice of withdrawal, or the notice of withdrawal must contain a clear indication of one attorney signing on behalf of another.

A request to withdraw is effective when approved rather than when received. This is particularly important when such requests are submitted toward the end of the period for response. There should be at least thirty days between approval of withdrawal and the expiration date of a time response period so that the applicant will have sufficient time to obtain other representation or take other action. If less than thirty days remains in a running response period, a request to withdraw is normally disapproved.

It would be helpful if a request and fee, preferably an authorization to charge a deposit account, were included with a request to withdraw. Such would permit the Office to make sure, in most instances, that sufficient time remains in the period for response.

XV. SMALL ENTITY STATUS

A. Small Entity Statements

Verified statements claiming small entity status, where appropriate, would best be signed and submitted at the time the application oath or declaration is signed to permit filing of the statement with the application. This would reduce correspondence between attorney and client, reduce paper handling by the PTO support staff and the PTO Finance Branch, and greatly simplify the processing of subsequent papers involving fees. If small entity status is being claimed for the first time at the time of payment of the issue fee, a verified statement claiming small entity status should be submitted with the fee. See MPEP §509.03.

XVI. TRADEMARKS

A. Application Drawings

To avoid delays in processing new trademark applications, the drawing should have the following information in the upper left hand corner.

1. Drawing title.
2. Applicant's name and address.
3. First use date.
4. First use in interstate commerce date.
5. Goods, services or both.

B. Archive Room

The Trademark Archive Room contains a number of trademark records that were previouly stored in the Trademark Search Library. The Archive Room is located in Crystal Plz. 2, Rm. 3C24. Records contained in this room include:

1. Bound volumes of registrations in registration number order.
2. Bound volumes of the Trademark Official Gazette.
3. Adversary Proceedings Index (on cards and on microfilm) by Plaintiff's Name, Plaintiff's Mark, Defendant's Name, and Defendant's Mark.
4. Pending Renewal Index.
5. Pending application receipts in serial number order.
6. Bound volumes of Registrant's Index from 1881 to 1978.
7. Bound volumes of Applicant's Index from 1980 to present.
8. Microfilm of trademark applications starting with serial number 244,754 to present.
9. Microfilm of canceled and expired trademarks.
10. Microfilm of abandoned applications in alphabetic order.
11. Microfilm of registrations in registration number order.
12. Microfilm of docket cards, old series, 1–467,235, 1970 only.
13. Microfilm of docket cards, new series, 1–427,900, 1971 to present.
14. Microfilm of marks published for opposition.
15. Microfilm of Applicant's Index, 1922–1962, 1963–1971, and 1972–1979.

C. File Histories

When requesting trademark file histories, the "status date" (i.e., date, abandoned) must be provided to fill the order if the file is abandoned. If not known, this information can be obtained from TRAM. The request will be returned unfilled if this date is not provided.

D. Trademark Search Library Photocopiers

Photocopiers and reader/printers in the Trademark Search Library are operated by "Copishare" cards. These cards can be purchased from the cashier in the Patent Public Search Room, Crystal Plz. 3, North Stack area.

TRADEMARK RULES PROPOSALS AND COMMENTS

(160) NOTICE

Following is a corrected version of the Final Rule for the Revision of Trademark Fees that was published in the Federal Register on Aug. 4, 1986 at page 28052. The notice to correct the effective date to Oct. 4, 1986 and make other typographical corrections was published in the Federal Register on Aug. 8, 1986.

Department of Commerce
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Parts 1 and 2
[Docket No. 60457–6119]
Revision of Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to adjust trademark fee amounts. This action is necessary at this time because trademark operating costs have increased over the past three and one-half years. The Commissioner is authorized by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), to establish fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark and for all other services and materials related to trademarks and other marks.
Effective Date: Oct. 4, 1986.
For Further Information Contact: Margaret M. Laurence, Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks by telephone at (703) 557–3061 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed primarily to adjust trademark fees because costs have increased and the Commissioner is authorized to adjust fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark and for all other processing, services or materials related to trademarks which have been established by the Commissioner in accordance with section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113).

Adjustments to fees for filing and processing a patent application and for other processing, services or materials related to patents were made by rules published in the Federal Register on Aug. 6, 1985, at 50 FR 31818, effective Oct. 5, 1985.

Adjustments to fees for filing and processing a trademark application and for other processing, services or materials related to trademarks were not proposed at that time, pending review of automation cost requirements. The Patent and Trademark Office's proposal for an integrated Automated Trademark System was included in the President's FY 1987 Budget and the Office's revised Automation Master Plan that were submitted to the Congress in February 1986.

Background Information: Trademark fees are authorized by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113). Section 31 grants the Commissioner the authority to establish trademark fees and the discretion to establish the level of Office costs to be recovered from trademark fees. The House Committee on the Judiciary, in House Report 97–542 accompanying H.R. 6260 that was enacted as Public Law 97–247, recommended a trademark fee schedule that was adopted by rule published in the Federal Register on Jul. 30, 1982 at 47 FR 33086, effective Oct. 1, 1982.

In House Report 97–542, the Committee stated that:

"...[it] is aware of the concerns of users of the Trademark registration system, however, and intends to exercise vigorous oversight with respect to the Commissioner to ensure that fees remain at a reasonable level and that trademark registrations are processed in an efficient and cost effective manner. As part of this oversight, the Committee recommends the following fee structure to the Commissioner for Fiscal Year 1983.

Type of Fee:	Proposed Fee
Application filing fee per class	$175
Renewal fee	300
Late renewal	100
Section 12(c) claim	100
New certificate	100
Certificate of correction	100
Disclaimer to registration	100
Amendment to registration	100
Per class combined section 8 and 15 affidavit	200
Per class section 8 affidavit alone	100
Per class section 15 affidavit alone	100
All petitions to Commissioner	100
Cancellation opposition per class	200
TTAB appeal	100
Certified copies	10
Copies of trademarks	1
Assignments	*

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) believes it is reasonable to use fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) during the previous three years to define the maximum aggregate revenue level that may be recovered from trademark fees for the three-year period 1986–1988. Fees would then be set to recover, in the aggregate, projected costs for the fee cycle, but under no circumstances would total revenues exceed the maximum revenue level that would be recovered if fees were adjusted by the CPI. This is consistent with the method mandated by Public Law 97–247 for adjusting patent fees.

The first step in the trademark fee adjustment process was to determine the maximum level of recovery for the three-year fee cycle. This was done by (1) multiplying present fees by projected workload for fiscal years 1986–1988, (2) totalling the results, and (3) applying the rate of fluctuation in the Consumer Price Index as determined by the Secretary of Labor.

The second step in the trademark fee adjustment process was to establish the total cost to be recovered from trademark fees for the three-year period 1986–1988. The total costs for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark and for all other processing, services or materials related to trademarks were determined. The Office followed (1) the general guidelines set forth in OMB Circular A-25 entitled "User Charges", that establishes general policies for developing an equitable and uniform system of charges for certain Government services and property, and (2) the guidelines for accounting and reimbursement for sharing of information technology facilities as set forth in Appendix II to OMB Circular No. A-130 entitled "Management of Federal Information Resources."

The Office used cost-finding techniques for determining the costs of all processing, services and/or materials associated with each trademark fee. Costs were determined from the best available records and included both direct and indirect costs. Costs were adjusted to reflect projected increases or decreases contained in the President's FY 1987 Budget. These cost figures were documented by the Director, Office of Finance and reviewed by each responsible Assistant Commissioner.

The total projected costs for the three-year period 1986–1988 are lower than the maximum level of recovery which would be allowed if fees were adjusted strictly according to changes in the CPI during the past three years. In its adjustment of Trademark fees, PTO is expected to recover the total projected costs in fiscal years 1987 and 1988 plus a contingency of two percent of the estimated fee income for fiscal years 1987–1988.

This rule continues to follow the suggested fee schedule contained in House Report 97–542, with the exception of increases to the fee for filing an application for registration and the fee for a printed copy of a registered mark. As a result of continuing to follow this suggested fee schedule, over the two-year period, some trademark fees would recover more than their actual estimated cost and some would recover less their actual estimated cost. Using the 1986–1988 workload projections, the total fee revenues generated by the adjusted fees for the three-year period, in the aggregate, would not exceed the total projected costs for trademarks for the same period, apart from the contingency.

It is intended that the amount of any fee due and payable on or after Oct. 4, 1986 is the amount set in this rulemaking. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing, where authorized under section 1.8 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, will be considered to be the date of receipt in the Office. A "Certificate of Mailing under section 1.8" is not "proper" for items which are specifically excluded from the provisions of section 1.8. Section 1.8 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, should be consulted for those items for which a Certificate of Mailing is not "proper." The provisions of section 1.10, relating to filing of papers and fees by "Express Mail" with certificate, however do apply to any paper or fee to be filed in the Office. If an application or fee is filed by "Express Mail" with a certificate of mailing dated Oct. 4, 1986, the amount of the fee to be paid is the fee established herein if a change is being made in the fee.

To ensure clarity in the implementation of the fee proposals, a discussion of specific sections is set forth below:

Discussion of Specific Changes

Section 1.24 Coupons

Section 1.24 is amended to adjust the fee for the purchase of coupons for trademarks to make it comparable to the proposed fee required for the purchase of a printed copy of a registered mark.

Section 2.6 Trademark fees

Section 2.6 is amended to adjust trademark fees established purusant to the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113) and set forth in paragraphs (a) and (n) of this section to more closely reflect the cost to the Office of such processing.

Section 2.6, paragraph (o) is amended to provide a $25 fee for the expedited handling of a request for a certified copy of a trademark record. Currently there is no procedure for such expedited handling, and the Office has received many requests that this service be provided.

Section 2.6, paragraph (q), is amended to clarify that the fee for recording documents applies to every paper which relates to the property in a registration or application. This is in accord with past and current Office policy.

Response to Comments on the Rules

Special comments were received on the proposed rule changes. Three letters submitting written comments were received. Oral testimony was presented by two people at the public hearing conducted on June 16, 1986. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. The comments submitted appear below along with responses thereto.

Comment:

The trademark fee increases of 1982 were accompanied by a committment that the Trademark Operation would be shielded from government-wide cuts aimed at reducing the deficit. The applicability of the fiscal year 1986 Gramm-Rudman-Hollings sequestration of trademark funds represents a failure of the Federal Government to live up to its side of the bargain. Until these funds are restored to the Trademark Operation and the Administration states that it will not again undermine this provision of law, any effort to increase trademark fees must be deferred.

Reply:

Public Law 97–247, enacted Aug. 27, 1982, did not provide that the Trademark Operations are exempt from government-wide cuts in expenditures aimed at reducing the federal deficit. The only restriction, imposed by section 3(g), is that the fees collected from trademark activities "shall be used exclusively for the processing of trademark registrations and for other services and materials related to trademarks." The PTO has fully complied with this requirement. Moreover, the Supreme Court has recently decided the constitutionality of Gramm-Rudman-Hollings (The Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, Public Law 99–177, enacted Dec. 12, 1985), holding that the reductions to the federal deficit must be accomplished via the enactment of a joint resolution of the Congress. See Bowsher v. Synar, Nos. 85–1377, 85–1378, and 85–1379 slip op. at 20 (Jul. 7, 1986). Consequently, any budget reductions made by the PTO that are mandated by such a joint resolution will be pursuant to law. Therefore, the PTO is not required to defer increases in trademark fees since the provisions of Public Law 97–247 do not shield the Trademark Operations from such budget cuts and any such cuts are made pursuant to subsequent law.

Comment:

The House of Representatives and the Senate have passed differing versions of H.R. 2434. Both versions prohibit the use of user fees for the search rooms and the House version prohibits user fees for automation. The PTO should withdraw the curent proposal, and publish a new proposal for public comment, if needed, after Congress passes the authorization bill.

Reply:

The PTO already is in compliance with the provision of the Senate and House authorization bills that prohibits use of fees to fund the search room. In fiscal year 1986, unobligated appropriate funds carried forward from fiscal year 1985 are being used to fund the paper Trademark Search Room. Appropriated funds for the Search Room were requested in the pending FY 1987 President's Budget.

Although the House version of H.R. 2434 prohbits the use of fee income for automation expenditures, it does not provide appropriated funds. The Senate version of H.R. 2434 does not prohibit the use of fee income for automation expenditures. Since there are significant differences between the House and Senate versions on this and other provisions, the PTO must wait for final action by both the Congress and the President.

In the meantime, the PTO will continue to operate in accordance with the 1986 Appropriations Act and the pending FY 1987 President's Budget, which fund Automation through user fees. If legislation is ultimately passed by the Congress and signed by the President that is contradictory to this plan, appropriate adjustments will be made. The suggestion to withdraw the current proposal, and to publish a new proposal for public comment, if needed, after Congress passes the authorization bill has not been adopted.

Comment:

It is important for the PTO to make available detailed information concerning activities that are not supported by appropriations since government operations which are supported by user fee income receive far less scrutiny from government authorities (cabinet level department officials, Office of Management and Budget, and appropriation committees in Congress) than operations which are supported by appropriations.

Reply:

The assertion that government operations supported by user fee income receive far less scrutiny from government authorities is not correct. Fee supported activities received the same amount of oversight as activities supported by appropriations. In Senate Report 99–305 accompanying bill H.R. 2434, the Committee on the Judiciary said that:

. . . Congress never envisioned that activities financed by user fees would be any more beyond the scrutiny of Congressional oversight than those activities that are paid for by appropriations. On the contrary, it is clear that the Office's authority to collect and spend user fee money does not remove these activities from Congressional oversight and control.

. . . Both the authority to raise general revenue and the authority to allow the Office to set fees rests with Congress. If Congress is to carry out the responsibilities attending both of these exercises of its power, it must carefully review the effectiveness and efficiency of all agency activities no matter how they are funded. While it may be proper to restrict the funding of certain activities to appropriations, such restrictions cannot be justified solely by reference to the need to increase oversight. That reasoning implies that Congress has less concern over how the agency spends user fee money. In the case of the Patent and Trademark Office, this would imply that most of the agency's activities are not subject to effective Congressional review, which, as pointed out above, is simply not true."

Specific examples of oversight include: (1) The budget process requires program levels to be fully justified regardless of funding sources; (2) the budget request is thoroughly analyzed and evaluated, without regard to revenue source, by the Department of Commerce, Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and the Appropriations Committees in the Congress; (3) fee revenues are appropriated annually by the Congress; (4) the use of fee money by the PTO is subject to the same OMB apportionment process as the use of appropriations; (5) Department of Treasury reports do not distinguish between funding sources; and (6) reprogramming (or redirection) of funds that vary from the enacted budget require Department and OMB approvals and Congressional notification, regardless of funding source.

In addition, since 1983 the PTO has routinely provided the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs with detailed reports which fully disclose the source and use of all trademark-related resources.

Comment:

It is contrary to existing law (Public Laws 96–517 and 97–247) to spend user fee income for the search rooms and automation.

Comment:

Despite representations that major capital expenses would be underwritten by General Fund revenues, not user fees, the PTO continues to rely on user fee income to finance its trademark automation project and the public search room.

Reply:

User fee income is not being spent on the paper Trademark Search Room in fiscal year 1986. The paper Trademark Search Room is being funded from unobligated appropriated funds carried forward from fiscal year 1985. For fiscal year 1987, the PTO has requested $322,000 in appropriated funds to maintain the paper Trademark Search Room. Reference page 41 of the PTO's 1987 Budget Submission to the Congress.

Public Law 96–517, although enacted into law, was never fully implemented because the Congress passed H.R. 6260 which was enacted as Public Law 97–247 on Aug. 22, 1982. The restrictions on the use of income from fee revenues, which were included in House Report 96–1307 accompanying Public Law 96–517, were based upon a 50 percent recovery of patent and trademark costs from user fees. Then-Commissioner Mossinghoff testified before the Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and Administration of Justice, when Congress was considering H.R. 6260, that the Administration's PTO user fee program was proposed to improve the quality of service at the PTO by reducing patent pendency, trademark pendency and automating patent and trademark operations. The Commissioner went on to say that: "The major increases in the three program areas will be paid for by the sharp increase in user fees that we are recommending." The Congressional debate on this proposal indicates that the Subcommittee approved these innovative fee provisions in order to improve the level of patent and trademark services provided to users of the office. Expenditure of funds since 1983 is believed to have met this goal.

Comment:

There is no reason why any fee increases have to be in effect by Oct. 1, 1986.

Reply:

While there is no legal compulsion for an Oct. 1, 1986 effective date for the fee increase, there are financial reasons for adjusting fees at that time. For every one-month of delay beyond Oct. 1, 1986, the Trademark Operation will receive about $135,000 less in fee revenues which will mean that the program contemplated for fiscal year 1987 will be affected. The PTO's budget is prepared annually for the period Oct. 1 through Sept. 30 and it is important that planned expenditures equal planned income.

Comment:

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking justifies the proposed fee increase on the ground that the amount of the increase is less than the increase that has occurred in the Consumer Price Index.

Reply:

The proposed fee increase is justified on the basis that costs have increased since Oct. 1982 when the present fee schedule was established, and the Commissioner is authorized by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113) to adjust fees.

On page 18290 of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking under Summary it is stated that: "This action [to adjust trademark fees] is necessary at this time because trademark operation costs have increased over the past three and one-half years." On the same page, third column, the methodology used to determine the costs associated with each trademark fee was described. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking then goes on to say that: "The total projected costs for the three-year period 1986–1988 are lower than the maximum level of recovery which would be allowed if fees were adjusted strictly according to changes in the CPI during the past three years." In other words, Trademark Operation costs for 1987–1988 are projected to be less than changes in the CPI during the past three years.

Comment:

PTO has failed to justify why the trademark fee increases are necessary. The PTO should make calculations and other relevant information pertaining to the proposed increases available to the public and the Congress.

Reply:

Because of the volume, it was not feasible for the PTO to publish the calculations and other relevant information upon which the proposed fee increases were based. As stated in the third column of page 18290 of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the Office followed OMB guidelines and the cost figures were documented by the Director, Office of Finance [a Certified Public Accountant] and reviewed by each responsible Assistant Commissioner. All of the backup documentation is available for review, upon request.

Comment:

If costs are reduced as they were through the forced reductions in the PTO's budget authority under the Deficit Reduction Act, the entire concept on which the PTO calculates its trademark fees must be reconsidered before further fee increases can be reasonably considered.

Reply:

The 1987 Federal budget submitted by the President to the Congress meets the 1987 deficit reduction goal established by the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. Therefore, there is no basis for the PTO to assume alternative funding levels in 1987. The suggestion that the trademark unit cost calculations be reconsidered before further fee increases has not been adopted.

Comment:

In the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the PTO requested comments on the methodology it employed in calculating the need for a fee increase. It is impossible to comment on the process itself in the absence of more detailed information.

Reply:

The PTO did not request comments on the methodology it employed in calculating the need for a fee increase. On page 18291 of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, first column, it states that: "In its adjustment of Trademark fees, PTO seeks to recover total projected costs in FY 1987 and FY 1988 and to provide for a contingency of two percent of the estimated fee income for fiscal years 1987–1988. PTO seeks comments on this approach." No comments were received on the planned contingency. This fact notwithstanding, the PTO has adopted this approach as part of its excess fee policy.

Comment:

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking does not explain what expenses of the Office will be paid with trademark fees. In particular, the notice does not explain what items are included in "indirect costs."

Reply:

The Commissioner has the authority to establish trademark fees and the discretion to establish the level of Office costs to be recovered from trademark fees. Since fiscal year 1983, the PTO has recovered 100 percent of the costs related to trademark processing, both direct and indirect. Direct costs are those represented by the Trademark budget activity (page 29 of the PTO's 1987 Budget Submission to the Congress): Trademark examination (including contractual costs for T-Search), the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, and Trademark printing. Indirect costs are costs incurred by other offices in the PTO which carry out trademark activities: Customer Services (providing trademark copies to examining attorneys, processing certificates of correction and assignments, etc.), Publications (administration of the contract to print the Trademark Official Gazette), Management Planning (collecting and processing trademark fees), Administrative Services (mail processing, files repository, etc.) and Automation (TRAM operations, ATS implementation and operations, etc.). No trademark fees are used to fund the Office of the Commissioner, the Office of Legislation and International Affairs, the Office of the Solicitor, staff in the immediate Office of the Automation Administrator, or any other PTO function that is not directly related to trademark processing.

Comment:

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking does not explain how the Office's revised automation plans have affected the need for fee increases.

Reply:

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, second column, page 18290 states that: "The Patent and Trademark Office's proposal for an integrated Automated Trademark System was included in the President's FY 1987 Budget and the Office's revised Automation Master Plan that were submitted to the Congress in Feb. 1986." The PTO's 1987 Budget Submission to the Congress, page 32 states that: "The PTO requests a net increase of $901,000 to fund an automation initiative providing further improvements in the capabilities, performance, availability, and efficiency of the existing systems through enhancements for an integrated ATS (Automated Trademark System). . . . The full cost of the increase has been partially offset by a decrease of $624,000 for the T-Search contract. ATS will provide automated support to all Trademark operations currently supported by TRAM and T-Search."

In addition to Automation, other increases, such as four new positions for the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, have caused costs to increase thereby necessitating the fee increase.

Comment:

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking contains no discussion of the policy of the House Judiciary Committee in 1982 of keeping the filing fee relatively low and recovering more than the actual cost for other trademark services or materials. Was this consideration taken into account in establishing the proposed fees?

Reply:

The suggestion of the House Committee on the Judiciary that the filing fee be kept as low as possible to foster use of the Federal registration system was the basis for the proposed fee adjustments. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, first column, page 18290, quoted the text of House Report 97–542 which suggested that the Commissioner ensure that fees remain at a reasonable level. Included in the quote was the House Committee's recommended fee schedule that was adopted by rule published in the Federal Register on July 30, 1982.

Further, on page 18291, first column, it is stated that: "This proposed rulemaking would continue to follow the suggested fee schedule contained in House Report 97–542, with the exception of proposed increases to the fee for filing an application for registration and the fee for a printed copy of a registered mark. As a result of continuing to follow this suggested fee schedule, over the two-year period, some trademark fees would recover more than their actual estimated cost and some would recover less than their actual estimated cost."

Comment:

The proposed increase of $25.00 for filing an application is against the concept of keeping the filing fee relatively low and recovering more than actual cost for other trademark services or materials.

Reply:

The projected cost for filing an application for fiscal years 1987–1988 is $242.84 per application, per class. The Office has set the application fee at $200.00 or 21.4 percent below cost. At that reduced level, the Trademark Operation will lose almost $6 million over the two-year period which must be made up from other Trademark fees. The Trademark Operation is also losing revenues on other fees directly related to the Federal registration of a trademark, i.e., fees for filing oppositions, appeals, and petitions. Combined with the application fee shortfall, the total loss over the two-year period will be almost $10 million. On the other hand, fees from renewals, Section 8 and 15 affidavits, and assignments are expected to generate excess revenues of about $9 million. This excess, plus another $1 million generated from some other trademark fees will equal the shortfall caused by the reduced fees for processing applications, oppositions, appeals and petitions.

Comment:

The PTO should explain why it charges $100 for a trademark assignment and only $7.00 for a patent assignment. The cost to the government of recording a trademark assignment could not even come close to the $100 fee being charged.

Reply:

The PTO charges more than the actual cost to record trademark assignments in order to subsidize the other areas of the Trademark Operation, specifically the processing of applications. This is in accordance with the fee structure suggested by the House Committee on the Judiciary in House Report 97–542 which accompanied the bill which was enacted as Public Law 97–247. This policy was also recommended by various bar groups, including the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs.

Comment:

Trademark fees are becoming increasingly onerous, particularly on small businesses which must often select less than the total number of classes to which they are entitled to file, for economic reasons. The filing fee for a trademark application already exceeds that for a small entity filing a patent application.

Reply:

As reported on page 18291 of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the proposed rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because the increase is modest in comparison with the 400 percent increase in the application fee in Oct. 1982, and the increase then had no noticeable impact. While the Office has no way of ascertaining which applications are filed by small businesses, a review of the number of applications filed by individuals and partnerships during the years 1980–1982 prior to the 400 percent increase and the years 1983–1985 after the fee increase showed an increase, rather than a decrease, in the number of filings by individuals. This is confirmed by the total figures on filing which indicate that fees have not deterred applicants. The annual number of application classes filed for prior to the fee increase was 50,672, 52,149 and 55,152 in fiscal years 1979, 1980 and 1981, respectively. There was a dump of cases in Sept. 1982 to avoid the Oct. 1, 1982 fee increase, which distorts the filing data for fiscal years 1982 and 1983. However, filings have continued to increase at over five percent a year in 1984 and 1985 (61,480 and 64,677, respectively). Latest projections for 1986 indicate we will be receiving almost 68,800 applications, or 6.3 percent more than 1985.

Comment:

Trademark fee income has been diverted to non-trademark activities.

Reply:

No trademark fee income is used for any purpose other than trademark-related activities.

Comment:

The PTO has vastly underestimated and understated the number of requests it receives for trademark copies and, as a consequence, Trademarks is not receiving appropriate credit for the income this service generates.

Reply:

It is beyond the control of the PTO if a user buys a coupon for a patent copy and then uses it to pay for a trademak copy. To comply with the provisions of Public Law 97–247 that trademark fee income be used only for trademark-related activities, the Office of Finance has been crediting the Trademark account with revenues that equate to the number of trademark copies actually sold each month by the copy fulfillment contractor. The same accounting adjustment is being used for copies made on the vendor-operated copy machines.

Comment:

The notice does not explain the 50 percent increase in the cost of printed copies of registered marks.

Reply:

The cost of providing one trademark copy is $1.95 based on projected costs for fiscal years 1987 and 1988. These costs include $43,100 for personnel compensation and benefits, $53,200 for contractor costs, $25,300 for services, supplies and depreciation of capital equipment, and $24,500 for general and administrative expenses. Assuming 74,900 trademark copies will be sold over the two-year period, the unit cost if $1.95. The PTO proposed to increase the fee for a trademark copy by $.50 to $1.50 to more closely reflect the cost of providing a trademark copy, and to make it comparable to the fee for a patent copy for ease of administration.

Comment:

How is the $25.00 fee for expedited handling of certification requests justified?

Reply:

The Office followed OMB Circular A–25 Guidelines on "User Charges" to determine the projected direct and indirect costs for expedited handling of certification requests. Circular A–25 provides that a reasonable charge should be imposed to recover the full cost to the Government of rendering a service to an identifiable recipient.

The Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks has estimated that about 1,000 requests for expedited certification would be received each year. This estimate is based on the number of public inquiries presently received for special handling for certifications.

Assuming about 2,000 requests for expedited certification will be received during the two year period 1987–1988, it is estimated that the costs would be $49,248, or $25.00 per unit rounded to the nearest dollar. The costs include $40,982 for personnel compensation and benefits for 2.1 staff years of effort, and $8,266 for general and administrative expenses (20.17 percent of direct costs).

The PTO intends to issue guidelines regarding the expedited service procedures prior to Oct. 1, 1986. Requests delivered to the Trademark Services Division before noon will be available for pick-up or mailing no more than three working days thereafter.

Comment:

The Senate version of H.R. 2434 would require the PTO to report annually several items of statistical information concerning the Office's fee collections and expenses; i.e., a list of patent and trademark fee collections, and lists of the activities of the Office supported by patent fees, trademark fees and appropriations. This type of information should be made available to the public before any fees are increased.

Reply:

The PTO is already providing lists of patent and trademark fee collections in Table 4 of the Commissioner's Annual Report. The report is sent to the Congress and is available for public dissemination. Since 1983, the PTO has periodically provided detailed information to the Public Advisory Committee on Trademark Operations which includes a list of PTO activities supported by trademark fees. Upon enactment of an authorization bill, the PTO will comply with the requirements of both the legislation and the accompanying report.

Comment:

The PTO should expand the information contained in the Congressional budget under Fee Functions to show the amount of trademark and patent fee income dollars and the amount of appropriated dollars that are being used to support each item in its budget.

Reply:

The Congressional Budget is prepared in the format requested by the House and Senate Appropriations Subcommittees. As indicated above, the PTO will comply with any additional reporting requirements that may be included in enacted authorizing legislation.

With regard to trademark user fees, since 1983 the PTO has routinely provided the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs with detailed reports which fully disclose the source and use of all Trademark-related resources. The reports include resources (e.g., unobligated resources, balances carried forward from prior years, excess fees from prior years, and current-year's fees); expenditures for direct trademark activities (examination, T-Search, Trademarks Trial and Appeal Board, and printing), and indirect trademark activities (Customer Services, Publications, Management Planning, Administrative Services, and Automation); and backup documentation as requested. The PTO has regularly modified its reporting formats to accommodate the needs of the user community and is presently working with the Advisory Committee to develop a "business-type" financial report.

Comment:

The PTO should adopt a policy of giving the public a minimum of 60 days to comment after every rule change proposal is published in the Federal Register.

Reply:

The Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 551 et. seq.) requires that the public be given the right to participate in the rulemaking process by commenting on proposed rules. The PTO makes every attempt to provide between 45 and 60 days but no less than 30 days for public comment. The public comment period is dependent on internal and external review requirements and effective date constraints.

Other Considerations: The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Public Law 96–354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to trademark fee rules.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Public Law 96–354). Although these rules increase the trademark fees, the cost of Federal registration of a trademark is a small part of the cost of doing business. Furthermore, the incremental change is modest in comparison with the increase in the application fee in Oct. 1982, and the increase then had no noticeable impact. Office records show no decline in the number of applications filed by individuals and partnerships after the Oct. 1982 fee increases, and the rules maintain the present fee schedule for the most part, and limit the increase in the filing fee to the minimum amount possible.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1 and 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations (government agencies), Conflict of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Trademarks.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, 15 U.S.C. 1113 and 1123, and Public Law 97–247, the Patent and Trademark Office is amending title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth.

PART 1 — RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

   Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.24 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§1.24 Coupons

Coupons in denominations of one dollar and fifty cents for the purchase of patents, designs, defensive publications, statutory invention registrations, and trademark registrations are sold by the Patent and Trademark Office for the convenience of the general public; these coupons may not be used for any other purpose. The one dollar and fifty cent coupons are sold individually and in books of 50 with stubs for record for $75. These coupons are good until used; they may be transferred but cannot be redeemed.

PART 2 — RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 would be revised to read as follows:

   Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 25, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 2.6 is amended by republishing the introductory text and revising paragraphs (a), (n), (o) and (q) to read as follows:

§2.6 Trademark fees.

The following fees and charges are established by the Patent and Trademark office for trademark cases:

(a) For filing and application, per class	$200.00
(n) For printed copy of registered mark Copy only	$1.50
(o) For certifying trademark records, per certificate	$3.50
For expedited handling of such certification, per record requested	$25.00
(q) For recording trademark assignments and agreements or other papers relating to the property in a registration or application, per document	$100.00

Department of Commerce
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 2
[Docket No. 40557–6118]
Miscellaneous Amendments of Trademark Rules

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in trademark cases to correct two cross-references and a spelling error; to bring §§2.104 and 2.112(a) into conformity with sections 13 and 14 of the Trademark Act; to make §2.114(c), which relates to the withdrawal of a petition for cancellation, consistent with corresponding §2.106(c), which relates to the withdrawal of an opposition; and to specify that the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board may, in its discretion, grant a §2.132(a) motion even if the motion was filed after the opening of the testimony period of the moving party.
Effective Date: Sept. 10, 1986.
For Further Information Contact: Miss Janet E. Rice by telephone at (703) 557–3551 or by mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Attention: Miss Janet E. Rice, Crystal Square 5, Suite 1008, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Amendments to §§2.1, 2.101, 2.104, 2.112, 2.114, 2.132, and 2.145 were proposed in a rulemaking notice published in the Federal Register on June 11, 1984 at 49 FR 24033 and in the Official Gazette of July 3, 1984 at 1044 O.G. 2. Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before July 18, 1984. Written comments were submitted by one individual and one organization.

The purpose of these amendments is to make three "housekeeping" corrections; to bring the language of two rules into conformity with the corresponding provisions of the Trademark Act of 1946; and to modify a particular practice.

Several of the rules of practice in trademark cases were amended, effective Feb. 27, 1983, by a final rule notice published in the Federal Register on Jan. 28, 1983 at 48 FR 3972 and in the Official Gazette of Feb. 22, 1983 at 1027 O.G. 129. A substantial number of other rules of practice in trademark cases were amended, effective June 22, 1983, by final rule notice published in the Federal Register on May 23, 1983 at 48 FR 23122 and in the Official Gazette of June 21, 1983 at 1031 O.G. 13. As a result of these rule amendments, three further rule amendments of a "housekeeping" nature are now necessary. First, because the rule amendments included changes in some section numbers and in the location of some provisions, the cross-reference portion of §§2.1 and 2.145(d)(1) are being corrected. Second, §2.101(b), as amended effective Feb. 27, 1983, contains a spelling error which is being corrected. Third, §2.114(c), which relates to the withdrawal of a petition for cancellation, is being amended so that it will be consistent with §2.106(c), as amended effective June 22, 1983, which relates to the withdrawal of an opposition.

Additionally, §2.104 (which lists the content requirements for an opposition) and §2.112(a) (which lists the content requirements for a petition for cancellation) are being amended to bring them into conformity with sections 13 and 14 of the Trademark Act. These amendments are being made as a result of a comment contained in the recent case of Selva & Sons, Inc. v. Nina Footwear, Inc., 705 F.2d 1316, 217 USPQ 641 (Fed. Cir. 1983). The comment, which appears in footnote 6 at page 648, reads as follows:

> 37 CFR 2.112 commands that a petition for cancellation "set forth a short and plain statement showing how the petitioner is or will be damaged by the registration." This directive is not, however, reflective of 15 USC 1064, which states that a petition to cancel the registration of a mark may be filed "by any person who believes that he is or will be damaged by the registration." (Emphasis ours.) Nor is it consistent with recent case law, discussed infra.

Finally, §2.132, as amended effective June 22, 1983, permits any party in the position of defendant to file a motion to dismiss for failure to take testimony where plaintiff has either (1) failed to take testimony or offer any other evidence (§2.132(a)) or (2) offered no evidence other than copies of Patent and Trademark Office records and such evidence is insufficient to show that upon the law and the facts plaintiff is entitled to relief (§2.132(b)). Paragraph (c) of the section, adopted effective June 22, 1983, provides that any motion filed under paragraph (a) or (b) must be filed before the opening of the testimony period of the moving party. However, in those cases where a plaintiff's testimony period has expired and plaintiff has in fact failed to take testimony or offer any other evidence in his behalf, it is in the interests of justice and judicial economy to grant a motion to dismiss under §2.132(a) even if the motion was not filed until after the opening of the defendant's testimony period. Accordingly, the Patent and Trademark office is amending Rule §2.132(c) to specify that the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board may grant such a motion even if the motion was not filed until after the opening of the testimony period of the moving party.

Discussion of Specific Sections Being Changed

Section 2.1 provides in part that §§1.1 to 1.26 of Part I of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are applicable to trademark cases except such parts thereof which specifically refer to patents and except §1.22 to the extent that it is inconsistent with §§2.85(e), 2.101(c) or 2.162(d). However, the pertinent provisions in §2.101(c) were relocated in modified form in §2.101(d) by amendment effective Feb. 27, 1983. Further by amendment effective Feb. 27, 1983, §2.111(c) adopted provisions which amplify that part of §2.85(e) relating to petitions for cancellation. Accordingly, the cross-reference portion of §2.1 is being amended by changing "§2.101(c)" to "§2.101(d)" and by adding a cross-reference to §2.111(c).

Section 2.101(b) is being amended by changing the spelling of the word "Principle" to "Principal".

Section 2.104 is being amended by deleting the requirement that the opposition "set forth a short and plain statement showing how the opposer would be damaged by the registration of the opposed mark" and substituting therefor a requirement that the opposition "set forth a short and plain statement showing why the opposer believes he would be damaged by the registration of the opposed mark." The subsitute requirement is in conformity with Section 13 of the Trademark Act, which states that any person "who believes that he would be damaged by the registration of a mark upon the principal register" may file an opposition in the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 2.112(a) is being amended by deleting the requirement that the petition to cancel "set forth a short and plain statement showing how the petitioner is or will be damaged by the registration" and substituting therefor a requirement that the petition to cancel "set forth a short and plain statement showing why the petitioner believes he is or will be damaged by the registration." The substitute requirement is in conformity with section 14 of the Trademark Act, which states that a petition to cancel the registration of a mark may be filed "by any person who believes that he is or will be damaged by the registration."

Section 2.114(c), which provides in part that after an answer to a petition for cancellation is filed the petition may not be withdrawn without prejudice except with the consent of the registrant, is being amended to require the written consent of the registrant. The requirement is in conformity with the existing practice under § 2.114(c) and consistent with §2.106(c), which, as amended effective June 22, 1983, provides in part that after the answer to an opposition is filed, the opposition may not be withdrawn without prejudice except with the written consent of applicant.

Section 2.132(c), which provides that any motion filed under paragraph (a) or (b) of the section must be filed before the opening of the testimony period of the moving party, is being amended to specify that the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board may in its discretion grant a motion filed under paragraph (a) even if the motion was filed after the opening of the testimony period of the moving party.

Section 2.145(d)(1), which governs the time for filing an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action, provides in part that if a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §2.129(c) or §2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty-day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. Prior to June 22, 1983, §2.129(c) governed the filing of any request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of a decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, including a decision on a motion which is finally dispositive of a case. However, under the trademark rules as amended effective June 22, 1983, a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of a decision issued after final hearing is governed by §2.129(c), but a request for rehearing, etc., of a decision on a motion which is finally dispositive of a case is governed by §2.127(b). Accordingly, §2.145(d)(1) is being amended to include a cross-reference to §2.127(b).

Response to Comments on the Rules

Comments responding to the notice of proposed rulemaking were submitted by the committee of one organization and by one individual. These comments have been given careful consideration. However, the only suggested modification has not been adopted.

Comment: The organization's committee indicated that while it believed that so me of the proposed amendments would have a substantive effect on practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, it found no reason not to endorse their enactment.

Response: The Patent and Trademark Office agrees that some of the amendments will have a substantive effect on practice before the Office.

Comment: With respect to the proposal to amend §§2.104 and 2.112(a) to bring them into conformity with the language of sections 13 and 14 of the Act relating to standing, i.e., to require that an opposition and a petition for cancellation, respectively, set forth a short and plain statement showing why the plaintiff believes he would be damaged by the registration of the mark in question, one individual, noting ". . . the recent changes in the 'standing' doctrine from a 'damage' showing to a 'real interest in the proceeding' showing, . . .", suggested that it might be less confusing if the two rules were amended to provide that opposers and petitioners must set forth a statement showing why (or how) they have " a real interest in the proceeding" rather than why they believe they will be damaged.

Response: The suggested modification is appealing because it reflects current case law. Nevertheless, since case law interpretation of statutory provisions is subject to change, it is concluded that the better approach is to incorporate into the rules the statutory wording, rather than case law language. Further, inasmuch as the "real interest" language is a legal concept which has no specific meaning apart from case law, it appears that the statutory "belief in damage" language is the more readily understandable way of expressing the standing requirement. Accordingly, the suggested modification has not been adopted.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations: The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The General Counsel has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The rule change includes no additional or increased fees. Substantive rights to use valuable trademarks are not adversely affected.

This rule change does not contain a collection of information requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant, adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of UStates-based enterprises to compete with foreign based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of Subject Terms in 37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedures, Courts, Lawyers, Trademark.

After consideration of the comments received and pursuant to the authority contained in Section 41 of the Trademark Act of July 5, 1946, as amended, and in 35 U.S.C. 6, Part 2 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below.

PART 2—RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

1. The authority citation for Part 2 is revised to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123, 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 2.1 is revised to read as follows:

§2.1 Sections of Part 1 applicable.

Sections 1.1 to 1.26 of this chapter are applicable to trademark cases except such parts thereof which specifically refer to patents and except §1.22 to the extent that it is inconsistent with §§2.85(e), 2.101(d), 2.111(c) or §2.162(d). Other sections of Part 1 incorporated by reference or referred to in particular sections of this part are also applicable to trademark cases.

3. Section 2.101 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§2.101 Filing an opposition.

* * * * *

(b) Any person who believes that he would be damaged by the registration of a mark on the Principal Register may oppose the same by filing an opposition which should be addressed to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board.

* * * * *

4. Section 2.104 is revised to read as follows:

§2.104 Contents of opposition.

The opposition must set forth a short and plain statement showing why the opposer believes he would be damaged by the registration of the opposed mark and state the grounds for opposition. A duplicate copy of the opposition, including exhibits, shall be filed with the opposition.

5. Section 2.112 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§2.112 Contents of petition for cancellation.

(a) The petition to cancel must set forth a short and plain statement showing why the petitioner believes he is or will be damaged by the registration, state the grounds for cancellation, and indicate the respondent party to whom notification shall be sent. A duplicate copy of the petition, including exhibits, shall be filed with the petition.

* * * * *

6. Section 2.114 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§2.114 Answer.

* * * * *

(c) The petition for cancellation may be withdrawn without prejudice before the answer is filed. After the answer is filed, the petition may not be withdrawn without prejudice except with the written consent of the registrant.

7. Section 2.132 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§2.132 Involuntary dismissal for failure to take testimony.

* * * * *

(c) A motion filed under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section must be filed before the opening of the testimony period of the moving party, except that the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board may in its discretion grant a motion under paragraph (a) even if the motion was filed after the opening of the testimony period of the moving party.

8. Section 2.145 is amended by revising paragraph (d)(1) to read as follows:

§2.145 Appeal to court and civil action.

* * * * *

(d) Time for appeal or civil action. (1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (paragraph (b) of this section), or for commencing a civil action (paragraph (c) of this section), is sixty days from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §§2.127(b), 2.129(c) or 2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire at the end of the sixty day period or thirty days after action on the request, whichever is later. The sixty and thirty day periods may be extended by the Commissioner upon a showing of sufficient cause.

(162) Department of Commerce
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR Part 2
[Docket No. 60729-6129]
Trademark Applications

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending the rules of practice in trademark cases to revise and clarify the requirements for drawings, to revise the requirements that an application must meet to receive a filing date, to revise the requirements for specimens submitted in connection with applications for service marks not used in printed or written form, and to abolish the practice of accepting informal drawings. The amendments are needed to reduce the computer system storage space required for drawings; to insure that all applications which are filed can be searched under the automated search system; to insure that drawings can be faithfully reproduced by photocomposition techniques; and to codify the existing practice in accepting audio cassette tape recordings as specimens in connection with sound mark applications.
Effective Date: Sept. 22, 1986.
For Further Information Contact: Ellen J. Seeherman by telephone at (703) 557-7464 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Amendments to §§2.21, 2.52 and 2.58 and the removal of §2.54 were proposed in a rulemaking notice published in the Federal Register on Aug. 1, 1984 at 49 FR 30749 and in the Official Gazette of Sept. 4, 1984 at 1046 O.G. 5. Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before Oct. 30, 1984. Written comments were submitted by four individuals, one company and two organizations.

Section 2.21(a)(3) is being amended to ensure that only applications which include a drawing of satisfactory reproduction characteristics, as defined in §2.52, will be accorded a serial number and filing date.

Section 2.52(a) and (b) are being amended to add clarifying language, but the reproduction standards of these sections have not been changed. Section 2.52(c) is being amended to limit the size of drawings to ensure that drawings submitted by applicants can be reproduced in the Official Gazette, on the certificate of registration and in the automated search system without the loss of detail that would occur if the drawings had to be reduced by the Patent and Trademark Office. Section 2.52(e) is being amended merely to reinforce the requirement of §2.52(a) that lines must not be fine or crowded.

Section 2.54 is being removed to abolish the practice of accepting informal drawings and thereby ensure that only applications with drawings of satisfactory reproduction characteristics for viewing on computer terminal display screens will be accorded a serial number and filing date.

Section 2.58(b) is being amended to reflect the current practice of the Office to accept audio cassette tapes as specimens of service marks not used in printed or written form.

Two commenters expressed unequivocal support for the proposed amendment to Rule 2.58, which the other commenters did not refer to this particular revision.

One commenter approved the proposed amendment to Rule 2.52, while two others questioned the clarity of the rule. One of these inquired whether Bristol board paper would still be considered acceptable for drawings. While Bristol board would be acceptable, it was not considered necessary to modify the rule to specifically refer to this type of paper since it is accepted under the current practice even though it is not specifically mentioned in the current rule. The second commenter indicated that clarification was necessary as to whether stippling or lining for shading is permitted. This suggestion has not been adopted because the proposed amendment specifically refers to color lining and lines used for shading. This same commenter also objected to the size limitation because detail may be lost. The commenter has suggested that the size of the drawing be increased to the maximum size compatible with the Patent and Trademark Office's automated equipment. This suggestion has not been adopted because the drawings must be of a reduced size in order to appear in the Official Gazette and on the certificate of registration. As the commenter has pointed out, reduction of a drawing may result in loss of detail, and it is thought preferable for the applicant to determine which detail should be eliminated and still retain the commercial impression of the trademark rather than having the Patent and Trademark Office arbitrarily reduce the drawings and perhaps eliminate detail important to the applicant.

All of the commenters expressed concern with the proposed revision to Rule 2.21. Several referred to the loss of rights under section 44(d) of the Lanham Act if a filing date were to be denied because of an unacceptable drawing. Another commenter stated that U.S. applicants wished to get their applications on file as quickly as possible, and to do this preferred to send a photograph of their mark rather than take the time to have a drawing prepared. In connection with these objections, the commenters expressed concern about the uncertainty about whether a filing date would be awarded, and long delays before applicants would be notified about rejections of informal drawings.

The Office's experience with examining applications as to whether they meet the requirements for receiving a filing date should alleviate these concerns. Under the current practice, Rule 2.21(c) provides that papers which do not satisfy the requirements of 2.21(a) are returned to the applicant. Office experience over the past three years, the period this rule has been in effect, shows that a determination that the papers are informal and the return of the papers occurs between 2 and 5 days of the date the papers are submitted. It is believed that this procedure will not harm applicants filing pursuant to the provisions of Section 44(d) or domestic applications. Section 44(d) applicants have six months from the filing of their foreign application to file a formal U.S. application. In order to ensure that their drawings are acceptable under the proposed rule, they need file them only a few weeks before the six month period expires. Since the right of priority provides an effective filing date as of the filing of the foreign application, even if the application had to be resubmitted because of a defective drawing the effective filing date would remain the same. As for domestic applicants, it is recognized that the Office examines applications in the order in which they are received; that where there are conflicting applications, it is the application with the earliest effective filing date which is allowed; and that a registration on the Principal Register is prima facie evidence of registrant's use of the mark shown therein for the goods or services specified in the registration from the filing date of the application which matured into the registration. However, it is believed that any disadvantage faced by a particular applicant whose filing date is delayed as a result of the rule of the rule amendments are outweighed by the benefits to the trademark system, the public and the Patent and Trademark Office in having a system where all marks can be searched.

Several commenters suggested an alternative procedure to the proposed rule, whereby applications with defective drawings would be given a filing date, but the applicant would have 30 days from the notification of the defect, or 60 days from the filing of the application, whichever is longer, to submit an acceptable drawing. This suggestion cannot be implemented because such marks would be unavailable in the automated search system when examining attorneys and the public require this information for searches. Currently, examining attorneys are performing searches on applications in less than 60 days, and the expectation is that this time will be further reduced. If these defective special form drawings are not available on the automated search system, examining attorneys will be unable to cite them as prior pending applications. The suggested alternative would also cause a disservice to the public, for even if copies of the defective drawings were placed in a paper file for searching, it would be a burden to hunt through a 60-day accumulation of these papers which personnel cost considerations would prevent being separated by subject matter and class.

Several commenters stated a fear of overzealous enforcement of the amended rules, with marks being excluded from the trademark registration system because of technicalities. One commenter suggested that the test for holding the application informal be whether or not the applicant had made a bona fide attempt to comply with the rule. To allay these concerns the rule is being amended to require "substantial" compliance with §2.52. The Office will make every effort to interpret the rule sensibly, and will accord an application a filing date as long as the drawing meets the size restrictions and consists of black lines on white paper, without gray or half tones. Detailed procedures and guidelines for the Office's clerical personnel should ensure a reasonable and evenhanded approach. The implementation of the rules will be monitored carefully for the first several months.

One commenter inquired about the fate of applications which had acceptable drawings when filed but the drawings were damaged by Patent and Trademark Office personnel. As in the case of other applications which are improperly returned, a filing date which is erroneously cancelled will be reinstated.

Environmental, energy, and other considerations:

The rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96-354) since any additional burden would be minimal and not disproportionate in effect.

This rule contains no new information collection requirement for the purpose of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. The existing application requirements referenced in this rule have been approved by OMB (Approval No. 0651-0009).

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that these changes do not constitute major rules as defined in section 1(b) of Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

Administrative practice and procedures, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

After consideration of the comments received and pursuant to the authority contained in section 41 of the Trademark Act of July 5, 1946, as amended, and 35 U.S.C. 6, Part 2 of Title 37 of The Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below.

PART 2—RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123, 35 U.S.C.6, unless otherwise noted.

In §2.21 paragraph (a) introductory text is republished and paragraph (a)(3) is revised to read as follows:

§2.21 Requirements for receiving a filing date.

(a) Materials submitted as an application for registration of a mark will not be accorded a filing date as an application until all of the following elements are received:

* * * * *

(3) A drawing of the mark sought to be registered substantially meeting all the requirements of §2.52;

* * * * *

3. Section 2.52 is revised to read as follows:

§2.52 Requirements for drawings.

(a) Character of drawing. All drawings, except as otherwise provided, must be made with the pen or by a process which will provide high definition upon reproduction. A photolithographic reproduction or printer's proof copy may be used if otherwise suitable. Every line and letter, including color lining and lines used for shading, must be black. All lines must be clean, sharp, and solid, and must not be fine or crowded. Gray tones or tints may not be used for surface shading or any other purpose. The requirements of this paragraph are not necessary in the case of drawings permitted and filed in accordance with paragraph (d) of §2.51.

(b) Paper and ink. The drawing must be made upon paper which is flexible, strong, smooth, nonshiny, white and durable. A good grade of bond paper is suitable; however, water marks should not be prominent. India ink or its equivalent in quality must be used for pen drawings to secure perfectly black solid lines. The use of white pigment to cover lines is not acceptable.

(c) Size of paper and margins. The size of the sheet on which a drawing is made must be 8 to 8½ inches (20.3 to 21.6 cm.) wide and 11 inches (27.9 cm.) long. One of the shorter sides of the sheet should be regarded as its top. It is preferable that the drawing be 2.5 inches (6.1 cm.) high and/or wide, but in no case may it be larger than 4 inches (10.3 cm.) high and 4 inches (10.3 cm.) wide. If the amount of detail in the mark precludes a reduction to this size, such detail may be verbally described in the body of the application. There must be a margin of at least 1 inch (2.5 cm.) on the sides and bottom of the paper and at least one inch (2.5 cm.) between the drawing and the heading.

(d) Heading. Across the top of the drawing, beginning one inch (2.5 cm.) from the top edge and not exceeding one fourth of the sheet, there must be placed a heading, listing in separate lines, applicant's complete name, applicant's post office address, the dates of first use of the mark and first use of the mark in commerce (except for an application filed under section 44 of the Trademark Act), and the goods or services recited in the application or a typical item of the goods or services if a number of items are recited in the application. This heading should be typewritten.

(e) Linings for color. Where color is a feature of a mark, the color or colors employed may be designated by means of conventional linings as shown in the following color chart:

§2.54 [Removed]

4. Section 2.54 is removed.
5. Section 2.58(b) is revised to read as follows:

§2.58 Specimens or facsimiles in the case of a service mark.

* * * * *

(b) In the case of service marks not used in printed or written form, three audio cassette tape recordings will be accepted.

TRADEMARK APPLICATION EXAMINATION AND CONTENT

(163) Interviews Involving Trademark Application

Interviews frequently result in a better understanding of the issues involved, shorten the prosecution and facilitate disposal of applications.

Interviews for discussion of registrability of the mark of a pending application will not be had before the first official Office action thereon and ordinarily not before filing the first response. Arrangements for an interview should be made in advance so that the Examiner may review the case and be familiar with the details involved.

Interviews on Friday will no longer be prohibited as a matter of policy but all interviews should be set at a time satisfactory to all parties concerned.

A memorandum summarizing the conclusions reached at the interview should be prepared by the Examiner and placed in the application file. The memorandum will be retained in the application file until the prosecution is completed. Such procedure will not, however, relieve the applicant of the responsibility of complying with the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.62.

HORACE B. FAY, JR.,

This supersedes the notice of Feb. 10, 1958. (728 O.G. TM 1)

[804 O.G. TM 147]

(164) Trademark Examining Procedure for Amended Applications; Reporting Oldest Dates of Amended Trademark Applications

Effective immediately, the order in which amendments to trademark applications are examined is changed. Previously, Examiners have usually acted on amended cases in order of filing date of the application which the amendment concerned, i.e., amended cases with the oldest filing date were examined first. Under the new procedure, amended cases will normally be examined in the order in which the amendment or other response is received, i.e., amendments that are received first will normally be examined first.

Effective with this issue of the Official Gazette (Trademark Section) in order to reflect more accurately the condition of division dockets, the column reporting the date of the oldest amended application in each division has been changed to indicate the date of receipt of the oldest filed amendment. Under this new method of reporting the oldest date of receipt of a filed amendment upon which no action has been taken by an Examiner will be indicated for each division of the Trademark Examining Operation.

[889 O.G. TM 6]

(165) Trademark Office Actions

Effective immediately Applicants or their attorneys will be provided with only one carbon copy of any office action, and the mailing of an additional carbon copy will be discontinued.

This change is consistent with the current practice in the patent examining operations and should result in greater efficiency in the preparation and mailing of office actions.

Feb. 7, 1972. Commissioner of Patents.

[895 O.G. TM 238]

(166) Petition to Make Trademark Applications Special

The practice of expediting the prosecution of new trademark applications on request of the applicant (accelerated prosecution) was rescinded, effective Aug. 1, 1971 (36 F.R. 13231, July 16, 1971; 825 O.G. 2). This action was taken after a careful study of the practice, including a recommendation of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs that the Patent Office terminate accelerated prosecution of trademark applications. The study considered both the effect of the procedure on the workload of the Trademark Operations and the broader interest of examining trademark applications in an order which is equitable to all applicants.

Since the termination of this practice, the Office has experienced some increase in the number of petitions requesting the Commissioner to invoke his supervisory authority pursuant to Rule 2.146 in order to advance the examination of applications out of their regular order. This was to be expected since applicants who might have been able to show special circumstances entitling them to advanced examination could previously achieve this special treatment without resorting to a petition. However, some of the petitions now being received are not considered sufficient to justify the extraordinary relief of invoking the supervisory authority of the Commissioner for the purpose of advancing the applications out of their regular order.

In particular, a number of such petitions have been based on the ground that the applicant is about to embark on an advertising campaign or to commit advertising or promotional expenditures in which the mark applied for is material. Such a ground is not considered to constitute appropriate circumstances justifying the advancement of the application out of its regular turn and the petitions based on such ground have been and will continue to be denied. The principal reason for the denial is that these circumstances are applicable to a substantial portion of the trademark applications filed in the Patent Office. The supervisory authority of the Commissioner should be exercised only where an extraordinary reason for such action has been disclosed. See Anderson & Dyer v. Lewry, 89 O.G. 1861, 1899 C.D. 230, and Wilputte v. Van Ackeren, 103 USPQ 235. Thus, the extraordinary remedy of invoking the supervisory authority of the Commissioner is not considered appropriate under these circumstances.

In the interest of equitable treatment of all applicants, the policy of the Office in granting such petitions will be restricted to those cases in which particular and very special circumstances exist, such as a demonstrable possibility of loss of substantial rights, rather than circumstances which would be equally applicable to a large number of other applicants for trademark registration.

(167) Title 37—Patents, Trademarks, and Copyrights

Chapter I—Patent Office, Department of Commerce

Parts 2 and 6—Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

International Trademark Classification

A proposal was published at 37 F.R. 6404 to revise §6.1 of the Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases. The Patent Office proposed to establish the "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" (the subject of the "Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks" of 1957, as revised at Stockholm on July 14, 1967) as the primary classification of goods and services for registration of trademarks and service marks. Pursuant to the Notice, written comments have been received, and a public hearing was held on June 14, 1972. Full consideration has been given to all matter presented, and changes in the text of the original proposal have been made in view thereof. It has been determined that adoption of the international classification system is desirable.

The Patent Office has studied the international classification and, since Mar. 5, 1968, has indicated the appropriate international class in all publications and on all issued registrations and renewals as a subsidiary classification. Based on this experience and the comments received, it is now believed that adoption of the international schedule as the primary classification system is desirable. The international system is easier to administer because of fewer classes of goods and the availability of an alphabetical listing of goods and services.

The Nice Agreement provides for an International Committee of Experts whose objective is to keep the classification current. The classification of specific goods and services is set forth in the Alphabetical List entitled "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" (published by the World Intellectual Property Organization). In addition, the International Trademark Classification List contains the names of the classes setting forth the basic contents of each class. The Alphabetical List also comprises explanatory notes which serve as guidelines for determining the appropriate international class for a specific product or service.

The alphabetical listing within the International Trademark Classification Manual is currently used by the Office as a guideline for determining the degree of particularity of identification of goods. See "Identification of Goods and Services in Trademark Applications," 36 F.R. 13232; July 16, 1971.

Applications for registrations filed on or after Sept. 1, 1973, and registrations issuing thereon, will be classified according to the international classification set forth in the new §6.1. Accordingly, the international classification is adopted under Section 30 of the Trademark Act of all purposes under the statute and rules; and, therefore, will be the criterion for determining, inter alia, fees.

Applications for the registration of marks filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, appeals or petitions to revive or oppositions filed in connection with said applications, and affidavits, renewals and petitions for cancellation filed in connection with registrations issuing thereon, will continue to be processed under the classification system existing at the time the mark was registered.

All applications which are published and registrations which are issued will carry both the appropriate international classification and existing U.S. classification number.

An insufficient fee, in connection with an appeal or opposition on any application or in connection with an affidavit or renewal filed in connection with any registration, will not render the same unacceptable, if the proper fee is submitted within a time limit set forth in a notification of the defect, providing the proper fee for at least one class has been originally submitted within the applicable time limit. This will be the case even if the full fee is not received within the sixth year in the case of an affidavit filed under Section 8 or before the end of the twentieth year, including the grace period, in the case of renewal applications, or within the six-month statutory response period in the case of an appeal, or within the thirty-day opposition period, or any extension thereof in the case of the filing of an opposition.

The existing classification system will continue to be used for searching registered and pending marks until all documents in the search file are organized on the basis of the international system of classification. Until this changeover is effected, the U.S. class designation will continue to be printed on all published applications and registrations issued under the existing or the international classification system to facilitate searching on the basis of the existing U.S. system of classification.

Until all applications filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, have been disposed of, the trademark sections of the Official Gazette, which are organized by class, will include two sections: one for applications published or registrations issued on the basis of applications filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, organized by class according to the U.S. schedule of classes; the other section for applications published or registrations issued on the basis of applications filed on or after Sept. 1, 1973, organized by class according to the new international schedule.

Certification marks and collective membership marks will continue to be classified as set forth in redesignated §§6.3 and 6.4.

Efforts will be made to have the International Trademark Classification List printed by the Government Printing Office or otherwise assure the availability of the List from local sources. Notification will appear in the Official Gazette when the List is available from local sources of the Government Printing Office.

The English edition of the "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" can presently be ordered from:

Sales Branch, The Patent Office, Block C
Station Square House, St. Mary Cray
Orpington, Kent, England

Certain modifications and additions to the international trademark classification have been published as supplements and are also available from the British Office. In addition, and inasmuch as the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) has issued the List in several languages, it is anticipated that an English version will be published by that organization.

We have been advised by the Patent Office of the United Kingdom that the only acceptable methods of payment for the International Trademark Classification List are by International Postal Money Order or by banker's draft payable in sterling and drawn on a bank in the United Kingdom.

(168) Wording In Verification or Declaration of Trademark Application

Applicants and attorneys are requested to use the following wording in the part of the verification or declaration of the trademark application which indicates the signer's belief that the mark applied for does not resemble another person's mark:

> —that no other person, firm, corporation, or association, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has the right to use such mark in commerce either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely, when applied to the goods of such other person, to cause confusion, or cause mistake, or to deceive:—

The wording emphasized conforms to the language of both Sections 1(a)(1) and 2(d) of the Trademark Act of 1946.

Some applicants and attorneys, instead of using the wording emphasized above, are still using the now obsolete wording "as might be calculated to deceive" which was promulgated in the forms under the Trademark Act of 1905 and inadvertently continued by the Act of 1946 up to October 1962 in Section 1(a)(1) and in the forms connected with the Act. Section 1(a)(1) of the 1946 Act was amended by Act of October 9, 1962 (Public Law 772, 87th Congress, 76 Stat. 769) to conform it to the language of Section 2(d) of the 1946 Act, since the language of Section 2(d) reflects the thinking at the time the 1946 Act was written. The wording of the trademark forms for the 1946 Act has also been amended appropriately.

It is desirable that proper wording be used. However, since the differences in wording referred to above are considered to be differences of form rather than of substance. Examiners will not require new verifications or declarations. When the obsolete wording is observed and a letter is to be written for other reasons, Examiners will at that time call attention to the fact that the wording is obsolete and should be modified in applications in the future.

(169) Standardized Disclaimers

Beginning with the Nov. 9, 1982 issue of the Official Gazette, disclaimers in marks published for opposition and in those registered on the Supplemental Register will be printed in a standardized form, regardless of the text submitted. Certificates of registration for marks issued on the Supplemental Register will also contain the standardized disclaimer as of that date. Certificates of registration for marks issued on the Principal Register will contain the uniform statement beginning Feb. 1, 1983. The disclaimed matter will be taken from the disclaimer of record and inserted into a standardized disclaimer for printing and data base purposes. The new disclaimer text will take the following form:

No claim is made to the exclusive right to use ——, apart from the mark as shown.

(170) Trademark "Revivals" and "Reinstatements"

It would be of great assistance to the Office if the heading or caption of "Petitions to Revive" or "Requests for Reinstatement" of abandoned trademark applications carried the following identifying data:

1. Address Paper to the Attention of:
   Office of Director, Trademark Examining Operation
2. Serial Number
3. Mark
4. Applicant's Name
5. A title indicating the nature of the paper

Use of this heading for "Petitions to Revive" or "Requests for Reinstatement" of abandoned trademark applications will help ensure that the papers are promptly routed to the proper Office, which will prevent needless delay in its consideration.

(171) T-Search Printouts as Section 2(d) References

As part of its ongoing automation program, the PTO is pleased to announce that on or about July 1, 1986, Trademark Examining Attorneys will use the automated Trademark search system (T-Search) exclusively for searching word marks. The Examining Attorneys will use computer printouts to advise applicants about Section 2(d) references. The printouts will include computer-generated facsimiles of the drawing where appropriate. The printouts will be used for word marks, whether the word is depicted in a typed drawing or in stylized form. Photocopies of certificates of registration will continue to be used for design marks.

The Patent and Trademark Office, in consultation with the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs, has established accuracy standards for the computerized data. Data elements which are not essential for examiner searching are being systematically checked and corrected. The following data elements which are essential for examiner searching purposes are essentially complete:

1. MARK
2. SERIAL NUMBER
3. REGISTRATION NUMBER
4. FILING DATE
5. REGISTRATION DATE
6. GOODS AND SERVICES
7. INTERNATIONAL CLASS
8. U.S. CLASS

Subject to the above caveat, the printouts will contain all the information that appears on the certificate of registration with one exception. If an application for registration was based on Section 44, 15 U.S.C. 1126, the printout will indicate that the registration or application was filed under the provisions of Section 44 (using the notation "SECT 44"). The printout will also show the priority date if the application was filed under the provisions of Section 44(d). However, it will not indicate the country or certificate number of the foreign registration on which the U.S. registration was based.

The printouts will also contain additional registration information which was not provided under the non-automated system, as follows:

A. Change in registration—This will indicate that a registration was changed after registration, such as by an amendment of the mark or identification of goods/services. The current information will be displayed in the printout.

B. Affidavits—This indicates that a Section 8 affidavit of continued use was accepted, that a Section 15 affidavit of incontestability was acknowledged, or that a mark was republished under the provisions of Section 12(c).

C. Renewals—Applicable renewal information, such as "1st Renewal" or "2nd Renewal" will be shown.

D. Owner—In addition to listing the original registrant, the last known owner, as the change of ownership is acknowledged by the Office by virtue of examining an affidavit or renewal, will be included.

The following provides an explanation of the terms/symbols used in the printout:

1. Goods or services appearing in double parentheses "(( ))" were not included in a Section 15 affidavit.
2. Goods or services appearing in brackets "[ ]" were deleted after registration by amendment, correction, restriction or at the time of renewal.
3. Dates will appear as year, month and day. For example, June 20, 1983 will appear as 1983.06.20.
4. Goods and services will be indicated with the international class (IC), the prior U.S. classification (US), the identification, date of first use and date of first use in commerce.
5. Registrants (OWNER) will be listed showing the owner's name, entity designation (e.g., individual, partnership, corporation), country of citizenship or state or country of incorporation, and address.
6. Pseudo mark—This material is merely a search aid and has no bearing on the registration information.
7. Design search code—This is also merely an aid for computerized searching of design marks, by which a number is assigned to describe a particular design element. It has no bearing on the registration information.
8. Mark drawing code—This indicates the appearance of the mark, and again is not part of the registration data. There are six mark drawing codes.

   1—typed drawing
   2—design only
   3—words, letters and/or numbers and design
   4—words, letters and/or number in block form (block letters; not typed drawing)
   5—words, letters and/or numbers in a stylized form
   6—sound marks

An example of a computer printout and a facsimile of a stylized word mark follow.

TRADEMARK POST REGISTRATION

(172) Trademark Rule 2.165 Requirement Where A Section 8 Affidavit Or Declaration Is Held Insufficient

Several recent Petitions to the Commissioner have indicated a failure on the part of registrants and their attorneys to follow the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.165. Therefore, reviewing certain basic elements of this rule is considered timely so as to alert registrants and attorneys to technical errors which might lead to the cancellation of a valuable trademark registration.

Part (a) of Rule 2.165 indicates that the examiner will notify the registrant when an affidavit or declaration of use under Section 8 of the Statute is insufficient and the reasons therefor. When the registrant wishes the examiner to reconsider the affidavit or declaration, or when the registrant has taken additional steps to rectify the deficiencies and desires to have the examiner reconsider the affidavit or declaration in light of those steps, the request for reconsideration must be submitted within 6 months of the date of mailing of the notice of insufficiency.

Note, however, that a supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by Section 8 cannot be considered unless it is received before the expiration of the six year anniversary of the registration. Consequently, registrants should file their affidavits as early as possible during the sixth year following registration.

There are situations where correcting the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration requires recording an assignment with the Assignment Division of this Office. If the recording cannot be completed within 6 months, the registrant must at least respond to the examiner's notice of insufficiency within that period. The response must indicate the steps being taken to correct the deficiency. The examiner can then allow the registrant additional time or suspend action depending on the circumstances. Registrants must always observe the "six month response" period whenever responding to the examiner from an adverse action.

Part (b) of Rule 2.165 permits a registrant to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner when he is dissatisfied with that action. Review by the Commissioner should be sought only where it is believed that the examiner has erred in his action. In other words, the Commissioner's role is to review the correctness of the examiner's action and not to serve as an alter ego of the examiner before whom the registrant may seek to correct deficiencies.

When review by the Commissioner has been sought, the decision on that request constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office. If no review by the Commissioner is sought and if no request for reconsideration of an examiner's action is timely filed, the Commissioner will notify the registrant of the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration after the sixth year has expired. Such notice is never mailed prior to the expiration of the sixth year following registration nor until a reasonable time has elapsed following a six month period from the last action mailed by this Office. This notice constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office in those cases where the Commissioner's review has not been sought. Once this notice has been mailed, it is too late (under the Rules of Practice) to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner. Review would only be proper if an affiant could show circumstances sufficient to suspend the finality element of Rule 2.165(b) pursuant to Rule 2.148.

Registrants will be held to strict compliance with Rule 2.165 as it has been briefed above. Therefore, parties are urged to respond fully as soon as possible after an action is received from the examiner.

(173) Late-Filed Renewal Fees

Sections 9 and 31 of the Lanham Act (15 U.S.C. §§1095 and 1113) require that an additional five dollar ($5.00) fee be submitted by a registrant who files a renewal application during the three-month period following expiration of its registration. The language of the statute requires that this additional fee be submitted within the three-month grace period. A number of registrants who have failed to submit the additional fee within the prescribed period have petitioned the Commissioner to allow their renewal applications. The Commissioner has granted petitions of this kind where the registrant or its attorney maintained a Patent and Trademark Office deposit account which contained, on the date the renewal application was filed, sufficient funds to cover the additional fee. Specifically, the Commissioner has exercised discretion under Trademark Rules 2.146(a)(3) and 2.147 to deem the authorizations to charge the deposit accounts to have taken place at the time the registrants filed their renewal applications, even though the authorizations were not confirmed until a later date. This Office policy was established by the Commissioner's decision in In re Ralston Purina Co., 191 USPQ 154 (Comr. Pats. 1976).

The policy established by the Ralston Purina decision is being changed. Henceforth, the Commissioner will no longer exercise discretion to charge deposit accounts nunc pro tunc for trademark renewal application fees. To allow an authorization to charge a deposit account to relate back to a date on which no actual authorization existed is, in effect, to allow late payment. It is inequitable to permit those registrants who have deposit accounts (or those whose attorneys have such accounts) to make late payment of renewal fees, while those without deposit accounts may not.

Petitions relying on Ralston Purina will, after the date of this notice, be denied, unless the events that gave rise to those petitions occurred before publication of this notice.

(174) Renewal Applications and Section 8 Affidavits

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of petitions requesting provisional acceptance of defectively executed Section 8 Affidavits and Renewal Applications under 35 U.S.C. §26, the most common problem being a lack of notarization or a Rule 2.20 declaration. Often, such petitions are necessitated by the failure of registration owners to file the documents early enough to leave time in which to correct should they prove defective.

Section 8 Affidavits may be filed beginning with the fifth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing expires on the sixth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing Renewal Applications begins six months before the twentieth anniversary of the registration and extends three months beyond the expiration of the twenty year term. While the Post Registration Division may allow up to six months to respond to a notice of defect, it may not allow corrective action beyond the period for filing established by the Trademark Act. It is therefore in the registrant's best interest to file such documents as close to the opening date as possible to allow time for correction, if necessary. Provisional acceptance under 35 U.S.C. §26 has been, and will continue to be, given narrow application. Registrants should not rely on 35 U.S.C. §26 as a means of acquiring an extension of time.

We have also become aware of many delays caused by defects in the chain of title. Registrants are encouraged to keep Patent and Trademark Office assignment records current with regard to ownership of registrations.

The filing of Post Registration documents at the earliest date and maintenance of assignment records will help to avoid the cancellation or expiration of registrations of trademarks currently in use, and will result in a savings of time and expense for both the registrant and the Patent and Trademark Office.

tal Plz. 2–4C24, before 12:00 noon on U.S. Patent and Trademark Office scheduled work days will be filled within three work days.

Requests for expedited service which are hand carried to the Post-Registration Section located in Crystal Plz. 2–4C24 will be available for pickup at the same location after 12:00 noon three work days later. Requests for expedited service which are mailed to the Patent and Trademark Office will be processed and mailed back to the requester three work days after they are received in the Post-Registration Section from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office mail room. All requests for expedited service will be machine stamped when received in the Post-Registration Section and machine stamped upon completion by the Post-Registration Section.

Anyone requesting expedited service will be limited to five registration numbers per day. Limits on the number of registrations being certified are needed in order to ensure that service is not disrupted for routine requests for certified copies. The guarantee of service in three work days is based on the ability of the Post-Registration Section to process up to 1,000 expedited copies out of an average of 16,000 copies processed each year.

(178) Initial Processing of Application

On Feb. 1, 1972, the operations of the Trademark Application Section of the Patent Office will be reorganized. The purpose of the reorganization is to provide the public and applicants with more current information concerning newly filed applications.

The prompt initial processing of trademark applications is necessary in order to fulfill one of the main Patent Office functions, that of producing a record, accessible to the public, of new trademark activity to facilitate the clearance of new marks for use, determine the registrability of proposed marks, and avoid conflicts with the rights of others. In order to maintain a record of marks applied for which reflects the most current information available to the Office concerning them, the early processing of drawings in order to have them placed in the search room is considered as a first priority. The processing of these drawings includes the assignment of serial numbers, initial classification, duplication of the drawing and the forwarding of copies of the drawing to the search room. Other functions which are necessary in the processing of applications, such as the processing and mailing of filing receipts, are secondary to the processing of drawings.

In past years, there have been delays in processing applications and forwarding application drawings to the search room. These delays have varied from several weeks to several months. In view of the importance, both to applicants and the public, of recording essential information concerning newly filed applications as quickly as possible, a reorganization of the workflow in the Application Section is being effected.

There is no change in the processing of applications through the mail room and finance branch to the Application Section. However, under the new plan, upon receipt in the Trademark Application Section, all applications will be stamped with a serial number, and the drawing of the mark will be reproduced immediately and placed in the search file. This processing will occur as soon as the application files reach the Application Section. Such procedures as determining whether or not an application will receive a filing date, preparation of the file jackets, and mailing of the filing receipt will take place at a later time.

Applicants who wish to be notified promptly of the date their papers were received in the office and their serial number, may send two self-addressed postcards with their application papers. The mail room will stamp both postcards with the date of receipt and return one to the applicant; the second postcard will be stamped with the serial number and forwarded to the applicant from the Application Section. The postcards should contain the applicant's name and the trademark which is the subject of the application. When more than one set of application papers are forwarded under one cover, postcards should be attached to each set of papers for which a receipt is desired.

Under the new system of processing application papers, your particular attention is directed to the following changes as compared to the present procedure.

1. Application drawings will be placed in the public search file prior to the mailing of the filing receipt.
2. By using the postcard system described above, applicants will be notified sooner of the date of receipt of their papers and the serial number of their application. Applicants are encouraged to use the postcard system.
3. Additional papers sent in by the applicant or attorney should be identified by serial number, thereby enabling the office to process these papers quickly.
4. When an application is accompanied by a petition to the Commissioner under §2.146, the petition will not be considered until processing by the Application Section is complete.

Effective date. The procedure outlined in this notice will become effective Feb. 1, 1972.

(179) Mail Delays and Petitions to Revive (Trademarks)

Since applications that become abandoned unintentionally present burdens to both the Patent office and the applicant, a simplified procedure has been devised to alleviate these burdens when the abandonment results from a delay in the mails. This procedure (which is similar to the procedure adopted for patent applications at 910 O.G. 402 and 910 O.G. TM 76) provides for an automatic petition to revive.

When a trademark communication which falls within the circumstances enumerated below is mailed to the Patent Office more than three full days prior to the due date, a conditional petition may be attached to the communication. If the communication is received in the Patent Office after the due date and the application becomes abandoned, the conditional petition will become effective, subject to the following requirements. The petition must include (1) an authorization to charge a deposit account for any required fees, including the petition fee, and (2) an oath or declaration signed by the person mailing the communication and also signed by the applicant or his attorney stating that the communication and petition were either placed in the United States mail as first class or air mail or placed in the mail outside the United States as air mail. Since mail handled in this manner may reasonably be expected to reach the Patent Office by the due date, any mail delays beyond such time will be considered to constitute unavoidable delay and sufficient cause to grant a petition to revive (Section 12(b) of the Trademark Act of 1946).

The circumstances under which this procedure may be used are those where the communication, if timely filed, (1) would be a proper and complete response to an action or request by the Patent Office, and (2) would stop a period for response from continuing to run. Accordingly, this procedure would be appropriate for:

1. A response to a non-final Office action.
2. A response to a final Office action which places the application in condition for publication or issue.
3. A notice of appeal and requisite fee.
4. An appeal brief.

ju A suggested declaration form for the petition is shown below:

(Location) (Name of individual)

In the event that such communication is not timely filed in the Patent Office, it is requested that this paper be treated as a petition to revive and that the delay in prosecution be held unavoidable.

The petition fee is authorized to be charged to Deposit Account No. _____ in the name of _____.

The undersigned declares further that all statements made herein of his own knowledge are true, and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or document or any registration resulting therefrom.

(181) Requests for Information on Status of Trademark Registrations

The purpose of this notice is to explain the circumstances in which the Trademark Examining Operation can respond to written and telephone requests for information about the status of trademark registrations. Only limited information can be provided by telephone.

I. Orders for "Status" Copies

The most reliable means of obtaining status information concerning a registration is a written order for a "status" copy of the registration. Status copies show whether affidavits have been filed under Sections 8 and 15, whether the registration has been renewed or cancelled, and whether certain other actions have been taken with respect to the registration. The charge for copies of registrations showing status and/or title, if not certified, is $6.50, effective Oct. 1, 1982. The charge for a certified copy showing status and/or title is $10.00 effective the same date.

II. Telephone Information Available from the Search Library

If the caller has the registration number, he or she may leave a request for status information on an automatic answering machine in the Trademark Search Library (Search Room) at 703-557-3282. The Search Library staff will call back with the information requested within one working day. Callers are asked to limit their requests to two registration numbers per day.

The Search Library staff is not permitted to make "searches" to determine if particular marks are in the Office's search files. Neither is the staff able to supply information as to the ownership or assignment of registrations, or to read over the telephone lengthy passages of a registration, such as the identification of goods or services.

III. Telephone Information on Receipt of Section 8 and 15 Affidavits and Renewal Applications

The Post Registration Section can be reached by calling 703-557-2923. The staff of this section can advise only on whether an affidavit or a renewal application has or has not been received. Inquiries as to whether affidavits and renewals have been accepted should be directed to the Search Library.

(183) Helpful Hints From The PTO

- Data To Be Included on Patent and Trademark Papers Filed In The PTO In Response To Office Actions—Perhaps the greatest cause of delay and wasted time in the support sections of the PTO is in trying to match papers bearing incorrect or incomplete data with applications. Because some Trademark Papers are not clearly identified as pertaining to Trademark applications, they are frequently misrouted to the Patent Examining Groups.

On all papers related to Patent applications, type the word "PATENT" in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please include the correct serial number, filing date, inventor's name, and title of the invention. Additionally, include the examiner's name, and group art unit number or other identifying data found on the most recent letter from the PTO. (37 CFR 1.1(a)).

However, please note that an organizational restructuring of the Patent Examining Corps has resulted in many applications being reassigned to new Groups and Art Units. Your attention is directed to the NOTICE OF CHANGES IN THE PATENT EXAMINING CORPS that appeared in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE on June 26, 1984, (1043 OG 23), which identifies the Group Art Unit of each examiner (1043 OG 40 through 1043 OG 67). Letters mailed from the Groups after Apr. 15, 1984, should reflect the current identifying data.

For all papers related to Trademark applications, type the word "TRADEMARK" in the upper right-hand corner of the document. Also, please set forth the applicatant's name, correct serial number (including the series number which currently is "73"), filing date, law office, examining attorney and mark.

Documents for which no fee is required at the time of filing (e.g., amendments to applications and requests for extensions of time to file an opposition) continue to be addressed:

Box 5
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231

Mail directed to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board should have mark "Attention: TTAB" on the envelope in additon to "Box 5."

- Mailing Responses To The PTO—In general, it would eliminate or greatly reduce processing steps by the PTO support staff, and will avoid interruption of the examiner's work, if a few simple, general rules were followed in regard to mailing of the responses to the PTO:

1. After a Patent or Trademark application is filed, please avoid filing additional papers (other than those requesting a filing receipt or those required by the Office) until the filing receipt or return post card identifying the Serial Number and Patent Examining Group Art Unit or Trademark Law Office has been received.
2. In Patent applications, requests for extensions of time, changes of address, proposed drawing corrections, and petitions are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response." In Trademark applications, change of address and powers of attorney are sometimes incorporated in the remarks section or at the beginning of papers entitled "Amendment" or "Response". Please present such items in separate papers, appropriately titled, since they are all handled by different personnel (37 CFR 1.4(c)). However, please include a statement in the amendment/response describing the paper being filed.
3. Where a supplemental or preliminary amendment is found necessary in Patent or Trademark applications, please telephone the examiner and request that the examiner delay action for a certain time in order to avoid crossing in the mails of the amendment and the Office action.
4. File Patent and Trademark documents which have no particular time or sequence requirement, with materials submitted in response to the statutory or regulatory requirements. Examples are certified copies of foreign documents to support priority and formal drawings in Patent applications or changes in Power of Attorney or Mailing Address following first action.
5. If a disclosure statement is to be filed before an Office action, file it when the application is filed. Some Group Art Units have greatly reduced the pendency to first action. Hence, many examiners are taking up new applications before an information statement is matched with the application.

(184) Published Trademark Applications

Papers which are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in connection with published trademark application files should be captioned to the attention of the Trademark Quality Review Clerk and addressed as follows:

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Attention Box 5, Trademark Quality Review Clerk
Washington, D.C. 20231

This mailing should be used only for papers filed after publication but before issuance of the registration. This could include corrections to information which appears to have been inadvertently or incorrectly published in the Trademark Official Gazette, as well as changes of attorney or address papers or notification of filing an assignment. Corrections to information published in the TMOG must be received in the Office before the registration is issued.

Use of this mailing address for corrections will help ensure that such papers are properly routed within the Office. Telephone inquiries concerning corrections or other matters in relation to published trademark applications should be directed to (703) 557-4249.

(185) Notices of Abandonment

The Trademark Operation has begun notifying trademark applicants when their pending applications have been abandoned by the Office. Under this new procedure, a computer-generated post card bearing the notice, serial number, applicant name and abandonment date will be sent to the correspondence address designated by the applicant. The post cards will be mailed within 2 to 4 weeks after the application is declared abandoned.

(186) Trademark Law Office Changes in Examination of Classes

To evenly distribute the examination of applications filed among the Law Offices, the following International Classes are now being examined by the following Law Offices:

Class	Law Office No.

These changes will be incorporated into the listing of classes assigned to each Law Office in the Trademark Examining Operation which appears immediately after the Patent and Trademark notices in each Official Gazette.

Any questions concerning these classes generally or concerning applications filed in these classes should be directed to the listed Law Office.

May 5, 1986. MARGARET M. LAURENCE, Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

[1067 TMOG 4]

(187) Change of Correspondence Address in Trademark Applications

Applicants are reminded that when an application is filed and a correspondence address is entered in the Official record, correspondence will continue to be sent to such address until the applicant or party, or the attorney-at-law or other authorized representative of the applicant or party, indicates in writing that correspondence is to be sent to another address. 37 CFR Section 2.18. The filing of a response to an Office action on letterhead stationery that indicates a different address from the correspondence address of record is insufficient notice that correspondence is to be sent to another address. Specific language is needed which can reasonably be interpreted to be a request to change the address. See TMEP Section 603.

If a power of attorney has been filed in an application, a subsequently filed power of attorney will be regarded as a written request to change the correspondence address, even if there is no specific language changing the address or revoking the prior power of attorney. See TMEP Section 603.

(188) Use of Restricted Deposit Account for Electronic Ordering of Patent and Trademark Copies

Effective July 1, 1986, the restricted deposit account will be made available to those members of the public who wish to use it for electronic ordering of patent and trademark copies. The restricted deposit account requires maintenance of a minimum balance of $300.00 at the end of each month, as compared to the unrestricted account which requires a minimum balance of $1,000.00

In FY 1986, the Office established the restricted deposit account for use in charging subscriptions for copies of newly issued patents by subject matter classification. Establishment of a PTO deposit account is a prerequisite for subscription service.

Recently, the Office established an electronic ordering service (EOS), a method of ordering copies of patents and trademarks through the use of a computer terminal and modem. EOS is available only to PTO deposit account holders.

Many people who are interested in using EOS to order copies of patents and trademarks and who do not have PTO deposit accounts find the $1,000.00 balance required for the unrestricted account prohibitive. Therefore, the use of restricted account is being expanded to incorporate EOS ordering. Subscriptions and EOS ordering are the only two services for which restricted accounts may be used. If you have any questions on subscriptions or EOS, please call Mary Brown on (703) 557–3236. If you have questions on deposit accounts, please call Delores Riley on (703) 557–3227.

TRADEMARK PUBLICATIONS

(190) Separation of the Patent and Trademark Sections of the Official Gazette

Effective February 2, 1971, the Official Gazette will be separated into two parts to be known as the Patent Official Gazette and the Trademark Official Gazette.

* * * * *

Orders for subscriptions should be addressed to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Also effective February 2, 1971, the Official Gazette will no longer contain "Decisions in Patent and Trademark Cases." Decisions of the type heretofore found in the "Decisions in Patent and Trademark Cases" are published by non-Federal organizations such as, for example, the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., 1231 25th St. NW., Washington, D.C. 20037, and West Publishing Co., 50 Kellogg Blvd., St. Paul, Minn. 55102.

Finally, the "Decisions Leaflet" of the Official Gazette will no longer be supplied as a separate subscription item after January 26, 1971. According to present plans, however, both the Patent Official Gazette and the Trademark Official Gazette will have identical "Patent Office Notices" sections containing notices of the various types heretofore published in the Gazette decision leaflet and Trademark Section. Those notices of particular interest to Patent Office employees will be accumulated and published approximately every fourth week, and distributed separately to employees.

Dec. 29, 1970. WILLIAM E. SCHUYLER, JR., Commissioner of Patents.

[882 O.G. TM 33]

(191) Changes in Format for Publishing Trademarks for Opposition

Because of the adoption of the International classification of goods and services by the United States as of September 1, 1973 (see Official Gazette of June 26, 1973, 911 O.G. TM 210), it is necessary to change the arrangement in the Official Gazette of the marks published for opposition.

Beginning with the issue of May 7, 1974, the section of the Official Gazette entitled "Marks Published for Opposition" will be divided into four sections instead of the present two sections. (For the preceding change from one to two sections, see Official Gazette of October 13, 1964, 807 O.G. TM 51.) Sections 1 and 2 will be according to international classification and will contain marks in applications filed on or after September 1, 1973, and Sections 3 and 4 will be according to prior United States classification and will contain marks in applications filed on or before August 31, 1973.

In Section 1, all marks presented in combined applications filed on or after September 1, 1973 for registration in more than one international class will be published with only one reproduction of each mark. The reproduction of the mark will be followed by the international class numbers, and under each class will appear the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used. If the date of first use applies to all classes, it will appear following the last class; otherwise, the dates of use will appear after each class.

In Section 2, all marks presented in applications filed on or after September 1, 1973 for registration in a single class will be published in international class order.

In Section 3, all marks presented in combined applications filed on or before August 31, 1973 for registration in more than one prior United States class will be published with only one reproduction of each mark. The reproduction of the mark will be followed by the prior United States class numbers and titles, and under each class will appear the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used. If the date of first use applies to all classes, it will appear following the last class; otherwise, the dates of use will appear after each class.

In section 4, all marks presented in applications filed on or before August 31, 1973 for registration in a single class will be published in the prior United States class order.

The following explanation will appear under the heading "Marks Published for Opposition":

> The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under Section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See Rules 2.101 to 2.105.
> A separate fee of twenty-five dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

Sections 1 through 4 will appear immediately after the above explanation, the sections being designated as follows:

Section 1. International classification—Application in more than one class
Section 2. International classification—Application in one class
Section 3. Prior United States classification—Application in more than one class
Section 4. Prior United States classification—Application in one class

The same procedure of dividing into four sections will be followed in the notice of the issuance of registrations on the Supplemental Register.

[921 O.G. TM 122]

(192) Change in Official Gazette Entry to Show Cancellation of Fewer Than All Classes in a Multiple Class Registration

Effective with the Official Gazette issue of December 16, 1980, there will be a change in the Official Gazette listing entitled "Trademark Registrations Cancelled." Beginning with that issue, "Trademark Registrations Cancelled" will list:

(1) single class registrations cancelled;
(2) multiple class registrations cancelled in all classes;
(3) multiple class registrations cancelled in fewer than all classes.

For every entry in the listing, the specific classes cancelled will be included in parentheses, next to the registration number and mark.

For a single class registration and for a multiple class registration in which every class has been cancelled, the class number(s) shown in parentheses will represent every class to which the registration applied.

For a multiple class registration in which fewer than all classes have been cancelled, the Official Gazette entry will include the word "only" following the notation of classes in parentheses, for example: (Int. Cls. 12 and 20, only). In this example, the addition of the word "only" would indicate that there are classes in the registration in addition to Classes 12 and 20, but only Classes 12 and 20 have been cancelled.

(193) Single Copies of the Trademark Official Gazette

Members of the public ordering single copies of the Trademark Official Gazette from the Superintendent of Documents are reminded they must specify the date of the issue being ordered.

The date of the issue in which a mark will be published for opposition is shown on The Notice of Publication form mailed to applicants approximately two weeks before the publication date. This date must be included on each single copy order.

Orders received without an issue date may be filled from current weekly stock. The Superintendent of Documents cannot check on whether a particular mark is published in the issue then in stock. If the stock is exhausted at the time the order is received, the order will be returned unfilled.

(194) Inadvertently Issued Registration Numbers

Effective Jan. 3, 1984, a new sub-section identified as "Inadvertently Issued Registration Numbers" will exist as the last category of cancellations listed under the "Trademark Registrations Canceled" section of the Official Gazette.

This new sub-section will provide public notice of the cancellation of registration numbers which have been inadvertently issued by the Patent and Trademark Office.

(195) Availability of Patents and Trademarks Style Manual

The latest edition of Patents and Trademarks Style Manual will be available to the patent and trademark community soon. This edition will be published as a separate supplement to the GPO Style Manual. It is the first revision since 1973, and will be available in looseleaf form. The cover of this supplement is illustrated below:

Orders are now being accepted by the Superintendent of Documents. The stock number is 003–004–00606–4. Direct inquiries to:

Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Goverment Printing Office
Washington, D.C. 20402

Checks for orders should be made payable to the Superintendent of Documents. If a Deposit Account with the Superintendent of Documents is to be used, please include the Deposit Account Number with the order.

(196) USTA Publications of Looseleaf Rules of Practice

The United States Trademark Association has published US Trademark Law; Rules of Practice, Forms and Federal Statutes. The book, in looseleaf format to allow for supplements, includes the trademark Rules of Practice, sample forms, the Lanham Act and applicable provisions and cites of other statutes that deal with trademarks and the Patent and Trademark Office. In content and format, the USTA publication generally replaces the Government Printing Office looseleaf edition of the Rules of Practice which has been discontinued.

Information on ordering copies of US Trademark Law: Rules of Practice, Forms and Federal Statutes may be obtained from:

The United States Trademark Association
6 East 45th St.
New York, N.Y. 10017
(212) 986-5880

The Government Printing Office continues to publish the Rules of Practice as Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, every July. Effective July 1, 1983, however, the CFR edition no longer includes forms.

Apr. 30, 1984. MARGARET M. LAURENCE, Assistant Commissioner for Trademark.

(197) Notice to Subscribers

The Patent and Trademark Office announces a change in the point of contact for subscribers who have not been receiving all of their copies of the Official Gazette, Manual of Patent Examining Procedures Revisions, Annual Indices, or other patent and trademark publications. All correspondence and inquiries concerning subscription services including requests for reinstatement or renewal of subscriptions should be directed to:

Mr. Michael F. DiMario
Assistant Public Printer
Superintendent ofDocuments (SD)
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, D.C. 20401

Furthermore, the Superintendent of Documents advises that expiration notices are sent out approximately three months before the expiration date. However, subscribers should not rely on this schedule. If a notice is not received within two months of the expiration date, the subscriber should renew the subscription with the Superintendent of Documents. Attach a label from the envelope in which the publication is received, together with a check covering the amount of the subscription. if a deposit account with the Superintendent of Documents is to be used, include the deposit account number with the renewal.

This notice is effective with the publication date and supersedes the notice published on this subject in 969 O.G. 2, dated Mar. 14, 1978.

Aug. 3, 1984. THERESA A. BRELSFORD, Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

[1045 TMOG 24]

(198) Notification of Errors in Trademark Official Gazette

In view of the establishment of in-house photocomposition of the Trademark Official Gazette, it is important that errors noted by the public be directed to a single office within the Trademark Examining Operation for verification and correction.

Written notification of errors in the publication of marks in the Trademark Official Gazette should include the correspondent's telephone number and should be addressed to the Paralegal Specialist, Office of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, United States Department of Commerce, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231. Error notification may also be done by telephone to the Paralegal Specialist in the Office of the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, at 202-557-3268.

Applicants may use this procedure to notify the Office of errors in relation to marks published in the Official Gazette if the error is purely clerical (e.g. typographical error, drawing printed upside down, or incorrectly stated data). This procedure should not be used to dispute information that is actually of record in the application file. The Paralegal Specialist will review the notification of error and verify the existence of the clerical error, determine whether the error can be corrected without jurisdiction being restored to the Examining Attorney or republication being required, and coordinate the appropriate correction procedure.

Notification must be received by the Office within one week after the Official Gazette publication date to permit processing by the Office.

TRADEMARK MISCELLANEOUS

(201) Recording of Documents Affecting Title

The Patent Office is liberalizing its policy concerning the recording of documents, other than assignments, which affect title to trademark registrations and applications. Under Rule 2.185 of the Trademark Rules of Practice, instruments affecting title to a trademark registration or application, and licenses of trademarks which are the subject of trademark registrations or applications, will be recorded even though the recording thereof may not serve as constructive notice under Section 10 of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1060).

(202) International Protection of Government Emblems and Seals

Change of Intent

The Patent and Trademark Office, Department of Commerce, intends to forward only the 50 State seals plus one department seal for each department listed in the publication "Seals and Other Devices in Use at the Government Printing Office" ("Seals") instead of the entire publication, as indicated on page 59366 of the Federal Register of Dec. 23, 1975.

Since the publication had been printed in 1975, it was assumed that few deletions and additions would be necessary. However, the response to the above notice, along with some necessary deletions, resulted in a large number of seals in the publication requiring deletion. This rendered the publication unacceptable for submission to the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

Therefore, the Patent and Trademark Office now intends to forward only the 50 State seals along with the departmental seal denoted "No. 1" for each department listed in the "Seals" publication. If this is not the preferred departmental or State seal, the department or State involved is requested to notify the Patent and Trademark Office by Sept. 21, 1976. This notification should either specify the number of the preferred seal, as it appears in the "Seals" publication, or provide a clear, black and white photograph, suitable for reproduction, of the preferred seal. The seal must be no larger than 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

These seals will then be forwarded to WIPO for protection under Article 6*ter* of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property.

Address all correspondence to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(203) Recording of "Territorial Assignments" in the Assignment Division of the Patent and Trademark Office

It has been the practice of the Assignment Division for many years to refuse to record "territorial assignments," that is, assignments purporting to transfer rights in a trademark registration (not a concurrent use registration) for less than the entire United States. Hereinafter, such documents will be recorded as long as the requirements of the Rules of Practice are met by the documents submitted.

The Office is not addressing the validity or effect of such documents by recording same, but is merely recognizing that such transfers may affect title to a registered mark and therefore ought to be recorded. At the time a Section 8 affidavit or declaration or an application for renewal is filed, the Examiner of Trademarks will consider the effect of such a document.

Oct. 7, 1977. BERNARD A. MEANY, Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

[964 TMOG 8]

(204) Flexible Working Hours

On Jan. 4, 1979 the Patent and Trademark Office is beginning a 15 month experiment with flexible working hours for its employees. Under the "flexitime" experiment many of the Office's employees will have flexibility to begin their workdays as early as 6:30 a.m. or as late as 9:30 a.m., and end their workdays between 3:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Employees in every case shall of course work eight hours each day. All or most patent and trademark examiners will have flexible hours.

The public hours of the Patent and Trademark Office will continue to be 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All units of the Office which deal directly with the public will be staffed to answer telephone calls and receive visitors during those hours. All employees will be on duty from 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The patent public search room will continue to operate from 8:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. and the trademark search room from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

With the advent of flexible hours, it will be advisable for members of the public to make appointments in advance when they wish to interview examiners.

(205) THE RETENTION SCHEDULE FOR TRADEMARK RECORDS

As with most government agencies, the Patent and Trademark Office disposes of old files, papers and records pursuant to a specific schedule. In an effort to clarify any questions concerning the procedures for disposing of Trademark records and in response to public inquiries, the present Retention Schedule for Trademark Records and other records including trademark matters which may be of interest to the public is set forth as follows:

International Intellectual Property Activities Case Files. Project case files showing Patent and Trademark Office activity relating to problems concerning the protection of intellectual property throughout the world. Includes correspondence with private individuals, the Department of State and other countries; reports, records of international meetings concerning patents; trademarks and other matters pertaining to the protection of intellectual property throughout the world; and other materials relating to international affairs.	PERMANENT. Transfer to FRC 5 years after close of case. a. Original Petitions in trademark case file. — Dispose of with related case file.

b. Other copies. — Destroy when 2 years old.

Trademark Protest Letters. Letters of protest to the Commissioner related to trademarks. — Destroy when no longer needed or when three years old, whichever is earlier.

International Patent and Trademark Activities Case Files. Project case files showing Patent and Trademark Office activity relating to international patent and trademark programs.

a. Records that supplement the International Property Activities Case Files (Item 103). — PERMANENT. Transfer to office responsible for international affairs after case is closed.

b. Other materials. — Destroy 5 years after close of case or sooner if no longer needed.

International Intellectual Property Activities Case Files. Project case files showing Patent and Trademark Office activity relating to problems concerning the protection of intellectual property throughout the world. Includes correspondence with private individuals, the Department of State and other countries; reports; records of international meetings concerning patents; trademarks and other matters pertaining to the protection of intellectual property throughout the world; and other materials relating to international affairs. — PERMANENT. Transfer to FRC 5 years after close of case. Offer to National Archives when 25 years old.

Proposed Intellectual Property Legislation Files. Documents accumulated in the preparation and processing of legislation proposed by or in the interest of the Patent and Trademark Office. Includes drafts or legislation, reports to committees on introduced legislation, and comments on legislative proposals. — PERMANENT. Transfer to FRC after 5 years. Offer to National Archives when 25 years old.

Bulky Trademark Specimens. Trademark applications specimens which do not strictly meet the basic requirements for physical form of specimens which state: — Destroy 30 days after applicant is notified that the specimens are unacceptable, unless picked up sooner by the applicant.

1. That they be made of material suitable for being placed inside a manila file wrapper.

2. That they be capable of being arranged flat, such as being folded.

3. That they be of a size not to exceed 8 1/2 inches wide by 13 inches long. (Rule 2.56)

These requirements provide for specimens which will fit inside the application file wrapper, which is 9 × 14 inches in size and which will conveniently expand to about one inch thickness.

Specimens which do not meet the above requirements are referred to as "bulky" specimens and the Examiner must require that they be replaced by specimens of acceptable size and shape.

(206) Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs

Reestablishment

In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act 5 U.S.C. App. (1976) and Office of Management and Budget Circular A-63 of Mar. 1974, and after consultation with GSA, it has been determined that the reestablishment of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law.

The Committee was first established in Sept., 1970, and its present charter expired on Jan. 10, 1979. Since its inception the purpose of the Committee has been to advise the Patent and Trademark Office concerning steps which can be taken to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of administration of the Trademark Act and to provide a continuing flow of knowledge from the private sector to the government in the field of trademarks. Approximately seventy-five per cent of the over one hundred twenty-five specific recommendations have been implemented at least in part. There is no question that the Committee has contributed greatly to the efficiency and effectiveness of the administration of the statute. In reviewing the Committee, the Secretary has sought continued effort towards this objective. The Committee's function cannot be accomplished by any organizational element or other committee of the Department.

As it was initially established, the Committee will continue to comprise the members of the Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs of the United States Trademark Association. The membership is balanced and is under the control of the President of the Association. The Committee will continue to operate in compliance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

Copies of the Committee's revised charter will be filed with appropriate committees of Congress.

Any inquiries or comments may be addressed to Patricia M. Davis, Committee Control Officer, Office of Trademark Program Control, U.S. Patent & Trademark Office; Washington, D.C. 20231; telephone (703) 557-3881.

GUY W. CHAMBERLIN,
Assistant Secretary for Administration.

(207) Certified Copies of Trademark Applications/Registrations

The Trademark Operation is in the process of microfilming its records and, as this proceeds, requests for certified copies of applications and, eventually, registrations, will be furnished from the microfilmed records. Such certified copies will not contain copies of the file jacket.

MARGARET M. LAURENCE,
Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

(208) TABLE OF OFFICIAL GAZETTE VOLUME NUMBERS: 1872–1990

A table which relates volume numbers of the Official Gazette comprising collections of weekly issues of that publication to the month of their publication has found good use in the Patent and Trademark Office and Patent Depository Libraries in a variety of applications. The need for such a table arises, in part, from the fact that Official Gazette volumes have not been uniformly numbered on a monthly basis over the 110 year history of that publication. From Jan. 1872 through June 1883, they were numbered on a semi-annual basis; from July 1883 through Dec. 1902, quarterly; from Jan. 1902 through Dec. 1908, bi-monthly; and since Jan. 1909, the volume of issues for each month has been separately numbered. To fulfill the interest which has been expressed in this table, it is published below:

• SUMMARY OF CHANGES IN VOLUME NUMBERING:

Semi-annual:	Jan. 1872 through Jun. 1883
Quarterly:	Jul. 1883 through Dec. 1902
Bi-monthly:	Jan. 1903 through Dec. 1908
Monthly:	Jan. 1909 to the present

The Official Gazette was published on successive Wednesdays from 3 Jan. 1872 through 17 Jan. 1872. From 23 Jan. 1872 to the present, it has been published weekly on Tuesday.

(209) Holiday Relating to Birthday of Martin Luther King

Public Law 98–144 enacted Nov. 2, 1983, amended 5 USC 6103 to indicate that that the third Monday in Jan. would be a new legal holiday relating to the birthday of Martin Luther King and that this amendment would take effect in 1986.

Accordingly, Jan. 20, 1986, and the third Monday in Jan. thereafter, will be included as Federal holidays within the District of Columbia. The Patent and Trademark Office will not receive papers on that date in accordance with 37 CFR 1.6(a) and 1.10(a). Actions required to be taken on the third Monday in Jan. may be taken on the next succeeding day that the Office is open for business in accordance with 37 CFR 1.7.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Dec. 23, 1985. Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(210) Proposed Records Control Schedule

As with most government agencies, the Patent and Trademark Office periodically updates the schedule it uses to dispose of old files, papers and records. Set forth below is a recent update of the Patent and Trademark Office's Records Control Schedule. The schedule is currently being reviewed by the National Archives and Records Administration and, following its approval, will constitute the basis for disposing of Patent and Trademark Office records.

Any comments or questions related to the proposed schedule should be directed to John Hassett, (703) 557–0183. Written comments should be mailed to:

(211) Change in Legal Holidays

The Commissioner's Notice of Sept. 25, 1979, "Change in Legal Holidays," is hereby rescinded in view of Public Law 98–144, enacted Nov. 2, 1983, which amended the listing of legal public holidays in 5 USC §6103. That amendment took effect in 1986 and added a new legal holiday relating to the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. This new holiday is designated for the third Mon. in Jan.

Section 6103, as amended, reads as follows:
New Year's Day, Jan. 1
Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr., the third Mon. in Jan.
Washington's Birthday, the third Mon. in Feb.
Memorial Day, the last Mon. in May Independence Day, July 4
Labor Day, the first Mon. in Sept.
Columbus Day, the second Mon. in Oct.
Veterans Day, Nov. 11
Thanksgiving Day, the fourth Thurs. in Nov.
Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

Each of the holidays enumerated will constitute a "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia," as referred to in Section 21, Title 35, United States Code. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.6(a) and 1.10(a), the Patent and Trademark Office will not receive papers on these holidays. Actions required to be taken on such days may be taken on the next succeeding day that the Office is open for business in accordance with 37 CFR 1.7.

July 15, 1986.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(212) Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs Notice of Open Meeting

In accordance with Section 10(a)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Public Law 92–463), announcement is made of the following Committee meeting:

The Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs will meet from 9:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. on Sept. 4, 1986, at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office in Rm. 11C24 of Bldg. 3, Crystal Plz., located at 2021 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

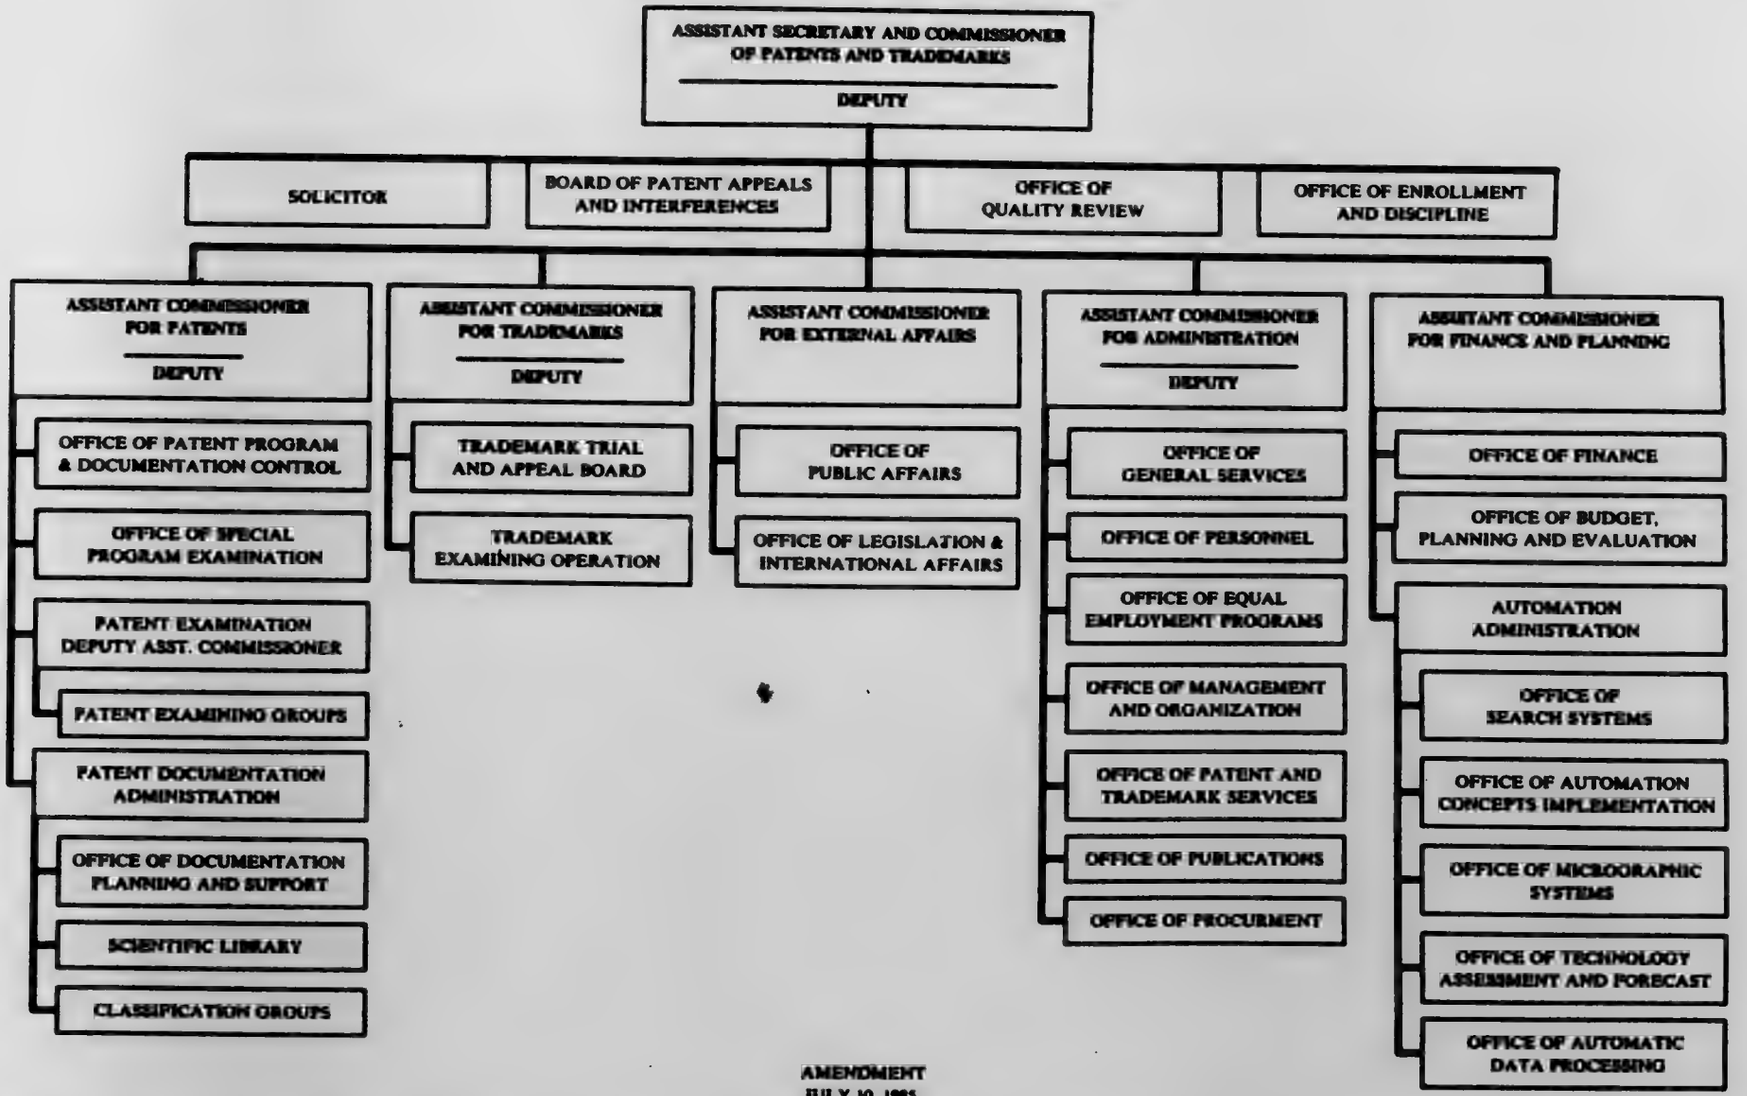
The agenda for the meeting is as follows:

(1) Status of Trademark Examining Operation Activities
(2) Operations of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board
(3) Post-Registration Activities
(4) Quality of the Registration Process
(5) Financial Reports
(6) Automation Activities

The meeting will be open to public observation; approximately twelve (12) seats will be available for the public on a first-come first-served basis.

If time permits, oral comments by the public of three (3) minutes on each topic within the above agenda will be allowed. Written comments and suggestions will be accepted before or after the meeting on any of the matters discussed.

Copies of the minutes will be available upon request.



For further information, contact Ellen J. Seeherman, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, Rm. CP3–11C17, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231. Telephone: 703–557–7464.

Aug. 4, 1986.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Sept. 30, 1986. Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Notice of Maintenance Fees Payable

Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 1.362(d), effective Nov. 1, 1984, provides that maintenance fees may be paid without surcharge for a six-month period beginning 3, 7, and 11 years after the date of issue of patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. An additional six-month grace period is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) and 37 CFR 1.362(e) for payment of the maintenance fee with the surcharge set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(k) or (l), as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985. If the maintenance fee is not paid in a patent requiring such payment the patent will expire on the 4th, 8th or 12th anniversary of the grant.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on Jan. 10, 1984, for which maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents	4,424,595 through 4,425,666
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

No maintenance fees are required for design or plant patents.

Payments of maintenance fees in patents should be directed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M. Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231."

The current amounts of the maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(e) and (h), as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985, which are reproduced below:

37 CFR §1.20 Post-issuance fees

"(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant . . . $ 225.00"

"(h) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:
By a small entity (§1.9(f)) . . . . . $ 225.00
By other than a small entity . . . . . $ 450.00"

The amounts of the surcharges as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985, are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20 (k) and (l) which are reproduced below:

"(k) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982 . . . . . $ 110.00"

"(l) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982:
By a small entity (§1.9(f)) . . . . . $ 55.00
By other than a small entity . . . . . $ 110.00"

Section 1.20 paragraph (m) as amended as a result of enactment of Public Law 98–622 effective Nov. 8, 1984, is reproduced below:

"(m) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay in payment is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable . . . . . $ 500.00"

Notice of Expiration of Patents Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fees

35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.362(g) provide that if the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge are not paid in a patent requiring such payment, the patent will expire at the end of the 4th, 8th, or 12th anniversary of the grant of the patent depending on the first maintenance fee which was not paid.

According to the records of the Office, the patents listed below have expired due to failure to pay the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries, receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections are open to public use and each of the Patent Depository Libraries, in addition, offers the publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System (e.g. The Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, etc.) and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public in gaining effective access to information contained in patents. With one exception, as noted in the table following, the collections are organized in patent number sequence.

Facilities for making paper copies from either microfilm in reader-printers or from the bound volumes in paper-to-paper copies are generally provided for a fee.

Owing to variations in the scope of patent collections among the Patent Depository Libraries and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is advised to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours, so as to avert possible inconvenience.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

TRADEMARK REGISTRATIONS AMENDED, CORRECTED, ETC.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

Any change to the registration will be indicated at the bottom of each entry under ELEMENTS AMENDED, CORRECTED OR RESTRICTED. With the exception of changes to the goods and services, additions to the registration will appear in asterisks and deletions of the registration will appear in brackets. Elements which are only changed will be listed with no punctuation. As to the goods/services statement, amendments to the goods/services will appear in asterisks and deletions will appear in brackets. In addition if any change to the goods/services occurs, the element "Goods/Services" will be listed under ELEMENTS AMENDED, CORRECTED OR RESTRICTED.

DONALD J. QUIGG,
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Sept. 30, 1986.

Notice of Maintenance Fees Payable

Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 1.362(d), effective Nov. 1, 1984, provides that maintenance fees may be paid without surcharge for a six-month period beginning 3, 7, and 11 years after the date of issue of patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. An additional six-month grace period is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) and 37 CFR 1.362(e) for payment of the maintenance fee with the surcharge set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(k) or (l), as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985. If the maintenance fee is not paid in a patent requiring such payment the patent will expire on the 4th, 8th or 12th anniversary of the grant.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on Jan. 17, 1984, for which maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,425,667 through 4,426,738
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

No maintenance fees are required for design or plant patents.

Payments of maintenance fees in patents should be directed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M. Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231."

The current amounts of the maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(e) and (h), as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985, which are reproduced below:

37 CFR §1.20 Post-issuance fees

"(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant . . . $ 225.00"

"(h) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:
By a small entity (§1.9(f)) . . . . . $ 225.00
By other than a small entity . . . . . $ 450.00"

The amounts of the surcharges as amended effective Oct. 5, 1985, are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20 (k) and (l) which are reproduced below:

"(k) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 and before Aug. 27, 1982 . . . . . $ 110.00"

"(l) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6-month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Aug. 27, 1982:
By a small entity (§1.9(f)) . . . . . $ 55.00
By other than a small entity . . . . . $ 110.00"

Section 1.20 paragraph (m) as amended as a result of enactment of Public Law 98–622 effective Nov. 8, 1984, is reproduced below:

"(m) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay in payment is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been unavoidable . . . . . $ 500.00"

Notice of Expiration of Patents Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fees

35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.362(g) provide that if the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge are not paid in a patent requiring such payment, the patent will expire at the end of the 4th, 8th, or 12th anniversary of the grant of the patent depending on the first maintenance fee which was not paid.

According to the records of the Office, the patents listed below have expired due to failure to pay the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge.

Department of Commerce
Patent and Trademark Office
Disposition of British Abridgements
1855–1972

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is offering to any interested party one set of classified British Abridgements, 1855–1972. These documents are stored at a warehouse in the Springfield, Va. area. There are five skids of documents with approximately 20 boxes per skid. The Manager of the PTO Scientific Library must be contacted within two weeks of publication of this notice. This set is being offered on a first come, first served basis. After verification by the Manager of this transaction, the interested party must arrange for the removal of these documents from storage at his/her own expense within 30 days. Inquiries should be directed to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, Attention: Manager, Scientific Library [(703)–557–2955].

Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Survey of Registered Practitioners in Patent Cases

Pursuant to 37 CFR 10.11(b), a survey letter was mailed on Nov. 18, 1986 from the Office of Enrollment and Discipline (OED) to all practitioners in patent cases whose last names begin with A through D. Enclosed with the letter is a data sheet which must be completed and returned to OED as soon as possible. All data sheets returned to OED will be acknowledged. Failure by a practitioner to submit a completed data sheet within the time period specified in the survey letter will result in the practitioner being removed from the register in accordance with 37 CFR 10.11(b).

If your last name begins with A through D and you have not received a data sheet or if you returned the data sheet to OED and you did not receive an acknowledgement within three (3) months after returning the data sheet to OED, please contact Patricia M. Jordan at (703) 557–1728.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries, receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections are open to public use and each of the Patent Depository Libraries, in addition, offers the publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System (e.g. The Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, etc.) and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public in gaining effective access to information contained in patents. With one exception, as noted in the table following, the collections are organized in patent number sequence.

Facilities for making paper copies from either microfilm in reader-printers or from the bound volumes in paper-to-paper copies are generally provided for a fee.

Owing to variations in the scope of patent collections among the Patent Depository Libraries and in their hours of service to the public, anyone contemplating use of the patents at a particular library is advised to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours, so as to avert possible inconvenience.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
